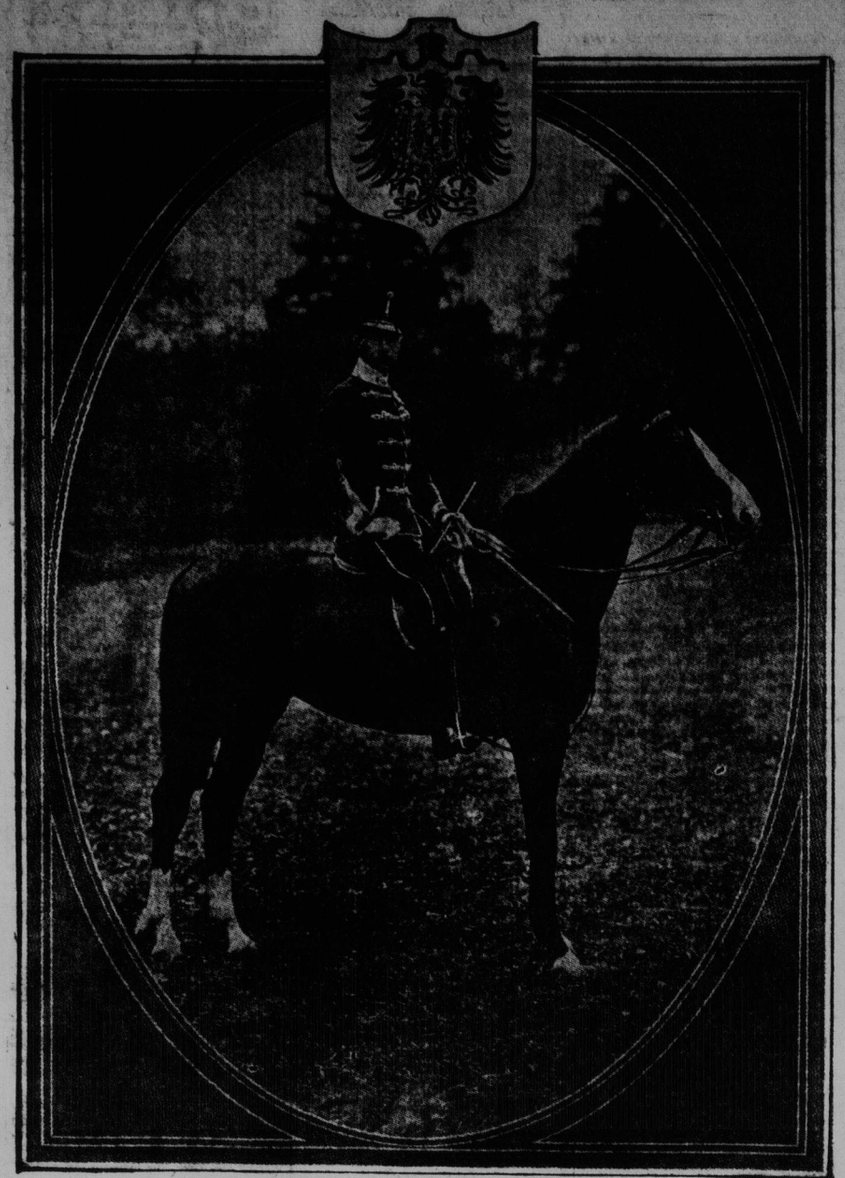
GERMAN CROWN PRINCE WRITES FAREWELL ORDER TO REGIMENT



CROWN PRINCE WILHELM OF GERMANY.

A characteristic farewell order was sent by the German Crown Prince to the Death's Head Hussars which he commanded at Danzig, whence he was recently transferred to Berlin to serve on the general staff.

He expressed regret at his departure in deeply emotional language, in part as follows:—

It is devilish hard and breaks my heart that I cannot ride at your head through life. * * * The two happiest years of my life were spent in your ranks. To-day I bury my youth. * * *

If ever the king calls and the bugle sounds the charge then think of him whose fondest wish it was to live this moment of a soldier's highest happiness in your company.

His transfer was due, it is said, to his unsatisfactory relations with his immediate superiors.

ANOTHER BIG TREAT IN STORE NEXT WEEK FOR IMPERIAL THEATRE PATRONS.

Promises To Be The Best Yet.

The week-end programme at Imperial Theatre is one of especial merit containing some very fine travel views in Turkey after the capture of Scutari, a stirring Vitagraph drama, the very funniest of comedies and other pleasing novelties.

On Monday and Tuesday the great Edison two-reel feature, "Silas Marner" will be presented and the appearance of this standard fiction in film will be greeted with enthusiasm by thousands. Everyone is familiar with this story of a little girl and a miser, and its portrayal by the best of the Edison players is truly a wonderful production. The vaudeville offering for next week will be Golden and Clark in "The Cabaret Boys." And Miss Gertrude Ashe will make a return engagement, who pleased so many when she was at the Nickel.

"Bow-wow!"

"Of course 'oo does! But 'oo just had a bath, and 'oo might tatch cold."

"Bow-wow!"

"If 'oo stays home, I'll div' 'oo a piece of cake."

"Bow-wow!"

"I knew 'oo would. What kind of cake?"

"Bow-wow!"

"Sponge cake! All right, 'oo shall have sponge cake! Did you ever see such an intelligent dog, May? He understands every word I say to him."

INTERESTING CASE IN CHANCERY COURT

An interesting case in chancery was heard before Chief Justice McLeod yesterday. The father of Oscar Jacobson died in Canning, N. S., in 1905, leaving an estate of about $4,000, and appointing Isaac Delig and the mother of the boy as executors.

In 1908 the accounts were passed and the Judge of Probate in Kings Co., N. S., made an order for distribution awarding the widow one-third of the estate and the child two-thirds. The widow came to St. John and established a successful business on Mill street, and recently she was married to Morris L. Block. The uncle, Barnett Jacobson, then took action. On his behalf A. A. Wilson, K.C., made application for guardianship, and Daniel Mullin, K.C., on behalf of Mrs. Block, presented a counter petition.

Chief Justice McLeod granted a decree appointing Mrs. Block and her husband guardians of the estate of the child, on entering into bonds themselves, each to the amount of $4,000, with two surities of $4,000 each.

WEDDINGS.

Donald-Daley.

A quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. James Daley, 191 Princess street, Thursday morning, when their daughter, Miss Ida Maud, was united in marriage to John Edward Donald, of Clinton, Iowa. The bride wore a handsome gown of ivory satin and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley.

The house was nicely decorated. The color scheme in the drawing room was yellow and green, while the dining room was arranged in pink and white.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald will visit in Nova Scotia for a short time and will then go to Clinton, Iowa, where they will make their home.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls!. Beautify Your Hair!. Make it Soft, Fluffy and Luxuriant.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of drandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A litle Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of youth hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediately and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all.

TRIED RECIPES

Patty Shells.

Roll puff paste one-quarter inch thick, shape with a patty cutter, first dipped in flour; remove centers from one half the rounds with a small cutter. Brush over with cold water, the largest pieces near the edge, and fit on rings, pressing lightly. Place in a towel between pans of crushed ice, and chill until paste is stiff; if cold weather cool out of doors. Place on iron or tin sheet covered with brown paper, and bake 25 minutes in a hot oven. The shells should rise their full height and begin to brown in 12 to 15 minutes; continue browing and finish baking in 25 minutes. Pieces cut from center of rings of patties may be baked and used for patty covers, or put to gether, rolled and cut for unders. Trimmings from puff paste should be carefully laid on top of each other, patted and rolled out.—Seattle Sun.

Italian Roast.

Take a nice piece of veal, cut around the bone and put in a small piece of garlic, salt and a few allspice. Make incisions in several places, putting in the seasoning, tie a leaf of celery on top of the roast with a small red pepper. Pour o ver a little olive oil and cook until tender, according to the size of the roast.

Prunes with Dumplings.

Three eggs, three cupfuls of flour, half a teaspoonful of salt, one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder; beat the eggs light; add the flour mixed with the baking powder, and a little water to make the dough slightly thicker than for cake; drop a spoonful at a time into prunes when cooking; stew a quantity of prunes quite soft; have plenty of water which has been added when cooking; then add butter and sugar enough to suit the taste, and flavor with nutmeg; do not stop the boiling while dropping in the dumplings.—Toledo Blade.
