THE WORLD OF LONDON.

TRAVELS, HUNTS AND SPEECHES OF THE PRINCE OF WALES.

Preparations for the Gladstone Meeting at Birmingham—The Liberals not Altogether a Happy and United Family—A New Line of Policy Foreshadowed.

LONDON, Oct. 23.—The Prince of Wales returns from Vienna highly pleased with his visit, which he has enjoyed immensely. Perhaps his sportling experiences are those which he has enjoyed most, for, in spite of his late hours and being a heavy man, the Prince is wonderfully active, a very good shot, and the sport he has enjoyed is very different from what he usually gets. So it was to him what must be a great recommendation and a perfect novelty. He has lost weight since he went abroad, and is now a stone lighter than in August.

There is a report that Murray is going shortly to publish the Prince of Wales' speeches. He has now spoken in public for a quarter of a century. Many people believe that his speeches are written for him, the Prince only putting on the finishing touches. It is obvious that he must have an immense deal of assistance, for the subjects on which he speaks are so varied that it would be next to impossible for him to prepare the materials for himself. It will be interesting to see if there is any natural development in them, or if they show the work of different hands.

I believe there has been no question on which the Prince of Wales has had stronger views than concerning Ireland. His opinions on the desirability of having a royal residence there are perfectly well known. His feelings on these matters are not shared in higher quarters, and to the Prince's great credit he has never allowed his opinions, if they were in opposition to the Queen's, to become known. He is the first heir-apparent in England who never allowed whatever differences may have arisen between him and the crown to become public gossip.

The Prince has been spending three days in Paris incognito. Of course everybody knows what he has been doing, and where he has been breakfasting and dining. His Royal Highness is accompanied invariably by the Marquis de Lon. He has been to see Mlle. Granier in Barbe Bleue at the Varietes, Mlle. Lulu at the Nouveau Cirque and La Belle at the Eden; he has inspected the art collections of Baron Picheon, the Eiffel tower; has dined with Madam de Gallifet and the Grand Duke Alexis, and yesterday went on a shoot with Baron Alphonse d'Rothschild at Ferrieres.

Shooting on the Sabbath day!
What will mamma say?

The Prince on the day of his arrival called at the Elysee, but President Carnot being out, as an official note in the newspapers says, His Royal Highness left his card.

Gladstone and Gladstonians.

That Gladstone's power has not disappeared is evident from the enthusiasm shown by the preparations which are being made for the meeting at Birmingham next month. It is ten years since he attended a meeting in Bingley hall, at which no fewer than 15,000 persons were present. It looks very probable that nearly the same number will attend on Nov. 7. While there is no charge for admittance to the hall, which can accommodate 10,000 persons standing, the committee is charging prices varying from five shillings to two guineas for platform seats. Political enthusiasm must be very pronounced when it will induce thousands of men to stand for perhaps some hours in a hot hall. Such an occurrence was not unusual in the hey-day of Gladstone's power and popularity in the country. Though that is waning, many people will be attracted by the sight of an old man of 80 with the courage to run the risk of such an undertaking for the cause with which he has identified himself.

Some importance is attached to the meeting at Hawarden on Oct. 11 of Lord Rosebery, Morley, Sir William Harcourt and Gladstone. There was something important in it, for I hear that owed the party was summoned to Hawarden by telegraph. Those who know are inclined to believe that there is some idea of Gladstone making a political manifesto at Birmingham. It is no secret that the Gladstonian party is by no means the happy and united family they would have the world believe. The official managers are not satisfied with the prospects. They are dismayed by the open dissatisfaction displayed by the less advanced of the rank and file. The conduct of Gladstone and Morley in attacking Justice Day did not commend itself to many who swamped their most influential supporters. This, added to personal jealousy, which is honeycombing the party, is being conveyed to Gladstone, who, it is believed, is now recognizing the fact that balance of Mr. Balfour and his policy is thus enough to consolidate and unite his party. At all events the Hawarden meeting is regarded among the followers as the possible inauguration of a new line of policy and action.

"Frederick the Noble."

The sale of "Frederick the Noble" does not seem appreciably to have suffered from the premature disclosures of the pirates. During more than one day last week the bookbinders found it impossible to keep pace with the constant demand of the sellers for fresh supplies. Within an hour of its being placed on the book stalls of the city two well known vendors each disposed of 400 copies. The New York Sun published the entire work after all, notwithstanding the smartness of its rival. The Herald, but the contract between the proprietors and Samuson, Low & Co. was so very comprehensively drawn that it is a very doubtful whether the payment of the stipulated penalty can be enforced. Counsel have advised the publishers that they have a valid right of action in several cases, but it is not likely that Sir Morell, whose main object was to defend himself from the gratuitous attacks and aspersions of his enemies, will join in these proceedings.

Sir Morell has not said his last word, but will reply as briefly as possible to some of the animadversions of his hostile critics. His rejoinder will probably be sent to the press toward the end of the present week. On any question of pathology Prof. Virchow is entitled to be heard with attention. Profane persons might say that as regards the Emperor he was listened to with considerably too much attention, for it is incontrovertible the fact, however he may now seek to explain it away, that the responsibility for the course pursued lies entirely at his door. It is not true that he merely said that there could be no cancer in the tissues submitted to him. He went out of his way to state emphatically that there was not the slightest cause to suspect its existence. The learned gentleman now expects us to believe that these favorable expressions were to be understood in a purely Pickwickian sense—that is to say, he attempts to save his scientific reputation at the expense of his honor. It is notorious that Professor Virchow's conduct throughout this sad business has scandalized many of his most fervent disciples.

There are pirates and pirates. An American free-booter has sent Mrs. Humphrey Ward a check for $500 on account of the profits of a fishpot-red edition of Robert Elsmere. This is golden balm for unprotected authors.

Yes—We Want a Music Hall.

Editor World: A properly equipped music hall of sufficient dimensions to accommodate large audiences would pay in Toronto, and if it would not yield great financial returns to those who only build to make money, surely Toronto is as able to consider the wants of our citizens in this respect as the small provincial towns of England, Scotland and Ireland. Why could not our worthy Mayor and corporation give a thought to the thousands of respectable citizens who scarcely ever have the opportunity to hear lectures or concerts in consequence of not being able to afford to pay the prices it is necessary to charge in such places as the Pavilion? There is no question as to the necessity for a hall large enough for festivals, lectures, political, national and religious gatherings. Enough public spirit should exist in Toronto to build the required hall, and the time has come for it to be done. Having had faith in Toronto to get up a musical festival it was successfully carried out and it is now proposed to erect a music hall. Those willing to co-operate to this end may address

BANFF SPRINGS HOTEL
A perfectly constructed Summer and Winter Hotel, costing a quarter of a million dollars, situated on the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, near the summit of the Rocky Mountains in the Canadian National Park.
The house is electric lighted, and has every comfort and convenience found in city hotels of the highest grade. The numerous hot sulphur springs in close proximity vary in temperature from 80 to 121 degrees, and perfect bathing facilities are supplied. Testimony to the wonderful curative properties of the waters is plentiful. A first-class livery of driving and saddle horses forms part of the establishment, and there are excellent roads and walks in all directions, built and maintained by the Government. The house is 5,000 feet above sea level and is surrounded by magnificent mountain peaks 5,000 to 8,000 feet high. In grandeur of scenery and purity of atmosphere the region is immeasurably superior to any similar health resort on the continent. The hotel rates are from $2.50 a day upward, and special terms for longer time may be had by addressing GEORGE HOLLIDAY, MANAGER, Banff, Alberta, Canada. For further information and for excursion tickets, apply to any Canadian Pacific Ry. Ticket Office, or at 110 King-street West, Toronto.
