Formerly most opals came from Hungary, and more recently from Mexico. In 1889 an Australian hunter, while pursuing a wounded kangaroo, found an opal. Since that time Australia has yielded nearly $2,000,000 worth of opals.

One's so-called better half is often the whole thing.

GLENCOE FAIR

Mosa and Ekfrid Fall Show Draws a Great Crowd.

Exhibits Unsurpassed by Those of Any Previous Year---Splendid Display of Live Stock---The Fortunate Exhibitors.

Glencoe, Sept. 27.—The Mosa and Ekfrid Union Agricultural Association held their annual fair in Glencoe yesterday, when the beautiful weather, coupled with the well-known high character of the exhibition attracted a big crowd that had a most enjoyable outing. It is true, a good deal of disappointment was felt by many who expected to hear an address by Hon. R. L. Borden, leader of the opposition in the Dominion House, who was to open the show. That gentleman notified the directors some time since that owing to various circumstances he would be unable to attend, but fortunately this fair does not depend upon the presence of any one man for its success. Early in the afternoon the crowd commenced to arrive, and by 2 p.m. the hustling town of Glencoe was packed with visitors, who came for miles around, and all of whom made for the grounds, where a splendid array of exhibits interested those bent on examining the merits of the different entries. The judges in some cases caused annoyance in failing to act, as promised the directors, but as there are always capable men, willing to serve on a moment's notice, the work was disposed of with dispatch by those who filled the various positions.

LIVE STOCK EXHIBITS.

The show of cattle was an exceptionally large one, better in fact than has been seen here in years, which is saying a great deal, for Glencoe fair is noted for its shows in this particular direction. Horses also were entered in large numbers, and the ring where the animals were shown always had a big crowd interested in the various classes, which were filled to overflowing in almost every case with exhibits almost impossible to surpass, even in larger places. The display was a record-breaker. The show of pigs and sheep, while not so large as in past years, was of an excellent class, and was admired by those whose tastes ran in that particular direction. The poultry fanciers also maintained their reputation in making a good showing. The exhibits which was continually filled with an admiring crowd, occupied every inch of space, and the entries were of the usual high character, the ladies' work being especially attractive. While grain was not in such abundance as in former years, the sample was very good, considering the bad luck many had this year owing to the ravages of the Hessian fly. There was an unusually big display of corn, some samples of which were immense. Fruit was only a fair show, apples in this section not being very plentiful, and the sample but indifferent, except in isolated cases, where a good crop will be gathered. Taken as a whole, the exhibit in all classes was splendid, and as the attendance was in advance of the previous year, when good weather also favored the managers, as on the occasion yesterday, the fair seems to hold a prominent place in the people's affections. The directors are to be commended for excluding the various swindling games too often allowed on other grounds. There was an abundance of

IN THE MAIN HALL,

to keep the crowd in good humor, and the Citizens' Band of West Lorne gave a continuous performance in the grand stand, which enlivened the proceedings.

Secretary Isaac Walker makes a model secretary, to which all will testify who had occasion to consult him yesterday.

In the evening a concert in the opera house attracted the usual big crowd. The performance was an excellent one.

A Royal Reception

The Crowning Event of the Season.

OUR Millinery Reception has been a great success—a Royal affair. At no other time, under no conditions, have we made an equal display. This was graciously acknowledged by the throng of interested visitors who were captivated by the beauty of the display, and who showed their appreciation in a tangible way. Many who came as mere sightseers went away as buyers, and all went home with a better idea of what is fashionable and correct. Place your order early—the earlier the better for you and for us.
