ALL CANADA IS TO BE REPRESENTED HERE TOMORROW

Canadian Clubs' Convention Feature of Three Days in St. John.

Delegates from all parts of Canada are due in the city tomorrow to attend the annual convention of the Association of Canadian Clubs being held for the first time in St. John, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. To date, at least 31 clubs have signified their intention of sending delegates to this gathering and more are expected. It is the desire of local men in charge of arrangements for the meetings that citizens decorate their business places and homes as much as possible in honor of the visitors. One of the outstanding members of the Montreal club, Howard S. Ross, K. C., D. C. L., will attend and deliver an address.

Keen Bidding for Convention.

One of the names submitted as one of the delegates from Winnipeg is that of D. C. Coleman, now president of the Winnipeg Club and western vice-president of the C. P. R. Mr. Coleman recently attended an Old Boys' celebration at Carleton Place, Ont., and made the address of the evening on that occasion, speaking particularly on Canadian opportunities.

One of the most important points to arise in the discussions at the convention will be the decision as to the place of next meeting. There is at all times a keen bidding for this honor and the coming convention will be no exception in this respect. Fort William and Port Arthur with four clubs acting jointly are early in the field and have presented their invitation already in the official organ of the clubs. Port Arthur is sending a strong delegation to support the invitation.

Mrs. W. W. Smith, M. A., president of the Port Arthur Women's Canadian Club, a speaker of brilliant gifts, will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Bridgeman to represent Port Arthur, while Fort William will be represented by C. W. Jarvis, former M. P.

Going to N. S. and P. E. I.

Some of the small clubs in the west will be represented by their presidents and the west will have a vigorous voice in C. R. MacIntosh, of North Appleford, provincial vice-president for Saskatchewan. Mr. MacIntosh is a newspaper proprietor and under his leadership and judicious use of publicity methods he has considerably extended Canadian Club work in his province this year, three of the four new clubs organized being in Saskatchewan.

The St. John Men's Club has appointed its president, W. J. S. Myles, and Judge H. O. McInerney, K. C., as its official delegates for the convention.

The Ontario delegation is expected to arrive in the city at noon Tuesday and is traveling by C. P. R.

The tour of the Maritime Provinces following the convention has been revised somewhat and is now confined to a visit to Halifax and a week-end in Charlottetown. A movement is on foot to organize a Canadian Club in Charlottetown and by invitation of the national eecutive one of those interested in the formation of the Charlottetown Club will attend the St. John convention.

Decorations Requested.

St. John will surely give to the Canadian Club representatives a truly characteristic and most hearty greeting and it has been pointed out that one of the most pleasing and readily appreciated of welcomes is found in the display of bunting. It is the earnest request of the Canadian Club members that every citizen who is able to do so will have a display of flags and bunting to welcome the visitors to the Loyalist city.

The arrangements for the convention are practically completed and the last minute details will be settled at a meeting of the national executive this evening.

The New York Club is to be represented and probably the Boston Club will send at least one delegate.

Those other clubs which have sent word that they will be represented are as follows: Amherst, Men's; Battleford, Sask., men's; Belleville, Ont., women's; Brandon, Man., men's; Brantford, Ont., women's; Chapleau, Ont., men's and women's; Fort William, Ont., men's and women's; Halifax, men's; Hamilton, Ont., men's and women's; Kitchener and Waterloo, Ont., women's; Moncton, men's; Montreal, men's and women's; Ottawa, men's and women's; Fort Arthur, women's; St. Andrews, women's; St. John, men's and women's; St. Stephen, women's; Toronto, men's and women's; Victoria, men's and women's; Winnipeg, men's and women's.

Immediately upon their return to Boston the musicians will begin their symphony season for which the Massachusetts capital is world-famous. The St. John concert date again falls upon the Imperial Theatre's anniversary week, which this year is to be observed in a notable manner, first by the showing of the Valentino super-Paramount "Monsieur Beaucaire" for three days, then Jackie Coogan in "A Boy of Flanders" for three days. The Boston musicians render their concert on Friday evening exclusively. The mail order sale of tickets has been going on for several days. The box office sale starts next Monday. WANT PAVING FOR SEELEY STREET

Property Owners Petition—J. W. Slocum Seeks Damages.

A petition asking that Seeley street be paved under the Local Improvement Act, the abuttors paying half the cost of the work; a communication from Belyea & Gilbert claiming damages for J. W. Slocum, whose truck was badly broken in a collision with the city motor flusher; an application from the Canada Brush Company for the purchase of the city lots they had under lease, and notice by Commissioner Frink that it would be impossible to pave St. James street this fall, were among the matters discussed this morning at a committee meeting of the common council.

The city chamberlain reported that he had bid-in the properties of the Dunfield Co., Ltd., and J. D. Taylor for the city in the tax sales, and the transfer of the money necessary to close the transaction, $2,208.02 for the former and $314.74 for the latter, was ordered.

Taxi By-Law.

On motion of Commissioner Harding the taxi- by-law was amended by dropping the words " to whom a taxi cab license has been issued," in section 17. This amendment gave the police magistrate power to deal with all violators of the traffic law.

Commissioner Frink presented a petition from property owners on Seeley street representing over half the total frontage, asking that a sidewalk and pavement be laid on this street, half of which would be paid by the property owners, and presented a report from the road engineer showing that of the 1,112 feet of frontage the signers of the petition owned 680 feet. This was referred to the Commissioner of Public Works for a report.

Seeks Damages.

Commissioner Frink presented a letter from Belyea & Gilbert, representing J. W. Slocum of Westfield, whose truck was in collision with the city motor flusher on Thursday last, asking $912.70 for the loss of the truck, $15 a day while the settlement of the case was proceeding and $40 for medical attendance to Mr. Slocums' daughter. The commissioner said he had heard the the story of the driver of the motor flusher and had had an examination of the truck made. The letter was referred to the Commissioner of Public Works and city solicitor for a report.

Commissioner Frink reported that he had been informed by M. A. Pooler, manager of the New Brunswick Power Company, that it would be impossible to get rails here for St. James' street before the last of September or the first of October and said that the road engineer recommended this work be deferred until next spring.

No action was taken.

Brush Company's Request.

Commissioner Bullock presented a request from the Canada Brush Co., that the city sell to them the four lots which they now had under lease, at the corner of Crown and Duke streets. He said these lots were each 40 by 100 feet and were leased at $10 a year and he understood the company were willing to pay $1,000 for the four. As this was an industry wanting the lots he would be disposed to consider a low price for the lots, but would like to hear an expression of opinion from the members of the council.

Mayor Potts said as these lots were on the Courtenay Bay he was opposed to their sale at any price in view of the uncertainty as to what the Government would do in the way of developing a harbor in the bay. The company had gotten along with a lease for twelve years, and he was in favor of letting things run along as they were.

Commissioner Bullock said this land was back from the line of any proposed docks, and he doubted if the Government would place any docks in this area, as he understood the intention was to develop at the head of the bay.

Commissioner Frink said that under ordinary conditions he would be willing to support a resolution to sell the lots provided there was something in the deed to prevent the exploitation of the lots and see that they were used for manufacturing purposes. He said it had been said the C. N. R. would build wharves at the head of Courtenay Bay, but the city had no information to that effect; in fact the city never was advised of what the Government was or was not going to do here, and he felt should be.

Commissioner Bullock said he would bring in a resolution at the council meeting tomorrow.

FLAYS GERMANS

Poincare Says They Are Trying To Evade Their Responsibilities.

Montfaucon, In The Argonne, Sept. 8.—Former Premier Poincaire, who since he relinquished office has been chary of political references in his public speeches is moved to break his silence by the German attempt to disavow the blame for starting the great war. Speaking yesterday at the opening of a new school house here to replace one, wrecked during the war, M. Poincare said:

"Before the traces of war are effaced here, Germany is trying to evade her responsibility. Only yesterday she replied to the advances made her by repudiating the formal admissions of her leaders. She ardently hopes that the Treaty of Versailles will collapse if but one of its pillars is shaken, but it shall not be touched by pleading innocence.

"Today Germany adds in 1924 to the cynicism of which she gave proof in 1914. Everybody will understand that we have the right to be suspicious and to be upon our guard."

MARRIED IN ROXBURY.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Joseph's church, Roxbury, Mass., on Monday, Sept. 1, at 9 a. m., when Rev. J. E. Condon united in marriage Mary Adelaide, daughter of the late John and Agnes Kiervin of 187 Bridge street, St. John, and John O'Donovan Morrissey, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Morrissey of 28 Albert street, St. West St. John. The bride was dressed in georgette over white satin and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Phyllis McEntee, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and was dressed in powder blue chiffon over pink georgette and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The groom was attended by his cousin, George McLaughlin, jr., of Charlestown. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Gauthier, after which Mr. and Mrs. Morrissey went on a honeymoon trip to Cape Cod. On returning they will reside in Roxbury, Mass. Among the out-of-town guests were M. A. and Miss Margaret Morrissey, father and sister of the groom.

FIGURING HOW TO QUIT BEING A BACHELOR

As Little as $18.75 Monthly Provides Furniture.

"What does it cost to get married?"

The question was put up the other day by a likely young man. He was not asking a license issuer the price of his wares, he wasn't asking a clergyman the cost of knot-tieing.

He was asking the firm of J. Marcus Ltd.

He knew that no man got a real share of life as a bachelor—he had found that the only girl in the world was easier located when you are fixed up to settle down. With the girl question well solved—how about the home? His moderate salary would maintain it—but the big doubt was the wait for Furniture money. How long and how much?

That typical bachelor got two answers that let him take time by the forelock. A modest deposit would obtain all the furniture, with a whole year to pay in full, no interest, nothing extra. And four rooms could be furnished in becoming comfort for so little that $18.75 a month cleared it in a twelvemonth.

He has been in to say he wants a delivery this September instead of next September. The Marcus Gain-a-Year System lets him own in advance rather than pay in advance. And the Marcus experts were able to give him many pointers in planning a home to look larger than his income.
