BEAUTIFUL PLACE OF REST

How It Came to Me.

I dream in the hush of a summer night
Such dreams as came to my youth,
When never a vision, dark or bright,
Brought another Queen than Ruth;
On banks of ferns we wandered far
And knelt among the incense—
Gone was the sorrow and the scar,
Life's trivial frets and losses.

Just as I pass now, in my sleep,
Those olden shoals and shallows
Which in my memory slumber deep,
And still life's spring-time hallows,
Anxiety and trouble flee;
Grief throws away its shadows,
I date all joys that come to me
From the day I first met Walker.

His sofa-bed is where I rest,
One of the parlor's fixtures,
Where all is new—the very best
Of carpets, curtains, pictures,
Our home's the envy of the town.
You ask how came I by it?
My purse was empty, salary down—
Poor—well I don't deny it.

I had one hope, one friend to seek,
And you know what that meant,
I bought from Walker by the week,
That generous plan—instalment.
I never missed a dollar spent
Like this—I got all that we needed.
Of all my life this one event
Is where I most succeeded.

So it will be with any man or woman who puts in Walker's hands each week a sum to pay for beautiful household articles—Furniture, Carpets, Dishes, Pictures, Baby Carriages, Lace Curtains and Oil Stoves. No need to go away anywhere. Home is good enough if furnished at

Walker's Weekly Payment Store,

107 1-2 Queen-st. West.

P.S.—The best bank on earth: Your own little home.
