HICKMAN & SCRUBY

Court Lodge, Egerton, Kent, England
Exporters of Pedigree Live Stock of all Descriptions.

We are the only firm in Great Britain who make this their sole business, and therefore offer advantages not obtained elsewhere. When our Mr. A. J. Hickman started this business seven years ago, he did not know a single foreign breeder. This year we have exported more stock to order than any other firm in Great Britain. This is a fact which talks. The frequency with which we buy stock from English breeders means that we can do business with them on more favourable terms than can be done by anyone else. No one should import draft horses, beef or dairy strains of cattle, or mutton breeds of sheep without first getting full particulars from us. Highest references on application.

Questions and Answers. Miscellaneous.

Railway and Line Fence.

The railroad runs along the back of my 200 acres, and none of my land was sold to the railway company, the land having been bought off the other side. The fence has been up about thirty years, and the sectionmen are talking of setting it on my land, about seven feet of both farms. I have forbidden them. If they persist in doing so, what steps will I take?

J. N.

Ontario.

Ans.—Instruct a solicitor to take the appropriate legal steps.

Ditching - Assessment - Wills.

1. A is putting a tile ditch in and wants an outlet. He lives on the east side of boundary, and B and C live on the west side of boundary. B and C put a tile ditch in a few years ago, with tile large enough to carry the water off their own farms. Now A claims that they are obliged to take the water from his ditch, through their ditch. Do B and C need to take the water to give A an outlet?

2. What steps can A take to get an outlet?

3. A has an underground ditch running into B's tile ditch, and has been running there for fifteen or twenty years. A is thinking about putting in a new tile ditch, as the old board one is nearly worn out. Can B prevent A from putting in a new ditch?

4. Can B collect money (if A is not willing to pay) for taking the water off A's farm, when the outlet has been there for so long?

5. Does the law compel township councils to have the township assessed every year?

6. Should buildings be assessed their full value, according to law?

7. If a woman has a will made and then marries, can the husband break the will, or claim any part of it, should she die before him?

8. If a man dies and has a will made, leaving nothing to his wife, what part can she claim, or can she claim anything?

Ontario.

A SUBSCRIBER.

Ans.—1 and 2. These are matters to be disposed of by proceeding under The Ditches and Water Courses Act, if the parties are unable to agree.

3 and 4. We do not think so.

5. Yes.

6. Yes—full actual value.

7. Ordinarily, unless it is declared in the will that the same is made in contemplation of the marriage, the will is revoked by the marriage of the testator, and the husband in such case would take a share of the wife's estate as upon an intestacy.

8. She can claim dower in his real estate—that is to say, a third of same for life.

GRANDFATHER TIME.

John Drew, the actor, told the following story at the Players' Club:

A young married couple were moving from her mother's to a cozy apartment three blocks away. The bride said to her husband, "John, dear, I simply cannot trust the vanmen to carry grandfather's clock. You will carry it for me, won't you?" John demurred, but consented finally. The day was hot. When John reached the first corner he found he was being followed by a man. It irritated him, but he kept on, the perspiration trickling down his cheeks, the six-foot clock held tightly between his arms. The same man was watching John at the next corner.

"Why are you following me?" yelled John. "Why," said the stranger, "I'm trying to figure out why you don't carry a watch instead."

RARE CLEVERNESS.

"Why won't you buy something at my table?" demanded the girl at the charity fair.

"Because I only buy from the homely girls," said the man. "They have a harder time making sales."

The girl was not offended, and he worked this right down the line.
