H. Ford, treasurer, and Mr. Alex. Gunn, chairman of committee. These annual remembrances are exceedingly welcome.

—Specialties tell in music as well as in other matters. "D" School, I. S. C., Band never had a very large crowd at its afternoon concerts till yesterday, when, notwithstanding the threatening weather, over 1,500 attended. "The Battle of Tel-el-Kebir" was the drawing card. It was a splendid piece of realistic playing, and will bear repetition.

—Mr. C. Chapman, of Priddis Bros., who has returned to business after rusticating with the Grey Birds on Fraser Heights, reports glorious times there. He was agreeably surprised at the development of the Port since his last visit, and prophesies a bright future not only as a health resort for London merchants, but hopes to see a forest of masts in the little port if Canada gets closer commercial relations with the States.

Music in the Air.

Both the afternoon and evening concerts in Victoria Park were well attended yesterday. The programme of the afternoon by the band of "D" Company, I. S. C., was of an unusually brilliant character and elicited hearty applause from the audience. The medley, "Recollections of the Battle of Tel-el-Kebir," was rendered in a masterly manner which reflected much credit on the conductor, Mr. Fisher. The several parts were well taken, beginning with the drummers' call, the reveille and march following, bugle echoes from the enemy's camp being faintly heard as if in the distance. The music grows more stirring as the firing and bagpipes are depicted, followed in turn with the booming of cannon, the climax being reached when the victory is assured, and the piece concludes with the inspiring strains of the triumphal homeward march of the victors. The evening's concert by the Seventh Band brought out thousands. The programme included many well-known and favorite pieces, among them being "Reminiscences of All Nations," as well as "The Kentucky Jubilee" and "Myrtle-bluethen." Several pieces were encored.

Scarcity of Fruit.

Mr. Thomas Martindale, formerly of this city, now a member of the firm of Thomas Martindale & Co., importing grocers, Tenth and Market streets, Philadelphia, contributes to the Philadelphia Ledger a lengthy article dealing with the scarcity of fruit, the cause of shortage and the probable effect on prices. "We will get about 12,000 baskets of peaches this year," said Mr. Martindale, "compared with nearly 6,000,000 baskets last year. The greatest of all crops, the apple, will be realized to about the extent of 24 per cent. in New York State, as compared with productions heretofore; in Michigan about 60 per cent. and in Maine about 90 per cent." The article goes on to say that "the scarcity, it is thought, will not stop at the peach crop in the fruit line, but will include apples, apricots, quinces, grapes, plums, strawberries, raspberries and nearly all other table fruits. Of the vegetable products corn, string beans, lima beans, tomatoes, and nearly all other goods for canning will, if prices continue to advance as they have been and are now doing, be this winter nearer a luxury than a necessity."

Talking to the "Y.'s."

A large audience listened attentively to the medical lecture given by Dr. Arnott Tuesday evening before the "Y.'s." Notebooks and pencils were in general use, showing that a more than passing interest is being taken, and that students of the course intend to make the best of their opportunity. The Doctor opened with an exhaustive drill on the previous lectures, using diagrams on the blackboard to illustrate the heart, the pulmonary artery and a small section of the nervous system, with further explanations of the functions of each hygienic condition were then discussed, pointing out some of the immediate causes that lead to impurity of the blood and depletion of the system, with proper measures for skin disease avoidance, and showing the absolute necessity of exercise to retain a normal state of health, with instructions in how that want can be partially supplied in case of invalidism. At the close of the lecture, a number of young ladies (which it is hoped will be largely increased) whose time is at their disposal, signified their willingness to act as voluntary nurses (after these lectures will have given them sufficient training) in cases of urgent necessity where insufficient means do not permit of the engagement of a regularly qualified nurse. A few names were also handed in for membership in the association. Although the course is given quite free to all, and young ladies especially are urged to attend, it is hoped that many will become members of the Young Women's Christian Association, for whom primarily with the "Y.'s." themselves, the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union have arranged the course. Next Tuesday evening the interest will be increased by the addition of microscopes with specimens for examination.

Y. M. C. A. CAMP.

PORT STANLEY, July 30, 1890.

Three of the boys mounted guard last night to watch for stragglers who have been going around upsetting tents, but no one came. The first sentry went on at 10 p.m. and stayed till relieved at 12:30 a.m. by No. 2, and he till No. 3 took charge at 3 a.m., and No. 3 watched till morning. The hardest work was to keep awake, but we managed it all right, and will be able to say we have put in sentry duty now. If we had to do it perhaps we would not be so willing, but novelty is a great thing. Only the older boys took part in the fun.—Our head man, Mr. W. H. Sallmon, left for London last night, but will be back this evening. We miss his presence even for so short a time as this.—Among the visitors to-day were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hannah and Miss Ethel Hannah, Miss Hiscott, Miss Abrams, and Mr. Gibson, all of London.—It looked like we were in for a wet day early this morning, but it has cleared off fine now, with a stiff breeze from the west.—Mr. Crawford, son of ex-Sergt. Crawford, and Fred Greenaway, of London, arrived this morning for a short sojourn with us, and James and Will Knight left for home. So we move along, one goes and another comes.

Sing Their Own Praises.

There are few, if any, in the great army of smokers who have not been, by experience, placed in a position to judge as to the merits of the "Norma" 10-cent cigar manufactured by H. McKay & Co., of London. In almost every cigar store and hotel in Canada this pet of all lovers of 10-cent goods has found its way, and is finding rapid and constantly increased sale. Unlike other similar goods, its fame is not of a transient nature. The "Norma" contains all the merits of the imported cigar, and has in many cases supplanted its more expensive rivals, and each successive season but adds to its host of admiring consumers. The large establishment of H. McKay & Co. is kept continually engaged in supplying the demands made upon them for the "Norma."
