Sees the Heart.

Edison, the Inventor, Achieves the Greatest Triumph of His Successful Career.

New York, March 26.—Edison, the inventor, succeeded on Friday in penetrating the human body with the naked eye. He looked into the heart and lungs and examined the arteries, the blood vessels and muscles of one of his assistants, and in doing so achieved the crowning glory of his life by opening the door which at once revolutionizes and incalculably widens the horizon of the medical world.

With the powerful cathode rays behind his subject, he gazes through a screen of prepared chemicals and sees every organ of the body as plainly as one can see the dishes upon a dinner table. With the subject close to the light, nothing whatever is seen, but if the patient steps forward a foot or two from the light the skeleton is revealed. Still further from the light and the muscles, tissues and organs of the body appear as plainly as if they were not inclosed in flesh, as the distance from the light and the focus are changed. A fluorescent screen eight feet in height is now being constructed for Mr. Edison's experiments, and when this is completed he will be able to see from the top of the head to the sole of the feet.

Results Tell the Story.

A vast mass of direct, unimpeachable testimony proves beyond any possibility of doubt that Hood's Sarsaparilla actually does perfectly and permanently cure diseases caused by impure blood. Its record of cures is unequaled and these cures have often been accomplished after all other preparations had failed.

Dr. Bryce, the Provincial health officer, thinks the state of affairs in Windsor sufficiently serious to warrant him in making an investigation into the outbreak of typhoid fever which, he has been informed, is due to the pollution of the water supply by sewage from the town of Walkerville. He has been informed that there are between 150 and 200 cases of typhoid in Windsor.

While C. F. Pashley was loading bundles of rims on trucks, at the Sarnia Hub and Spoke Factory, assisted by one of the other workmen, the latter swung a bundle up rather closely and caught Mr. Pashley under the jaw, causing him to bite his tongue half off and through the lower lip as well. This will necessitate Mr. Pashley's living on a milk diet for some time, and keeping his tongue still to give it a chance to heal.

THE EPWORTH LEAGUES.

Proceedings of the Conference of London District—Committee Reports.

St. Thomas, March 26.—Three hundred and thirty-five delegates have registered at the annual convention of the Epworth Leagues of the London Methodist Conference.

Tuesday evening the large church, capable of accommodating eleven hundred people, was filled. Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, spoke on "The Relation of the League to Mission Work," and the Rev. Dr. Carman delivered an address on denominational loyalty and interdenominational fellowship. Mr. H. Ruthven McDonald, of London, and Mr. C. E. Ayres, choir master of the First Methodist Church, rendered vocal solos with fine effect.

THIRD DAY—WEDNESDAY.

Rev. W. Hayhurst conducted the devotional exercises of the morning session, reading the Scriptures; Rev. B. Clement, Rev. S. Bond, Mr. Hopkins and Miss Axford leading in prayer.

Lookout committee work was introduced by Rev. G. H. Cobbledick, M.A., B.D., of Brussels. The Methodist Church being no longer able to recruit its members from new territory had to depend on the families within the church. To get in this material and retain it was the work of the lookout committee.

Miss E. Sharpe, of Dresden, took up the subject of the prayer-meeting committee.

The nominating committee recommended the following as members of the committee on resolutions: Mr. John Hatch, Rev. A. Cunningham, Rev. J. Veale, Mr. T. B. Shillington, Mrs. Maxwell, Mrs. J. Hayne, Miss Neelands, Miss Mills, Mr. Harris, Rev. J. S. Cook, Rev. G. H. Cobbledick, Miss McBain, Miss Pinch, and Rev. H. Irvine.

The names of two persons for each of the offices of the convention were also submitted.

A resolution in reference to the injurious influence of narcotics, signed by a number of members of the convention, was referred to the committee on resolutions.

Evangelistic work was the subject of a paper by Rev. J. E. Moore, of Dutton. The general secretary introduced literary work, its importance being emphasized, but it should be made one of real work. About 1,200 had entered upon the course.

Rev. O. Alexander, of Brownsville, gave an account of the working of a Circuit Epworth League Board on his circuit.

Rev. C. T. Scott moved that the general board be petitioned to amend the constitution so that the election of officers will be by ballot without nomination. The resolution was carried.

No Disappointment.

Disappointments of one kind and another crop up all along life's pathway; for unfortunately it is the unexpected that always happens. There is at least one article of acknowledged merit that never disappoints. Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor is sure to remove the worst corns in a few days, and as no claim is made that it will cure anything else, it cannot disappoint. If you have hard or soft corns just try it. Beware of the article "just as good." N. C. Polson & Co., proprietors, Kingston.

Canada First!

Her Proud Position in the Group of British Colonies.

Mr. Chamberlain's Speech at the Canada Club's Dinner.

Free Trade Throughout the Empire the Only True Zollverein.

Duties for Revenue Only—"Protection" Bad for the Workingman.

London, March 26.—Right Hon. Jos. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, was the guest of honor at the annual dinner of the Canada Club in London this evening.

In responding to the toast "The Governor-General of Canada and the Dominion" Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the guest of honor, declared that whatever test gauged her greatness, among the group of kindred nations, which, together with a united kingdom, formed the British Empire. He had often visited Canada, he said, and knew men on both sides of the Atlantic who once assumed that the manifest destiny of Canada was to be absorbed by the great republic upon the southern frontier. That announcement, Mr. Chamberlain declared, was in contrast with the present determination of Canada to maintain her loyal institutions and draw closer the bonds uniting her to the parent stem. The recent isolation of the United Kingdom and the dangers which seemed to threaten, evoked from all the colonies, and especially from Canada, an outburst of loyalty and affection. To none of her Majesty's subjects was the recent shadow of war more ominous than to Canada; yet there was no hesitation on her part, and unanimous voice was made in the common cause with the United Kingdom. (Cheers.) The speakers of the Dominion Parliament struck the right note when they spoke of "Our Empire." "Could an expression of loyalty from all the colonies be asked, "pass without serious effort on the part of both the colonies and imperial statesmen to transform these high sentiments into practical results? We must seek the line of least resistence."

CANADA STOOD TODAY FIRST

COLONIAL OBLIGATIONS.

Mr. Chamberlain declared that the greatest of the colonies' common obligations was imperial defense, and the greatest of their common interests imperial trade. It was difficult to deal with the subject of deferences without first dealing with the matter of trade. They had a great example in the creation of the German Empire, which has led up, through the union of the states now forming it, into a commercial zollverein. At the great conference at Ottawa in 1894 the principal resolution adopted declared in favor of a customs arrangement between Great Britain and her colonies.

DIFFERENTIAL DUTIES.

Mr. Chamberlain, continuing, referred to the motion offered in the Canadian House of Commons by Mr. McNeill that a small duty be levied by each member of the empire against foreign products imported by them, and that the proceeds from such duties be devoted to the purpose of imperial intercommunication and defense, Mr. McNeill's proposal, he said, was entitled to respectful consideration. If the English objected to it they ought to propose an alternative.

At the same time the importance of the proposal ought not to be minimized. It would involve a most serious disturbance of the trade of the United Kingdom, and a great change in the principles which for many years have guided its commercial policy. The proposed duty would tend to increase the cost of living to the working classes of the United Kingdom, and hence increase the cost of production, the position of the British in competition with foreign countries in neutral markets. Great Britain in return would give a very small preference, amounting to 2, perhaps 5 per cent in competition with the foreigners in colonial markets. This proposal, Mr. Chamberlain considered a very startling one, and he feared that it would be impossible of adoption in its present form. He stated in detail his reasons for regarding its adoption as impossible, dwelling especially upon the fact that the British foreign trade is so much more gigantic than that of the colonies, that the taxation would fall more heavily upon the United Kingdom than upon them. He referred to the dispatch of 1895 of the Marquis of Ripon, then Colonial Secretary, which, although conclusive as far as it concerned the proposal to which it referred, did not bar out others which were more favorable. Mr. Chamberlain suggested that the true zollverein of the empire, viz.,

RENDERING WORSE

FREE TRADE THROUGHOUT THE EMPIRE,

despite the involving of duties against foreigners, might be discussed, and would probably lead to a satisfactory agreement if the colonies were willing to consider it. (Cheers.) It had been assumed, he continued, that the colonies would certainly refuse to consider such a suggestion, but he was not convinced that they would do so. He contended that it would be so enormously advantageous to them that the colonies would be bound to consider it, but instanced some exceptions that would be necessary, he holding, however, that the general principle would be acceptable that between the various parts of the empire any duties imposed being merely for revenue, not protection. If this principle should be adopted, said the speaker, there would be no reason for calling a council of the empire to discuss the matter. In conclusion, Mr. Chamberlain declared that he spoke only for himself, and was not initiating a course of policy He wished, he said, to provoke discussion upon the subject.

PROTECTION OUGHT TO DISAPPEAR,

DR. MONTAGUE'S REMARKS.

Hon. Dr. Montague, M.P., Canadian Minister of Agriculture, followed Mr. Chamberlain, whom he congratulated upon fully appreciating the idea of a greater Britain. Canadians were proud, he said, of Great Britain's past and present, but they believed that the future of the empire would be infinitely greater. He wished Mr. Chamberlain godspeed in the work of increasing the ties of common interest and the inter-dependence between the mother country and her colonies, and hoped he would do everything possible to encourage emigration to Canada. He urged the adoption of some such suggestion as that made by Mr. Chamberlain. He realized that there were difficulties in the way, and that mutual sacrifices would be necessary, but the opportunity was great, and he undertook to say that Canada would not refuse to consider any practical proposition which she could possibly accept. She had hitherto led the way as much as possible upon this subject, and was willing to discuss it in the future.

AFFLICTED AUSTRALIA.

Another Scorching Wave Rolls Over the Colony.

Disease, Drought, Hurricane, Flood and Earthquake Prevail.

Victoria, B. C., March 26.—The most violent climatic disturbances still prevail in the antipodes. A second heat-wave sent the thermometer upward, the mercury climbing to a point never before reached. At Adelaide the temperature reached the highest point yet recorded, while at Melbourne deaths from heat, apoplexy and sunstroke have reached an alarming number. Numerous serious fires also took place, started by spontaneous combustion, and at all the factories double guards have been placed to prevent combustion through heat generated in closely-stored goods. In the country large ranges of bush have been set on fire, and surrounding settlements are threatened.

At Alexandria, Waterloo and Wagga Typhoid fever is raging, the mortality being very great. The epidemic is caused by impure water, owing to the wells being dried up.

At Melbourne the typhoid epidemic has assumed alarming proportions. The fever wards in the hospitals are full, and large numbers are being turned away.

When the steamers sailed the rivers were all rising in Queensland. The damage to the crops is terrible, and great destitution will follow.

At Adelaide a gale lasting 24 hours did much damage.

Great suffering prevails at Townsville, Queensland which was almost wiped out of existence by a hurricane. Contributions are being asked for all over Australia for the homeless.

After the wind, earthquakes took Australia in hand, there being two distinct shocks from east to west.

LOST ALL HIS WEALTH.

Daring Steal Perpetrated on Tuesday Night in Chicago.

Chicago, March 26.—Christopher Schrage was plundered of money and papers amounting to $50,000 on Tuesday night.

Schrage is 76 years old and resides at 711 South Jefferson street. It was known in the neighborhood that he was wealthy, and that after the fashion of misers, he counted over his riches every night. While it was yet daylight in the evening, two men called to look at some rooms he had to rent. He admitted them, when they threw him down and bound and gagged him. They then helped themselves to the bonds, mortgages and cash.

CROSSED ON THE ICE.

Hamilton, March 26.—Tuesday night a jolly party of people, employes and friends of Mr. John Gompf, brewer, enjoyed a supper at Mr. John Dynes' hotel on the beach. A remarkable thing in connection with the affair was that a party of fifteen of the merry makers drove across the ice to the Beach, in a big heavy rig drawn by two horses. The horses, wagon and load must have weighed nearly three tons, and it is doubtful if a much heavier load has ever crossed the bay on the ice much later in the year. The ice is still as sound as a silver dollar and is thick enough to bear a far greater weight.

Letters Come.

Letters come day by day telling us that this person has been cured of dyspepsia, that person of Bad Blood, and another of Headache, still another of Biliousness, and yet others of various complaints of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels or Blood, all through the intelligent use of Burdock Blood Bitters.

It is the voice of the people recognizing the fact that Burdock Blood Bitters cures all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, Bowels and Blood.

Mr. T. G. Ludlow, 334 Colborne Street, Brantford, Ont., says: During seven years prior to 1886, my wife was sick all the time with violent headaches. Her head was so hot that it felt like burning up. She was weak, run down, and so feeble that she could hardly do anything, and so nervous that the least noise startled her. Night or day she could not rest and life was a misery to her. I tried all kinds of medicines and treatment for her but she steadily grew worse until I bought six bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters from C. Stork & Son, of Brampton, Ont., for which I paid $5.00, and it was the best investment I ever made in my life. Mrs. Ludlow took four out of the six bottles—there was no need of the other two, for those four bottles made her a strong, healthy woman, and removed every ailment from which she had suffered, and she enjoyed the most vigorous health. That five dollars saved me lots of money in medicine and attendance thereafter, and better than that it made home a comfort to me.
