NO AGENTS! NO COMMISSIONS!!

THE system of employing Agents or Canvassers at a high commission has been strictly abridoned by us, it having proved very unsatisfactory both to ourselves and customers. In future we will sell our direct to purchasers. In this way buyers of Pianos and Organs will save from twenty to forty per cent. by dealing directly with us, and, moreover, far better satisfaction can be guaranteed.

PIANOFORTES & ORGANS

At Net Wholesale Prices,

We claim to sell the best Instruments to be had, and at the lowest prices consistent with first-class articles.

The cash system enables us to sell at a very small advance on cost of manufacture, although to honest and reliable parties we do not object to allow a reasonable time for payments.

Parties ordering by mail can rely upon getting as fine an instrument as if personally selected by themselves. Any Organ or Piano not found exactly as represented can be returned to us at our expense. We refer with pleasure to over Fifteen Hundred Pianos and Organs sold by us the last ten years.

Thankful for the very liberal patronage accorded us hitherto, we can only say that we will continue our endeavors to thoroughly satisfy our customers in all their dealings with us.

SCHOOL TEACHERS: You can easily increase your salary by devoting a very small portion of your leasure time to my interest. I do not expect you to canvas for my celebrated Beatty's Pianos and Organs unless you see fit to; but the service I require of you is both pleasant and profitable. Full particulars free.—Address, DANIEL F. BEATTY, Washington, N. J

FREE! Any person who will make and forward me a list of the names of reliable persons of their acquaintance who wish to procure an instrument, either Piano or Organ, I will use my best endeavors to sell them one, and for every Piano I succeed in selling to their list within one year, I will credit them with $10, and for every Organ $5, to be applied on payment of either a Piano or Organ; and when it amounts to a sum sufficient to pay for any instrument, selected at the lowest wholesale price, I will im mediately ship the instrument, free, or after any amount is credited the balance may be paid me in cash and I will then ship them the instrument. They need not be known in the matter, and will be doing their friends a real service, as I shall make special offers to them, selling a superior instrument for from one-half to two-thirds what is ordinarily asked by agents. Please send me a list at once, and after you have made inquiry, you can add to it. Address,

CHATHAM, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1878.

A Chatham "Judge" in New York.

It appears that some of the practical jokers who explored the "Lone Lake of the Mountain," in this County a few years since are still in the discovery business and are to be congratulated on a most successful effort on Manhattan Island, where they came upon the trail of a representative of animated nature well known to Inland authorities, but seldom found frequenting that insular locality. These Gothamites are not particular about the clasification of their subjects, so long as the genus is fairly distinguished, and the manner in which they involve the real and imaginary together, mixing fictitious with actual names and bringing those of distinguished persons in contact with incongruous surroundings, is sufficient to mislead the understandings of minds far from unsophisticated. "A Canadian Judge in the Tombs" is the heading under which the latest exploit of the explorers is announced in the New York Times of 16th inst. and but for the fact that we know the victim "Judge Ferris" has no existence hereabouts, we might infer that real persons were being dealt with all through. The staid character of our Chatham Senator is as well established a fact as the mythical existence of his friend the "Judge", who is supposed to have been before Justice Kilbreth, and the latter gentleman is well known as one of the most austere of New York Police Justices. Justice Morgan has, for some years, presided over his court in New York with a freedom from reproach that has made his position one of the most noticeable in the Police judiciary of that great city. It is said of him that when he was in the army he was noted as a disciplinarian, a characteristic which coupled with undoubted personal courage, carried him rapidly through the grades to the position of a Major-General, in the the short space of thirteen months. He has been known to carry a wounded soldier out of danger on his back, and his flask back into the thickest of the fight to refresh his comrades. During his first experience on the bench a young married man was brought before him charged with driving recklessly over Leow Bridge—which, in those times, stood on Broadway, at the corners of Fulton St.—and injuring one of two bootblacks who were playing at the exit of the structure. The offence was a petty criminal one and the proof being positive Judge Morgan had to send the offender, who was a poor teamster, to Blackwell's Island for a month, in spite of a young wife's tears. In giving sentence he, himself, was affected to tears and actually provided for the young man's household while he was incarcerated. Judge Morgan is a temperance man in practice, but not connected with any organization professing temperance principles, being quite a recluse in social matters and more of the diligent student than anything else in his private life. But on one occasion he was the guest of the Seventh Regiment and during a "second session" after dinner, when only a few veteran comrades were present, he indulged just a little too freely in Cliquot Champagne. Next morning, however, he appeared at his court as usual and before the prisoners were brought in he called the clerk and handed him a five dollar greenback, saying, "record that fine against me." "In what way, sir," said the clerk. "In the usual way, sir," said Justice Morgan, sternly, all his old spirit of military discipline and stern sense of duty, being imprinted on his countenance. "It is not for me to sentence these poor wretches who are soon to be brought in, unless I first discipline myself." Justice is justice and intoxication is punishable in this court by fine. I incurred a fine of five dollars last night."

Justice Smith of New York is the founder of the Hoboken Infirmary, of which he is President. He was a very skillful practitioner before he retired from following his profession and has, probably, been instrumental in reforming more inebriates than even D. Banks McKenzie.

Alderman Morris was a famous sanitarian in New York—the inventor of the revolving double-action steam street sweeper, the work of which he superintended personally for one hundred nights, until it was perfected. He is one of the most morose man in public life in New York.

We give the above facts to show the extent to which practical jokers will go in carrying out their designs on the public. How they got Justice Morgan to believe what he told the Times reporter and managed to get the other gentlemen named mixed up in the affair is a mystery.

Following is the New York Times' story:—

[N. Y. Times, 16th Oct.]

A CANADIAN JUDGE IN THE TOMBS.

A VERY SLIGHT TASTE OF NEW-YORK JUSTICE FOR A PRACTICAL JOKER FROM THE NORTH.

Justice Morgan was astonished yesterday morning by a telegram taken to him by a Western Union messenger in the Jefferson Market Police Court. It was from Senator Muirhead, of Chaaham, on the Miramichi River, in the Province of New-Brunswick, Canada, and enquired as to the truth of a report that Judge James Ferris, of Chatham, while on his first visit to New-York City yesterday, had been arrested and taken to the Tombs on a charge of disorderly conduct. Later in the day the Justice gave the following explanation of the case:

Senator Muirhead received several telegrams from friends in this City stating that Judge Ferris had been arrested and taken to the Tombs. These telegrams produced the greatest excitement in Chatham, and well they might. Judge Ferris is a very wealthy and popular man. He owns a palatial home, and many a New-Yorker has enjoyed its hospitality. Most of the Justices of this City have been his guests at one time or another, and we all know that seldom or ever has one of them been allowed to leave that house in the same state of judicial gravity in which he entered it. Judge Ferris is a great practical joker. He has got decidedly the best of most of his acquaintances, and never had any one been able to get even with him. The Judge has often been pressed to come to New York. At last he came, and of course was put through 'a course of sprouts.' He was to have taken a morning train to-day for Canada, and was expected home on that train. He was given a parting dinner at Delmonico's shortly before noon to-day, and was so well treated that he missed his train, of course, as was intended. When the party left the restaurant they ordered cabs. The cabby that Judge Ferris took attempted to extort a high fare from him, as he persisted in paying the bill, cabby knowing he was a stranger, and fastening on him for a victim. A wrangle ensued, resulting in Justice Smith calling a policeman and having Judge Ferris arrested and taken in a cab before Justice Kilbreth, at the Tombs Police Court. There Justice Smith charged Judge Ferris with having knocked the cabman down, and Alderman Morris was a witness to it. Justice Kilbreth thereupon detained Judge Ferris, who seemed to be mystified by the proceedings, for examination, and gave him a seat behind the bar. During his detention he had quite a number of callers, and was several times kindly allowed to go out on his own parole, in the custody of his friends, to visit interesting places in the neighborhood. During this time the telegrams were sent to Chatham. Senator Muirhead sent inquiries to many friends in this City, and the result was that when I reached the Tombs Court-room, after the morning hearing, I found a large party assembled. Justice Kilbreth was requested to finish the case. The prisoner was asked how he came to be where he was, and he said he 'had been at a dinner party and missed the train.' Justice Smith and Alderman Morris both admitted that their charge strictly construed, only meant that Judge Ferris had knocked the hackman down—on his fare—and the prisoner was discharged on condition that he would 'go home on the next train.' The last I saw of him was in the company of Justice Smith, behind a fast horse going rapidly up Fifth avenue, and I doubt if he will reach home by the next train, although Senator Muirhead was telegraphed to that 'through friendly influences Judge Ferris had been enabled to procure his dismissal from the Tombs, and will reach home on the next train.'"

Lower Gloucester Roads.

MR. EDITOR:—Permit me to lay before you a statement as to how we have been used for the last few years in this part of the County with regard to the expenditure of Great Road money. You are, doubtless, aware that there is annually expended some two thousand dollars granted by the Local Government for Great Roads from the County line to Caraquet, including the road from Inkerman to Shippegan. It, however, appears that Shippegan has been completely ignored for the last three or four years, notwithstanding the large amount of business doing and the corresponding travelling over the road; therefore the whole amount is expended between Tracadie and Caraquet. How is it that Shippegan is thrown out in the cold? Does it not represent a fair proportion of the population and votes of the County? Or, is it that the people of this Parish are too insignificant to be noticed? Or, again, is it that they do not pay in their just tribute to the revenue of the province? No, the reason is that the people of Shippegan have been independent, and have refused on all and every occasion to bow the knee to the political principles of the President of the Council; and the Supervisor of Great Roads refuses what is fairly and honestly due to the people of this parish. Unless the people meet the views of this interest both here and elsewhere in the County they need not apply for a dollar's worth of work. Now, Mr. Editor, this is a sad state of things. This is a free country, and undoubtedly the people have a right to form and exercise a judgement of their own. Is it right, that because a certain party holds the reins of power, they should trample on the rights and privileges of our three hundred electors and keep from them their just dues.

But you will naturally ask what becomes of the money? Take up the Auditor General's report on Public Accounts for 1877, and at page 172, no. 103, you will find a number of vouchers amounting to nearly nineteen hundred dollars expended, I presume, between Tracadie and Caraquet. Next is No. 53, Inkerman to Shippegan harbour, $122.55. I defy any man to point out to me where there has been ten dollars worth of work performed on that road, and I am satisfied the whole traveling community will corroborate my statement.

Then, again, the next voucher, $600, goes to James Walsh, Sr., (father of Supervisor) an old man of eighty or upwards, who is an invalid and who has not been out of the house for years. Do you suppose, Mr. Editor, that old man has given value for that amount of money? No Sir, it is against reason, and against sound common sense. I doubt whether he ever knew anything about the transaction. Then, Sir, where is this money? The finger of suspicion points, where? Well, I'll leave your readers to judge. But where is our local representative all this time? Does he know nothing about this money? Is it not his duty to see that this money is properly expended and that his constituents are fairly and justly dealt with? If so, then it is about time that he opened his eyes. There is no man knows the state of the road complained of better than that gentleman, as he has been over it several times this season and if he did not smash his waggon he ought to be thankful. Perhaps the next time he may not be so fortunate, as they are daily getting worse and when the wet weather sets in will be altogether impassible.

Your's truly, SAM.
