GOT RICH MINES BY BIG COMBINE

Experts Tell of the Enormous Properties Taken Over by Steel Trust.

New York, Aug. 1.—That the ore and coal holdings acquired by the United States Steel Corporation in the absorption of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company in 1907 have a valuation of $200,000,000 was estimated from figures on the mineral holdings of the Tennessee company given today to the house of representatives committee on inquiry into the steel corporation by expert engineers.

In acquiring the Tennessee Company the United States Steel Corporation exchanged 5 per cent second bonds valued at $29,000,000, the transaction having been brought about to prevent the collapse of the New York brokerage firm of Moore & Schley because of excessive loans with Tennessee Coal and Iron stock as collateral.

Seeks to Show Real Motive.

Since the beginning of the inquiry into the deal, Representative Stanley and other members of the house committee, have sought to develop evidence tending to prove charges that the impending panic and danger to Moore & Schley was not the prime motive for the merger, but that it was a desire on the part of the steel corporation to acquire the Tennessee company and the vast mineral deposits of the Birmingham district. In furtherance of that idea, notwithstanding the determined declarations of witness after witness who participated in the exchange that the suggestion of conspiracy was preposterous, the committee heard today the testimony of C. P. Perrin, Walter Moore and W. M. Given, expert engineers who appraised the deposits of the Birmingham field in 1904.

These men declared that the ore deposits of that region, and their proximity to coal deposits estimated at nearly 2,000,000 tons, make that territory almost unparalleled from an ore producing standpoint. Ore royalties of 35 cents a ton on more than 400,000,000 tons in that region acquired by the steel corporation from the Tennessee company and coal deposits aggregating more than 1,600,000,000 tons were given by the experts as a basis upon which members of the committee compute that these properties alone are worth $200,000,000.

Can Be Worked Cheaply.

Much of the testimony was technical, and but three members of the committee, Chairman Stanley and Representatives Young, of Michigan, and Danforth, of New York, were present.

In corroborating a statement made by Engineer Perin, W. M. Given, of Birmingham, pictured the Birmingham ore field as of incalculable value taking into consideration all undeveloped resources. Of the available ore in all the region the estimated holdings of the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company were given as from 50 to 70 per cent.

The experts agreed that pig iron could be produced there $4 a ton cheaper than in the Pittsburg district and $3 a ton less than any place in the world.

Tomorrow Grant B. Schley, of Moore & Schley, is expected to testify. J. H. Topping, another member of the Tennessee Coal and Iron syndicate, also has been subpoenaed.

ABBATEMAGGIO SCARED

Self Preservation Caused Him to Expose the Camorrists.

Viterbo, Italy, Aug 2 — Marshal Capizzuti, of the carabineers of Naples who obtained the confession of Gennaro Abbatemaggio, was interrogated today at the trial of the Camorrists for the murder of Gennaro Cuoccolo and his wife. Capizzuti and Marshal Farris were the right-hand men of Captain Fabroni, who conducted the detective work in building up the case against the Camorrists.

Capizzuti is a large, powerful man. His testimony did not produce the effect that had been expected by the court for President Bianchi did not permit him to give his own description of the Camorra which the witness evidently had prepared. The president said that by this time the judges and jury had had enough of such descriptions.

Accordingly Capizzuti confined himself to particulars of the Cuoccolo crime, and of his association with Abbatemaggio. He said that he had known the informer as a criminal in the past, and believed that he had been implicated in the murders, this suspicion being made stronger by the fact that he suddenly disappeared. Later he found Abbatemaggio in prison. He cited the familiar story of Abbatemaggio's revelations. Capizzuti expressed the opinion that the informer was moved to confess not because of a change of heart, but by an impulse of self-preservation.

STEALING A RIDE.

Montreal, Que., Aug. 2.—A'Deseau Viau, a 10-year-old boy residing with his parents at 420 De Gaspe street, had both arms broken and received severe injuries to his head while stealing a ride on a train in the C. P. R. Mile End yards at 7:30 last night. Young Viau, with several companions, was indulging in his favorite pastime when he was thrown from a car, receiving his injuries in the fall. He will recover.

Some Figures About the Others—None Built Upon Fireproof Plans.

Toronto, Aug. 1.—The Hamilton Asylum for the Insane was completed and first occupied in 1877, being originally intended as an inebriate asylum. It was from the beginning, however, adapted to general purposes of an insanity hospital and asylum. The main building is a large red brick structure, with a corridor running through the centre, dividing the building into two wings, one used for men, the other for women. An addition has been built to the men's wing since 1877—practically a separate "cottage." A number of such cottages have been subsequently erected on the grounds, on the principle adopted at Mimico.

The Hamilton asylum is the largest in the Province, having an insane population of 1,231 in June of this year. The attendants in direct attendance upon the insane are calculated at the ratio of one to eleven. In the United States one to seven or eight is the rule. Hamilton has 175 employees altogether, including farmers and gardeners for the large grounds cultivated, and mechanics. The medical staff includes three doctors, an assistant superintendent, and superintendent, Dr. Walter Murray English. Dr. James Russell, one of the acknowledged leading scholars and mental allenists of America, was the first superintendent, retiring after 25 years, when Dr. English came from London to take charge.

The Government of Ontario carries all insurance upon public buildings belonging to the Province, except in the case of the Central Prison.

Ten Asylums.

There are ten insanity asylums in Ontario, the oldest being that of this city, on Queen street, which was established in 1842.

Following is the complete list, showing date of establishment and insane population:

| | Year. | Insane Pop. |
|---|---|---|
| Hamilton | 1877 | 1,231 |
| London | 1871 | 1,077 |
| Toronto | 1842 | 881 |
| Mimico | 1890 | 620 |
| Kingston | 1876 | 567 |
| Brockville | 1895 | 693 |
| Cobourg | 1902 | 155 |
| Penetang | 1904 | 368 |
| Orillia | 1861 | 813 |
| Woodstock | 1905 | 183 |

Hamilton asylum was equipped with a fire sprinkler system, chemical tanks for incipient fires, and maintained a fire brigade with a steam fire engine. The engineer of the lighting and heating plant had charge, the assistant engineer was first officer, the carpenter, the electrician, and the chief guard in each ward constituted the other officers. No patients were included in the fire brigade, nor were patients included in the regular fire drill at irregular intervals, which has been the established custom for some time at the asylum. None of the Provincial asylums are built upon the fireproof plan of construction, most of them being erected before steel buildings became common. Kingston asylum, being of stone, is an exception to the red brick buildings which have become the type of Ontario's lunatic asylums, as is the insane hospital at Penetang, once a reformatory.

The interior of the Hamilton building was arranged, for the most part, in small rooms, the staff offices occupying the front of the ground floor. The top floor was reserved for bedrooms for the attendants.

A few wards were maintained for senile cases, though as a general rule insane patients cannot be put together into large dormitories.

The sexes in the Provincial asylums run about even, there being 603 men and 628 women at the Hamilton asylum at the time of the fire. The men's wing was to the left of the corridor as one entered the main door. Being set close to the edge of Hamilton Mountain, the elevation gives a more than ordinary draft of air, which no doubt added to the difficulty of fighting the fire.

A serious fire has never occurred there before, however, although several incipient fires have been overcome by other preventive apparatus in use.

Hamilton's First Aviation Meet Ends In Litigation.

[Canadian Press.]

Hamilton, Aug. 2.—Hamilton's first aviation meeting wound up in litigation. Leteltus Malcomson, a billposter, and some other creditors who had not been paid for their work, placed the matter in the hands of a lawyer and last night the box office receipts were attached. A bailiff was sent down and took charge of the flying-machines of McCurdy and Willard. An effort is being made to make them co-defendants in the litigation on the grounds that they are flying here for a percentage of the receipts. It is expected that the trouble will be straightened out today. The machines which are being held here are required for the opening of the Toronto meeting tomorrow.
