A BRIEF PASTORAL

FROM ARCHBISHOP FABRE CAUSES EXCITEMENT AMONG MONTREAL IRISHMEN.

His Grace Exhorts the Faithful to Avoid the Proposed Parnell Meeting—Tampering with Letters—A Distinguished Convert.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

MONTREAL, April 27.—Considerable excitement has been created in Irish circles by the reading at high mass yesterday morning in all the Irish Catholic churches of a brief pastoral from Archbishop Fabre exhorting the faithful to abstain from attending the proposed meeting in favor of the Parnell movement on 8th May. His Grace instructed the pastors of churches to make necessary comments so that his meaning might be perfectly understood.

Tampering with Letters.

QUEBEC, April 27.—Startling reports are going round in reference to the correspondence of a certain military officer, high in rank having been tampered with. The police are said to be investigating the matter.

A Distinguished Convert.

Sir Andrew Stuart ex-chief Justice of the Superior court for the province of Quebec was confirmed yesterday by Cardinal Taschereau in the chapel attached to the palace. His Eminence was attended by Mgr. Paquet and Rev Abbe C. Arsenault.

The Stock Market.

The Weekly Financial Review has been received from Mr. Henry Clews, New York.

NEW YORK, April 25.—At last, the anticipated "bull" campaign in the stock market appears to have fairly set in. For several weeks past, there has been a feeling that the prices of securities were ranging below their intrinsic value. First, there was the distrust entailed by the after, effects of the panic last fall. Then, that lack of confidence was intensified and prolonged by the dangerous position of banks and bankers at the European centres. Next, this condition of European finances has induced the national banks of England and the continent to strengthen their position, as far as possible, by the accumulation of specie.

In spite of these depressing influences so persistently maintained, the market value of securities has been steadily maintained; and now that the causes of depression have disappeared or lost their influences, the conclusion is very general that the time has come for a legitimate "bull" market. There is more, however, than the disappearance of unfavorable conditions. The country has the promise of a harvest of more than ordinary abundance, concurrently with poor crops in other countries, which suggests the probability of a large export of cereals at high prices. This means a year of unusual prosperity for the agricultural West and consequent large traffic for the railroads. It is also becoming evident that last year's cotton crop has been estimated far below its actual extent, so that a very unusual surplus may have to be carried over into the next season; which implies prosperity at the South also. Already these prospects are beginning, to have their effect upon the tone of trade at large. The merchandise markets generally are doing a healthy and steadily increasing business; and the iron trade (the best barometer of business) shows a marked improvement in demand for all its prodncts.

A set of conditions like these is legitimately calculated to have a favorable effect upon the prices of securities. That would ordinarily be the effect even were prices relatively high; but when prices range moderately low, as they do at present, a continued advance movement becomes almost irresistible. It is therefore reasonably inferable that any investment made upon the present valuation of securities will be rewarded by a rise in price.

For these reasons, I regard the present improved spirit of the market as the beginning of a buying movement that is likely to be continued—with the usual intervals of fluctuation—until a higher range of values is reached. The obstructive tactics of the room traders are a matter of small moment against such a "bull" feeling as is now setting in, and the small "bears" already exhibit a conservative caution. The "outside" element, so long absent, has taken possession of the market with a force which warns "room" operators to stand aside until the buying movement has exposed itself by excesses.

HUNTING THE MURDERER.

NEW YORK OFFICERS SEARCH FOR JACK THE RIPPER.

Inspector Byrnes Says He Knows the Real Criminal, Who is Still at Large—A Mystery as to the Identity of the Deceased—"Shakespeare" Reported Still Living.

NEW YORK, April 25.—The horrible murder of an old woman in the Whitechapel district of the metropolis has been accepted by the police as a challenge which will test the superiority which has been claimed for them over the best detective skill of Europe. From Inspector Byrnes down they have been working upon the East River Hotel mystery as they never worked upon a case before. They have found no certain trace of the murderer's movements after he left the body of his victim.

A confusion has arisen over the identity of the murdered woman. Inspector Byrnes announced positively this evening that the woman's name was Carrie Brown, that she generally went by the nickname "Shakespeare," and that the murderer was an Algerian, said to be named Francois. Two policemen from the Eldridge street station who have locked up "Shakespeare" at least 20 times within a few years, identified the body as hers at the morgue today.

On the other hand, reporters this afternoon found a dozen or more persons who say they have seen and talked to the old woman known to them as "Shakespeare" since the murder was discovered. Inspector Byrnes said to the reporters tonight:

There is a mystery about this case, and there isn't a mystery. We know very well who the murderer is, but we dont know where he is. We know the murderer, and we have a man locked up who is a relation of the murderer. He anti the murderer were consorts of the vile women who frequent the places around where the murder occurred. They were vicious and desperate fellows. The man we have arrested is identified by two women as the man who went to the room with the murdered woman, but another witness positively denies this, and says that the man who occupied the room with the murdered woman was the relative of the man we have arrested and we believe her."

The autopsy upon the body of the murdered woman was made today by Dr. Jenkins of the coroner's office. It showed that the old woman was strangled and butchered almost simultaneously. It was impossible to decide whether asphyxiation or hemorrhage was the immediate cause of death. The inquest will be held tomorrow.

The Magnificent S. S. City of Columbia, to go on the Route 12th May.

The New York Steamship company announces in another column that on the 12th May they will place the former formerly occupied by the Valencia, the S.S. Her cabins are finished in curly maple and California oak and Russia leather cushions all through the ship and her saloon will seat 85 at one sitting; ample pantry and kitchen arrangements to feed 400. The Kansas city of the Savannah Line is supposed to be the largest American S. S. afloat; she has 58 staterooms. The City of Columbia has 77.

DRANK IT AND DIED.

A CASE THAT RESEMBLES A RECENT ST. JOHN TRAGEDY.

Widow of J. B. Barnaby Received a Fatal Liquid from Boston "Friends."

DENVER, Col., April 25.—Some months ago Mrs. Josephine B. Barnaby, widow of J. B. Barnaby, a large clothing merchant of Providence, R. I., took a trip to California for her health.

Mrs. G. S. Worrell, wife of a prominent Denver real estate dealer, accompanied her. On their return April 9 Mrs. Barnaby found a package, post marked Boston, which had arrived during her absence. It contained a small flask of whiskey, with this inscription: "With best wishes accept this fine old whiskey from your friends in the woods."

A few days later both of the ladies drank some of the whiskey to allay chills contracted during a long drive. Shortly after both ladies were taken violently ill, and Mrs. Barnaby died an hour afterward, and it was with the greatest effort that the physicians succeeded in saving Mrs. Worrell's life.

The liquor was turned over to Prof. Sewell of the State University, who declared that it contained sufficient arsenic to kill 20 persons.

The body of the dead woman would have been examined had it not already been shipped to Providence, in charge of Dr. Graves of that city, who was here at the time of her death.

Dr. Graves is a very intimate friend of Mrs. Barnaby. It is understood that the dead woman's will leaves the doctor $50,000 of her fortune of $150,000.

Will be in Good Hands.

During his short stay in St. John the little English boy singer became well known to the people. He was under the management of an Italian while here, and a number of citizens became interested in him, and endeavored to take him in hands. Chief of police Clark was approached on the subject and E. J. Wetmore, secretary of the S. P. C. A. with a view to getting the lad away from the Italian. It was pointed out to these officials that it was cruel to permit the lad to sing from 80 to 100 songs a day. This came to the ear of the Italian and he quickly and quietly left for Moncton. On Saturday Captain Rawlings went to Moncton, and on behalf of interested citizens he made the lad an offer which was accepted. Rev. J. M. Davenport is one of the gentlemen who wish to take the lad under their protection, to give him a good home, and to have his voice cultivated. The lad has a beautiful contralto voice, and once in good hands will probably make a name for himself.

Captain Rawlings arrived this afternoon with the boy and handed him over to the Rev. J. M. Davenport. The name of the boy is Frederick Hornersby. He is 16 years of age and belongs to Aldershott, Eng.

Gold! Gold! Gold! Gold!
Molten, graven, hamered and rolled,
Bright and yellow,
Hard and cold."

One feels tempted to exclaim with Hood on noticing the toilettes now worn, not a thing but bears something of the coveted metal. We anticipated a gilt season and are showing Gold Gimps, Braids and Cords; also, Gilt Buttons in all sizes. Heavy Navy Knockabout Serge, single and double widths, much in demand for reefers and skirts. We have received three cases of FANCY DRY GOODS, personally selected, the latest in the English markets, including Frillings, Veilings, Chiffon or Crepe De Chene so much used for neck scarfs and evening wear; Long Silk Gloves in Cream, Nile, Pink, Rose and Black; these will be found exceptionally good values; White Pique Shirt Fronts for ladies with Collar and Tie attached; Collars and Cuffs as worn by our great grand parents now considered the correct thing. We are showing a Suede Washing Glove, six large brass buttons; new shades of Fawn and Grey, very stylish only 74 cents a pair, sizes 5½ to 7. In Cotton Dress Goods, our variety is very large; some decided effects in Rings, Plaids and Figures, the finest goods shown this season. See our windows for these late arrivals; Gents' Silk Scarfs in new styles, the cheapest goods shown for style and quality; New Kid Gloves for gentlemen, in Kangaroo and Kid; the former glove will be found very serviceable and much cheaper than ordinary umbrellas and sunshades, a large variety at most moderate prices.
