CALLS INTERFERENCE WITH TRUTH-SEEKING ANTI-CHRISTIAN ACT

Rev. R. W. Norwood Scores Those Who Condemn Fads.

BLACKEST OF ALL CRIMES

Bishop, Prelate, Ministers and "Loud-Mouthed Critics" Are Arraigned by Rector.

Rev. R. W. Norwood, rector of Cronyn Memorial Church, had a few things to say at the evening service Sunday on what he termed "the loud-mouthed and vulgar" criticism of some local ministers and prelates regarding religious fads.

Mr. Norwood took his text from the Acts of the Apostles, giving an address of Gamaliel's, the teacher of Paul, who informed some of the critics of Christianity that if the latter were of the devil it would fail, but that if it were of God, all they could do against it would be of no avail. This was the notable utterance, said Mr. Norwood, and showed the breadth of vision of this great scholar, whose influence, through his pupil, Paul, had done much to shape Christianity. Behind him were 20,000 years of thinking along theological lines. For that time men had been thinking of God in about the same way. The sacred writings had revealed God in the same way, as an angry God, one who demands pound for pound, ounce for ounce, tear for tear. And yet, when this new doctrine appeared, Christianity, Gamaliel told the Hebrew scholars of the day that if the "fad" came from God it could not be destroyed, but if it had no substance or truth it would die out.

Forget Luther's Teachings.

"We hear many things about religious fads today," said Mr. Norwood. "On one hand, we have the heavy thunder of the Vatican. On the other we have the thunder of Geneva. On one side we have the tyranny of Rome, and on the other the tyranny of Protestantism. Herod and Pontius Pilate have joined hands and become friends, to crush out the freedom of men in religious matters.

"In politics freedom is allowed, although there is some tyranny. A man has a right, as a broad postulate, to vote as he likes. The essence of the Magna Charta is that a man may think, act and speak as he likes, so long as he does not interfere with the sacred rights of others. The minister of nowadays will not let a man worship as he likes, will not allow him to find God as he likes. They tell you about the great things that Luther did. He simply enunciated the principle that every soul had the right to find God in his own way. They remember Luther's words, but forget his teaching.

Can Find God in Own Way.

"I enunciate the same principle, and these ministers and prelates, thunder as they may, will not hinder me from telling men and women that they can find God in their own way. A man may be a Roman Catholic, or an Anglican, or a Presbyterian, or other denomination, and he is all right; but he cannot be a New Thoughtist, a Christian Scientist or a Theosophist, or he is thundered at and threatened and menaced, if he dare depart from the custom of the elders. In Gamaliel's day they fulminated just as much against the new thought, Christianity.

"The same language is being used now that was used in Pliny's works, when he wrote the Emperor Trajan about this obscure sect, Christianity, and advocated punishing children, and putting them to death, to put out this fad.

Cannot Stop God's Works.

"I have no apology for any of these fads. But I do say that if they are of God, you may bring the stars down, but you will not stop the torrent of truth. Ministers will not prevent its flow by bellowing from the pulpit and uttering vulgarities and anathemas.

"No threats of a Roman Catholic prelate or a Protestant prelate will change the truth or untruth of these things. I do say that they are striking at the very foundation of Canadian civilization when they say that any individual has no right to find God in his own way. There is a sacerdotalism of Protestantism, as well as Roman Catholic sacerdotalism, and it can be just as vituperative as that against which Luther raised his hands.

Suspicious of Threats.

"I am suspicious of any religion that must be bolstered up by threats. So is every thinking man. Methinks they protest too much, and have not confidence in their own religion, or they would not indulge in vulgar personalities against a lonely woman. The thing may be all wrong, but it is a greater evil to utter loud-mouthed, vulgar diatribes in the pulpit in the name of Jesus of Nazareth. You have a right to find God in your own way, so long as you find Him. I may think that your way is obscure and painful, but that is not my business. I am interested only in that you find God.

Challenges Bishop's Right.

"Let us be fair, and just, and kind. During my five years' ministry here I have made no efforts to make proselytes. Where I am face to face with my brother, that is God's house. Religion is the progressive experience of God in the soud. I challenge the right of Bishop Fallon or any of his Protestant followers to deny the right of any individual to find God in his own way. I call anti-Christian any effort to interfere with any man in his search for God. That is blacker than the most infamous crimes of history.

"A group of ministers the other day satirically condemned religious fads. A fad is a truth in the experimental stage. Flying was a fad some short years ago, so was Franklin's electricity. Some of the ancestors of the ministers of today must have been in the crowd that laughed and jeered at Abraham when he discovered a new thought and decided to act upon it. Pharoah persecuted the Israelites because it was a religious fad that Moses advocated. Freeing the slaves was a fad to a lot of holy men of God. One of the loudest-mouthed critics of religious fads in London today belongs to a church that scarce 200 years ago was laughed and jeered at as a fad. The absurdity of it all. If you can find Jesus in the Catholic mass, I rejoice that you have found Him. If you have found Jesus in Christian Science, I am glad you have found Him. But be fair, be just, be kind, be merciful, to every other seeker after truth. If any truth is not of God, it will die."

BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me, and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth, and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years, and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."—Mrs. Jennie Moyer, 342 E. North street, Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache, or bearing-down pains, need the tonic properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

THANKS COMMISSION FOR SOLDIERS' PICNIC

London, July 21, 1917.

I desire on behalf of the returned soldiers and war widows to thank publicly through the columns of your paper the officers of the Soldiers' Aid Commission and all others who helped to make the outing of Friday last such a big success. Their kindly thoughtfulness and the smoothness with which everything worked out was very greatly appreciated by all who were privileged to be present. Yours truly,

PTE. W. GARLICK.

MAN'S DUAL MIND MAY BE SOLUTION OF SPIRITUALISM

Power of Mind Over Matter Key to Psychic Phenomena.

The fact of the dual mind of man, subjective and objective, and of the power of mind over matter, Rev. Byron Snell, pastor of Hale Street Methodist Church, declared to be the whole solution of psychic phenomena, and the key to unlock the mystery of so-called supernatural manifestation, spiritism, Christian science healing, etc., in the course of a sermon delivered yesterday morning in Hyatt Avenue Methodist Church.

Announcing his subject as "Psychic Phenomena, Spiritualism and Other Isms," Mr. Snell stated that he had been very much interested in psychic phenomena. He had given several years to the study of the subject. He admitted its fascinations. In view of the revival of interest in "spiritualism," which he stated is more correctly "spiritism," he expressed his opinion that a great debt of gratitude is due to the press, which is giving publicity to the subject.

Easily Understood.

He further admitted that he understood how people could quite be carried away by the study of psychic phenomena, hence the great necessity for placing before the public an explanation capable of solving in a satisfactory manner manifestations regarded as supernatural.

The objective mind he defined as the everyday, ordinary, wide-awake working mind, and the subjective as the mind which manifests itself in dreams in sleep, in hypnotism, somnambulism, trance, etc.

Amenable to Suggestion.

Attention was drawn at this point to the extent to which the subjective mind is amenable to suggestion, and the case was cited as an illustration of an old minister of highest repute in an American city.

A prominent doctor of the city, who understood the laws of hypnotism, and frequently made use of hypnotism insteady of anaesthetics in performing operations, asked a prominent clergyman if he would submit to hypnotism for demonstration purposes. In the presence of a gathering of fellow-ministers and other people of prominence, the revered divine was hypnotized, and, in obedience to suggestions while in that condition, picked the pockets of his fellow-clergymen and impersonated Jonah.

Impersonation.

Impersonation of other people, Mr. Snell reminded, is one of the commonest demonstrations used in public entertainments given by hypnotists. The subject assumes not only the character out mannerisms of the one being impersonated. In a similar manner, Mr. Snell declared that this is the secret of so-called communication with discarnate spirits through mediums. The medium, in a self-hypnotized condition, impersonates the departed relative or friend, and the illusion is completed by the mental condition of the witnesses.

"If I went to a seance tonight, and the seances are always held in the dark," continued Mr. Snell, "and said I wished to speak to my mother who died so many years ago, I might receive a message from the medium which I would recognize as something my mother would likely give, because it would probably be something that I had once heard her say, and that was in my own mind.

Witch of Endor.

The Witch of Endor didn't bring back Samuel. There was nothing which she told Saul that Samuel said that was not in Saul's own mind. Saul was in terror. "He feared the armies of Israel were going to be defeated, and himself and sons slain. The Witch of Endor, in a self-hypnotized condition, simply told him what was in his own mind. The secret of the power of mind over matter is the secret of spiritualism or spiritism."

Another illustration of the power of mind over matter was that of the cataleptic state when a man, becoming rigid, acts as a bridge between two chairs, and is capable of bearing up a weight that would crush him under other conditions.

Telepathic Side.

Reference was made to "telepathy," the appearance of a friend who has been in mind. "The old story," said the preacher, "of 'think of angels and hear the flutter of their wings,' the story of mind acting upon mind."

Another manifestation dwelt upon was that of healing by mental suggestion, either salf or a patient, a rod, a mile, or ten thousand miles away.

"Have you ever gone to bed, tired out, suffering, perhaps, from toothache, neuralgia or rheumatism, making up your mind that you would waken up feeling fresh and alert at 6 o'clock, the pain quite gone? And haven't you awakened at 6, your first feeling being of refreshment and freedom from pain? Auto-suggestion may similarly be used on others. This was the secret of Mr. Dowie's power of treating people at a distance."

This fact of the power of "mind over matter" has been seized upon and made the foundation of so-called "Christian Science," according to Mr. Snell.

"Christian Science," he stated, "has two principles. First, that God is a spirit, and that all is a spirit, hence since there is no such thing as matter, there is no existence of disease, excepting in the mind. The second principle is that God is all and God is good, hence there is no evil. This eliminates Christ, therefore cannot be Christian."

All Are Affected.

Recognition was given of the extent to which physical, mental and moral cures are effected by obtaining a changed point of view. Physicians are recognizing this in their practice.

The preacher touched upon the cures that have been effected in victims of alcoholism by hypnotism and suggestion.

Mr. Snell emphasized the point that fads and abuses have come about through misunderstanding, misuse and misrepresentation of the power of mind over matter. It was possible, he believed, for a person to be a medium and to be entirely conscientious, in that case, self-deluded.

Cannot Return.

"The departed cannot return," he said in conclusion, "as witness the testimony of the Good Book in regard to the rich man and Lazarus, in which it is distinctly stated that 'they may not return to us, but we will go to them.'"

Expressing his profound sympathy with fathers and mothers and others bowed down with grief and anxiety for loved ones in danger, or who have lost their lives in the war, the last word on spiritualism was: "The medium is a self-hypnotized psychic, and cannot tell you anything that is not in your own mind or that is suggested, and so far as fortune-telling by the Ouija board and table-rapping, etc., is concerned, it is simply a case of the influence of mind over inanimate matter."

Simple Experiment.

To illustrate this, the preacher, leaning over the pulpit, tried an experiment. Attached to the end of a string he had an ordinary large button. Holding the end of the string in one hand, the button soon began to move in circles. Calling attention to this, he asked the congregation to note a change of motion to a pendulum course. A moment later the button began to move slowly backward and forward.

"This was simply the action of my mind on the inanimate button. Try it yourself when you get home. This also explains the supernatural in regard to the Ouija board and such fortune-telling."

As a last word, the possibility of making life better through right thinking was emphasized.

$175 COLLECTED AT SUNDAY BAND CONCERT

One of the most successful band concerts in point of proceeds and attendance which has been held yet this summer was given at Victoria Park Sunday evening under the auspices of Overseas Chapter, I.O.D.E.

The collections taken up at the gates amounted to $175.

The musical program given by the 1st Hussars band was of a high order and greatly appreciated by all present.

Notwithstanding the amount collected at the gates last evening it will only go a limited ways in providing lunches for soldiers proceeding overseas.

It has been the custom since the organization of Overseas Chapter to provide lunches to soldiers about to depart and to also provide many comforts that have been forwarded at frequent intervals to the boys in the trenches. All these demands upon the finances of the chapter have depleted the funds to such an extent that unless a sufficient amount is procured by collections or through voluntary contributions the lunches that have been provided in the past will necessarily have to be discontinued.

In view of this possibility, Overseas Chapter would appreciate any contributions to that end.

MANY FINE PICNICS HELD AT SPRINGBANK SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Hot Weather Brought Many Large Parties to City's Park.

The hot weather on Saturday afternoon resulted in all kinds of picnics being held at Springbank. There were any number of private family affairs, and many larger outings. Among these were the picnics of the employees of the O-Pee-Chee Gum Company, the members of the Sunday school of the Christian Church, of the Junior Baptist Young People's Union of the Adelaide Street and the Wortley Road churches, and of the Young People's Society of the Knollwood Park Church.

Most of the picnickers spent their time at various sports and games, and in many cases large and varied programs were carried out, including contests for men, women, boys and girls. Baseball games were the most noteworthy features of the programs, and while the plays were not all of the "major league" variety, the enjoyment was much more keen than that to be found in the professional ranks of ball players.

O-PEE-CHEE GUM COMPANY.

One of the attractive events on the extensive program of the O-Pee-Chee Gum Company picnic was a tug-of-war, while another was a three-inning baseball match for girls. The blind pig race also proved to be an attractive race, which might be expected in a prohibition country.

The judges in charge of the races were: J. K. McDermid, D. H. McDermid, Cy Edy, A. Brown, E. H. Shaw, C. W. Eastwood, A. Orr and J. Tambling, while the members of the committee in charge of the picnic were:

President, J. K. McDermid; vice-president, D. H. McDermid; chairman, J. DeWolfe; secretary, F. Westman; transportation, S. Hudgell; printing, J. Caton; treasurer, J. Post; refreshments, Miss Etta Ryckman; clerk of course, A. Anderson; announcer, R. A. Emery; starter, T. Morgan; sports committee, W. E. Krebs, secretary; G. Currie, R. Chartrand, F. Cromarty, A. Davis, W. Forsythe, W. E. Knight, A. Simpson, Miss Mayme Crawford, Miss Tena Kemp, Miss Katie Stannard. Lady helpers, folding box department—Clara Corrigan, Irene Dowdell, Lilian Chapman, Cyrita Chapman Mary Holt, Alice Holt, Verna Thompson. Solid box department—Mrs. O'Donnell, Grace Foss, Norah Clarke, Alice Edwards, Allison Scott, Orill Rockwood. Gum department—Edith Palmer, Alice Branch, Florence Nye, Dorothy Newman, Frances Greatorex, Bessie Wadsworth, Pop corn department—Daisy Horner, Ila Mitchell, Clara Burgess, Hilda Stannard, Ethel Simpson, Evelyn Hodges, Lily Jenkins.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

The program of the Christian Church included a baseball match between the gentlemen and the ladies, which, needless to say, was won by the latter by the score of 9 to 6. Other events on the program of the Christian Church, together with their winners, were:

Primary class race—Minnie Burns, May Wood, Morton Burns.

The committee which looked after the arrangements was composed of H. Scheiding, Velma Reid and Mrs. Southcott of Wortley Road Church, and Mrs. G. Shortt, Miss V. Sloan and Sergt. and Mrs. Batterson of Adelaide Street Church.

KNOLLWOOD PARK SOCIETY.

The events on the program of the Knollwood Park Society for Christian Endeavor were:

Thread and needle race, ladies and gents.—Mrs. Wheeler and Mr. Williams.

Hop, step and jump—Ronald Fox, Mr. Bishop and Eddie Davis.

Coat race, ladies and gents. -- Miss Bramall and Mr. Bishop.

Prune and string race—Capt. Fletcher Ronald Fox and Eddie Davis.

Single ladies' race—Elsie Benford, Minnie Wheeler, Miss Bramall.

Single men's race—Ronald Fox, Teddie Williams, Eddie Davis.

Time race—Elsie Benford, Alice Madge, Mrs. Fox.

Children's race—Kenneth Balch, Arthur Bishop, Kenneth Bishop.

Married ladies' race—Mrs. Balch, Mrs. Wheeler, Mrs. Bramall.

Married men's race—Mr. Bishop, Capt. Fletcher.

The four-legged race, in which two ladies and a gentleman formed a team, the ladies walking forward and the gentleman walking backwards, proved to be the most interesting feature of the afternoon. It was won by Miss Bramall, Miss Wheeler and Mr. Bishop, second prize going to Miss Banford, Miss Alice Madge and Bernie Wheeler.

The picnic, which was the first held by the society, was most successful, and everybody had a pleasant time. Refreshments were provided by the ladies' social committee, and were much appreciated. The sports were in charge of Misses Bramall and Pring, Capt. Fletcher, E. C. Davis and Mr. Bishop, and the success of the program was due to their efforts. The prizes will be presented at Monday evening's meeting of the society.

LONDONERS ANXIOUS TO LEARN TO CONSERVE

That Londoners are anxious to do everything possible for the conservation of food supplies is evidenced by the demand for pamphlets issued by the Government on various lines of economy. More than a thousand booklets on methods of cooking fish have been given out at the public library, and there is a constant demand for the pamphlets dealing with backyard gardens.

A new booklet which will probably arrive in the city by Monday will deal with canning and preserving fruit.
