—John Woolway has resigned from the police force owing to ill-health.

—Ald. and Mrs. Skinner are visiting their daughter, Mrs. Miner, in Buffalo.

—Fred Wood, who has been visiting friends in London, has returned home.—[St. Catharines Standard.

—Rev. A. A. Durkin, O. P., St. Dominic's Church, Washington, D. C., is in the city visiting his parents and friends.

—Miss Walsh, Toronto, Miss McCleary, Chicago, and Miss Laura Springer, Detroit, are visiting Mrs. A. G. McVenn, Mill street.

—T. Williams, of London, assistant superintendent of the C. P. R., gave us a call on Monday. He was here in connection with the gravel question and other matters.—[Tilbury Times.

—Anthony Mansell, under arrest on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Harry Platt, has been granted bail on an order by Justice Street, provided he can give his own recognizances for $1,000 and find two sureties in $500 each.

—J. A. McFadden, jun., was in London Thursday night attending a Masonic gathering, and early next morning was taken suddenly ill. The doctor was summoned, and later on he was sufficiently recovered to come home, but will be confined to the house for a few days with an attack of inflammation.—[Stratford Beacon.

—Miss Nellie Cavenaugh, of Ingersoll, is visiting Miss Tatham, of this city.

—A number of young lads left yesterday to spend a short time in the Y. M. C. A. camp at Port Stanley.

—Mr. Guy Magee, of Chicago, formerly of this city, is visiting London relatives, accompanied by Mrs. Magee.

—Frank W. Simmons, of the American Express Company, New York, formerly of this city, is here on a short visit.

—Mr. R. A. Renwick, of the Hamilton Herald, late of the ADVERTISER, paid the city a brief visit Sunday. He is doing well in the Ambitious City.

John Egget appeared before the police magistrate yesterday on suspended sentence, charged with breaking a market by-law. The charge was withdrawn.

—The annual sports and picnic of the London Hunt will be held at the Kennels on Thursday afternoon. It is always one of the most enjoyable affairs of the season.

—The City Record, official journal of New York, contains notice of the appointment of John Frederick Cryer, formerly of this city, as a commissioner of deeds in and for the city and county of New York.

—Rev. M. P. Talling, of St. James' Presbyterian Church, left yesterday for his vacation trip. He goes to Buffalo, and down the Hudson, thence to Boston, St. John, N. B., and other eastern points of interest.

—Amanda Wilson, an old woman considerably demented, who has spent about 34 years of her checkered career in jail was sentenced to a year in Mercer reformatory, Toronto, at the Police Court yesterday. Vagrancy was the charge.

—Nicholas Hendricks, the fierce Indian from Moriaviantown, came up again at the Police Court yesterday on a charge of vagrancy, and was further remanded until Thursday. He will likely get a chance to return to his mother and brother.

—Geo. Slade was before the police magistrate yesterday charged with allowing his cow to run at large on the street. His children, wishing to play, tied the cow to a post, but on the appearance of Policeman Macdonald they quickly removed her. Judgment was suspended.

—Charles Lawerence, a well-known resident of this city, died Saturday at the family residence, 414 Pall Mall street, after eleven weeks' illness. The body will be interred at Dutton to-day, and the funeral will be attended by the Oddfellows, of which order deceased was an esteemed member.

—A yachting party of four leave Owen Sound on Saturday next for a cruise to Parry Sound and other points on Georgian Bay. The skipper of the yacht will be Mr. F. W. Merchant, M.A., principal of the London Collegiate Institute, and the other sailors will be Messrs. S. J. Radcliffe, J. Russell Stuart and A. Hugh Hipple, of this city.—[Stratford Herald.

—Mrs. Barbara Teetzel, wife of James J. Teetzel, of Detroit, died on Saturday at the residence of her sister, Miss McLardy, St. Thomas, in her 38th year. She had been ill about a year, and came to St. Thomas a few months ago. The immediate cause of her death was congestion of the brain. She was a daughter of the late Archibald McLardy, Southwold. She leaves no children. Three sisters survive her—Misses Maggie and Mamie McLardy, of St. Thomas, and Mrs. C. F. Adams, of this city.

—James Guymer was at the Police Court yesterday charged with violating section 3 of market bylaw 576. He sells fruits on the market and has extensions built under the wagon, but, as he says, not extending beyond the hubs of the wheels. Market Clerk Wilson disagreed, alleging that they were two inches beyond the ends of the hubs, a foot beyond the back of the wagon, and that there is a canopy on the top to keep the sun off fully ten feet wide. The case was enlarged until July 17, when the exact measurements of the extensions will be produced.

—Among the guests at the Hotel Cadillac is George E. Walker, recently of London, Ont., who is now a resident of Detroit, with headquarters in the Hammond building. He is associated with his father in the Essex Moulding Sand Company, whose property is at Harrow, Essex county. Mr. Walker is a very pleasant and capable young man, and already likes the people and and city in which he has located. C. W. Davis, of London, Ont., owner and proprietor of the Tecumseh House in that city, was at the Hotel Cadillac yesterday. Mr. Davis is a young man, but has the reputation of being one of the best hotel men in the Dominion.—[Detroit Free Press.

How to Keep Cool.

Everybody agrees that the best thing to do this hot weather is to keep cool. Well, this is the East Indian barracks plan: Pull down all the blinds to keep the sun out. Stretch wet cloths over the windows. Sprinkle the floor; no, have it sprinkled by somebody else. Have a row of big swinging fans in all the rooms, hitched together, so that one negro boy can work them all by pulling a string. If he goes to sleep, shoot him and ring for another. Wear no clothing except an undershirt and a pair of cotton drawers; have the boy sprinkle these all over every five minutes. Drink vast quantities of cool, not ice-cold, lemonade. Swear feebly at intervals at the boy and the climate.

Was the Marriage Ceremony Performed?

The George Hughes bigamy case was brought up for the police magistrate's consideration on Monday again. The only witness examined was Mrs. Gomersall, the mother of the defendant. She said she had been widowed three times, and that prisoner was a son by her first husband, Robert Caines. She knew her son's first wife, Mary J. Johnston, but was not present at the wedding ceremony, although they told her they had been married. This was about twenty years ago, and they lived together as man and wife for some time, two children being born as a result of the union: The second child lived and was at present at the Police Court. He afterwards lived with another woman named Isabella Macdonald, and they resided with witness in Michigan. The three came to London about fifteen years ago. Prisoner subsequently bought a tavern near Collingwood and the girl also left. They soon came back and said they had been married. They lived together up to the present and have had five children. The magistrate, after hearing this story, allowed bail, the defendant furnishing $1,000 of his own security, and two sureties of of $500 each from friends, Wm. Gould and John McGregor.

Bound To Tell It.

And this is the way it begins in the interest of other sufferers: 2026 Vine street, Philadelphia, Pa., U. S. A., Jan. 22, 1890. "Unsolicited allow me to add my testimonial to your grand and glorious remedy, St. Jacobs Oil. A short time ago my left ankle and foot began to swell and become nearly twice their natural size. The swelling was accompanied by pains almost unbearable, extending to the hip. Sleep was impossible. I finally used St. Jacobs Oil. I found relief from the first application, and a permanent cure after using half a bottle. I would not again be without it if it cost $5 a bottle. J. E. SILL." Such a remedy is beyond price.

WHY NOT?

You have corns, warts, bunions, moles or cancers. Why are they not cured? You ask a reasonable question. It demands a candid answer. You have it here: You bought a corn cure. You thought you had Barkwell's, but it was not the genuine; you got a counterfeit. It was no more use than water. We missed the sale of what you wanted. So far, it is your money gone; our money goes too. You get another and think it is the genuine. You have made a mistake, and we are in disgrace. More of your money's gone; more of our money is gone. Your corns are no better; our reputation no better. You make up your mind they cannot be cured. We have lost a customer. You have got hold of the wrong end of the fact. You have got hold of the wrong bottle. Both our moneys are gone. Not only our moneys are gone, but our opinions of one another are wrong. We don't know you by sight or name. You don't know us. We think "how dull you are to get an imitation when you might as well get Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure." And you think "what fools the manufacturers of that corn cure are to cheat so." Let's get acquainted with one another. Let's get acquainted with Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure. The manufacturer is not the unhandsome name you call him by. And you can't help it. Come on. Nobody deals more handsomely. Nobody ever loses a cent by getting Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure, but they always lose a corn. We never have any trouble except from these infernal counterfeiters. Neither do you with Barkwell's Sure Corn Cure. ywt

ONE METHOD OF STREET CLEANING

Thus far women's efforts in street cleaning have taken two distinct forms: the rational method by which union is strength, and the fashionable plan in which reliance is placed upon individual achievement. The latter is such a freak in its way that it merits detailed description: The unfortunate woman who voluntarily assumes the duties of street cleaner is swathed in a trailing robe of any costly or delicate fabric suitable for collecting dirt and filth from the sidewalks in a less ostentatious manner than by means of the Cincinnati brooms and rakes. White or light colored dresses trimmed with lace are preferred for this purpose, the lace being particularly serviceable in catching up small sticks, waste paper and other rubbish, while the grimy lower hem forms a striking contrast to the cleanly attire above it. Soft, pretty wool goods are also highly recommended as, being unwashable, the grimy effect so much sought after is permanently secured. Ladies adopting the profession of street-cleaning are earnestly requested to sweep off the main streets with their best dresses every day. A new broom sweeps clean, and the same is true of a new gown. Besides, as our most populous streets are those in which dust and refuse, cigar stubs, expectorations and other foulness most quickly accumulate it is only proper that they should be frequently cleaned. The only question is, how shall this be done? We ourselves prefer the Cincinnati method as being less expensive, more thorough, and decidedly more ladylike.—[From "Two Methods of Street Cleaning," in Wives and Daughters for July.

You Take No Risk

In buying Hood's Sarsaparilla, for it is everywhere recognized as the standard building-up medicine and purifier. It has won its way to the front by its own intrinsic merit, and has the largest sale of any preparation of its kind. Any honest druggist will confirm this statement. If you decide to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, do not be induced to buy anything else instead. Be sure to get Hood's. d

Job once said the ostrich was the most foolish of all animals. The man who takes a pug dog out for its morning walk was not allowed to exist in Job's time.

Worms cause feverishness, moaning and restlessness during sleep. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator is pleasant, sure and effectual. If your druggist has none in stock, get him to procure it for you.

"By their fruits shall ye know them." This is an indisputable truism; its applicability has a wide range. The 10 cent Norma cigar is the product of the H. McKay & Co.'s cigar factory. They speak volumes for that establishment in a particular line of business. In these delicious cigars nothing but the finest of material is used, and to a connoisseur are indispensable.
