ORGAN RECITAL AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Fourth of Series Saturday Afternoon Much Enjoyed.

Had Been Rendering

The fourth organ recital in the winter series, being given by Mr. J. T. Schofield, at the First Baptist Church was well attended, and a very enjoyable hour was spent.

Mr. Roy McIntosh of Hamilton sang two selections in excellent voice. The opening selections on the organ were by Mendelssohn, and were greatly appreciated. Organ Sonata (No. 3) in two parts (a) Con Moto Maestoso, (b) Andante Tranquillo.

Mendelssohn's organ works are as indispensable as those of Bach to every organist. The Sonata in A, one of six sonatas written by Mendelssohn for the organ, and of which Professor Faisst remarks, all are epoch making in the history of organ music.

The second number, "Cantalena," by Grison, is a charming composition in the style of a pastorale, and gives plenty of scope for coloring. This was delightfully played and is quite a favorite.

"Question" and "Answer," by Wolstenholme, the third selection, are compositions quite above the ordinary. The themes used are of a haunting character and very effectively contrasted. Mr. Wolstenholme, we learn, is a Lancashire musician, and blind from birth. He has attained a very high position as a composer in England.

Toccatta in D minor, by Eberlin, the fourth selection, is a brilliant work, and makes great demands both in technique and coloring. This work was well suited to form a contrast to the two previous pieces, and it was finely executed.

The fifth Romance by Gounod is a great favorite, and one which lends itself to a varied treatment as an organ selection.

The sixth, the overture to "Zampa" formed a fitting climax to a splendid recital. The brilliant and orchestral effect given to it, made the selection very enjoyable.

No Contraband on Board.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

London, Jan. 24—The agents for the Swedish-American steamship Stockholm, which is now discharging part of its cargo for the prize court at Liverpool, deny that any copper in lard pails or parcel post packages containing rubber was discovered on board the vessel.

A despatch from Liverpool on Saturday last said that British newspapers published a report that pails on board the Stockholm, supposed to contain five hundred tons of lard really contained copper ingots and that heavy parcel posts packages contained a large quantity of rubber.

Cold cream containing mustard was found to be the cause of rosy cheeks among some Elyria, O., girls.

"BRITISH ARTS AND WILES" IS NEW BLOCKADE

German Press "Called" For Viewing New Menace Indifferently.

COUNT REVENTLOW ON SITUATION

Hate Against England Will Be All the Greater Now.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, Jan. 24 — Great Britain's blockade intentions have at last aroused the Germans. There is a strong current of hope here that the United States will force Great Britain to keep to the letter of the international law. Count Reventlow in The Tages Zeitung, writes:

"England's decision to sharpen the blockade is viewed very generally by the German press in a manner of almost complete indifference. We do not share this view. A sharpening of the barrier signifies the strongest British arts and wiles, since on the other side of the North Sea, they have seen that nothing else helps them. It is a lying phrase when the House of Commons talks of barring those goods which Germany needs to make war. On the contrary and in reality, the British Government means by the blockade to increase the needs of the non-combatant German population to an unbearable height. To this noble purpose all else is subordinated.

"Since Great Britain cannot crush the fighting part of the German people and knows it, the German people will hold out through this, too. That need not be said, because it is a matter of course, but it is not a matter of indifference. The deeper and stronger that the German people realize that England is a nation which wants to annihilate us, the one enemy on whose prospects of success the whole coalition hangs together, the enemy who shrinks back from no means to lower the national power of resistance—the more undivided must be our will to strike back at this accursed enemy with all the means at our disposal, regardless of the consequences and without looking to the right or left."

Youth in Dickinson College wrote an anthem; girl played it; then they eloped.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Berlin, Jan. 25. (via London)—The Cathedral at Nieuport, says the German official statement issued this afternoon, has been destroyed by our artillery fire, as it was offering an excellent observation post.

Neuport is a town of Belgium ten miles southwest of Ostend. The cathedral at Nieuport was built in the fifteenth century and restored in 1903. The church had a massive baroque tower. The roof of the church was made of modern timber. It contained a Gothic pulpit. Renaissance choi[...]

CITY OF NANC[...] BOMBARDED B[...]

By Special Wire to the Courier.

Paris, Jan. 25.—The city of Nancy was again bombarded this morning by long range German guns and this afternoon a number of bombs were dropped from German aeroplanes. The damages from the bombardment were inconsiderable and only two persons were wounded, while the aeroplane attack is reported to have been without result.

It was announced from Paris in January that during the three preceding days six persons had been killed and ten wounded in Nancy as the re[...]

84TH MEASURED TO STANDARD OF EFFICIENCY

General Logie Made Inspection of Battalion This Morning.

WELL PLEASED WITH RESULT

Soldiers Put Through Various Kinds of Drill in Good Order.

Promptly at 9.15 this morning the portion of the 84th Battalion stationed at the armories, paraded on the gore at full strength. They were closely inspected by their company commanders, then the march to the Agricultural park was made.

In arrival at the park at about 9.30 the battalion formed up in line facing the main entrance, the officers in review order and the brass band twenty paces in rear of the centre of the line.

General Logie, G.O.C., 2nd Division, and Captain Howland, D.I.O. of the Division, arrived on the 9.35 train and were whirled over to the review grounds in a taxi by Lieut.-Col. W. T. Stewart, Major Harvey and Capt. McNaught.

The general salute was given and a flourish sounded as the General's car stopped. God Save the King was played by the band, while the soldiers presented arms, and a very impressive sight was registered.

The General was very pleased with the efficient, snappy drill of the men. The interior economy and administration were also in an excellent condition. In fact, the inspection was apparently so satisfactory to the Brigadier-General, that the rumors that the 84th would soon leave for overseas will be true.

During the inspection the soldiers were put through company, platoon, section and squad drill. The signallers, machine gun section and scouts were also closely inspected.

Delayed by Storm.

By Special Wire to the Courier.

St. Johns, Nfd., Jan 25—The steamshi Noordam of the Holland-American line, with its fuel supply exhausted because of delays during stormy weather, arrived here to-day, and will remain 36 hours to replenish her bunkers. A large number of the Ford peace delegates are on board. It is a four days' run from here to New York. The Noordan encountered bad weather off the coast of England, shortly after leaving Rotterdam. The vessel made less than 100 miles a day, part of the time, and is now ten days behind schedule.
