The Weekly Monitor.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 26TH, 1895.

—THE dominion parliament has decided to attempt no further legislation in the direction of prohibition until the question of the rights and powers of both our local and federal parliaments to deal with the matter is determined by the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council. The appeal which is to decide this question will be argued in a few weeks. Sir Oliver Mowat and J. J. MacLaren, Q.C., one of the leaders of the Ontario bar, are to conduct the case for the provinces, contending that the provincial legislatures have the power to prohibit, while Hon. Edward Blake and E. L. Newcomb, Deputy Minister of Justice, will represent the dominion side of the case, claiming in behalf of the dominion government that the federal parliament alone has this power of prohibiting the liquor traffic. It will thus be seen that each side is represented by the ablest counsel that could be obtained in the dominion. As a constitutional authority Sir Oliver Mowat is generally regarded as second to no man in Canada. During his long term of office as premier of Ontario he has had occasion to carry a good many cases to the Privy Council, and in most of them he has succeeded in maintaining the rights of the province for which he contended. Pitted against him in this case is Hon. Edward Blake, of whose great ability nothing need be said. The decision, which is now sought from the highest court in the empire for the trial of colonial cases, will settle for all time the question whether we shall look to our provincial or federal parliaments for a prohibitory liquor law.

When the government of Ontario authorized the plebiscite in that province it was with the understanding that no further legislation was to be passed dealing with the subject until a decision had been obtained from the Privy Council. The dominion parliament in deciding to follow Ontario's example is pursuing a course of which moderate men everywhere must approve. Indeed, in view of the present condition of things, Mr. Flint's resolution declaring it expedient to prohibit the manufacture, importation and sale of intoxicating liquors, would seem to have been moved more for the sake of the political effect such a resolution might have, rather than on account of any material benefit it would do the temperance cause.

—IT is now said that there is every prospect of remedial legislation being introduced into the dominion parliament this session. The French cabinet ministers, backed by their compatriots in both Houses, are reported to be insisting upon having the matter dealt with, and the question settled once for all, during the present session, and before the the general election. Ontario conservatives on the other hand would greatly prefer to see a commission of enquiry appointed and the matter by this means staved off till the elections are over. French conservatives declare that if nothing is done about the matter during the present session Hon. Mr. Laurier, leader of the opposition, may move a vote of censure upon the government at the close of the session, which would place the French supporters ot the government in such a position that they might as well resign at once and retire from the field, to save themselves from defeat. The position of affairs appears to be one of great anxiety among the members, particularly on the government side.

If any legislation upon the question is attempted this session it can safely be taken for granted that there will be another session before a dissolution.

—MANITOBA's wheat crop gives promise of being the most bountiful this season that it has ever been in the history of the province. All the conditions have thus far been most favorable, and with fine weather during the harvest season, the province will yield something like 25,000,000 bushels of the finest grade of wheat raised anywhere on earth. We wonder if our readers fully realize the magnitude of these figures. Say even 20,000,000 bushels at only fifty cents per bushel and it means $10,000,000 to the people of the prairie province, or $50 per head of the entire population. We in this province think it an unusually good year for fruit when the entire fruit crop of the province yields $500,000, or about $1.00 per head of our population. With such a magnificent crop as that growing "while they wait" it is little wonder that the politicians of Manitoba are experiencing some difficulty in getting the people to enthuse over the school question.

Supreme Court.

Wednesday morning, George Burrill was tried for an indecent assault on May Collins, found guilty, and sentenced to undergo two months imprisonment in the county gaol.

The grand jury indicted Parker for an attempt to procure an abortion on the girl, Grace Fagan, by soliciting Dr. Andrews to perform a criminal operation, but found no bill against either Parker or Dr. Miller for performing the operation itself.

The trial of Parker aroused a deep interest throughout the whole community. In this very court-house, two years before, the charge against Mrs. Cameron of administering poison to her husband had been investigated and found by the grand jury to be groundless; one year ago Rachael Jackson, a poor colored woman, had been indicted for poisoning a mother-in-law who had become burdensome, and likewise Rachael's trial had resulted in an acquittal by the petit jury; and now on Thursday last the spacious court house was closely packed with men from the most remote sections of the country, eager to watch closely the course of justice on the trial of a man charged with an attempt to perpetrate a crime as diabolical in its nature at least, as those charged against either Mrs. Cameron or Mrs. Jackson. The success of the case for the crown depended on the certainty with which Dr. Andrews could identify the prisoner as the man who came to his office last March to solicit medical aid for Grace Fagan. The only other evidence against him was the testimony of Miss Fagan, who swore to some admissions alleged by her to have been made by Parker in her presence concerning his visit to Dr. Andrews. Miss Fagan is nineteen years of age this month, of Scotch extraction, having been brought to this province about ten years ago, and has been knocking round from pillar to post ever since. Her cross-examination by the skillful senior counsel for the defence, Mr. Roscoe, elicited from her own lips a sketch of a most licentious and shameless career. Nature has endowed her with a pretty face, and when at times some more merciless question than the rest drove the red blood to her cheeks she looked the picture of injured innocence and indignation; but as she freely and easily told of her vile degradation and womanly dishonor one could scarcely feel the necessity of importing to our fair Nova Scotia such a class of people, bearing, as did this girl, the pestilential seeds, not of a deadly disease, but of the foulest immorality lurking in their depraved and dissolute natures.

The defence was an alibi but the weakness of the case for the crown contributed more to the verdict than the strength of the defence. The charge of the judge was very clear and full and decidedly against the prisoner; but after a deliberation of not more than fifteen or twenty minutes the jury brought in a verdict of "not guilty," and thus closed, in the early twilight of Thursday evening the June term of the Supreme Court, a session that will be remembered by some until memory shall have passed into oblivion.

Like the drama in fiction, this realistic scene ended in a halo of romance, when, the next morning after the trial closed, Miss Fagan and Stanley Vidito, one of the principal witnesses for the crown in the case against Miller, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony, by the Rev. R. S. Whidden, at the Revere House, in the presence of Miss Stirling and her counsel, J. J. Ritchie, Q. C. of Annapolis Royal. The happy couple left in the afternoon of the same day for the United States.

Dominion Day Celebration.

As the day approaches for celebrating the opening of the Bridgetown Driving Park, which occurs on Monday next, there is a growing interest manifesting itself among the turfmen from all parts of the county as well as abroad, and should the day prove an auspicious one for the occasion, there will be as large a number present as was ever witnessed on any previous important event, as advices received by the secretary, F. R. Fay, Esq., report that hundreds of people will take advantage of the special trains from Kentville and Yarmouth, not only to witness the sharp contest on the race-course, but also to take in the other attractions of the day.

We are not in a position as we go to press this morning to make an official announcement respecting the 2 35 and 3-minute classes, further than to make known that the following entries have already been made, and that others may possibly follow by today's mail.

2.35 CLASS.

Chestnut horse, "Prince Charley."
Black mare, "Gypsey Pilot."
Brown gelding, "Andrew."
Black mare, "Maud C."
Bay mare, "Belle Willett."
Bay horse, "Belmont Wilkes."

3-MINUTE CLASS.

Sorrel mare, "Grace Bertram."
Bay gelding, "Kingbird."
Brown gelding, "Pilot E."
Bay gelding, "Colonel."
Bay mare, "Bridgetown Belle."
Chestnut horse, "Robin Hood."
Bay gelding, "General."
Bay gelding, "General Sherman."

It will thus be seen, that outside of the bicyclist contests, an afternoon of much pleasure is in store for all who may attend the opening of the new and fastest track in the province.

The grand stand, having a capacity for seating one thousand persons, is finished, as is also the stand to be occupied by the judges, and by Friday night the stables, capable of accommodating some twelve horses, will be in readiness.

Quite a number of horses have been in training the past week, notable among the number being one belonging to Dr. Withers of Annapolis, another owned by Mr. T. A. Foster of this town, and a speedy one from Weymouth, the property of Dr. Annis. Added to these are two or more, owned by near residents, which will take part in the 3-minute race.

ST. JAMES' CHURCH TEA-MEETING.

The ladies connected with St. James Episcopal Church are making ample preparations to entertain a large number of visitors and other friends, and that they may have every facility for catering to all who may desire edibles and other refreshments during the day, will hold a mammoth tea-meeting on the beautiful grounds surrounding the church, where meals will be served from 10 o'clock a. m. till 6 p. m., together with ice cream, strawberries and cream, and other choice delicacies. There will also be a fruit and confection table running the entire length of the grounds on Granville street, where may be obtained cooling temperance beverages, while inside the grounds another table will contain a variety of useful and fancy articles.

The committee having the matter in hand have made extensive preparations for catering to all who may favor them with their patronage, and would respectfully request that friends from abroad will bear them in mind when desirous of satisfying the "inner man."

CALITHUMPIAN PROCESSION.

Probably one of the most interesting and grotesque features of the day will be the great Calithumpian procession which is to parade the streets during the forenoon. This part of the programme was left some days ago with the members of the Growler Social Club to look after, and that active work towards making the best show ever witnessed in this respect in this town is being perfected is beyond question.

THE 69TH BATT. BAND, under the leadership of Bandmaster Bishop, has been engaged to furnish music throughout the day, while many other attractions, which space will not admit us to announce in this issue, are being arranged.

POLICE PROTECTION.

Every precaution is being taken by the directors to avoid unbecoming conduct on the grounds, special police having been sworn in for that purpose, who, without any ceremony, will at once place under arrest any offenders of the peace, and to those gentlemen from abroad who intend violating the Scott Act on that day, Sheriff Morse, Inspector Irvine and Constable Chute extend a most cordial welcome.

Granville Creamery.

The new creamery at Granville Ferry has been running for the past week, and the outlook for its success looks brighter from day to day owing to the additional increase in milk.

The main building is 68x30 feet and has been thoroughly constructed. The workroom is 30x55 feet, cheese-curing room 16x30 feet, with a nice office, testing room, ice-house and cold storage. The floors of the work-room, ice-house and cold storage are paved and cemented, the walls and ceilings being handsomely sheathed.

The engine and boiler are of 8 and 10 horse power, and were purchased from the Robb Engineering Company of Amherst, while the vats, churn, cheese-presses and other plant were purchased from J. H. Pierce of Montreal. The separator is an Alexander No. 1.

John J. Clarke, of Tatamagouche, a gentleman who has taken a full course at the Sussex Dairy School and also at Nappan, has charge of the new enterprise, and is thoroughly qualified to fill the important position.

The directors are S. W. W. Pickup, W. H. Weatherspoon, E. H. Armstrong, M. D. Bent, Edward C. Mills and Stephen E. Thorne.

The building was erected and the machinery placed under the superintendence of Messrs. Weatherspoon and Armstrong, who have taken great pains to have it arranged to the best advantage, while the facilities for taking care of the milk in the hot weather cannot be surpassed, and meet the hearty approval of the wives and daughters of all progressive farmers in the vicinity.

Fire at Granville Ferry.

The Carribean store, owned by Capt. Joseph Hall and the Sons of Temperance, and occupied up to within some few days ago by Hall & Hatheway, dealers in general merchandise, was burned to the ground last night. The fire was discovered about 11.30 o'clock.

It was a continuous ovation."

—Wesleyan: The close of Rev. L. Daniel's second year on the Granville Ferry, N. S., circuit has been signalized by manifestations of God's saving power. —Dr. A. A. Any such contributions may be left at the residence of Mrs. John Lockett, on Saturday, or at the church grounds on Monday morning.

—Miss Landers, says the Sackville Post, was at Fredericton Normal School to examine the students in reading. Thence she went to her home in Margaretville, N. S. where, during the summer, an interesting event will take place in which she will be a principal. The College authorities are sorry to lose Miss Landers from their staff, and the people of Sackville will also regret her departure, but all will join the Post in wishing her great happiness in her new home. The College is in hopes of securing a Canadian lady with whom they are now in communication to take Miss Landers' place. It has been found at the Ladies College that as a general rule Canadians trained abroad give much better satisfaction than foreigners as teachers.

The enterprising proprietor of Bridgetown's livery stables, Mr. N. E. Chute, has within the past three weeks so materially changed his premises as to make them much more convenient than hitherto, and we may safely say that when completed he will have one of the best livery stables in the Valley. The changes made consist of an addition of a spacious shed for waggons, which also contains cleaning room, harness room, and private office. To the main structure there have been added two large box stalls and many other conveniences which will largely tend to the comfort of the horses and otherwise facilitate the business. With handsome matched pairs, fancy singles—in fact any kind of a turn-out that may be required—Mr. Chute should, and doubtless will, enjoy a large patronage during the season now upon us.

Good Butter, Large Eggs,

and all other Farm Products in good order.

I intend to visit the St. John market regularly and often. I have made there some valuable connections for the handling of the farmer's produce. I want to secure a vigorous demand for the first-class Butter, the reliable Eggs, and the best of the small fruit-products of this vicinity. I want my customers' assistance to accomplish this. The day of the prosperity of the small farmer, as well as all other small operations, seems to be nearly to an end. It is only by skillful and concerted action that it can be prolonged. Come and let us mature our plans for a vigorous fight for the life that our business is entitled to.

Forceful Words

CHAS. R. REID, the well-known Contractor and Builder of Yarmouth, N.S., says:

In the spring of 1894 I was completely run down—suffering from after effects of LaGrip—dizzy-headed, exceedingly weak and unfit for anything.

Lost appetite and flesh and my blood was in a very bad condition.

Commenced using FOSS BLOOD PURIFIER; took it regularly and carefully with astonishing results. My health hastily improved with the use of 3 bottles, but I continued the medicine until I had taken 6 bottles. FOSS did great work for me and I am pleased to testify to its wonderful virtue.

It gave me a great appetite, purified and enriched my blood, strengthened and built up my whole system. I weigh more to-day than ever before and enjoy perfect health.

I would highly recommend FOSS to all suffering from impaired health. It is a remarkable tonic and curative.
