SCOTT ACT TANGLE FOOT.—About nine o'clock last Thursday evening, a soldier, who had been imbibing too freely of Fredericton's Scott Act "tangle foot," disturbed the monotony of Queen street with howls which would have been creditable to a danger signal on a war ship. The guard turned out to carry him to quarters, and followed by a jeering crowd of civilians, the street presented the appearance of a western town with the cow boys cut loose. He was finaly overpowered and quietness reigned.—Fredericton Herald.

Freights.

Messrs. Scammell Bros., in their weekly freight circular, New York March 29, say:—

We are as yet unable to report an improvement in the freight market for sail vessels, which remains in rather a listless condition, so far as the more prominent trades are concerned. The declining tendency of Petroleum prices encourages the hope of a prospective improvement in the enquiry for oil tonnage. Rates remain fairly steady, namely, 25s.@27s. 6d. hence to Sydney and Melbourne, 30s. to Adelaide, 32s. 6d.@37s. 6d. to New Zealand, 30s.@42s. 6d. to South Africa, 32s. 6.@37s.6d. to the West Coast of South America, and $10.50@$11 to California. The Provincial Deal season has fairly opened, and considerable sail tonnage has been laid under contribution to shippers during the week at 48s.9d.@53s. 9d. from New Brunswick ports to the United Kingdom.

A Matrimonial Boom.

The aphorism of young men's "thoughts lightly turning to love," at this season of the year, seems to be fully borne out in our fair city, if recent weddings and those to come may be the criterion to judge by. The air is fairly bristling with such reports.

It is said that one of the oldest and best patronized boarding houses in town will lose two of its bachelor inmates within three months. The 15th of June is set, as certain to be a fete, or "fate", day for one of them.

Then there is a rumor that a young man in the employ of one of the oldest crockery stores has wooed and will shortly wed a fair maid from the North end. Again, in the same locality, a well-known teacher, not so long as his name, has arrayed a neat little nest for his captive "dove" and soon it will be occupied.

In one of our largest dry goods establishments it is rumored five young men are to take chances in that greatest of lotteries—matrimony—shortly. A young widower of King street will, it is said, once more venture on the sea of matrimony, taking as his first officer or chief mate a North end lady; may the voyage be prosperous. Another gentleman, not unconnected with Her Majesty's civil service—and a widower—will, so rumor says, this summer once more light Hymen's torch, "the party of the second part," being a well known little business woman as neat as she is petite. And away from Amherst comes a new "young Lochinvar" to carry off his bride from our midst and so the list might be extended like Banquo's descendents to the crack o' doom."

BOARD OF TRADE.

Important Business Discussed Yesterday Afternoon—The Board Tells What is Needed.

Before the meeting of the Board of Trade yesterday a number of letters were read, one being from Hon. Senator Wark, who asked that the board support him in the scheme of having mail steamers make alternate trips to St. John and Halifax. A letter from E. G. Nelson, the hon. secretary of the Imperial Federation league, calling attention to the measure about to be considered by the imperial parliament, having in view the adoption of a uniform rate of letter postage of one penny throughout the British empire. Mr. Nelson pointed out that the question had been discussed and approved by boards of trade in Toronto and other cities in the Dominion.

Mr. W. S. Fisher, seconded by Mr. Estey, moved the following:—

"Whereas, The attention of this board has been called to the fact that a proposal is to be laid before the British government to secure a uniform rate of letter postage of one penny throughout the empire, therefore

"Resolved, That this board desires to urge upon the government the importance of taking immediate steps to secure the establishment of a two-cent letter postage for the whole empire, and further that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the minister of finance at Ottawa."

Messrs. D. J. Maclaughlin, Hurd Peters and E. S. Carter were elected members of the board.

A motion of Mr. C. A. Everett to the effect that the board approve of the council's action in reference to the freight rates and recommend the council's continued attention to the matter, after considerable discussion was adopted.

On motion of Mr. Jas. F. Robertson it was decided to inform the minister of railways of the board's views.

The question of transportation over the N. B. R. was referred to the freight and transportation committee who will hereafter watch matters in this connection.

With regard to steamship subsidies Mr. Jas F. Robertson pointed out the necessity of united action in the city's interests. There could be but one opinion in reference to the subsidy of $2,000 now granted the Hiawatha, and the subsidy of $1,000 for the Yarmouth route. The merchants of the city had made arrangements for extending their trade to the Basin of Minas ports to which places steamers are now flying. A small subsidy had been received from the government to assist the service, and this year there was talk of its withdrawal.

The subsidy granted was a small matter, and it was a small favor to request its continuance. He moved:

That a strong expression of the feelings of this board be conveyed to the provincial legislatnre in favor of a continuance of the subsidy for the steamer service between St. John and the Basin of Minas and Maitland and between St. John and Yarmouth.

Mr. W. H. Thorne said that a petition might be backed by a delegation.

The motion was carried and the appointment of delegates referred to the subsidies committee.

The harbor line question and the proposed Long wharf extension were next discussed. Mr. R. Cruikshank said the harbor committee had fully considered the matter and were opposed to the bill. Mr. Perley had spoken strongly against any such extension. Both the harbor master and director of public works were opposed to it. It would injure the harbor. The proposed extension would bring the wharf down almost to North wharf and practically close a number of slips. He moved that the board petition the legislature not to authorize the construction of any wharf beyond the present harbor line.

C. A. Everett seconded the resolution, which was adopted.

In Their New Quarters.

Messrs. Dowling Bros. are now established in their new quarters, 95 King street. At 6 o'clock last evening the old store was closed; at 7 o'clock this morning the new one was opened, and the firm were prepared for business at an early hour. The whole of their old stock was removed during the evening previous, the employes working hard to accomplish the removal. Then recent importations of the firm had been shelved in the new premises and the fresh stock is now displayed in a manner which invites general attention, especially that of the ladies. The new premises of Messrs Dowling Bros. are neat, airy and nicely fitted up and the stock is largely fresh importations. The business capabilities of the young men who constitute the firm are too well-known to need further words of commendation. Their tasty little store which they have just left on Charlotte street tells the whole story—it was a favorite shopping place of the ladies. But these gentlemen are now better than ever prepared to answer the calls of their customers. They extend a cordial invitation to the public, and invite inspection of some choice lines of dress goods and gents' furnishings.

At Brussels Street Church.

The missionary meeting held last evening in connection with the fortieth anniversay of Brussels street church was highly interesting and well attended. The pastor Rev. W. J. Stewart, presided, Rev. C. H. Martell, pastor of the Fairville F. C. Baptist church delivered an address on The The Gospel for the World. Rev. Wm. Lawson of Carmarthen street church spoke on Our Opportunity in missions. Reflex Influences of Missions was the subject set down for discussion by Rev. Sydney Welton, pastor of the Main street Baptist church, but owing to the lateness of the hour he made but a brief address. The choir of the church rendered several selections.

This evening there will be a high tea from 6.30 o'clock, in the vestry, and a grand re-union of the congregation in the church.

J. RING, CITY MISSIONARY.

Dec. 12th, 1857.

Received from the treasurer of the Juvenile Brussels street Baptist missionary society, the sum of twelve pounds ten shillings.

E. B. DEMILL

During its six months engagement with the Rev. Jarvis Ring as city missionary, a room in the vicinity of the Marsh Bridge was procured, where he labored and where a Sunday school was formed. After running a short time a meeting was held March 10th, 1857, and a committee, consisting of James E. Masters, John Fisher, E. J. Barteaux, George D. Godsoe, S. Kinsman and Thos. Hicks was appointed to arrange for securing ground and erecting a building in the same neighborhood. Tenders were asked for, and at a meeting, April 14th, the tender of S. Skinner and Cornelius Vaughan was accepted at £247 10s.

The building lately abandoned as a mission hall was erected and on the 15th day of September, same year, was dedicated for public worship. At the close of the Rev. Jarvis Ring's engagement, the Rev. E. B. DeMill was engaged and supported by the society till it was deemed necessary by some to organize a church. On March 29, 1858, was formed what was known as the Marsh Bridge Church.

The pastor's salary was met by the members, with the exception of £30 pledged by the society. After a time the interest in ship building, which was the chief employment of the men in that vicinity, having failed, caused a falling off in membership as they were obliged to seek employment elsewhere. A large number of those remaining whose homes were in the city proper decided to move their church interest nearer, and the Leinster street church which was destroyed by fire in 1877 was the building erected.

At this time, feeling that they no longer needed their assistance, the Society turned its attention to foreign work and supported a native preacher on the Rev. Arthur Crawley's field at Henthada, Burmah.

We cannot find when this society dropped out of existence nor how many years intervened between its organization and the next in October, 1873, known as the Missionary Band of Cheerful Givers, which owed its origin to the interest excited by a visit from Miss Minnie De Wolfe, a returned missionary from India.

The officers were James Estey, (president.) Annie Everett, (secretary,) Emma Hartt, (treasurer,) Alice Estey, (organist.)

The aim of this society was to create an interest in Foreign Missions. The fire in 1877 disorganized this society.

In 1882 four little girls of the school, Jennie and Hattie Hopper, Nella Smith and Bertha Bell undertook the support of a boy in the Mission school at Chicacole in India. Finding the task too arduous for so small a number it was proposed that the school share the burden and as a result our present mission band was formed in 1883 with the following officers: Miss Jennie Hopper, president, Miss Nella Smith, vice president, Miss Bertha Bell, treasurer, Miss Bertie Woodworth, sec. Up to the close of last year they have raised and paid over, for the support of Chinua David, for two years $50; the next three years $120, and since then $30 each year, besides a donation of $50 to the S. S. and $6 to the Ladies Association and $15 to assist in building a church at Beaver Harbor.

This band was divided in August 1889, into two divisions, senior and junior, and juvenile; they continue to support Chinua David and have taken an interest in Gran Ligne as well. Hearing of their late loss by fire, the senior division of this mission band forwarded them a box of bedding, the receipt of which has been gratefully acknowledged.

Arrival of Square Riggers.

Bark Kate Burrill arrived this morning, 57 days from Rio Janeiro. Had fair weather until Barbados was reached. From there head winds were encountered until the arrival at this port. On Friday last on the Gulf stream a heavy wind prevailed and the Burrill was run under double reefed topsails. During the gale she passed a bark of about 900 tons register steering N. N. E. with her upper topsail blown away. On the passage from Cardiff to Rio Janeiro, on Dec. 3rd, Joseph Coonan, a native of Dundee, fell overboard and was lost. The vessel was hove to and efforts made to save the man but he sank befors a boat, which had been lowered, could reach him.

The Norwegian bark Vielfarne, Captain Naess, arrived this morning from Ensenada after a passage of 80 days. She had calm weather nearly all the voyage; no trade winds were encountered. Passed an American bark showing letters I. T. D. G. bound from Japan to New York, 127 days out. The Vielfarne is an old Quebec vessel, having been built there about 25 years ago. She was then called the Hengist.

Bark Lepreaux, Captain Brown, which arrived last night from Buenos Ayres was 65 days on the passage. She had ordinary weather.
