THE TURTLE.

Down King street once I wandered, while before me there meandered
A beast with curious action that I'd noticed not before;
And I watched it gaily flitting, as hither it came skipping.
Like a stone upon the waters, near proud Oromocto's shore,—
"'Tis young 'Bolivar' or 'Shellbark' sporting on the pebbly shore:
This it is, and nothing more."

And then there came a tapping, like unto a wild beast's snapping,
Or like a dragon dancing on a stalwart oaken floor.
Cutting quaint and curious capers worthy notice in the papers;
And I halted at the drugg ist's on King street, twenty-four.—
And pushing back the crowd, glanced meekly through the door,
And saw—'ta turtle—nothing more.

And while the crowd was standing, a man came in demanding
A vial of QUAKER BITTERS—such as he had before:—
"I want it made by Shakers, a select tribe of the Quakers,
To cure an eye-ball painful and a torpid system sore—
Dyspepsia, cramp and ague, and pains and aches a score—
Only these and nothing more.

"My liver's in disorder, and my stomach's out of order;
I have chills and intermittents, less or more:
My chest is like a Bank—tight, clammy, cold and dank,
And the gnawing at my vitals is tearing my heart's core.
Have you anything to cure me in your varied stock and store?"—
Quaker Bitters—nothing more.

Then nothing more was spoken, and the silence only broken,
By the movements of the turtle as, in vain, it tried to floor;
And then there came a groaning—a tender plaintive moaning,
And on its back the turtle lay, wildly struggling on the floor;
The man with Quaker Bitters had just turned him slightly o'er—
Only this and nothing more.
