RECORDS IN RACES.

A Strange Feature of the Past Season Was That There Were Few Time-Cup Records Made.

Records made in trials against time did not cut very much of a figure on the turf this year. In fact, nearly all of the sensational performances of the past season were made in actual races with other horses. Nancy Hanks, 2.04; Stamboul, 2.07½, and Belle Vara, 2.08 3-4, were trained the entire season for trials against the watch without ever starting in a race and yet failed to equal their records. Arion cut his to 2.07 3-4, and Nelson's mile, in 2.09, beat this previous record one second, but with these exceptions the fastest trotting records of 1893 were made in races. Directum's third heat in 2.05 1-4 beats his best time record by several seconds; Alix, 2.07 3-4; Pixley, 2.08¼; Hulda, 2.08¼; Fantasy, 2.08 3-4; Harrietta, 2.09 3-4; Magnolia, 2.10; Little Albert, 2.10; Lord Clinton, 2.10, and Walter E. 2.10, all made their best records in races the past season. Princess Clara, 2.26½, the fastest yearling trotter of 1893, and Nelly A., the fastest 2-year-old, also made their records in contests with other horses.

Eleven of the 23 trotters that have gone a mile in 2.10 or better made their fastest mark in a race. Among the pacers 23 of the 33 in the 5.10 list went their fastest mile in a race. Only Flying Jib 2.04, Manager 2.06¾, and Hal Dillard 2.07¾, of the 23 pacers that went in 2.10 or better in 1893, went faster in trial against time than in a contested race.

The race records for both trotters and pacers are now as follows:

Racing Stopped in Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 4.—Saturday was to have been the second day of the Philadelphia Hunt Club's first annual meeting at the Point Breeze track. The sport was, however, stopped by Mayor Stuart. The official warned the lessees of Point Breeze Park that he would raid the track and arrest the responsible officials if they persisted in permitting bookmaking and pool selling in violation of the law. This is quite a sad blow to the Gloucester contingent, who were the chief patrons of the first day. It of course precludes all chances of an extended winter meeting at this track.

Limits to Racing in Belgium.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 4.—The Belgian Jockey Club is about to hold a meeting to enquire into charges of collusion between jockeys and bookmakers. The Minister of Justice will prepare a law forbidding betting agencies in the towns, but allowing betting on specified courses. The measure will also fix the racing days. At the races at which betting is allowed all wagers will have to be made within inclosures, to which high rates of admission will be charged.

Fudger Hockey Club.

The employes of H. H. Fudger and the Goldsmith Stock Co., have organized a hockey club for the coming season. The following officers have been elected: President, H. H. Fudger; vice-president, W. J. Barr; secretary-treasurer, R. C. Steward; committee—W. T. Salter, J. Anderson. The secretary would like to hear from any club wishing to play a friendly game.

COMBINED BUILDING SALE AND ANNUAL SALE OF OVERSHOES AND RUBBERS.

The Rubber House of the City—Prices Nominal—The Most Opportune and Greatest Sale of the Day.

It has long been a well-established fact that we do the rubber trade of the city. Each year our annual sale of rubbers and overshoes has been anxiously expected, and each year it has been an ever-increasing surprise to the people. This season we propose to surpass ourselves. If the best goods and the lowest prices can do it we mean to furnish every man, woman and child in Toronto with a pair of rubbers or overshoes. A few weeks ago we had not a pair of rubbers in stock—today we do not know where to store them, so the public can feel certain that there is no old stock. There are no last year's rubbers among the thousands of cases now on our premises, and as we do not buy seconds, thirds or damaged rubbers we can offer only first quality.

Unfortunately for us, when we placed our order for rubbers and overshoes, we were confident that we would by this time have at our disposal at least five times our present space. As a consequence we have now on hand five times too many rubbers and overshoes. This is your opportunity. We must clear these goods off, and to do so have determined to make this combined annual and building sale something to be remembered. We must succeed, and why not? We have rubbers and overshoes unsurpassed in quality, unlimited in quantity and we will sell them at prices merely nominal. Judge from this partial list what we propose doing:

Ladies' Opera Croquet Rubbers	20c.

" "Featherweight" Croquet Rubbers	35c.
Ladies' "Fairy" Instep strap Rubbers	35c.

CITY SOLICITOR BIGGAR

TENDERS HIS RESIGNATION, BUT IT IS NOT ACCEPTED.

The Council Refer the Matter to the Executive After a Lively Debate, in Which Many of the Aldermen Urge That Mr. Biggar Be Retained by the City.

Mr. C. R. W. Biggar has resigned the position of City Solicitor.

Yesterday afternoon Mayor Fleming received the following letter:

Dec. 4, 1893.

DEAR MR. MAYOR;

I find myself again suffering from overwork and must absolutely take an interval of rest. I have therefore decided to give up the Solicitorship at once. Will you please receive my resignation and communicate it to the Council tonight.

I regret the necessity for this step, but the continual strain of public business here is too severe, and I must either give up or break down; so I give up. I trust my resignation will not affect any other member of the Department. I do not think the city could have better or more faithful service than they are giving and I am glad to feel that the business of the office will be left in a satisfactory shape.

Your obedient servant,
C. R. W. BIGGAR.

Mr. Biggar has been in poor health for some time past. A few months ago he was given leave of absence and took a trip to Europe. The jaunt was not as beneficial as was expected, and he now feels that his condition is such that he must take a needed rest.

It is likely Mr. Biggar will visit Florida for a few weeks in company with his brother, who is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Mr. Biggar succeeded Mr. McWilliams in 1890, during the Clarke regime. The salary is $5000 a year.

Discussed in Council.

At the council meeting last evening Ald. Lamb moved that the resignation of Mr. Biggar be accepted. The mover, as did a number of the aldermen, spoke in glowing terms of Mr. Biggar's abilities.

The Mayor thought the resignation of Mr. Biggar should be accepted. He was certain that when Mr. Biggar sent in his resignation he meant it.

Ald. Leslie said it was a well-known fact that certain members of the council had a strong antipathy to Mr. Biggar. This unseemly haste to accept the resignation was a slur on an old and tried official.

Ald. Lynd maintained it would not be fair to Mr. Biggar, nor to the citizens of Toronto, to keep him in office when it was injuring his health.

Ald. Bailey was of the opinion that there was a movement on foot to bounce Mr. Biggar. It would be a big mistake for the city to lose the services of Mr. Biggar at the present time. His knowledge of the Court House muddle will be of great value to the city.

Ald. Hewitt was another who objected to Mr. Biggar leaving the city's service at the present time. If Mr. Biggar insists on resigning he should be given a retainer by the city.

Ald. Bailey had heard that there was a movement on foot to bounce Mr. Biggar and that he resigned in order to prevent this. He then moved that the question be left to the Executive Committee. Ald. McMurrich agreed with Ald. Bailey.

The Mayor said that Mr. Biggar had told him that he did not wish to continue the responsibility of the position. He was satisfied that Mr. Biggar wanted the council to accept the resignation. It would be much kinder for the council to accept the resignation without discussion. This would prevent some hard things being said, which might hurt Mr. Biggar's feelings. As far as the most important law suits were concerned, other counsel had been retained who were looking after the city's interest.

Ald. J. E. Verral was afraid the Mayor had a nominee for the position up his sleeve.

Ald. Bailey's motion to refer to the Executive carried on this vote:

Yeas—Ald. Bailey, Bell, Crawford, Hewitt, Leslie, Murray, Saunders, Small, Stewart, George Verral, McMurrich—11.

Nays—The Mayor, Ald. Burns, Carlyle, Hallam, Hill, Jolliffe, Lynd, Maloney, J. E. Verral, Lamb—10.

Yachting Likely To Be Stagnant.

NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—A special cablegram to The Sun says: "The prospects of next season's yacht-racing are not bright. It has become the custom of the owners to delay giving orders for new craft as long as possible, in order to see what others are doing and which class will afford the best prospects of success. Up to the present time no order for a first-class racer has been placed, and very few for the smaller classes. It was hoped that by next season the German Emperor would replace the Meteor by a more modern boat, but as yet it does not appear that he has decided to build."

A.B.C. is informed that John L. Sullivan and Charles Mitchell fought 39 rounds in 3 hours 11 minutes at Apremont, France, on March 10, 1888.

The Sculling Championship.

A bona-fide race for the premier honors in the professional sculling world appears to be as far off as ever and the chance of witnessing a satisfactory race is still very remote. Gaudaur has evidently made up his mind to stay in St. Louis, unless he can get an opponent to compete with him at Austin, Texas. Migrations to Texas are not taken on every day, and I will venture to prophesy that Stanbury will never again be seen on that course. Wallace Ross, the Black Brunswicker, gave an exhibition of his skill as a swordsman (a la Trooper Otterway) at the Hammersmith Theatre of Varieties on Tuesday evening, and met with an enthusiastic reception, exceeding the applause bestowed upon him at Captain Boyton's Water Show. Ross evidently intends to stay in England this winter in his new line of business—not with an idea of rowing for championship honors. Stanbury returned Oct. 8 (very quietly) to Sydney, although he stated that he had an engagement (!) to row in England the winner of the Sullivan-Bubear championship match. Sullivan is still in residence at Mr. J. H. Clasper's, Putney, and prepared to row Gaudaur, Stanbury, or any other man (first come first served) for the championship of England, or the championship of the world, on the Thames.—Pegasus in The News of the World.

Pegasus is a bit rusty, or he would know that Gaudaur has not been a resident of St. Louis for some time and that he has no more reverence for Austin, Texas, than for any other place. He may surprise Sullivan one of these odd days. Stanbury is no champion of the world, and will never again be regarded as such outside, possibly, of his own country.

OAK HALL

MEN'S TROUSERS

The artist tailors never make pants.

They make trousers.

So does Oak Hall.

There's no difference at all between the artist tailors and Oak Hall—

Except a huge difference in prices,

In the matter of good shape—

And neat, careful tailoring—

Oak Hall trousers are above all comparison with the kind shown in the average "ready-made" or "ready-to-wear" stores.

First, there's the quality, and then there's the fit, which no other house in Toronto can produce, on the moment, in all the different new patterns of fashionable material. Oak Hall has the variety, and this house requires a vastly larger stock than all the other stores combined, because it has not only the largest trade, but because it also aims to please the particular taste of each individual more correctly—and most men are particular about trousers.

We are also particular about prices.

We know it, and nowhere are prices for good clothing as low as at Oak Hall.
