Essex Defends the Stand of the Property Owners' Association, and Discusses the Questions to be Voted Upon.

Editor of the ADVERTISER:

r editorial upon the figures presented real estate owners' meeting the other g calls for a few remarks. You say is not intended at present to expend hole amount of $200,000 for water. I desire to ask the water comners, if this is so, why are the citizens upon to approve of that expenditure time, why are the ratepayers not to nsulted with regard to the whole diture, and why is it proposed to ask ment to give the commissioners the o spend $125,000 at their own sweet hether the citizens approve of it or Is it the citizens of London who own aterworks, or is it the commissioners? is the property of the citizens, why they not have the right to say what e done with it?

h regard to the purchase of an elecght plant. Some few days ago the en placed the sum of $66,000 in a for the purpose of having sufficient to purchase the most expensive sys lighting offered to the council, and nder for which was, I think, within a undred dollars of that amount. It is umored that a deputation next Sunhether at the city's expense or not disclosed) will visit Chicago to inate this very plant. If the electric people are agreeing to pay the exof this trip, are they doing this for g, or do they expect to get it back in way? If the plant is bought, where money to come from to pay for the nd erect the power house? What is lue of their estimates, when, if after months' tinkering with this they nd it necessary to take another jaun cago to look into the matter? Is it e the city has not been saddled with ent expense this year by reason of ations to almost every city in the ry? It would be interesting to know ract amount expended in this connecn 1893. At present our association t had an opportunity to consider the on of municipal lighting in all its ngs; but when we find cities like to, Montreal, Hamilton and others g the last two years renewing con with electric light companies rather aunch out into large expenditures for etc., which must be more or less an ment, I think we are justified in slow in this city. At any rate, so this item is concerned, if the bylaw the sum of $66,000 will no doubt an under-estimate after a power house rd are counted in.

figures as to the $100,000 for car cannot be questioned. As to the $135, r London and Port Stanley Railway, it e true, the people will not be called upvote on this, but that is because the nment will compel us to pay whatever nired whether we like it or not. If hole amount is not required at once, can be no dobbt in two or three years be, and then a rate will have to be l on the ratepayers to meet the sinknd, even if the interest is paid by the ailway company.

der these circumstances I think that gures claiming that the rate will be sed by two mills if these bylaws are l, coupled with the Port Stanley Railxpenditure is a fair and reasonable Yours truly, GEO. T. HISCOX.

WESTERN ONTARIO.

ESSEX.

Mr. Herbert Wigle, of Gosfield South, one of the most progressive of Essex county farmers, has just finished one of the largest and most complete stock barns in the county. It is 115 feet long, with a cellar capable of holding 1,000 bushels of roots. Water troughs, taps and drains for the stock are all provided.

A series of Patrons of Industry meetings are being held in Essex county this week. Grand President Mallory is announced to speak at them. They are as follows: Essex, Tuesday, 10th; Malden town hall, Wednesday, 11th, at 10:30, and at Harrow at 7:30; Kingsville, Thursday, at 10:30, and at Leamington at 7 30; South Woolsloe on Friday at 10:30, and at Maidstone Cross at 7:30.

There has been quite a long investigation in the Windsor council and a good deal of excitement over charges made by Dr. R. Carney against the committee of ladies of the House of the Friendless about misappropriation of funds. The committee have reported, exonerating the ladies in the case.

Stock in the Ontario Natural Gas Company at Kingsville, which originally could be purchased at $20 per share, is now held at $60 per share.

Dr. Thomas Gray, late of California, has been visiting Leamington with a view of buying a peach farm and becoming a resident. He is the owner of fruit farms in California, and thinks as much money can be made by fruit growing here under good care and management. In the south, he says, you might as well look for a weed on the floor of a house as in an orchard. Orange culture south has been overdone and there is not much money in it, but the peach market is illimitable.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Wigle, of Ruthven, had a surprise party of nearly 100 persons at their residence recently, in honor of his 65th birthday. An address was presented and a number of speeches made. He has been for years an active temperance and Christian worker.

Very successful evangelistic services are being held at Amherstburg by the Methodist and Presbyterians unitedly.

An electric car on the Sandwich line ran into one of Curry & Robinet's wagons one night last week, smashing it to splinters. The driver of the wagon undertook to cross the track and the wagon was struck amidships. The driver was pitched into the ditch, but escaped uninjured.

There has been quite a long investigation by Inspector Dickie, of Toronto, into charges against Bailiff Pacaud, of Windsor, and in consequence the bailiff has resigned. He has sold the French paper he was publishing.

Andrew Brown, a colored lad, had been drinking heavily a few days ago at Windsor and went into Masonville's saloon for more liquor, which he was refused. He drew a revolver and put it to the breast of the bartender, but the hammer was on a discharged cartridge and before he could pull again he was caught, arrested and locked up. It looks as though there was a narrow escape of a murder.

The young man named Betts, who was injured in a barroom fight at Leamington, is not expected to live.

LAMBTON.

At the local bye-election in East Lambton the other day 4 055 votes were polled. At the last general election 4,204 votes were polled in the same constituency.

The Sarnia Observer says: "Mr. Donohue, representing a large Chicago company, interested in patents for steel wagons, has been in town for some days past looking over sites for a manufactory. He is greatly impressed with the situation of Sarnia and Point Edward as a manufacturing point, being especially adapted for the smelting of ores and the manufacture of articles of iron and steel.

Two young horses belonging to Mr. John Dawson, of Sarnia, got on the track from an adjoining field on Wednesday evening of last week and were so badly injured by being struck by a passing train that they had to be shot.

MIDDLESEX.

A Lucan correspondent writes that for the past ten years municipal honors have fairly gone begging in that village, but this year the contest is lively. For reeve, Wm. Elwood, the present incumbent, and John R Armitage are in the field. The following gentlemen are named as candidates for the council: S. Gibson, Geo. Hodgins, J. W. Anderson, W. Reid, Charles Stanley, J. S. Griffin, Robt. McLean, Alexander Braithwaite,

OXFORD.

The Empire tea stock at Woodstock was sold under mortgage at 61 cents on the dollar.

R. O. Smith, of Woodstock, received a telegram the other day that his brother, C. J. Smith, had died in Maritta, Georgia, but he got a second message stating that his brother was not only alive, but on the mend.

Duncan Robinson, of Woodstock, died on Wednesday morning from paralysis. Deceased was born in Glengarry county, but had lived for 22 years in this section.

The man found frozen to death near Thedford has been fully identified as James Sackrider, who wandered away from his home at Currie's Crossing, a few miles from Woodstock, on Nov. 15. The deceased has relatives living here.

Word has been received in Woodstock of the death of Mr. Edwin R. Deverell, of the Deverell Manufacturing Company, New York. Mr. Deverell was a resident of Woodstock some years ago.

La grippe has claimed for a victim another of Woodstock's pioneers—Mrs. Wm. Snelgrove. The deceased had lived here for 40 years, and was in her 75th year.

The magnificent law library of the late Mr. H. B. Beard, Q.C., is being catalogued, preparatory to being sold.

PERTH.

The St. Marys Journal says: This fall 275,000 dozen eggs have been forwarded from the town station for export to the British markets.

The annual commencement concert of the St. Marys Collegiate Institute will be held in the opera house on Friday evening, Dec. 22, for which a varied programme is in preparation.

A very fine new Sunday school building has been added to the St. Marys Methodist Church, nearly as large and costly as the church itself. Dedicatory services will be held on Sunday next, 17th inst. Rev. A. M. Phillips, B.D., of Toronto, will preach, morning and evening. On Monday evening, 18th, the ladies will give a banquet, and a fine musical and literary programme will follow.

A number of farms in the vicinity of Listowel have changed hands recently. Mr. Samuel L. Kidd sold his place to a party from North Easthope for $4,800. Mr. T. A. Stevenson has bought Mr. Cumberland's 75 acres on the townline for $4,000, and Mr. Cumberland has bought the Doll farm on the 3rd con. of Wallace, containing 150 acres, for $5,450.

Mr. John Hintz drove into Mitchell the other day from the township of Logan with a cutter that attracted much attention. The runners were cut out of two heavy planks, and on them was placed a big box. For shafts two big tamarack poles were used, and the whole was painted a bright red. John said as soon as he got it properly varnished he intended to present it to the first couple from Mitchell who got married in the new year.

Word has been received at Fullarton that Mr. Alexander Yule, who left for Chicago two years ago, had died in the hospital there of typhoid fever. Mrs. Yule, since her husband left, kept up his dues in the Foresters' Order, of which he was a member, until two months ago. For this unfortunate neglect Mrs. Yule will lose the benefit that would otherwise have come to her.

About 40 Patrons of Industry assembled the other day at the residence of a sick brother, Mr. George Lawson, near Listowel, and cut and piled sufficient wood to last for a long time.

WATERLOO.

Dr. Sylvester, of Galt, has sold his medical practice to Mr. Atcheson, son of Rev. Mr. Atcheson, who formerly resided in that town. Mr. Sylvester will remove to Toronto.

The poor boy Washburn, who unfortunately got his foot seriously injured in the Brodie Mills, at Hespeler, is having a hard time of it. The injury partly healed up after a time, with the loss of some of his toes, but subsequently further disease of the bones of his foot showed itself and amputation may have to be resorted to.

The annual Sabbath school convention for Waterloo county was held in Galt last week in Knox Presbyterian Church. The officers elected for the coming year are: President, Rev. A. G. King, Galt; vice-president, James Woods, Galt; second vice-president, R. Purves, Hespeler; treasurer, S. S. Detweiler, Berlin; secretary, Rev. H. Hallman, Berlin.

ADAM-LIKE.

Robert Hill's Reasons for Bigamy—He Blames Wife No. 1.

NEWCASTLE, Ont., Dec. 11.—Some eight or ten months ago a man named Robert Hill came to town and started business. As he came well recommended he was soon honored as one of the most prominent members of the best society here. Shortly after his arrival he married Mrs. Bird, a widow, who owned considerable property here, and who also was of high social standing.

They lived happily until about two weeks ago, when another woman appeared and claimed Hill as her husband. Last Saturday wife No. 2 swore out a warrant for bigamy, and Hill came up for trial to-day. Hill pleaded guilty, but said the reason he did it was because his first wife ran off with another man, and he thought he had as much right to get married as she had.

Mary Hill, wife No. 2, being called, stated she was married to Robert Hill, June 1, 1893, at Newcastle.

Annie Hill, No. 1, stated she was married to accused Nov. 11, 1891.

Hill was committed to Cobourg jail for trial at the next assizes.
