Mr. Thomas a student at Huron College and a son of Rev. H. Thomas, a former rector, took service in Christ church on Sunday morning.

The death occurred in Bothwell on Tuesday morning of Mrs. Ellen Cox McCready after a short illness, she having suffered two paralytic strokes. Deceased was in her 80th year and had lived in this vicinity all her life, being one of a family of 13 brought up in the Cox settlement a few miles west of the home on the Fansher road where she came as the bride of the late William McCready. Her husband died while their two children were very young, but with the courage of the pioneer she worked bravely on, making a good home for her children. Later when they were grown up she married the late John McCready, coming to Newbury to reside. At his death she went to Bothwell, making her home ever since with her sister, Miss Lizzie Cox. The late Mrs. McCready was a loyal member of the Church of England and one of the first members of the church here. She was most highly respected in this vicinity and was a kindly, good neighbor. The funeral services were held in Grace church, Bothwell, on Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Mr. Hunt. Interment in the family plot at Wardsville. The pallbearers were Thomas Baynton, James Dent, Fred Sullivan, W. A. Scott, Chas. Watson and Wm. Beamish. The family left are one son, Archie, councillor of Mosa, and one daughter, Mrs. Thos. Burr; also seven grandchildren and two brothers, Thomas, of Bothwell, and Ed., on the homestead in Euphemia, and four sisters—Miss Lizzie Cox, Bothwell; Mrs. Johnston, London; Mrs. Ensign, Blenheim, and Mrs. Camplin, here, all of whom will have the sympathy of a large circle of friends. The floral offerings included a pillow from the son and daughter and a wreath from the Ladies' Aid of Grace church.

It Will Prevent Ulcerated Throat.—At the first symtoms of sore throat, which presages ulceration and inflammation, take a spoonful of Dr Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Add a little sugar to it to make it palatable. It will allay the irritation and prevent the ulceration and swelling that are so painful. Those who were periodically subject to quinsy have thus made themselves immune to attack.

Owing to the illness of Rev. Mr. Murphy, Brant Thomas, a student in Huron College, London, was the preacher in the Anglican church here on Sunday. Mr. Thomas' visit here was of much interest as his father was minister here a few years ago.

Harvey Clare has returned home after spending his Easter holidays with relatives here.

The members of the Methodist choir were entertained Wednesday evening at the parsonage. Games and a dainty lunch were the diversions of the evening.

Funeral services were held on Friday for Mr. Heywood, of Ingersoll, a one-time resident of this vicinity. Rev. Mr. Bridgette conducted the services. Those attending the funeral from a distance were Miss Heywood and Bert Heywood, of Chicago, and Howard Yorke, of Buffalo.

Notice.—Monuments in Scotch and Canadian granites furnished. Inscriptions cut at the cemetery.—Wardsville Granite & Marble Works; Chas. Mimna, proprietor.

SHIELDS SIDING

The U.F.O. shipped hogs on Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Wilson spent the Easter holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. McTavish.

Miss Atkinson, of Tillsonburg, and Kenneth and Elroy Ferguson, of Sarnia, spent last week at A. J. Purcell's.

Much sympathy is extended to Will McBride in his double bereavement. The death of his father, J. D. McBride, occurred at his home here on April 7. His mother died a short time ago.

R. L. McAlpine and A. J. Purcell attended the U. F. O. convention at London on Thursday of last week.

APPIN

Don't forget to hear the song and story service in the Methodist church on Sunday night.

Mrs. (Rev.) Paton, of Glencoe, gave a very interesting and helpful address to the young ladies of the Presbyterian church on Saturday afternoon. At the close a lunch was served and a social hour spent. We hope to have the pleasure of hearing Mrs. Paton again in the near future.

The service last Sunday evening in the Methodist church was taken by John Macfie, who gave an excellent sermon from the text, Romans 1: 20.

The Epworth League here are entertaining the League from Cairngorm on Friday evening, April 13th. There will be a debate, "Resolved that in the progress of the world the church has played and continues to play a more prominent part than the school." EKFRID STATION

The April meeting of the Eureka Community Club was held at the home of Mrs. Dunc. McTavish on April 5, and on account of the inclement weather the members did not attend in as large numbers as usual. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary. Miss Johnson delighted all with her solos. The members presented a string of beads to Miss Grace Wilson, who is leaving this community. Mrs. A. Skinner also favored the club with a solo. There being so much business on hand, the debate was left till a later date. The travelling library is at the home of Mrs. R. P. Eaton. Anna Eaton was appointed librarian. The flower girls then assisted the hostesses, Mrs. D. McTavish, Mrs. J. Murray and Mrs. W. Kirkwood, in serving a dainty lunch, over which the members spent a social time. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Hugh Black, on May 3, the roll call to be answered by impromptu speeches.

NORTH EKFRID

The Ladies' Aid held an egg social and a debate in the school house on Friday evening, with a good crowd. Subject of debate: "Which would be preferable to a woman's happiness—a rich, cranky husband, or a poor, good-natured husband?" The judges came to a decision in favor of the negative by one point.

The Girls' Mission Band met at the home of Elva Hodgson last week, with a good crowd, considering the bad roads. Tea was served by the hostess.
