UNPAID PEW RENT

Causes Trouble in a Windsor Church—Worshiper Requested to Leave.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 7.—There was a sensational scene at St. Alphonsus Roman Catholic Church, this city, during the farewell services conducted by Rev. Father Bayard. According to church regulations pew rents must be paid semi-annually, and if a month goes by and the rent is overdue, the pew may be sold.

During the services Mr. Edward Harrahan, in company with Miss Baby, took possession of a pew for which he owed rent. Previous to last Sunday the pew was advertised for sale, and knocked down to Senator Casgrain, the highest bidder. The senator was to have taken possession Sunday. When Mr. Harrahan and Miss Baby entered the pew, Father Bayard requested them to vacate, saying it belonged to Senator Casgrain. They refused until ordered out by the priest "in the name of the church." Then they took another seat.

A little later the senator entered the church and entered the pew, entirely ignorant of the scene which had occurred a few minutes before. The incident has created considerable talk in the community, as all the parties connected with the affair are well known.

SHOT IN THE HEAD

Brantford Lady Struck by a Rifle Bullet Fired Through the Window.

Brantford, Sept. 7.—Mrs. Nathaniel Wing, Cayuga street, Eagle Place, was accidentally shot in the head on Monday, and had a very close call from instant death.

Some young men were practicing shooting at a target in a neighboring back-yard, and a bullet from the rifle came into the Wings' house through a window. Mrs. Wing was in the act of stooping over to wring out some clothes at the moment, when the bullet struck her in the top of the head, glancing along under the scalp, and inflicting a nasty wound, then striking off from the skull and lodging in the lady's back hair, which was done up in a tight knot. Had Mrs. Wing been an inch higher at the time, death would immediately have resulted.

It is not believed the injury will be serious, though Mrs. Wing received a terrible shock. An example should be made of careless boys who persist in shooting within the city limits.

Up the White Nile!

Significant Movement of British Gunboats.

Probably Gone to Join Forces With Major McDonald.

Most of the Powers Favor the Czar's Proposal for a Peace Congress—New Steamship Line Between Milford Haven, Wales, and Paspebiac, Quebec—Bride and Groom Both Lost Their Lives in the Austrian Alps.

NEW DEPARTURE IN EGYPT.

London, Sept. 7.—The war correspondent of the Daily Telegraph at Omdurman says: "After the entry of the troops into the dervish capital, it was found necessary to further bombard the khalifa's house. Gen Kitchener and his staff were standing in the vicinity and narrowly escaped being killed by the shells. I estimate the enemey's killed at more than 15,000."

A dispatch from Khartoum announces that five British gunboats have pushed up the White Nile. This is regarded here as highly significant.

The sirdar telegraphed on Saturday that the condition of the bank of the Nile made it impossible to utilize the gunboat in the pursuit of Khalifa Abdullah, who fled toward Khordofan. The only inference, therefore, is that the gunboats have gone to join the forces with Major MacDonald, who is now known to be on his way northward from Uganda, an operation which has long been contemplated by the government.

Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, chancellor of the exchequer, announced in parliament, on June 24 last, that an attempt would be made to open up commerce with the interior of Africa by a flotilla on the Nile.

HOW HOWARD FELL.

A special from Omdurman says: "Herbert Howard, the correspondent of the Times met his death owing to his eagerness to get the first news of the fate of Carl Neufeld and the other European prisoners of the khalifa. He pressed into the city before it was safe to do so, and was making his way all alone in the narrow way leading to the prison, when he was attacked and killed.

HUGGED DEATH.

"The finest display of heroism on the dervish side was made by the khalifa's brother, Yantub, with his adherents, who, utterly regardless of our terrific fire, made a superb attempt to retrieve the day's fortunes. Though far from asking quarter, they simply hugged death. Yantub died in the prison of his old enemy, Slatin Pasha.

PEANS OF PRAISE.

The lord mayor in the name of the citizens of London, has congratulated Gen. Sir Herbert Kitchener upon his great victory over the dervishes, and informed him that the freedom of the city awaits him upon his return.

Dispatches from Berlin, Vienna, Paris and Rome say that the papers of those cities join in unwonted chorus of ungrudging praise of the British troops. The Temps, of Paris, for instance, says that "the British army has given proof of that valor, at once disciplined and impetuous, which is the grand military virtue of the race."

BALACLAVA REPEATED.

The papers here enlarge proudly on the charge of the Twenty-first Lancers at Omdurman, which they describe as a second Balaclava. Making all allowances, it was undoubtedly a brilliant feat. It was the maiden engagement of the regiment, which was recently converted from hussars. They were ordered to prevent the broken enemy from returning to Omdurman, five miles distant. They charged to within thirty yards of the dervishes, when suddenly they found themselves confronted by 2,000 hidden reserves. They did not hesitate, though they were exposed to a withering infantry fire, but began to hack their way through the enemy, who stood twenty deep. They struggled through, but every one who fell was instantly hewn to pieces by the fanatical dervishes. The brunt of the fighting fell on No. 2 company. A corporal of this company, who arrived on the far side of the enemy, drenched with blood and reeling from weakness, was ordered to fall out. Waving his bent lance, he shouted, "Never!" and called to his squadron, "Form up, No. 2." After cutting lanes through the enemy, the lancers, bleeding and blown, reformed steadily. Col. Martin refused to allow them to charge again. He ordered them to dismount, and to pour a carbine fire into the dervishes. This fire drove the enemy back into the line of the Anglo-Egyptian fire.

Another incident of the charge was the gallant attempt of Lieut. Montmorency, Capt. Kenna and Corporal Swarbuck, to recover the body of Lieut. Grenfell. They kept the enemy off with their revolvers, and placed the body on a horse, which, however, shied, rendering their attempt fruitless.

FOR ANNEXATION

Philippinos Favor Joining With the United States—Spanish Prisoners To Be Ransomed.

Manila, Sept. 7.—At a meeting of 20 leaders of the Philippinos of all sections, called to discuss the policy of these islands, eighteen of them were emphatically in favor of outright annexation to the United States, and two were in favor of a republic. The general native opinion is best to adopt U. S. Consul Wildman's suggestion, and offer liberal inducements to the independence factions to co-operate and to reward the services rendered.

London, Sept. 7.—The Vienna correspondent of the Times says: According to the Politische Correspondenz, it is believed in Paris diplomatic circles that the United States has decided to annex the entire Philippine archipelago, and it is suggested there that Spain is now resigned to a surrender of the islands for a consideration. Perhaps this must be regarded as a feeler; but it takes the wrong view in supposing that there could be any bargain between the United States and Spain. Much will depend on the testimony of General Merritt and the other officers who are going to Paris. It is believed here that Admiral Dewey also will be called to Paris, and that the counsel of these officers will exercise a strong influence in favor of annexation.

The Spanish Cabinet has decided to prevent the newspapers from printing accounts of the sessions of the cortes. The Spanish newspapers generally blame the government for attempting to control the debate of the cortes, saying their convocation is useless if closed doors are added to the silence imposed upon the press.

The cabinet has authorized the foreign minister, Duke Almodovar de Rio, to negotiate with the Philippine insurgents to ransom the five thousand prisoners now in their hands.

BRITISH TRADE INCREASES.

London, Sept. 7.—The Board of Trade statement for the month of August shows increases of £3,845,100 in imports, and £1,412,000 in exports.

THE DISARMAMENT CONGRESS.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 7.—The Novosti, in a long article, declares that the principal subject to be considered by the disarmament congress must be the question of Alsace-Lorraine.

WAITING TO GOBBLE AN ISLAND.

London, Sept. 7.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says: From a Spanish source I learn that the German cruiser Argonay is lying off Playan Islands, in the Zula Sea, awaiting instructions to take possession. The Germans have long been anxious to purchase the island.

KILLED IN THE ALPS.

Vienna, Sept. 7.—There has been another series of fatalities in the Austrian Alps. A recent case is that of a newly-married couple. The bride lost her footing and fell, the rope broke and she went to destruction. The husband deliberately threw himself after her and was killed.

A gentleman who visited the spot two days later lost his balance and fell, being killed instantly.

ITALY WITH NICHOLAS.

Rome, Sept. 7.—The Popolo Romano announces that the Italian Government has decided to reply to the circular of Emperor Nicholas on the subject of a conference to consider international peace measures by an offer to second his proposal in every possible way.

London, Sept. 7.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says: Almost all the European powers have sent favorable replies to the circular of Emperor Nicholas, and it is now regarded as certain that the disarmament congress will meet in St. Petersburg in November.

THE DREYFUS CASE.

Paris, Sept. 7.—The newspapers regard the revision of the Dreyfus case as being assured, saying that the prisoner's counsel will now make strenuous efforts to secure a public retrial. The Matin says that Col. Picquart yesterday signed a demand for the provisional liberation of Dreyfus.

The government denies the rumor of the death of Dreyfus, and the fact that M. Faure has left the capital is regarded as indicating that matters will be quiet for a time.

Paris, Sept. 7.—The Figaro today says the cabinet council, just held, unanimously agreed upon a revision of the Dreyfus case, and directed the minister of justice, M. Sarrien, to take the necessary steps to accomplish it.

The Matin today announces the discovery of facts implicating the officers of the general staff, adding that Gen. Zurdinden, the new minister for war, reported the matter to the council, and urged the necessity of reforming the intelligence department of the war department to the war office, whereupon he was directed to elaborate a project separating the duties of the general staff from those of the intelligence department.

NEW STEAMER ROUTE TO CANADA.

London, Sept. 7.—The plans for the short steamship route between Milford-Haven, Wales, and Paspebiac, Que., are progressing. The Canadian Steamship Company, working in conjunction with the Atlantic and Lake Superior Railway Company, have announced that, pending the completion of a line of 21-knot steamers of the first-class, steamships of a somewhat less power have been chartered with which to make the journey between Milford-Haven and Paspebiac in a little over four days. The railway company is completing the docks at Paspebiac for the large ocean steamers, and the Great Western Railway of England is arranging for special express services to London.

CABLE NATES.

The Marquis of Dufferin officiated at the ceremonies in connection with the formal opening of Cabot Tower, Bristol, yesterday. Among the distinguished guests was Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal.

At a large fire at Maddaloni, near Caserta, Italy, seven men, two women and two children were killed.

Andrew J. White, United States ambassador at Berlin, has gone on a trip down the Rhine.

The Peruvian congress by an immense majority, has sanctioned the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus as the result of the Cacerist agitation and other disturbances.

THIS IS DIFFERENT.

San Francisco, Sept. 6.—The steamer Portland has arrived from St. Michaels with treasure estimated at from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000. The steamer brought down a large number of passengers, most of whom were carpenters, who had been employed at St. Michaels putting together several boats. There were also 35 or 40 miners on board, nearly all being well supplied with gold dust and nuggets.

Turks Set Fire to the Town of Candia.

Mussulmans Fired on by British Troops—The Situation Serious.

Canea, Island of Crete, Sept. 7.—Candia is being bombarded by the British troops, which have been acting as police since the Greek war. They are fighting the Mussulmans, riots are in progress, and fires have broken out in various parts of the city. The Mussulmans started the disturbances.

The Turks set fire to the whole town of Candia. The only warship there at the time of the outbreak was the British gunboat Hazard, which landed a party of marines to assist the 130 British troops there.

Candia, Island of Crete, Sept. 7.—Candia is in a state of anarchy. A collision between the Mussulmans, who were demonstrating against European control, and the British authorities, who have been installing Christians as revenue officials, culminated in bloody fighting between the Mussulmans and the British troops. Riots took place in various parts of the city, and many have been killed. When the outbreak was fiercest, a warship stationed in the harbor began firing shells, with the result that a portion of the city is in flames. The greatest confusion and uproar prevails. The trouble began with the attempt of the British military authorities to install Christian officials. They had appointed a council of international control to administer the tithe revenues, and a detachment of soldiers was stationed outside the office as a precaution. A crowd of Mussulmans, who had been demonstrating against the Christians, attempted to force an entrance into the office. The British soldiers fired and wounded several. The Mussulmans ran for their arms, and returning, attacked the soldiers. Other Mussulmans spread rapidly through the Christian quarter, shooting into windows and setting many houses and stores on fire. It is reported that the British consul has been killed.

MR. MOSES SPRINGER

The Sheriff of Waterloo Passed Away on Monday.

Berlin, Ont., Sept. 7.—Sheriff Springer died at four o'clock Monday afternoon.

Mr. Moses Springer, ex-M.P.P., was born in the county of Waterloo on Aug. 21, 1824, and was the son of Benjamin Springer, a merchant, and afterwards farmer in the county. His mother was prominently identified with the Mennonite Church. He received an education largely by his own efforts, not having many advantages, and afterwards taught school. From this he went into surveying, and then in general business. He was one of the founders of the Waterloo Mutual Fire Insurance Company. In public and judicial life Mr. Springer was always a prominent man in the county. He was a local magistrate, reeve of Waterloo for many years, and first mayor of the town. He was elected a member of the Ontario Legislature for North Waterloo in 1867.

LOST WITH ALL HANDS.

Halifax, Sept. 7.—An unknown schooner, believed to be a fishing vessel, has been lost with all her crew at a place called East Lake, a mile north of East Point reef, Prince Edward Island.

FOSTER AND THE PLEBISCITE.

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—Hon. Geo. E. Foster has returned from his stumping tour in the west, much pleased with the political outlook. Asked if the plebiscite is attracting much attention, he replied that there is considerable activity shown by churches and temperance organizations in pushing prohibition, but the masses do not appear to be stirred and counter organizations are not as yet visible. The general opinion seems to be, he says, that the vote will not be large; that yeas will carry in the Northwest and Manitoba, with British Columbia doubtful, and that anti-prohibitionists will do their fighting quietly.
