SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS AND READERS,

GRAND PRESENTATION.

The Managing Directors of the NATIONAL ART SOCIETY (under Royal and distinguished patronage), 30 and 31, Paternoster-row, London, E.C., have made arrangements to give to every reader and subscriber, who cuts out and forwards (together with the necessary remittance) the coupon or coupons appended below, to the Offices of the Society, on or before March 14, 1877, a copy of the following splendid copyright pictures, viz.:—

The "STAG AT BAY," after LANDSEER.
The "GOOD SHEPHERD," after DOBSON.
The "SHEPHERD OF JERUSALEM," after MORRIS.

The celebrated pictures are well known as some of the most successful productions of the modern school of art, and appeal to everyone's taste. The copies are executed in the best manner, and no expense has or will be spared by this Society so long as they enrich their publications and give continued satisfaction, as they have hitherto succeeded in doing. A brief description of each subject will suffice.

The STAG AT BAY by Landseer is one of that lamented artist's most beautiful conceptions. After a hard chase, the noble animal finds himself at last at bay—his life at stake. As befits his race, he is about to end his days in a wild and lonely lair. The hounds have succeeded in outstripping him, one of whom has ventured too far, and paid the penalty with life. The others wisely wait his opportunity, while the noble stag stands boldly in the water, determined courageously to end his career. The work is full of life and beautifully delineated, it is seventeen and a half inches by twenty-seven inches, and will be sent to every person who forwards the coupon found below, together with 2s. P.O.O., or 20 stamps, or to any one applying without coupon for 2s. 6d. P.O.O., post-free.

The GOOD SHEPHERD by Dobson, is one of that celebrated artist's most successful productions, and has been secured by the Directors of the Society at a very considerable outlay. The picture being the same size and shape as the "Shepherd of Jerusalem," which has given such universal satisfaction, forms a most suitable companion to it and will please everyone. Little description is necessary for so important a work. Our blessed Lord is beautifully depicted carrying a lamb in his bosom, clearly illustrating the well-known passage, "I am the good shepherd, and know my sheep, and am known of mine."

The price of the artist's proofs of this Engraving was eight guineas, ordinary prints, two guineas.

This picture will be sent to every one forwarding the Coupon found below, for 2s. P.O.O., or 20 stamps, or to any one applying without Coupon, for 2s. 6d. post free.

The SHEPHERD OF JERUSALEM. A few copies of this lovely allegorical picture may still be had. A Coupon will be found below, which will be redeemed if accompanied by P.O.O. for 1s. 6d., or 20 stamps. If no Coupon be sent, the price will be 2s. 6d. post free.

The foregoing prices cover cost of copyrights, case, transmission, and other charges, and copies are guaranteed to arrive safely.

The Directors beg those resident in London to call at the offices of the Society (Town Department, No. 30, Paternoster Row), to inspect the pictures, and compare them with those of any other Art Union and Society. Their future publications may also be seen, and every information obtained, while those not wishing their copies to pass through the post, can obtain, on personal application, copies with wide margins.

Cut out one or all of these Coupons, and forward them to the National Art Society, 30 and 31, Paternoster-row, London, E.C.
