NEW MEMBER FOR ALBERTA

Increased Representation for the Northwest Territories.

JOE MARTIN CALLED DOWN ONCE MORE

Hendershott and Welter's Fate Will Be Decided To-Day.

Yesterday's Session a Dull One, Enlivened Only by a Spat Between Messrs. Martin and Boyd—Canada and the International Industrial Property Convention—No Quebec "Gerrymander"—Interesting Developments in Hamilton Politics Looked For.

Ottawa, June 10.—Members sweltered in the House to-day, with the thermometer up in the nineties. There was the usual Monday batch of questions, and then Fighting Joe Martin got the floor and created the chief diversion of the sitting. Mr. Martin is apt to transgress the rules of Parliament, although after his legislative experience in Manitoba he ought to know better. He went so far to-day that the Speaker threatened to "name" him, whereat the coon came down. People to-night are cogitating what would happen if Mr. Speaker carried out his threat. The father of the gallery cannot recall any person being "named" in the Dominion House, although it frequently happened in England. If Mr. Martin were a true friend of the newspaper men he would give them an opportunity of writing up what must have been one of the most interesting episodes of a pretty dull session. Beyond this incident the sitting was dull.

Talk is again rife among the Liberals of the Government's intention to bring down a gerrymander Bill for the Province of Quebec this session. In the language of a deceased statesman, "there ain't nothing to ir."

The Manitoban Question Again.

Now that the re-assembling of the Manitoba Legislature is approaching, public attention is again being directed to the school question. Mr. J. S. Ewart, Q.C., arrived from Winnipeg this morning, but he says he is in absolute ignorance of the intentions of Mr. Greenway. Le Canada has an editorial on the situation to-night, and makes the significant announcement that "the Government will not dissolve Parliament until after full and complete justice has been rendered to the Catholics of Manitoba." As it is hardly likely that the school question in legislative form will come before Parliament this session, the inference is drawn by some members of the House from Le Canada's statement that there will be another session of the present Parliament. This of course, is mere speculation. It is asserted with some positiveness, that Messrs. Greenway and Sifton do not see eye to eye on school matters, and as the newspapers usually put it, "interesting developments" in Manitoba politics may be looked for shortly.

A New Member for Alberta.

Although actually at the present time the Northwest Territories have not the population to entitle them to a fifth member, yet at the rate settlers are going in it is clear that long before the next parliament has run its course the Territories will have far exceeded the electoral unit. Accordingly the Government has decided to ask Parliament this session to give an additional representative, so that the change may take effect with the new parliament. It is expected that Alberta will be divided into two ridings, that bring the largest electoral division at present and having a population of 35,000. This was one of the measures promised in the speech from the Throne.

In the House.

At the opening of the House this afternoon, Mr. Dickey said he desired to amplify the statement which he made the other day with regard to the hoisting of the Royal Standard. The Royal Standard could be legally flown from the Citadel of Quebec and Government house on the anniversaries of birth, accession and coronation of Her Majesty. Government house was held to include the residences occupied by the different Lieutenant-Governors.

Sir C. H. Tupper, replying to Mr. Martin, said the total amount of binder twine manufactured at Kingston Penitentiary last year was 331,266 lbs., of which 241,061 lbs. was sold, the amount realized being $15,515.

Hon. Mr. Costigan, replying to Mr. McGregor, said that seine net fishing was permissible in the waters of the Detroit and St. Clair Rivers and Lake St. Clair. No regulation size of mesh had been established. Seine fishing was not permissible last year, but this prohibition was revoked on the 22nd of last month. There had been no change in regard to fishing with pound nets.

Canadian Hay Exports.

In answer to Mr. Girouard of Two Mountains Mr. Wallace stated that the total quantity of hay exported from Canada to Great Britain in 1891 was 11,852 tons, and in 1894 175,559 tons. To the United States in the former year the quantity was 50,070 tons, and in 1894 87,347 tons.

Mr. Ouimet, replying to Mr. Allan, said the cost of the wharf at Port Rowan was $11,819, giving a depth of water of 8 feet.

Mr. Dickey, replying to Mr. Gibson, said the total strength of the permanent corps was 1003, made up as follows: "A" Battery, Kingston, 130; "B" Battery, Quebec, two companies, 296; Dragoons, Toronto, 58; Dragoons, Winnipeg, 91; No. 1 Infantry, London, 116; No. 2, Toronto, 110; No. 3, St. Johns, 96; No. 4, Fredericton, 105.

Mr. Daly, answering Mr. Martin, said there was no understanding between the Government and General Booth as to giving or selling him land for the purposes of his proposed colony. The Government had no information as to the class of emigrants which General Booth purposed sending to Canada, and therefore was not in a position to say whether they were in favor of his scheme.

Reduction of Quebec Artillery.

Mr. Dickey, answering Mr. Laurier, said that the artillery at Quebec would be reduced from 297 to 214 officers and men on the 30th June. The corporation of Quebec had sought to charge the Government for water at a price largely in excess of previous years. The Minister thought the charge was unreasonable, and the Department had notified the corporation that if it were adhered to there was a possibility of the

A MALE LUCY GRAY.

But Five Years After His Disappearance the Lad's Bleached Bones Were Found on the Prairie.

Over five years ago Willie McMillan, the 10-year-old son of James McMillan of Pengarth Postoffice, near Regina, who shortly before had removed from Toronto to the Northwest, lost his way in going from there to his uncle's place, a distance of 12 miles, there being no trail and only 12 w. This was in the month of February, and 20 below zero. His father and uncle set out the day after followed his tracks from Pengarth for some distance, but finally lost them. They then thought it best to go to the uncle's house, two miles distant, to get food and a lantern and renew the search, but losing their bearing, they crossed Long Lake, and when light came they were 10 miles out of their way. They did not get home until 2 p.m., and Currie's feet were so badly frozen that they had to be amputated. A search was made by the neighbors, but they could not find tracks any further than before. It was then decided that Willie, being overcome by fatigue and sleep, made a hole in a snow drift and laid down to perish. The weather being stormy, all further traces of his whereabouts were lost.

While going across the prairie a few days ago a young woman named Lizzie McIntosh found the bleached bones of a human body at the point where traces of the footsteps were lost. By the remnants of the clothing the body was recognized as that of Willie McMillan.

FUGITIVE NICHOLS SURRENDERS.

Stole $11,000 and Fled to Toronto—Lost the Money and Gave Himself Up to the Authorities.

Granville W. Nichols, confidential clerk for John H. Jacquelin & Co. of 50 Broadway, N.Y., on May 1, 1893, was dismissed owing to his bad habits. Later it was discovered that Nichols had been misappropriating the firm's money for six years, taking in all about $11,000. Nichols was arrested, his brother-in-law put up a $1000 bail bond and Nichols fled to Toronto, where he secured employment as a bookkeeper. The firm learned that he was here, but made no effort to take him back.

A few months ago Nichols left for Port Hope. Last week he went to the United States consul, told him his story and his desire to surrender himself and undergo the penalty of his crime, the consul gave him a pass to Rochester, where Nichols repeated his tale to the police authorities. He was detained and yesterday a New York officer took him to Gotham.

LUMBER AND SHIPPING BURNED.

Milwaukee Again Visited by a Disastrous Conflagration.

Milwaukee, Wis., June 10.—Fire in the centre of the lumber and tannery district, and only eight blocks from the business centre of the city, did $750,000 damage. Forester and Ihrig's lumber yards, Gallup's tannery, the steam barge Raleigh and the steam barge Lucy Graham were destroyed. The Schlitz brewery had a narrow escape from being burned. Other shipping was damaged, as was considerable other property in the neighborhood.

Sixteen horses in the stables of the Forester Lumber Company were cremated. All the wagon sheds of the company were destroyed. The excellent work of the firemen prevented a further spread of the flames. Intense excitement prevailed in the city.

The fire started in a hay mow in which gamblers had been playing, and burned practically everything in the town. One hundred people are homeless. A PECULIAR IDEA.

Is What Some People Have Regarding Funny Advertisers.

Many readers of the newspapers nowadays give vent to feelings of disgust when trapped in an advertisement started off with a local sensation as a drawer to catch the devourer of news. Much lack of truth certainly has filled the columns of many papers at the hands of unscrupulous advertisers, but when you read of a sale taking place at Howell's Cut-Rate Shoe House, 246 Yonge-street, you can risk all you own that it is correct.

MAKING ST. LOUIS A MARTYR

SIR A. P. CARON'S ORGAN, LA MINERVE, SHOWS ITS TEETH.

It Declares the Departments Are Too Persistent and That It Now Amounts to Persecution—Let Them Follow Others Who Are Easily Proven Guilty—General Doings in Montreal.

Montreal, Que., June 10. — La Minerve, controlled by Sir Adolphe P. Caron, shows its teeth to-day regarding the action of the Department of Railways and Canals in its dealing with Emanuel St. Louis, the Curran bridge contractor. Mr. St. Louis, says the old French Tory organ, is in a fair way of becoming a victim to a personal persecution at the hands of the Railways and Canals Department, and several are asking if the persistence in this case merits the title of justice, and if Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper is not allowing himself to be drawn too far in his laudable ambition to do what is right. La Minerve adds that the Department had all the time and latitude required to bring the strongest possible proof against Mr. St. Louis, and the accused was obliged to defend himself before the Public Accounts Committee, the Exchequer Court, and finally before the police magistrate, and on each occasion he came off free, although he had to pay enormous costs. It is not possible to suppose that before the Parliamentary Committee, before the Exchequer Court and before the police magistrate there could have been a miscarriage of justice. In all this the Department of Railways and Canals has given proof of its desire to find out and punish the person who appeared to be the most guilty. Would it not be opportune now to direct the prosecution against other parties whose acts would no doubt be easily incriminated? Our friends desire that justice shall be done and dishonesty severely punished, but they also have the right to exact that the limit which separates the cold and impartial action of the law from violence and persecution, shall not be crossed.

Why Reformers Did Not Attend the Unveiling.

Murder will out, and so has the mysterious conduct of the Liberals who with the one exception, of Sir Henri Joly de Lobiniere, absented themselves from the unveiling ceremonies on Thursday last. It appears that the matter was arranged among the party leaders in Ottawa. Hon. Mr. Laurier wrote for a program of the ceremony, and when the leader had received replied that he could not attend. They not only decided to decline the invitations en bloc, but wrote to Sir Henri Joly, entreating him to stay away also. The ex-Premier did not see fit to be dictated to by his Ottawa allies, and pointedly informed them that he had accepted the invitation and intended to be present.

Another St Louis Indictment.

Sir Alexander Lacoste gave judgment to-day allowing the Department of Justice through its representative, Mr. John S. Hall, to lay an indictment against Emanuel St. Louis. The case will therefore go before the grand jury the day after to-morrow.

IMPERIAL SEALING BILL.

Sir Edward Grey Introduces and Explains His Measure.

London, June 10.—In the House of Commons to-day, Sir Edward Grey, Under Foreign Secretary, introduced a bill providing for the prohibition of seal catching during certain periods in Behring Sea and other parts of the Pacific, and also providing a code of regulations for the seal fisheries in those waters. It was read this afternoon in the House of Commons for the first time.

Sir Edward Grey explained that the bill was designed to take the place of the act passed two years ago with a view of carrying out the agreement with Russia in relation to seal fisheries in certain parts of the Pacific. That act would expire in July, and the present measure was practically a re-enactment of the bill, with a few alterations. The bill was read for the first time.

THREE WIDOWS MOURNED HIM.

But Although He Was a Trigamist at the Time of His Decease Only No. 3 Was Legally His Wife.

Three widows of one man, all living, figured in an application in Chambers yesterday for the payment out of court of $1969 of insurance money upon the life of the late John Heald, who died in Toronto last December, and was the husband of all three. In England he married Jane Brierly, who was wife No. 1, in 1859. Her he left in Southbridge, Mass., in 1880, and eloped with Agnes Drew, by whom he had two children, and with whom he lived in Montreal until 1893.

Then he married, legally so counsel claimed, one Margaret Lawrence of Cohoes, N.Y., who yesterday, through Louis F. Heyd, successfully applied for the money in court, it being contended and not disputed that she was the wife entitled to the money, inasmuch as the first wife had secured an American divorce two years after the elopement and marriage with the second, who still lives in Montreal, and that the third and present widow, now living in Cohoes, N.Y., is the only lawful widow of the three.

The Select Knights of Canada paid the money into court. Chief Justice Meredith granted the order for its payment.

Twelve persons were drowned in the town of Schwarzenbach alone, and it is believed that the total loss of life is very great. The damage done in these places, which pecuniarily is over 300,000 florins, cannot be repaired for years.

SWINDLED MANY FARMERS

AN ALLEGED TORONTO CHEAT LODGED IN JAIL.

His Unique Scheme to Get Ahead of Half a Hundred Yeomen in Sundridge District—How He Obtained Possession of Several Carloads of Lumber and Was Finally Locked Up.

W. H. Hunter of this city was arrested at Sundridge, on Saturday by Government Detective Greer on a charge of defrauding a number of farmers in that vicinity.

A few weeks ago Hunter visited Sundridge and called a meeting of the farmers of the district. He claimed to be a lumberman and agreed to market all the forest produce of farmers who would guarantee to pay him a per capita rate of $2 per month for three months. About 70 farmers entered into the arrangement, and an organization was formed of which Hunter was elected secretary and Mr. Peters, a Sundridge merchant, was named as treasurer. Mr. Peters became suspicious of the bona fides of Hunter, however, and declined to have anything to do with the matter.

Pocketed the Proceeds.

Hunter succeeded in inducing the farmers to hand over to him 12 carloads of railroad ties, posts, etc., and these he shipped to Toronto, sold for cash, and it is alleged pocketed the proceeds. When asked for an accounting by the farmers he claimed that he had sold the produce on time, but declined to name the purchasers.

The Atorney-General's Department was communicated with and Detective Greer was given charge of the case. By a neat ruse Hunter was induced to return to Sundridge, where he was arrested. He was arraigned before Messrs. Gibbons and Duke, J.P.'s, an accommitted to Burk's Falls jail for trial on five separate charges of fraud.

Hunter is well known in this city. He was tried recently at Clifton on a charge of fraud, but was acquitted.

JUMPED HIS BAIL.

Thompson, the Trout Creek Hotelkeeper, Is Once Again Missing.

George Thompson, the Trout Creek hotelkeeper, who was arrested in Toronto and taken to Burk's Falls for trial, did not appear at the sessions there yesterday, and Crown Attorney Johnston asked for a bench warrant for the arrest of defendant. In reply to a question from the judge, he replied that Thompson had been released on his own and his wife's bail by Magistrate Hunter of Burk's Falls.

The judge replied that the magistrate showed a great lack of judgment, as by his action he gave Thompson an opportunity to leave the country.

The bench warrant was granted and the case traversed to the next sitting of the court.

Weekly Trips to Rochester.

Commencing Saturday, June 22, the popular and fast steamer Empress of India will commence her regular weekly, Saturday night trips to Rochester. These trips have become so popular and so well known that further reference to them is unnecessary. In order to provide for better accommodation of passengers a considerable increase has been made in sleeping accommodation for this season. The Empress will leave Yonge-street wharf at 11 p.m., arriving at Charlotte at 7 a.m., in time to connect with early morning train on both N.Y.C. and R.W. & O. Railways. Returning, the Empress will leave Charlotte at 7.30 p.m., Sunday, on arrival of train leaving Rochester at 7 p.m. This is the only steamer running these popular trips this season and special attention will be given to make everybody comfortable. At Charlotte the Empress will connect with the fine steamer Alexandria for Montreal and way ports. This steamer runs all the rapids and the St. Lawrence and passes the Thousands Islands by daylight. We bespeak for these trips a largely increased business this season.
