Thousands of Dollars

Mr. S. G. Derry.

I spent trying to find a cure for Salt Rheum, which I had 13 years. Physicians said they never saw so severe a case. My legs, back and arms were covered by the humor. I was unable to lie down in bed, could not walk without crutches, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged twice a day. I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and soon I could see a change. The flesh became more healthy, the sores soon healed, the scales fell off, I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking for seven months; and since that time, 2 years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well." S. G. DERRY, 45 Bradford St., Providence, R. I.

HO, FOR GUELPH!

The Alerts, who will play the Maple Leafs in Guelph on Monday (which is civic holiday in the Royal City), have arranged with the G. T. R. for a special rate of $1. Besides the baseball match there is to be a bicycle meet in the afternoon, and a large contingent from London will be in attendance.

BANGED THE UMPIRE.

Umpire Sheridan was attacked and knocked down by a mob of about 50 irate spectators at the close of the game between the home team and the Grand Rapids at Milwaukee on Sunday. The police had their hands full to prevent his being even more roughly handled. The trouble was over a decision in the last inning, when Sheridan is charged with having pronounced a hit by Wright as fair, when it was at least three feet foul. The contest was a hot one, but Grand Rapids won in the ninth inning by a score of 12 to 9. Milwaukee led until the fifth inning, when the visitors scored five runs. There was a tie again in the eighth, but Sheridan's decision settled matters in the ninth.

A VICTORY AND A CHALLENGE.

The London Tool Company's ball nine, who claim to be the champion shop team of the city, on Monday night again defeated the D. S. Perrin nine by the score of 10 to 7, with an inning to spare. Any shop nine disputing their claim can send a challenge to E. Lee, London Machine Tool Company.

CRICKET.

GOOD PLAYING AT HAMILTON.

HAMILTON, July 31.—The Philadelphians concluded their two days' match with the Hamiltonians this evening. At 6 o'clock time was called, and the home eleven, with the loss of 9 wickets, had put together a splendid score of 278. It was a genuine surprise to the Quaker men, on account of the easy manner in which they put Hamilton out in their first venture. The feature of today's play was the really fine cricket put up by the home team and the splendid stands made by F. Martin and Dixon. The former batsmen made 83, which consisted of 11 fours and 4 threes, 6 twos and 15 singles. Dixon contributed 47 in grand style, which consisted of 3 fours, 2 threes, 8 twos and 13 singles. The total for Hamilton's second inning, with one wicket to fall, was 278. Their first inning netted 111 runs, a total in two innings of 389. The Phillies scored 233 in their first inning. The match was declared a draw. This match ends the Philadelphian's Canadian tour. They return home at once. Following is the score:

BUCHANAN'S BROTHER

Given Ten Seconds to Prepare for Death.

Sensational Sequel to the Alleged Assault on Maggie Patterson at Sandwich.

WINDSOR, July 31.—A bold attempt at assassination was made in Sandwich West last night, evidently through the feeling which has been worked up on account of the criminal assault alleged to have been committed upon Maggie Patterson by Isaac Buchanan, who is now in the Sandwich jail.

Last night Richard Buchanan, a brother to the prisoner, went to the house, as the wife had sent him word that she was afraid to remain alone. Shortly after midnight he was aroused by hearing a noise in his room, and called out to know who was there.

"Are you one of the Buchanans?" was the reply in a voice he did not recognize, and when he answered that he was he was informed that he would have just ten seconds to prepare for death.

"I am an innocent man," said Mr. Buchanan, "and why should I be made to answer for the sins of my brother?"

"You belong to the same tribe," said the stranger, "and as I cannot get at your brother just now I have resolved to get the blood of some one in the family, and I guess yours will do. The ten seconds are up and now you die."

Before Mr. Buchanan could reply or make a move of any kind, he saw the flash and heard the report of a revolver.

Another and still another followed before Buchanan was able to get out of bed, but it was dark and the stranger's aim consequently inaccurate, and he escaped injury. Before the fourth shot Buchanan was grappling with the man, and the two had a desperate fight in the room. Finally Buchanan got away and secured a shotgun in the next room. When he returned the man was jumping out of the window, but as the gun was not loaded he got away.

This morning Chief Constable Masters claimed to have learned that a plan had been made to assassinate the whole family. From the investigation made by the constable it appears that several men in that vicinity have organized for the purpose. He has been appealed to for protection and will try to arrange to have a constable stay at the house till the excitement subsides.

Dr. Samson, of Windsor, was sent out to see Miss Patterson last night by Magistrate Bartlet, and he claims the story of the girl and her friends is correct in every particular.

THE S. A. NAVY.

Dedication of a Small Yacht at Toronto for Salvation Work.

TORONTO, Ont., July 31.—A small steam yacht named the Blanchina was tonight at the foot of Bay street dedicated to work on behalf of the Salvation Army on the great lakes. The boat was purchased for $2,000 by two friends of the army in the city.

The army has other vessels of this kind in Norway, Newfoundland and Australia, and in all seven of them, and they have been found to be a great help to the army work, furnishing cheap transportation for the opening of new stations.

CATHOLIC LOYALTY TO THE STATE

Bishop Doane says of Catholics that "neither individual character, individual utterance nor individual actions are the test." Why not, pray, when in his view of his own citizenship he concedes the utmost weight to individual conscience, action, utterance? This is Bishop Doane's method of brushing aside such instances of Catholic good citizenship as Chief Justice Taney and Gen Sheridan. Mr. Traynor's method is to assume that, though Catholics, such citizens are not "good Catholics," which is not proof, but only false assertion again. Probably they would dispose, on the same plan, of Lord Russell of Killowen, the present Catholic Chief Justice of England; of the English Catholic Marquis of Ripon, formerly Viceroy of India and now Secretary of State for the Colonies; and of Justice White, an American Catholic recently appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States. But such an assertion attacks the good faith and loyalty of the governments and nations themselves. The eminent men referred to are good and practical Catholics. If, then, Catholic religion and character are disloyal to the State, have the realm of Great Britain and the President and Senate of the United States acted treasonably in giving them public office of the highest trust? According to Bishop Doane's and the A. P. A.'s theory that Catholicity involves disloyalty, must not the French Government be denounced as traitorous toward France for honoring their dead president, Carnot, with Catholic services, and asking other nations to do the same? But this would be preposterous, and so is the theory.—["Catholic Loyalty," by George Parsons Lathrop, in North American Review for August.

The Governor-General at Halifax.

S., July 31.—Lord Aberdeen, Governor-General of Canada, accompanied by Lady Aberdeen, the Dowager Duchess of Tweedmouth, family and party, arrived here at 7:30 tonight, their car being attached to the I. One Boy Kills Another.

TRENTON, N. J., July 31.—William Noon, 11 years old, was shot and killed yesterday by Matthew Pursell, aged 14, who lived next door. Noon was playing in the street when Pursell, without seeing him, pointed his father's gun out of the window and fired. Several grains of shot entered Noon's body, and he died instantly. Pursell has been placed under arrest. He says he did not know the gun was loaded, and had no intention of discharging it.

"Cholly has a very thoughtful expression on his face," said one girl. "Cholly's becoming deceitful," replied the other.

MARRIED HER COACHMAN.

Wealthy Miss Cornelius Makes a Long Island Sensation, But It Was Foreseen by the Oldest Inhabitant.

[From the New York Advertiser.]

When a lady loves her coachman she elopes with him usually, and it is possible that Miss Mary Cornelius, of Freeport, L. I., would have followed the rule.

But it wasn't necessary. Being fair and 40, with an extra year thrown in for good measure, and consequently being her own mistress, Miss Cornelius quietly married John Mackay, who heretofore has been her carriage driver.

The bride is wealthy and comes of a good family of Long Island. Her father was the late Carmen Cornelius, a well-known Queens county Democrat, who at the time of his death, about a year ago, held the position of deputy county treasurer. He left his daughter Mary a snug fortune, and she and her brother Albert lived in the old family homestead, of which she was the mistress. Albert was also a prominent Democrat, and was for ten years assistant district attorney of Queens. He was a bachelor, and when he died last month and left his sister considerable money, it was thought she would leave the modest homestead and live in New York or Brooklyn. But she did nothing of the kind.

John Mackey had been for a number of years overseer of the farm, family coachman and general factotum, and was looked upon almost as a member of the household. He is 31 years of age, good looking, and as a coachman he and Miss Cornelius were naturally thrown much together. It was observed that in handing her from her carriage or into it he did his duty very gracefully, also that Miss Cornelius allowed her eyes to rest longer than was absolutely necessary upon him, and a smile of contentment would play around her shapely mouth.

"It will be a match some day," remarked James Ringler, one of the village's old landmarks, "depend upon it. Miss Mary will be Mrs. Mackey before long."

"Pshaw! Why do you think so?" inquired the person addressed with eager curiosity, the more especially as Mr. Ringler was considered something of an oracle and a bit of a prophet.

"Why, where are your eyes? Don't you see how carefully he is wrapping her up and how long he lingers with that rug, also how her face lights up with pleasure? See, she calls him back to adjust the comforter round her neck when she could do it herself in the twinkling of an eye. Oh, Jim Ringler doesn't keep his eyes open for nothing in Hempstead, you bet."

This conversation took place in front of the Hempstead postoffice last Christmas, and a minute or two later John Mackey was whipping up his horses and the sleigh was moving smoothly and briskly over the snow. When Albert Cornelius died and Miss Mary still continued to live in the homestead with John Mackey as her faithful attendant, James Ringler began to wink knowingly, as if expecting something to happen. Last week, early one morning, John Mackey and Miss Cornelius took the train to Roslyn, a distance of about ten miles, and did not return until rather late in the evening. When entering the gateway John held it open, and the lady passed on, but it was noticed that as they went along the shrubery to the house he offered his arm, and she accepted it as a matter of course.

Next day the rumor flew around Hempstead and Freeport about a marriage, and little else has been talked of since. At first the rich relatives of Miss Cornelius scoffed at the idea and waxed indignant, but as neither of the high contracting parties denied the soft impeachment when questioned, the marriage is looked upon as an accomplished fact.

"Well," said one relative, sighing, "it is better than an elopement, anyway."

New Coal Route.

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 31.—It is stated that a railway line is to be built this summer between Batavia, N. Y., and Oak Orchard, N. Y., to connect by means of steamers with the Grand Trunk Railway at Port Hope. Oak Orchard is directly opposite to Port Hope, on Lake Ontario, and the new line is said to be for the purpose of transporting coal from the Pennsylvania mines into Canada.
