A NEW DRESS COAT.

The Old Tails Have Been Cut off—How it is Made, and What it Looks Like.

From The New York Sun.

For years the regulation dress coat has been out of favor, owing to several reasons. It is hot and uncomfortable, and then some devotees of fashion realize that it is hard to distinguish between them and the smiling tip fiend of the restaurant. To the end of making the difference more marked, great minds have pondered long and deeply. Wine-colored coats, knee breeches, and long silk stockings have raised themselves above the dead level of sombre swallowtails only to sink again into oblivion and the second-hand clothing store.

Efforts are now being made to introduce a new style of coat for evening wear. It is a sack coat of black diagonal, moderately rounded, and made to fit into the back. The collar is a soft roll known as the shawl pattern. Collar and roll are silk, finished with a small corded edge. There are two buttonholes below the roll. With this coat is worn a low-cut vest, either of the same cloth as the coat or of white silk or piqué. The other articles of dress correspond with those usually worn with evening dress. Not long ago the Countess of Rosebery succeeded in doing what was a very difficult matter; she succeeded in inducing a number of English gentlemen to transgress against custom by appearing in the evening in unusual garments. The expedient by which the lady accomplished this was simple. She gave a large party, and upon the invitations it was stated that gentlemen would be expected to wear the costume described.

What ultimate effect Lady Rosebery's action may have had we are not informed, nor how much currency the new costume may have obtained in England; but it has reached New York, and is in fair way of becoming acclimated, for it has actually been adopted by that class of society whose standing is sufficient to command for what they endorsed the approbation and imitation of the multitude.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the large air-passages, but the lipusands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which my druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you, you may depend upon this for certain. 135

Two Rich Cattle Queens.

From The Boston Traveler.

The richest widow in Colorado was the wife of the late John W. Iliff, who was known some years ago as the cattle king of Colorado. Iliff left about 100,000 head of cattle, and it is said that his widow manages his estate as well as any business man could. She went to Colorado as a sewing-machine agent, though she came of a wealthy family and could have remained home doing nothing. She there met Iliff and married him, and I doubt not the experience she obtained in connection with the sewing-machine aids her in the management of her fortune. Speaking of cattle, there is a cattle queen in Texas, near Corpus Christi—Mrs. Rogers—said to be worth $1,000,000, and who has many times as much stock as Job had in his most prosperous days. Her husband is a preacher, but Mrs. Rogers manages the business. She sells the stock herself, buys all the supplies, and can ride a horse as well as any of the many cowboys whom she has in her employ.

Don't fail to procure Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup, for your children while teething. It has been used by millions of mothers during the last forty years for their children. Cures wind colic, diarrhœa. Be sure and get Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup. 25c a bottle. 135

The Great Need.

—"What is the great need of the hour?" exclaimed one of our greatest lecturers to an audience of about 1,000 on "The Amelioration of Humanity." Every man, woman and child should know that we want everybody to be better and improve themselves, have sharp and clear intellects for business, then they can enjoy the comforts of this world and be happy, and will know how to make money with greater easiness. That need can be fully satisfied by the plentiful use of those glorious General Middleton and Our Brave Boys brands of cigars, manufactured by that great manufacturer, T. D. Lobson. It is the unanimous decision of all great and good men that everybody should use them regularly. They have no equal on earth. Do not be put off with any other. 246

THE HUSBAND'S STORY

You may talk of commercial union,
You may reason about free trade;
You may prattle about the great big race,
And the boodle that Tessmer made.

You may talk till you're almost tired,
You may chirp till you come to the end,
But I'll tell you a thing that'll do you good,
Go to WALKER if you need of a friend.

The politics, trades, annexation and all
May be talked of, but don't furnish your place,
While WALKER comes up when you are in need
And proves himself a friend in deed.
He offers you all he has in store,
Lets you pay by the week, a fortnight or more,
Or on terms he's ready to suit your case.

I've bought so I know whereof I speak;
My salary was low, but I married my wife,
I furnished my home on the instalment plan,
And WALKER I'll thank him throughout my life.

From cellar to garret I've all that's required
My kitchen and parlor are furnished through-out;
The bedrooms and "spare room" are up to the mark;
The prices! competitors are put to the rout.

I am yours without a struggle, the man who met a friend and succeeded in buying on easy terms a complete outfit for a cosy home. The address is 107½ and 109 Queen-street west. I recommend you to call. I have great sympathy for those in need, because I have been there myself. The card left with me reads:

Walker's Weekly Payment Store,

107½ and 109 Queen-street West.
