THE YACHT RACE ON SATURDAY WAS OFFICIALLY DECLARED OFF

Expiration of Sailing Time Limit Saved Lipton Challenger Shamrock IV. After a Drifting Match—Challenger Almost Even With Resolute at First Turn When She Was Becalmed—Defender Better Boat in Light Breeze.

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 18—Expiration of the sailing time limit saved the Lipton challenger Shamrock IV. from apparent defeat at the hands of the cup defender Resolute in the second meet yesterday of the 1920 regatta for the America's Cup.

The defender had put more than a half hour's sailing between her and the challenger, and was breezing home under main sail, club topsail and balloon jib, when the race was officially declared off at 7.26 o'clock.

Under the rules, the thirty mile triangular course had to be covered within six hours by the leading yacht to make it a race. The time limit would not actually have expired until 7 46.28, but a little more than 20 minutes before the hour Resolute still had nearly eight miles to sail—an impossible feat—and the committee boat hoisted the "no race" signal. At that hour Shamrock IV. was more than two miles from the stake that would have sent her on the last leg of the race. The score still stands Shamrock IV., 1; Resolute, 0; Shamrock IV having captured the first race last Thursday when Resolute was forced to drop out because of an accident to her rigging.

Yesterday's near race was run under conditions ideal in every particular save the essential one, of a stiff breeze.

A bright sun shone down on the glassy surface of the Atlantic from a sky almost devoid of clouds. The great armada of pleasure craft rode leisurely at rest, their brasswork and varnish sparkling in the sun, and their flags and pennants flapping idly in the still air when the contenders came out from behind the horseshoe of Sandy Hook for the start. A little fleet of airplanes and one lone, silver-sided navy blimp droned overhead. Shamrock—towed by a tug—led Resolute to the starting point at Ambrose Lightship. So still was the air that Shamrock had to call on her tug for aid a second time after she had been cast off, and a few minutes before noon, when the race was scheduled to start, the committee ordered a postponement. At 1.30 a breeze came in from the southeast, and the committee hoisted the preliminary signal and ordered a beat southeast against the wind for the first leg; a reach west for the second, and a run home before the wind, northeast to one-half east for the finish.

Captain Adams of Resolute again appeared to have outmaneuvred Captain William P. Burton of Shamrock IV. in the maneuvres at the start and got Resolute off in the coveted weather berth nine seconds ahead of the challenger. The defender began a steady gain on Shamrock IV. almost immediately as the two sloops headed out to sea on a long port tack.

Resolute steadily outpointed Shamrock IV., edging into the wind, while her rival fell further and further to leeward. When Resolute made her first tack to starboard, after travelling about nine miles, and Shamrock IV. followed her around, it was seen that Resolute had gained an advantage of nearly a mile. Enthusiasm ran high among the thousands of spectators, crawling along behind the racers in craft of every size from tiny power boats to seagoing steam yachts and passenger steamers.

Shamrock Spurted.

Shamrock spurted ahead then, and was almost up with Resolute as they neared the first stake. But Captain Burton was caught in a calm and was not able to round the bobbing buoy until thirty-six minutes later. By this time Resolute, heading directly into the sun, was so far away that she looked like a gaunt black spar, rising at a slight angle from the shimmering sea.

The spectator craft broke formation here, many of the boats putting on speed to overtake the scurrying Resolute, while a few lingered behind to watch Shamrock's effort to overcome the long lead.

Shamrock rewarded the lingerers by putting on more speed and cutting the lead down by about two miles. She was still far astern, however, when Resolute made the second stake, about five miles off Long Branch, N. J., and broke out her balloon jib for the run home.

But it had become obvious that she could not make the remaining ten miles within the allotted time and the spectator craft, including the airplanes and blimp, began turning their noses homeward. A few minutes later, the committee boat, hoisted the "no race" signal and the yachts were taken in tow for the run back to the Hook.

Resolute Led From Start.

Resolute led from the start, just as she had on Thursday up to the time her accident put her out of commission in that race. Furthermore, she held together, and it was the wind yesterday which cracked.

The wind was very light, but Resolute, as she did on Thursday, soon began to beat to windward, while Shamrock fell off. In half an hour it was clearly seen that the challenger was no match for the defender in going to windward in light airs.

The first leg was very slow with Resolute drawing away constantly until a mile from the mark. There the wind gave Shamrock a bit so that she drew up until she was only 100 yards to leeward of the defender. For a few minutes the race became exciting. In fact, it looked as if Shamrock might go through Resolute's weather. Then came a remarkable piece of wind chicanery. Both yachts tacked to starboard, three quarters of a mile from the mark, with Resolute 100 yards to windward. The breeze gave her such a lift that she stood for the mark, but, although Shamrock was scarcely a biscuit toss away, it passed over her entirely and left her practically becalmed. Resolute nearly fetched the mark on that starboard tack and wore round it with another short hitch, going quite fast. A mile away Shamrock lay flapping helplessly in the long swell.

Five times Burton sought to coax the green yacht up to the mark and each time she shied like a horse at the hurdle. He tried her with three jibs and two headsails, but the fickle breeze and head tide drove her back each time. In the sixth try she reached it, nearly half an hour after Resolute.

The second leg was planned to be a reach, but Resolute, out ahead, found it a close fetch, and finally it turned into the second beat of the day. Resolute was the first to be headed off and soon started on a long beat up to the second mark.

This shift, with the lightening breeze, settled the event for the day so far as the race was concerned, for there was no hope of a finish.

Far astern Shamrock with still a whiff of air from the southeast drew up until she was two miles astern of Resolute, where she too began tacking up the breeze.

The time limit expired at 7.45 daylight time, and at 7 o'clock Resolute reached the second mark, with ten miles to go in 45 minutes. She sailed for a few miles under balloon jib topsail and then signalled for a tow line and started for her moorings in the Sandy Hook horseshoe.

Shamrock reached the mark half an hour later, and her tug immediately took her in tow.

The yachts will meet again on Tuesday over another triangular course.

Sandy Hook, N. J., July 18—Sir Thomas Lipton plans to take Captain Wm. P. Burton from the wheel of the cup challenger Shamrock IV. The decision to supplant Captain Burton as skipper of the Lipton sloop was practically decided upon at a series of conferences today of Sir Lipton, Captain H. L. Garret, representative of the Royal Ulster Yacht Club, on board the Resolute; Charles Nicholson, designer of the Shamrock, and Colonel Duncan of the Neille, personal representative of Sir Thomas on board the Shamrock.

The Local Veterans Won Double-Header

Two Fine Games Played Saturday—Halifax the Opposing Team — Afternoon Game 5 to 4 — Evening Score 14 to 5.

The Wanderers, a fast team from Halifax, lost two games to the G. W. V. A. team on St. Peter's grounds Saturday and the large crowd of fans present were pleased with the games. The score in the first game was 5 to 4; in the evening 14 to 5.

In the afternoon it was an exciting game from start to finish and one which kept the spectators on their toes throughout. The Vets scored two runs in the first inning. The visitors got a man across the plate in the second. In the third inning the Vets scored two more runs. There was no scoring in the fourth and fifth, but Halifax put two men across the plate in the sixth and managed in the eighth inning to tie the score. The visitors were blanked in the ninth and there was every indication of an extra inning game. The Vets had two men on bases, two men out, and two strikes on the batter; the crowd was waiting for a third out when the local man swatted a safe one and won the game.

The Halifax boys are fast players and made a good impression on the crowds attending the games.

The following is the score and summary of the game:

TEAM TO REPRESENT CANADA AT THE OLYMPIS GAMES CHOSEN

Track and Field Trials Held at Montreal Amateur Athletic Grounds Saturday—Ontario Has Three on Team, British Columbia Two, Manitoba Two, Quebec One, Saskatchewan One—Maritime Entrants Won Second Places

Montreal, July 18.—Following the track and field trials here on Saturday at the Montreal amateur athletic grounds the team that will represent Canada at the Olympic games was chosen.

The athletes selected and the events they will compete in follow:

Alex. Ponton, Ontario, 100 to 200 metres.

Hector Phillips, Ontario, 400 and 800 metres.

Ed. Lawrence, Quebec, 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

Thomas Town, Manitoba, 1,500, 5,000 and 10,000 meters.

Earle J. Thompson, Saskatchewan, 110 meter hurdles; 400 meters, pentathalon.

E. C. Freeman, Ontario, walks.

Archie McDiarmid, British Columbia 56 weight and hammer.

John McEachern, Manitoba, 56 pound weight and hammer.

John Cameron, British Columbia, decathlon and hammer.

W. R. Kennedy, the Montreal jumper, who is sick will be given an opportunity to make the team at a private trial when he is recovered.

The outstanding performances at the trials Saturday, were the hurdle race, won by Earle J. Thompson the Dartmouth College crack, who will wear the Maple Leaf at Antwerp, because he is a Canadian, the javelin throw, of A. Stewart, of Ontario; the 100 meters race of C. Coaffee, of Manitoba; the 200 meters race of Alex. Ponton; the 5,000 meters run of T. Town, and the 3,000 meters walk of E. Freeman. Thompson set up a new Canadian mark for the 150 meters hurdles and came within a fifth of the Olympic record—15 seconds. Stewart hurled the javelin 164 feet 11 inches, a new Canadian record, but far away from the Olympic best figure—204 feet 5 5-8 inches. Coaffee won the hundred meters after being sit back a yard for breaking. Town and Cecil J. Leath, who is the champion of New England, though a Nova Scotia by birth, put up a fine struggle in the 5,000 meters. They set up a very fast early pace, and killed off E. Lawrence, who had previously won the 1,500 meters. In the last lap Town sprinted like a quarter miler and Leath could not hold him. Freeman in the walk had a battle royal with C. L. Barnes, of Ontario, and only beat him by a few feet.

The Maritime Province entrants could not do better than second place. In the 800 meters J. W. Mooney led from the beginning, but could not cope with the sprint of H. Phillips, who won the event. H. Lapierre, another Maritime Province man, was badly beaten by E. Lawrence in the 1,500 meters, while down Easterners were in second place in the pole vault the high jump and 400 meters.
