DONOVAN, WILLETT KNOCKED FROM BOX

Covington Called to Finish the Game and Prevents Ruthless Slaughter.

SIX RUNS IN ONE ROUND

Athletics Do Most of Their Counting in Third and Fifth Periods.

Detroit, Aug. 28. — The world-beaters slaughtered the Tigers today by a score of 12 to 3, knocking Donovan and Willett out of the box, and played a splendid defensive game. Score:

DOG SHOW ENTRIES ARE POURING IN

Canines Are Coming to the Fair From as Far as Winnipeg.

Entries for the dog show are coming in at a good rate now, one having been received this morning from Winnipeg. The indications are that there will be a big dog show this year. A list of specials for the cat show was received this morning from the Empire Poultry Association, New York, of eight silver cups. These cups are for four wins by the same cat and are divided among the different classes. The last foot of space in the transportation building was taken this morning. There will be a number of automobile exhibitors this year, and some of them promise very large and attractive exhibits. The secretary has received the pictures from Bombay, India, and will have the same on exhibition in the gallery of the main building. Poultry entries are coming now thick and fast, and the poultry building will be full, as usual, of the best birds of Western Ontario. There will be a large exhibit of cheese and butter this year. Entries in all departments close on Sept. 7, for the cat and dog shows on Sept. 5.

CUBS BEAT ALEXANDER.

Philadelphia, Aug. 28.—Chicago won today's game 8 to 4 by batting Alexander's delivery hard in the sixth and eighth innings. The game was twice stopped by Umpire Klem, who declared that Brown and Needham complained that a spectator in the Grand stand was using insulting remarks toward Brown. The police refused to take action, and one official of the home club, fearing that Klem would forfeit the game, ordered the man to be put out of the park. The score:

TYRUS COBB "A ACTOR."

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 28. — Tyrus Raymond Cobb, the "Georgia Peach," is going to be a real actor. The Tiger outfielder and champion swatter has signed a contract to go on the road in "The College Widow." The play is a football story and therefore Mr. Glaser has made arrangements to rewrite the piece and turn it into a baseball plot. The idea is that Ty., as the hero, will come to the bat at the psychological moment and knock out a home run with the bases full Mr. Glaser will be manager, owner and producer. The tour will begin early in the fall. Glaser and Cobb have long been close friends.

EASTERN MAGNATES DECIDE PROTESTS

Vote Goes Against Toronto in Row Over Baltimore Match.

THE POST SEASON SERIES

All-Star Team to Meet Rochester Pennant-Winners After Close.

Buffalo, Aug. 28.—There was no baseball game played at the local park, or any other Eastern League ground, today, owing to the heavy rain. In place of a double-header there was a meeting of the magnates of the Eastern League. President Edward G. Barrow unconsciously set a good day for the gathering, for the rain gave all the clubs a splendid chance to be represented. Not having a meeting all season, there naturally was a lot of business to transact, and the league's representatives were early on hand, and the session lasted until well along in the evening.

The eight clubs were represented as follows:

Buffalo—Jacob J. Stein, president.

Rochester—Charles T. Chapin, president.

Montreal — Samuel E. Lichtenhein, president.

Toronto — James J. McCaffery, president, and Joseph J Kelley, manager

Jersey City—J. J. Lillis, president, and John B. Ryan, manager.

Newark—Joseph J. McGinnity, president and manager.

Baltimore—John Dunn, president and manager.

Providence—Charles J. Lavis, secretary.

This is the best representation the league has had in some time, and coming as it did just before the closing of the 1911 season, shows that much interest is being taken in the future welfare of the organization.

Took Up Protests.

The board of directors, comprising Stein, chairman; Lillis, Chapin, Dunn and McCaffery, went into secret session at about 11 o'clock, and at once took up the three protests: Montreal vs. Newark, Montreal vs. Toronto, and Toronto vs. Baltimore.

In each case the directors upheld the ruling made by President Barrow, which leaves the standing of games won and lost as it is being carried today by the various newspapers of the circuit. Buffalo withdrew its protest against Rochester in the game where Manager John Ganzel had occupied the bench for the greater part of the game while still under the ban.

In the Montreal-Toronto contest, Kelly and Hart were the umpires. One of the players ran outside of the base line in order to avoid being touched out. The field umpire allowed the play, but the umpire-in-chief called the man out, thus reversing the decision. In the Montreal-Newark game it was a question of a force-out at second. Newark was two runs ahead at the time, and the directors voted that the decision did not affect the result.

Chapin for Stein.

In the Toronto-Baltimore game it was said Jimmie Dygert, in winding up, had dropped the ball and it rolled toward first base, Schmidt picked up the ball and threw Jordan out at second. Umpire Hart called Jordan out, but the directors overruled that decision. In this case Lillis voted for Toronto, Stein stood by Baltimore. Of the others, McCaffery and Dunn, being directly interested, were not entitled to vote on the matter, the vote standing one to one. Chapin, of Rochester, asked to be excused, but upon being informed that he must vote, cast his vote with Stein, giving Baltimore the decision by two to one.

Post-Season Games.

The post-season series came in for a great deal of consideration. It was President Barrow's idea early in the year to select an all-star Eastern League club to play the pennant-winners immediately upon the close of the league's championship race. Each club in the circuit, outside of the winning team, will furnish one, and not more than three players, for the all-star aggregation, and each manager and club-owner was on hand with a half-dozen players that they thought entitled to play on the made-up team. However, the selection of the all-star nine has been placed in the hands of President Barrow, and the manager of the team that lands second in the league race. There will be seven games played, if necessary, the first to take place on Tuesday, Sept. 26.

The league final games are scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 24—Jersey City at Newark and Baltimore at Providence.

How They Split.

The first two post-season games will take place at the home of the pennant-winners. The next two on neutral grounds, to be selected by the men who make up the all-star outfit. If no decision is reached in these four games the battles will again go to the home of the pennant-winners. Twenty per cent of the gross receipts will go to the league, and 80 per cent to the players, to be divided 60 per cent for the winners and 40 per cent for the losers.

The umpires for this series have not been chosen, but it is believed that Tom Kelley and Jimmy Murray will be the unanimous choice. This series is considered far superior to one between leaders of two leagues, as it will give Eastern League fans an opportunity to see what the stars of the league can do against the flag-winners.

The Evening Session.

The evening session of the magnates was held under double lock and key, and nobody but those on the inside know what transpired. President Barrow admitted that the reclassification of the league was one subject which received much attention, but what steps were taken to secure it was not told. The matter will be laid before the National Baseball Commission soon after the close of the National and American seasons.

While the newspaper men were waiting for some word from those in session, they selected the following all-star team to meet the champions. There are to be fifteen, and the manager of the second team; and in order to be eligible to play must have been under contract to their respective clubs on Aug. 20.

Newspaper Selection.

The selection is as follows:

Pitchers—Brennan, Buffalo; Burk and Dubus, Montreal; Vickers, Baltimore; Jones, Jersey City.

Catchers — Egan, Baltimore; Cady, Newark.

First—Jordan, Toronto.

Second—Atz, Providence.

Shortstop—Fisher, Newark.

Third—Dolan, Jersey City.

Left—Demmitt, Montreal.

Centre—Miller, Montreal.

Right—Elston, Providence.

These men were selected on account of their success against Rochester, which they will play in the post series, it being conceded by all hands that the Hustlers will win the 1911 pennant.

RACE HORSE FURIOSO MAY BE SEIZED

Toronto Man Claims Stallion That Is Racing as Another's.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, August 28.—A turn which does not figure in the programme may be put on at the exhibition this afternoon in the seizure of a racing horse named Furioso by the sheriff. The seizure is made at the behest of Chas. Park, of Georgina township, who claims to be the owner. The horse, which is a six-year-old bay stallion, is well known to the western part of the province, had been raced on the Canadian circuits at Listowel, St. Thomas and London. Last week it was a winner at Dufferin Park, and is now said to be stabled at the exhibition. The owner places a value of $1,500 upon it, and was ordered to give $6,000 security to secure the seizure.

Mr. Park says he was racing his horse at Orillia in November, 1910, when Thomas Hodgson saw it, and suggested that he race it during the winter and divide the winnings with the owner. Park agreed and the season was profitable. Hodgson suggested that he should keep the horse for the summer races, but the owner demurred and went and brought his horse home with him. Later, he says, he had a letter from Hodgson, suggesting that he would like to have the horse for the coming races. This letter he destroyed or lost at the time. He agreed to let Hodgson have the horse again, and it was promised that the horse should be returned after the St. Thomas races. Instead, the horse was shipped to Detroit and Lansing, Michigan. It is now again in Toronto.

Mr. Park also claims $372.50 to be due him as the balance of his share of winnings, one set of racing harness, one pair of knee boots, one pair of quarter boots, three blankets, one set hobbles and one blanket.
