WILL YOU LISTEN?

It is told for a fact that, to settle a wager, a gentleman once stood on London bridge at a time when the crowds were the greatest and endeavored for one whole hour to sell sovereigns for a penny. The sovereigns were genuine and he succeeded in disposing of two; quite as many could have been sold had they been worthless.

We will believe the story next week if the aggregation of attractive bargains are not taken advantage of. The goods will not be available on Monday or Tuesday, but will be announced when ready; in the meantime take this, Peacock Yarn 5c. a skein, that is here.

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL.

Business Transacted at Yesterday's Meeting.

The municipal council met yesterday afternoon. The committee on finance and accounts recommended the payment of a number of bills. They reported that eight debentures for $500 each were issued in September last, payable in 20 years—said debentures to form part of the alms house loan, second series. They were sold at par and the proceeds paid into the Bank of New Brunswick to the credit of the municipality. Since then the money was transferred by the treasurer in the same bank to the credit of the commissioners of the alms house and work house. The committee had before them the memorial and bill of Justice Olive of Lancaster. They could only repeat the decision of former committees on similar applications that however fair and just the claim of a justice may be to be remunerated for his services in the administration of criminal justice within his jurisdiction, the law does not authorize the payment of such fees out of any funds under the control of the council. Now that a police has been established in the parish of Lancaster and the duties of the police, which are similar to those of constables, are likely to be increased, it might be possible if the parish authorities desire it to assess upon the parish as part of the expenses of such police a suitable sum to pay a stipend to the sitting magistrate. This report was adopted.

The special committee appointed to confer with other municipalities as to the best means of collecting arrearages of taxes with a view of securing an amendment of the act of assembly, have not finished their work yet.

Coun. Brown moved that the elections in the parishes for the office of councillors be held on the last Tuesday in March in each year, instead of the third Tuesday in April as at present, and that the committee on bills for the legislature be directed to prepare a bill enacting such change and submit the same at the next meeting of the council.

Drowning of Mr. James Magee.

The Dublin Freeman's Journal of Sept. 22nd, contains the following account of the drowning of Mr. James Magee, of Dublin, at Dalkey while bathing. The deceased was the eldest brother of John S. Magee, Esq., the well known dry goods merchant of St. Andrews:—

One of the most melancholy cases of drowning which has occurred along the suburban coast for some years happened at Dalkey on Saturday evening whereby Mr. James Magee, an old and valuable member of Sir John Ball Green's staff in the Valuation Office, Ely place, lost his life. It would appear that the deceased went to the bathing place at Vico road, and, notwithstanding the fact that a heavy sea was running through the sound and a half gale blowing from the south east, he undressed and ventured into the sea. He was soon overpowered and carried some distance from the shore without any person being aware of his fearful position. Mr. John Myles, B. L., of Brierly, Sorrento road, who was superintending some repairs which are in progress at one of his houses at Vico, observed the body floating about in the water, and immediately ran down to the foreshore and divesting himself of his clothes, recklessly plunged into the sea and tried to swim toward the deceased. The waves soon got the better of the would-be rescuer, who finding himself becoming exhausted, and observing that the body was lifeless, turned his attention towards his own preservation, and not a bit too soon, for it was with no little difficulty he got ashore again. The daring of Mr. Myles's action can only be realised when it is understood that the coastguards were unable to get out to the body, and that the Kingstown lifeboat after coming as far as the Island had to put back in consequence of the storm and tide. While in the sea Mr. Myles observed that some blood was flowing from the head of the unfortunate man, so that he had probably struck against some of the rocks in endeavoring to get ashore. The police took possession of the deceased's clothes which were identified by Mr. Thomas M'Donald of Roxburgh House as those of Mr. Magee of 1 Victoria terrace, North Circular road and recently residing at Prince Ville, Coliemore road, Dalkey. Two daughters of the unfortunate gentleman also identified their father's clothing. The greatest possible sympathy is everywhere felt and expressed for the bereaved relatives of the deceased.

Death of a Bank Manager.

Mr. W. E. Collier, manager of the Bank of British North America, died at his residence, Shipton's Hill, last evening. Mr. Collier had been in poor health for the past two years, and some months ago went to Colorado in search of rest and improved health. On his return his appearance looked as if he had much improved, but such was not the case. He sought lots of outdoor exercise before and after his office hours, but to little avail, and a couple of months ago he was compelled to keep his residence. For some days he has been gradually sinking, still his family did not realize death was so near, and he passed away last evening quite suddenly.

Mr. Collier was a native of Scotland and came to this city a little over twenty years ago and entered the Bank of British North America. After a service of eight years he was promoted to the position of manager and for the past twelve years he has presided over the affairs of that institution in a manner that has won for him the respect and esteem not only of the business community in this city and province, but also of the head office in England.

Deceased was thirty-nine years of age and leaves a widow and six children. He married Emily, daughter of his honor Judge Watters. Of the six children, one is at present in Scotland and another is on the way home from that country, while the other four are in the city.

The funeral will take place on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock from his late residence. Chipman's hill.

The Fireman's Foreman's Fizzle.

The slight fire in the schooner Alice at Indiantown, Saturday night, did very little damage, but the foreman of No. 5 company got so hot over it, that he is only just about cooled down now. It seems that the fire was put out without the aid of hose. One of the firemen who had ascertained that the fire was out, and who was on his way home met the chief and told him the fire was out, whereupon the chief allowed the hose cart driver to return to the engine house and after the hall out. Now the foreman was struck, too. The foreman of the company got so indignant over the fact that the chief had allowed the cart to return "without orders" from him, the foreman, that he could not contain himself and on his arrival at the engine house he made things lively by giving all hands to understand the extent of his authority and his intention of showing it. Complaints were next made to Chief Kerr about some alleged misconduct on the part of some of the members of the company. An investigation was held Monday evening and after hearing both sides the chief very sensibly lectured the disturbing element and after expressing the hope there would be no further trouble intimated that he would be pleased to receive the resignation of the foreman if that individual was not disposed to continue in the position under the present management.

Rev. Dr. McMullen Welcomed.

The Methodists of this city held a public reception last evening in Centenary church in honor of Rev. Dr. McMullen, the representative of the British and Irish conferences to the Canadian conferences recently held in Montreal. There was a fair attendance. Rev. Dr. Sprague occupied the chair, and seated on the platform were Rev. Doctors Pope and Wilson, and Rev. Messrs. Deinstadt, Daniel, Lodge, Parker, Pickles, Steele and Dennis.

After the usual opening exercises, the chairman extended to Rev. Dr. McMullen a hearty welcome, and called upon Rev. Dr. Wilson, the senior pastor in St. John, to make the address of welcome. Dr. Wilson spoke at some length.

Rev. Dr. McMullen was then called upon and made a very interesting address, at the close of which Rev. Dr. Pope moved a resolution of welcome to the Rev. Dr. McMullen.

Rev. Mr. Pickles seconded the resolution, which was carried by a standing vote.

The meeting closed with the doxology and benediction by Rev. Dr. McMullen.

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES.

Athletic.

As stated a short time ago the Union Lacrosse club of this city will hold their first annual games at the Lansdown rink on Thursday evening 16th inst. Their programme will include the following events:—50 yards dash (scratch); 220 yards (handicap); 440 yards (scratch); 120 yards lacrosse, race; 120 yards hurdle race; half mile walk; one mile run (handicap); running high jump, (handicap); apple race; chariot race.

* * *

There are in all six athletic clubs in St. John, the St. Johns, the Shamrocks, Beavers, Unions, Y. M. C. A.'s and Carletons, and one after another of these, is holding sports. This is certain to give a great impetus to athletics, and to induce the boys to keep in training the year round. It will excite the interest of the people, too, and it is really the spectators who pay the expenses of a meet, and make the contests what they are.

* * *

The Unions are as enterprising as the other clubs, and are bent upon successfully arranging their inauguration meeting. They have chosen an excellent programme of events, and will offer handsome medals and prizes for competition,

* * *

The Fredericton athletes, who attended the last sports to the number of eight or ten, expressed their intention of being represented at every meet held in St. John hereafter, and therefore they are expected to come down for the Union games.

* * *

All those who took part in the Beavers' sports last spring should enter for these sports because there was some excellent material shown then, which has since kept in seclusion. Material always needs developing, and there is no place like a rink for that developement.

* * *

The Lansdowne rink will be open every day and Tuesday and Thursday evenings for training. Several of the runners have been practising for some days and there is some talk about a dark horse or two making it lively for the champions.

* * *

The chariot race promises to be very amusing as well as exciting. The chariots are to be on the old Roman basis and each team will consist of two runners and a driver. There will be some lively times in turning the corners and the drivers unless they are very expert will likely be spilled out.

W. J. McCaffrey, Dufferin hotel will take charge of the entries.

* * *

The Unions have been asked to give the Kings college lacrosse team of Windsor a game, should the former decide to go to Halifax to play the Wanderers.

A NEGRO GIRL'S DEATH.

She Said She Ate Something Which Made her Sick and Afterwards Died in Great Agony.

A sudden and rather curious death occurred in a wretched abode at the eastern end of Duke street this morning. Annie Burns, a colored girl of 12 years of age, daughter of Henry Burns, was up town yesterday and returned home early in the evening. She complained to her parents of a pain in the head and side, that she had eaten a piece of a goose wreck at Mr. Geo. McLeod's on Orange street, which made her sick. She cried, moaned and screeched during the night, complaining greatly of the pain, and about nine o'clock this morning died. The body is slightly swollen and her tongue protrudes, and is terribly discolored and swollen. This morning Chief of Police Clark paid a visit to the hovel where the body is lying, and made some enquiries, which he reported to Coroner Berryman. The Burns' dwelling consists of two smoke begrimmed rooms, in one of which the body of the child lies on the only bed in the house.

A reporter visited Mr. McLeod's residence and learned that the deceased girl had not been given any goose bones yesterday. She was in the habit of coming to the house regularly begging, and was always given eatables left from Mr. McLeod's table. Yesterday she received the same things and the servants are certain that no goose bones were among them.

Dr. Berryman was at Musquash today, but when he arrives home an inquest will likely be held on the girl.

Provincial Points.

The Yarmouth county exhibition will be held on Thursday and Friday of this week. $2,400 are offered in premiums.

John Gilchrist, who was working at Perkins' mill at Hampton had his hand cut off on Saturday, only saving his little finger.

Three steers got into Parker Glazier's camp in Lincoln a few days since. The door closed on them and they starved to death.

T. S. Magee, a brother of J. S. Magee of St. Andrews, and a native of that place, was drowned while bathing near Dublin Ireland, a few days since.

Last Monday's storm caused much damage in Shediac harbor. Several fishing boats were driven ashore, and a barque is grounded on the point and badly damaged.

The Truro Guardian makes the following note in the interest of science: "When the water stops running at the tap it is not always because it is frozen. Sometimes it is on account of the rates not being paid."

The schooner Silver Dart, of Spry Bay, N. S., is ashore at Murray's Harbor, P. E. I., and full of water. She is insured for $700 in the Ocean Marine, as is also her fishing outfit. The disaster is doubtless the result of last Monday's gale.

The body of Miss Sadie McKay, of Charlottetown, who died at New Orleans some time ago, was brought from Boston in the steamer Worcester, which arrived on Saturday evening, and interred in St. Peter's graveyard yesterday.—Charlottetown Examiner.

King's Cove, N. S. has the champion old man of Yarmouth county. He is in his 85th year and he can and does walk into Yarmouth (distant four miles) sometimes two or three times a week, pitch on and off a load of hay; can mow half a day at a time, and does any other kind of work.

A freak fish, brought to the city, was yesterday being exhibited at the People's bank corner. It was about two feet long and had a head somewhat resembling that of a human being. On either side of the tail were two projections, which some interested persons said were legs.—Halifax Echo.

The schooner Moose, in ballast, is ashore at Bayfield Harbor, North Sydney. The schooner Thistle, Captain Boulanger, of Quebec, from St. Johns N. F., bound to Sydney three days out, in an easterly gale last Monday night, five miles east of Sydney light, was struck by a sea which carried away her bowsprit, boom, cutwater, two jibs, stem staysail and all her head gear.

The fishery bulletin of Oct. 7, says:—Another catch of herring amounting to 150 bbls. has been made at Port Hood, and cod and hake fishing are fair at Mabou. At Meat cove and Ingonish there was no fishing on account of rough weather. Fishing off Flint island, C. B., is still reported good but there is nothing doing at Louisburg, Arichat or St. Peters, owing to stormy weather. At Whitehead, N. S., the weather is very rough and little is being done, but cod are fairly plentiful. Herring are still plentiful, but cod and mackerel scarce.

Loss of a P. E. I. Schooner With the Loss of a Man.

During the storm last Monday the schooner Mary Jane, hailing from Charlottetown and owned by Captain Button, of Wallace, N. S., was wrecked off the north beach of Lourmain Island, near Cape Tormentine. Men from the cape tried Tuesday evening to reach the ill-fated schooner, but failed in every effort to rescue the poor sailors, whom they could see climbing in despair to the vessel's rigging. Yesterday morning they succeeded in boarding the schooner, but only to find four of the crew had succumbed to the cold and storm of the night and had found a watery grave. A man's body was found on the beach near by, and on him a card addressed Franklin Seaman, Wallace, N. S. It is reported since that four more bodies have been recovered. The Mary Jane was a schooner of 55 tons register, formerly owned by Capt. Thistle, of Souris, but sold 15 months ago to Capt. Button. She was in ballast when wrecked and was probably bound to some Nova Scotia port for coal. She was not insured. The names of the remainder of the crew have not yet been learned.

The New Racing Boat.

As beautiful a racing boat as ever entered maritime waters has just been completed by Elijah Ross for the St. John four-oared crew. She is tastefully finished in every respect and displays every indication of speed. The work of building her has been very rapid, 9½ days, but notwithstanding that fact, she is thoroughly put together. Her dimensions are as follows:—Length, 38 feet; beam forward, 6½ inches; depth aft, 7 inches, and 8 inches centre, below the gunnels. She is rigged with 9-inch outriggers from the gunnels, according to the article, and is fitted with Mr. Ross's patent rollers and rowlocks. The latter have never been used before in boats rowed here.

She is planked with white pine and her timbers are of oak. When all the equipments are in, the boat will weigh about 150 pounds.

Her crew will come down to-day and take their new boat to the training course.

Good Guessers—Some of Them.

There were at least fifteen good guessers at the exhibition during last week, for fifteen persons guessed the exact weight of the big cake of Surprise soap—397 pounds. They were, Geo. A. Kimball, Nellie Arnold, Mrs. T. C. Olive, Laura Harrison, Mrs. Geo. Jenkins, Mrs. H. Gallagher, Willie T. Willis, S. W. Stevenson, E. J. Armstrong, Mrs. J. W. Ramsell, Charles Mullin, Miss B. Carvill, E. T. Smith, Mrs. M. Sprague and Harry Logan.

The other guesses ranged from ten pounds to 7032 pounds; and not a few apparently believed the big cake would tip the beam at between three or four thousand weight. Some of the guessers put in the weight without their names; others put in their names with the weight, and still others handed in blank slips.

Those who were lucky enough to guess 397 will receive $5 each at Messrs. Armstrong Bros. Charlotte street.

Police Court.

John Taylor, drunk, fighting on Waterloo street and violently resisting the police, was fined $24.

John Sutherland, who was charged with fighting with Taylor, was dismissed, the evidence showing that he was not fighting and was merely holding Taylor, who attacked him.
