Mr J. D. Chambers moved this week to the residence which he lately purchased on Highland avenue from Mr J. E. Forsyth. The very desirable residence which he has just vacated, next the "campus" is now for rent we understand.

The corn-mill, which had been inactive for a few weeks in consequence of the supply of corn running out, has been in full operation again this week. A cargo of 8000 bushels arrived last week per the schooner St. Anthony, from Boston.

We understand that Mr R. E Harris has purchased the railway wharf property here from Mr W. H. Chase and intends putting it in thorough repair at once. Mr Harris has sold his share in the new company wharf to Messrs. Starr, Son & Franklin.

Mr J. B. Newcombe, the energetic general agent of the New York Life Insurance Co., has laid on our table a neat box of best quality lead-pencils with the compliments of that well known and thoroughly reliable company. We beg to return thanks.

Mr A. J. Woodman removed his furniture business this week to the store of Mrs Palmeter, next door east of the Wolfville Bookstore. This store which was rebuilt and modernized last summer is one of the most attractive in town, and gives Mr Woodman an excellent opportunity of showing his fine stock.

The Shakespearian recital to be given this evening in College Hall by the young ladies of the Seminary promises to be a very pleasing entertainment. Miss Hall, the talented teacher of elocution, will have the management, which is a sufficient guarantee of the success of the recital as regards the quality of the program. See to it that the young ladies have a good house. The Wolfville orchestra will assist

The young people of the Baptist Mission Band are giving a concert in Temperance Hall on Saturday evening. The members of the Band and some of their friends have for several weeks been busily preparing for this concert, and the programme offered will, we think, be worthy of the attention of the public. The proceeds are for Foreign Missions. Admission, fifteen cents; children, ten cents. Concert begins at 8 o'clock.

The time of the annual meeting of the trustees and lot holders of Willow Bank Cemetery is very near. The date we believe is Wednesday, April 11th. We hope that all interested will make an effort to be present and assist in providing for the care of the cemetery during the coming year. During the past year or two a number of improvements have been made, but a large amount of work must yet be done before the grounds present a thoroughly satisfactory appearance.

Death of Fred M. Shaw.

The death of Fred M. Shaw at Denver, Col., on March 17th causes a deep sorrow at Weston and Berwick, where all his earlier years were spent. Four years ago, while teaching at Paterson, New Jersey, he contracted a disease of his respitory organs which it was found impossible to dislodge. He struggled on there for a year longer, then went to Colorado hoping for a return of health. But it was not to be. He taught successfully at Castle Rock one year then was called to the Columbia school at Denver where he has succeeded in giving perfect satisfaction to all concerned. Though on account of illness, his devoted wife was not able to attend him in his last days he was tenderly cared for by his mother in-law Mrs Lincoln, and his associate teachers and neighbors. The complete prostration was of two weeks duration. His age was 31 years, 9 months and 20 days. He was resigned and peaceful, thinking only of the comfort of those about him.

The deceased was a graduate of Acadia of the class of '90, and occupied a place on the teaching staff of Horton Academy for two years. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him, and has many friends here who mourn his loss.

Gaspereau Church Notes.

Pastor J. D. Spidell of the Baptist church at Gaspereau has been conducting evangelistic meetings during the winter, in several parts of his field. The ordinance of baptism was administered on the first Sabbath of March, and on next Sabbath, April 1, the pastor expects to baptize about twenty converts. Mr Spidell has been with this church a little over a year and during that time a beautiful parsonage and a barn have been erected, and the pastor's salary increased one hundred dollars per annum. The church has also been quite liberal in contributing to other benevolent objects. Recently a large number of parishioners spent a pleasant evening at the parsonage and before leaving presented to Mr and Mrs Spidell $45.00 in cash. Large congregations usually greet the pastor on the Sabbath and the social services during the week are well attended and quite interesting.

Mrs R. W. Ford, of Wolfville is in town, a guest at her former home, "Glenkeen," Dominion street.—The Truro Daily News.

We were glad to see Dr. Lawrence out again on Wednesday, after a severe illness of some weeks. We hope to see him about his duties soon.

Mr E. Blackadder, agent and lecturer of the Grand Division S of T, who has been laboring since October in the western counties, arrived home on Saturday afternoon last for a few weeks vacation.

Dr. Keirstead has again been appointed one of the examiners at Newton Theological Seminary, and left on Wednesday morning to assume his duties. He expects to return on Monday next. This is an especial honor conferred on the Dr. as we believe he was the only one of last year's examiners who was again appointed this year.

Mr G. H. Wallace will please accept our thanks for a bundle of South Carolina papers which came to hand this week. We note by one, the Aiken Journal and Review, the names of Messrs. J. W. and G. H. Wallace among the long list of visitors at that winter resort. They are guests at the "Magnolia Inn."

Joubert Dead.

(Special to the ACADIAN.)

HALIFAX, March 29 h.—The death of Gen. Joubert, (of peritonitis, at Lorenzo Marques) on Tuesday is fully confirmed in London to-day. His death and its probable effect occupy first place in public attention. It is feared that Kruger will succeed Joubert in personal command and it is said this means a protraction of the struggle, due to Kruger's intense resolution to fight to the death combined with his extreme caution.
