THE FATAL CROSSING AGAIN.

THREE PERSONS KILLED BY A C.P.R. TRAIN.

The Engine of No. 10 Express Runs Into a Wagon Containing an Employe and Two Inmates of Sunnyside Home—All the Occupants Instantly Killed—An Inquest.

PATRICK DOWLING, aged 68.
PETER MCLAUGHLIN, aged 18.
CHARLES MCNEILLY, aged 12.

Three lives were sacrificed at the Brock-avenue crossing of the C.P.R. yesterday. Patrick Dowling, the driver of the Sunnyside Home wagon, had been collecting goods obtained by one of the Sisters of St. Joseph in North Parkdale and was returning to the Home via College-avenue. When the goods were gathered two boys, Peter McLaughlin, aged 13, and Charles McNeilly, aged 12 years, who accompanied the sister to carry the goods to the wagon, got into it by her instructions to return to the Home. Approaching the railway crossing the attention of the occupants of the wagon was apparently diverted by a freight train, as they seemed utterly oblivious of the approach of C. P. R. express

In No. 10, Engineer Greenshields, due at 11.47 a.m., which came thundering along, as eye-witnesses say, at a speed of 10 to 12 miles an hour. Although brakes were put on and the whistle sounded the driver or the horse was paralyzed with fear, as apparently the wagon seemed to stop directly on the track. The vehicle was smashed to atoms, the driver struck by one of the rods of the locomotive and hurled mangled and bleeding on the pilot, and he was dead when the train was brought to a stop. The boys were thrown to one side of the track, and both were killed almost instantly. The concussion must have been terrific, as fragments of the wagon were scattered fifty feet from the scene of the accident. The bodies were conveyed to Sunnyside and Coroner Lynd notified. A jury was empanelled for the inquest at 7½ p.m. at Scholes' Hotel, Queen-street west.

The Victims.

Rev. Father Finan, the chaplain of Sunnyside, and the Mother Superior state that the two young victims were among the most promising in the Home, the best being selected to accompany the sisters on their rounds. McLaughlin was the only son of a William-street widow. A younger brother of McNeilly is in the Home, but the address of his father is unknown. He formerly resided at Cobourg.

Patrick Dowling, the driver, had only been employed at the Home for about a month and came from Ayton village, Grey county. The World learned that who visited the Home recognized the deceased as one of the pioneers of Normanby township, Grey County, at one time in very comfortable circumstances. Although nearly 70 years of age, he was as active as a man of 50. He leaves two daughters, both of whom it is understood reside in Toronto. Father Owens, parish priest of Ayton, on whose recommendation Dowling was engaged, was notified by telegraph of the old man's death.

The funeral will take place from Sunnyside Home on Sunday, at 3 p.m., to St. Michael's Cemetery.

The horse attached to the vehicle was taken to Veterinary McConnell in Queen-street, but only survived a few hours.

A post mortem on the remains of the three victims was conducted by Drs. Aylesworth and Rowe.

An Inquest Opened.

These gentlemen composed the jury convened by Coroner Lynd at Scholes' Hotel at 7½ last evening.

Thomas Babe (foreman), Charles Mutart, Joseph Scott, A. N. Butler, Richard Garbutt, Alexander Stewart, John Stinson, Robert Mains, David Boyd, J. Lemon, George Gardner, Frank Berkinshaw, George Sharpe, William Watkins, Charles Dennis, James Davis, Charles Ganler. They proceeded to the Home and viewed the corpses.

D. A. O'Sullivan represented the Orphanage, Angus McIntosh appeared for the C.P.R., and Mr. Skanes watched the case for Crown Attorney Badgerow.

Coroner Lynd stated that after consulting the foreman he had decided not to take any evidence, as the investigation was an important matter, and on behalf of the public a searching inquiry was absolutely necessary. He, therefore, taking into consideration the short time the warrant had been issued, thought that it would expedite matters to adjourn the inquest until Wednesday, August 6.

At this juncture Mr. Boyd, one of the jurors, endeavored to be relieved from attendance, as his arrangements had been made to leave the city on Tuesday. The coroner regretted his inability to take cognizance of the objection and cited the penalty for non-attendance.

The witnesses at present subpoenaed are Ed. Sisskind, M. O'Connor, W. Pickhard, Manager, E. McDougald and J. McArthur, in addition to R. Greenshields, engine driver; M. J. Lepper, conductor; E. Plaxton, brakeman, and H. Nesbitt, fireman.

Who is to Blame?

This latest accident will probably result in the final settlement of the level crossing difficulty. Ex-Ald. Woods, then representing St. Marks' Ward, brought up the matter in council early in 1888. He was appointed chairman of the special committee, and so determinedly did he work that at the end of the year the difficulty was looked upon as practically settled. At a meeting of the committee, held on Oct. 28, 1889, Mr. Wragge assured the aldermen that gates would be placed at Brock-avenue crossing, and C.P.R. Superintendent Tait sent in a letter expressing the company's willingness to co-operate with the G.T.R. in affording a proper protection at that point for the public.

But at the end of the year Ald. Woods dropped out, and Ald. Lennox was made chairman of the committee in his place. The council suddenly adopted the policy of all or none, and would not consent to see any one crossing gated unless all within the city limits were treated in a similar manner. And how much interest was shown by the committee in this important matter is evidenced by the fact that no meeting was held until last month. As already stated Ald. Lennox was chairman, associated with him being Ald. Small, Bell, Shaw, Denison and Peter Macdonald. At the July meeting both Macdonald and Denison were absent, and the reason the meeting was called was because Ald. McDougall in driving across this very Brock-avenue crossing almost lost his life. Of course there was a big flurry, and the railroad superintendents were sent for and requested to protect the crossings, in fact the old farce was repeated. The companies offered to pay half of the protection of all the level crossings, the city to pay the other half, until such time as the Railway Committee of the Privy Council decided how the costs should be apportioned. This offer was refused under advice of the City Solicitor, the city asking instead that the railroads pay all the cost, which the city would foot if the Railway Committee gave a decision in this line. This was negatived by both the C.P.R. and G.T.R. and so the affair rests.

To cut the matter short the railroads blame the city, and the city blames the railroads, and the Railway Committee. Superintendent Tait was interviewed but refused to make a statement, as also did Mr. MacMurchy.

MARKED FOR DEATH.

he Italian Mafia Name Two Men For Assassination By Stiletto.

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—The Italian Mafia have marked two of their countrymen for assassination, and efforts have been made to carry out the edicts of the order, but the victims have thus far escaped. One is Policeman John Rosatto, who has been largely instrumental in bringing several Italian criminals to justice. He is an Italian himself and knows all the secrets of his countrymen. The other victim for whom the stiletto is ready is Goachini Cocchiara, one of the Italians who was arrested in connection with the murder of Millionaire Edward Cunningham of Milton eight months ago.

Foot Maimed by Foolishness.

William Kerr, 99 Dundas-street, an old man, while sawing cedar blocks in a mill on Lansdowne-avenue, foolishly undertook to kick a block away with his right foot, when it came into contact with the saw and was badly gashed, the heel being almost severed.

The Sault Canal Closed.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Aug. 1.—The Sault canal lock was disabled yesterday by the breaking of the discharge valve, delaying a large fleet upward bound. The canal will be closed until next Tuesday.

GOSSIP ABOUT THE CROPS.

Ontario Will Have a Heavy Yield—A Great Year for the Farmer.

It is now almost beyond doubt that Ontario will harvest a big grain crop this season. Reports from various sources are so unanimous as to its fine appearance that a heavy yield for 1890 may be accepted as a fact. All that is necessary now is fine weather for harvesting.

Mr. A. Blue of the Ontario Bureau of Statistics said yesterday that although complete reports would not be to hand till the middle of the month, intelligence received so far was of a very encouraging character. From all he could learn, he said, fall wheat would be a fair average crop, and other grain would average well with the exception of oats, which would be poor. Some kind of a blight, the exact description of which had not been ascertained, had struck the oat crop and had inflicted much damage. Hay, however, was very heavy.

Mr. B. E. Walker, general manager of the Bank of Commerce, receives weekly crop reports from the 35 agencies of the bank in Ontario. He said yesterday that these reports to date were almost entirely satisfactory. There would be an enormous crop of hay, but oats would be a poor crop. Fall wheat would be a good deal better than was supposed a few weeks ago. He had heard of localities where the average was placed at from 25 to 30 bushels an acre. Of course, it was fine guesswork to attempt to compute an average now—that could not be done with any degree of precision for some weeks yet. Reports received stated that apples and plums were an almost complete failure.

Mr. W. D. Matthews states that owing to the low price of barley last year and the uncertainty of the United States tariff the barley acreage had been considerably reduced. There would be a lighter total yield of barley this year than last, though the crop was about as good. Wheat was a good crop. Some localities complained of the light yield, but these were few, and on the whole the crop was a good one.

H. N. Baird: "The fall wheat crop this year in Ontario is the best we have had for 15 years. I would not be surprised to see it average anywhere from 15 to 30 bushels an acre from one end of the province to the other. Hay is enormous and peas are a good crop. Oats, however, will be light."

FOUR BATHERS DROWNED.

A Young Torontonian Named Bothwell Sinks in Stoney Lake—A Clergyman's Last Swim.

NORWOOD, Aug. 1.—A young Toronto man by the name of Bothwell was drowned at Stoney Lake to-day while bathing. He had been swimming around carrying his little sister on his back when it is supposed he took cramps, sank to the bottom and did not rise again. His mother, who was a short distance away, heard the little girl scream and hurried to her assistance and rescued her as she was going down for the third time. The water was about 20 feet deep where Bothwell's body was found half an hour afterward.

A CLERGYMAN DROWNED.

Rev. F. W. Baughman of Bowmanville Loses His Life.

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 1.—Rev. F. W. Baughman of Bowmanville was drowned at Stoney Lake while bathing this morning. His body was recovered in about two hours. The body was taken to Bowmanville by train this evening.

Drowned in the Niagara.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, Aug. 1.—Two ladies were drowned yesterday in the river at Youngstown, N.Y. Mrs. Reesor, her sister Miss Anderson and Mr. Reesor were bathing and the two ladies got beyond their depth and lost their lives. Mr. Reesor is a school teacher near Woodstock. The ladies were visiting Mrs. Reesor's father at Youngstown.

The accident was caused by the swell of the Chicora, which passed at that moment. The undertow drew the ladies out into a depth of fifty feet of water and they were drowned before assistance could be rendered. They had been bathing in shallow water.

Drowned Herself in the Surf.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Schurig of New York, a guest at John Hull's Hotel, in Bridgehampton, L.I., was drowned in the surf at that place on Wednesday. It seems she deliberately walked into the ocean with the intention of ending her life. She was fully dressed.

AMBITIOUS CITY NOTES.

Attempted Suicide—Struck by a Train—Alleged Breach of Promise.

HAMILTON, Aug. 1.—Thomas Baine, who for many years kept a hotel here, but whose license was recently cancelled, it is said attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat and wrists. Baine's son denies the story, and says the wound is a mere scratch made by a broken bottle.

A 13-year-old youth named Daniel Graham sustained serious injuries last evening while walking on the Grand Trunk track at the Ferguson-avenue crossing. He was struck by a train, the result being that his shoulder blade and right arm were fractured. It is thought he will recover.

The inland revenue receipts at this port for July were $41,978, an increase over 1889 of $3615. The customs duties collected were $57,443, a decrease of $12,645.

Senator Sanford received a letter yesterday from the Duke of Aberdeen, who is to be his guest, stating that his four children and eight servants will sail from Scotland on Aug. 8, and that Lady Aberdeen and himself will sail on Aug. 14, by the steamers Oregon and Parisian, respectively.

There is an interesting breach of promise suit entered for trial at the fall assizes. The lady is young and pretty and her name is Miss Annie Howell. She wants $3000 to square her lacerated affections. Charles Edward Reding is the lacerator, and both parties hail from Ancaster.

John Gorman, who hit Constable Harris with a stone the other night, got off with a month's imprisonment.

TOO BUSY TO TALK.

Prince George Arrives at Halifax on Board the Thrush.

HALIFAX, Aug. 1.—The warship Thrush was moored at the dock yard shortly after her arrival and Prince George reported his arrival to the commander of the Comus, who is senior in command during the absence of the admiral and flagship. The Prince then returned to his ship and on an effort being made by newspaper men to see him he sent word from his cabin expressing regret that he was too busy to be interviewed.

NEWPORT'S NAVAL GUESTS.

The British Squadron Arrives, But Without Prince George of Wales.

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 1.—The booming of guns at an early hour was evidence that the British fleet was approaching, and later on the New York yacht squadron, bearing very sad news, came to anchor in the harbor, already well filled with sailing craft of all kinds.

The British North American fleet, comprising the flagship Bellerophon and the cruisers Canada and Partridge, from Halifax, dropped anchor at 9½ in the outer harbor. The fleet is commanded by Vice-Admiral Watson. The Bellerophon's commander is Captain Charles C. Drury, the Canada's Captain Dowding and the Partridge's Captain Noel.

Sir John Ross, Commanding General of Her Majesty's army forces in Canada, and his son are guests of Vice-Admiral Watson on board the Bellerophon, and Captain Jenkins of the British army, Sir John's aide, is a guest on board the Canada.

Tragic Example of Heredity.

CARLISLE, Pa., Aug. 1.—In a fit of jealousy Jeremiah Miller of Hampden Township shot his wife and immediately afterward committed suicide by shooting himself in the stomach. The woman will die. They did not live happily together and Miller frequently charged her with infidelity. Miller seems to have inherited a propensity for murder. His father, while in jail in 1851 on a charge of murder, hanged himself. Samuel Miller, his brother, was a very eccentric man and was a hermit for many years in the North Mountain. It is thought the entire family was tinged with insanity.

ELOPED WITH A BALL PLAYER

A Sensation in the Royal City—Three Young Children and a Hard-Working Husband Left Behind—Had Her Babies' Photographs Taken to Carry With Her to the "Land of the Free."

GUELPH, Aug. 1.—Quite a sensation was created here to-day when it became known that James Henry, a noted local baseball player familiarly known as "Jigger" Henry, and Mrs. Brydges, wife of Joseph Brydges, an honest, hard-working man, had eloped in broad daylight. Tickets were bought for Port Huron and the couple are now undoubtedly over the border. The heartless woman, who had been infatuated with Henry for some time, took an infant with her, but left three small children at home. Henry became acquainted with Mrs. Brydges about two years ago and had boarded with the Brydges until last spring, when the husband became suspicious and ordered Henry out of the house, but he has been an almost daily visitor during the day when the husband was at work.

Yesterday morning Henry brought over a big trunk to Brydges' house and remained there till near dinner. After Brydges had gone back to work he returned again and the work of packing the trunk was completed. The woman put in glassware, crockery, bedding, clothing, and other smaller household stuff, and this and another smaller box were taken to the Grand Trunk Railway station on a lorry. Miss Henry is said to have been at the station and seen the woman off and to have stated that her brother was not there. However, he was seen in the car as it passed Bell's factory.

When the husband returned at 6 he found things scattered round and at length got from the little girl, who had been frightened into silence by her mother, the particulars of the day. He found a long letter written to him, telling him he could get a divorce as soon as he had money enough. The note was written in a determined manner, stating that she could no longer make him a good wife or children a good mother. The only regret she expressed at parting was the leaving of her three children behind, and requesting him to be kind to them. She also mentioned in the letter that she had taken bedding, knives, forks, spoons, etc., with her and that they were her own property.

Before leaving she had her photo taken and said she would come back and get her. She also gave her the wedding ring to give to her father.

Brydges left for Port Huron on the train watched for some days, and it is said also that the family living next door left on account of Mrs. Brydges' conduct. The husband is enraged to get away, however, and they will not be followed. Henry's people did not know he was gone for certain until Friday, as he had a room and found his trunk gone and all his clothes.

It is presumed they are heading for Chicago, as the afternoon G. T. R. express would take them as far as Port Huron, to which place Mrs. Brydges said that her ticket was bought. She answered any enquiries on the platform calmly and with little perceptible nervousness.

"Jigger" Henry was a character of some note round the city, being quite a baseballist up to a year or so back. He was a worthless, jolly fellow, but was a good workman. It is understood that he drew over $100 on his contract for plastering the W. C. Cummings' house, and took it away with him, without paying the three men who were working for him, one of them being his father.

Mrs. Brydges belonged to an Eramosa family, and her parents are now retired, living near Guelph. Mr. Brydges says he promises not to take any money with her unless she collected the rent of some of his houses, and pocketed the money without his knowledge.

On Thursday she sent her three children to a photograph gallery in order that she might carry away their photos. The three children left were aged respectively 9, 6 and 3 years.

THE WARRING REPUBLICS.

Gen. Rivas' Revolt in Salvador Suppressed and the Traitor Executed—Hundreds Slain in the Streets.

LA LIBERTAD, Aug. 1.—Communication with the interior of Salvador has been restored. Advices from San Salvador, the capital, state that General Antonio Azeta was immediately ordered from the frontier with 2000 men on the receipt of the news of Rivas' revolt, and hastened with all speed to the capital. Rivas had surrounded the artillery barracks, but the few men in charge fought desperately. The Indians then pillaged several houses and had a panic round. Rivas was finally defeated and peace restored.

It is stated that Guatemala has retired her forces from the frontier and all is quiet at present. There is no telegraph communication with Guatemala.

Rivas Captured and Executed.

LALIBERTAD, Aug. 1.—The news of the defeat of Rivas by Government troops under General Antonio Ezeta is confirmed. Rivas escaped from the capital last night but was pursued and taken prisoner a few miles outside the city this morning. He was fatally shot in the back and his corpse was exposed on the public arcade. It is reported many prominent persons are compromised and a strict enquiry is being made regarding the Rivas conspiracy. The fight lasted 40 hours. The Capital suffered considerable damage. Hundreds of men were shot dead on the streets. The Government forces who took part in the overthrow of Rivas can now return to the frontier if necessary.

AT BUENOS AYRES.

President Celman Issues a Manifesto—Argentina Still Disturbed.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—A despatch to The Times from Buenos Ayres states that President Celman has issued a manifesto to the people of the Argentine Republic. After speaking of the demand for his resignation which was made by the leaders of the revolutionary movement, the President refers to the prosperity and liberty the country enjoys under his rule. He ignores the gravity and what his own journals term "the horrors" of the recent events in Buenos Ayres. The manifesto attributes the sole cause of the insurrection to the insensate ambition of the local party only the smallest bills. The financial crisis may force Celman's friends to forcibly compel him to resign.

BUENOS AYRES, Aug. 1.—The people are greatly discontented with the agreement of the revolutionists with the Government according to which they abandoned their arms. Some citizens and soldiers have even committed suicide.

Trades and Labor Council.

At the Trades and Labor Council last evening, President Glockling in the chair, the education committee recommended that three technical schools be established instead of one, as suggested by some of the aldermen; the appointment of a truant officer was also recommended. The Municipal Committee were requested to report in regard to public playgrounds. This committee suggested that if appropriations for trips abroad were applied to the formation of a life saving crew citizens generally would appreciate the change. The increase of the habit of cigaret smoking among children was also discussed.

Before the Magistrate.

At the Police Court yesterday William Easdall was fined $10 and costs for insulting Mrs. Isidore Bernard. Thomas Dirken contributed $10 and costs for striking P. C. Carlisle. Rector McNeil received a sentence of one month for larceny from Alice Richardson. Thomas J. Fitzsimons charged with assaulting his wife, was remanded until Wednesday. Michael J. Lyons was charged with non-support of his wife. As the couple had only lived together four years, although they were married in 1869, and had not seen each other for about 13 years preceding July 20 last, the case was dismissed.

Beer For Boarders.

Bella Mitchell, who was charged at the Police Court yesterday with violating the license act, urged in defence that she only supplied beer to her lodgers as part of the regular bill of fare. Two of the boarders testified to the supply of beer in place of tea, but the Magistrate fined defendant $20. The case will be appealed.

MISS CURTIN USES A WHIP.

Young Men Who Gossip Are Called to Account With a Rawhide.

NEW HAVEN, Aug. 1.—During the last few days numerous complaints have been made to City Attorney Dailey, by young men who have been publicly horsewhipped by an enraged young woman.

The trouble dates back two months ago, when a young man named Frederick Miller, and a young woman named Julia Curtin, whose sister is the wife of Miller, appeared before City Attorney Dailey and asked for a warrant for the arrest of William Brennan on a charge preferred by Miss Curtin. The parties interested in the case all reside in the vicinity of Oak and Broad-streets. The city attorney refused to issue the warrant for Brennan's arrest, but advised the parties to try to come to some agreement.

Brennan learning that a warrant was sought for his arrest suddenly left town. Since Brennan's flight a number of his friends have attempted to settle the case, but to no purpose, as Miss Curtin would accept no settlement except marriage.

Miss Curtin heard that slanderous stories were circulated about her, and on Thursday night last "Beck" Miller, a chum of Brennan, was standing in front of St. John's Church when the girl, accompanied by her brother-in-law, appeared, and without a word of warning the girl drew a rawhide from under her cloak and slashed Miller across the face. When Miller tried to defend himself the girl's brother-in-law interfered and held Miller while Julia lashed him.

Miller then went to the city attorney for a warrant for the arrest of the girl and her companion, but Mr. Dailey told him he had received what he deserved.

John Gallagher, another young man who had circulated stories about Miss Curtin, was also vigorously whipped last Saturday. The girl asked Gallagher why he had been talking about her. The reply was not exactly satisfactory and she struck out with the whip and raised a heavy welt across his face. When Gallagher attempted to resist she drew a revolver and Gallagher ran away in short order.

Miss Curtin threatens to cowhide any other persons who circulate damaging stories about her.

LOVE THAT LED TO SUICIDE.

A Wife Reveals the Secret That Caused her Husband to Seek Death.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Theodore Lugislands, who shot himself in the left breast in the presence of his wife and children at his residence, No. 19 Centre-avenue, Jersey City, late on Wednesday night, was still alive yesterday in St. Catherine's Hospital, but is not expected to recover.

His motive in ending his existence was made known in the presence of his wife. Mrs. Lugislands, until a year ago, resided happily with his wife and four children. A younger sister of Mrs. Lugislands also lived with them, and Lugislands fell in love with her.

Mrs. Lugislands caught her husband kissing and embracing her sister not long ago, and there was a stormy scene. During the latter part of June the young girl gave birth to a child, and her delirium she accused Lugislands of being its father. Lugislands admitted the accusation. Mrs. Lugislands at once consulted a lawyer and began divorce proceedings preparatory to instituting a suit against Lugislands. He made every effort to bring about a reconciliation, but without avail. He told some friends on Wednesday afternoon that he was tired of life and before many days he would be at rest.

A few minutes before he shot himself he sat on the kitchen lounge and watched his wife caring for the children. He suddenly drew the revolver from his pocket and, placing it to his left side, discharged it. When the ambulance surgeon reached his side he muttered feebly a desire to die.

O'Keefe Called the Turn.

Mr. Eugene O'Keefe of O'Keefe & Co. has succeeded in defeating a local brewer in the fight for the license of the St. George Hotel, Yonge-street east. It is true that Wilson has the license, but while he and the boss brewer were engaged in manipulating the License Commissioners, Mr. O'Keefe stole a march on them by completing the years' lease of the hotel. When, therefore, Mr. Wilson, the man in hand, came along to take possession Mr. O'Keefe delicately hinted that he would have to be consulted. Just now it looks as if McGraw, O'Keefe's man, will finally come out ahead.

Fatality at Pembroke.

PEMBROKE, Aug. 1.—About 2 p.m. Leonard, son of Walter Beatty, was found dead under a pile of boards of the sash and door factory. The boy, who was 7 or 8 years of age, was last seen about 10½ a.m. An uncle of the child's on going to the pile of timber, noticed part of his clothing protruding beards, found the child, who had evidently been smothered from pressure of boards on the neck. Apparently in trying to climb the boards they had fallen on him.

THE CASE AGAINST CAMPBELL.

Stenographic Reports of the Park Preacher's Utterances—A Postponement.

At the Police Court yesterday John Campbell, the park preacher, pleaded not guilty to the six distinct charges of using insulting and obscene language in the Queen's Park on Sunday afternoon. Mr. John G. Holmes appeared for defendant and Assistant City Solicitor Mowat prosecuted. The charge is laid under bylaw 2440, which reads: No person shall make use of any profane swearing, obscene, blasphemous or grossly insulting language, or be guilty of any other immorality or indecency in any street or public place. Mr. Mowat handed into court transcripts of defendant's speeches in Queen's Park on Sunday afternoons June 22, July 20 and July 27. Official Stenographer Thomas Bengough testified that the transcripts were correct reports of the defendant's speeches on the dates named. The charge of obscene language was taken up and Mr. Mowat read excerpts from the speeches, which consisted of fulminations against the Church of Rome, in which the chastity of the priests and nuns was assailed in vigorous and, what the crown alleges to be, obscene language. The case was enlarged until Wednesday, and meantime Mr. Holmes, out of deference to the suggestion of the magistrate, will instruct Mr. Campbell not to speak in the park, but all the same claims the right of his client to freedom of speech.

THE PULSE OF TRADE.

No Special Gains Reported to Bradstreet's—A Bad Outlook for the Kansas Farmers.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Special telegrams to Bradstreet's show no special gains within a week though there is some variation in conditions. The wheat crop has not improved any. Indian corn has lost headway owing to dry weather in Eastern Kansas and Nebraska, where rain is badly needed, but rice promises the largest crop on record, and cotton crop advices are quite favorable. Our own crop advices from Eastern Kansas yesterday are, in brief, as compared with one year ago: Potatoes one-fifth, Indian corn one-fourth, wheat not quite one-half. Corn and oats are worth twice last year's prices at primary markets; wheat, flour and tame hay one-quarter more, and potatoes three times as much. Rain would help corn and potatoes materially, double the bean crop. Weather very warm, poor prospects for rain, prices advancing.

The Monetary Outlook.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Dun, Wiman & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade will say: Heavy exports of gold, $4,000,000, having been engaged for Saturday and the advance of the Bank of England rate from 4 to 5 per cent., have altered the monetary outlook for the present. Large realizing sales by foreign holders of securities naturally appeared and caused weakness in stocks, notwithstanding the agreement of western trunk lines upon advanced rates for live stock, dressed beef and provisions. The Treasury circular inviting offers to sell silver bullion has been issued and the price has been rapidly advanced to 99-50 pence at London, though of late there have been large exports from this country. As the new supply of silver notes is the chief reliance for the disbursements for the outgoes of gold, the offers and the action of the Treasury upon them will be awaited with interest. On account of the Scottish American disturbances the demand for gold is likely to continue, and the state of foreign trade is not such at present as to promise any early arrest of the movement. Prices of commodities have moved steadily upward, with the expectation of abundant money, and have risen 11 per cent. one per cent. during the week; and this movement, if undiscovered, will tend to cause shipments of gold instead of products. At almost all the interior money markets, as here, the rates have been moderate thus far and the supply ample, however, and reports of slow collection, though a little more frequent than of late, are generally rare. The accounts of trade are almost uniformly satisfactory. For the midsummer season the state of business is better than usual. The iron business appears rather more confident, though no change can be observed in prices. The wool manufacture changes but little; the tone is not satisfactory. The boot and shoe business shows no weakness, both leather and hides being firm and higher in price. Fears of injury to wheat and corn are raised by very numerous reports from the central Western States, though estimates of a yield of 100,000,000 bushels of wheat in the Dakotas and Minnesota appear well supported by detailed railway reports. The conflicting local accounts and estimates helped speculation for a sharp advance in corn and wheat, but in both reaction has thus appeared and wheat closes 2½c lower than a week ago, corn about 3c higher, and oats unchanged. Heavy western packing causes some weakness in pork products, and the fine crop reports from the south help to lower cotton a shade.

In general the speculative markets show the influence of abundant money and currency expansion, but reaction would be natural if outgoes of gold keep the rate of $4,000,000 in a week should continue to overtake expected purchases of silver at the rate of 4,000,000 ounces in a month. It is now time to come the monetary outlook will therefore be watched.

Business failures during the last seven days number for the United States 167, for Canada 22, total 189, compared with 190 last week. For the corresponding week of last year the figures were 191 in the United States and 19 in Canada.

Was it a Diabolical Scheme?

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—Two apparent attempts to wreck the Flying Yankee, fast express from St. John, N.B., for Boston, were made near Chelsea last night. About 9 o'clock three men told the gateman at the Eastern-avenue crossing that they found a spike driven into the inward track and removed it. At 9½ the Yankee came along at the rate of 50 miles an hour. Between Forbes' Bridge and Eastern-avenue the engine struck a sleeper, which it carried a quarter of a mile. Before the train could be stopped, plowing great furrows, in the ground and scattering splinters in all directions. The cylinder and steam chest of the engine were dented and bent and other slight damage to the pilot was done. If the story of the men was true the sleeper must have been replaced on the rails.

Suppressing Tolstoi's Book.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Postmaster General has issued an order prohibiting Tolstoi's "Kreutzer Sonata" from being received at any post-office in the United States for transportation through the mails. Assistant Postmaster John J. Gayler said yesterday that the order to exclude the "Kreutzer Sonata" from the mails had been received early in the week. He said he did not know on whose complaint the order had been issued, but that the book had been submitted for consideration to Assistant Attorney-General Tyner as to the propriety of allowing it to go through the mails, and he had decided against it.

Mr. Massey Examined.

Mr. H. A. Massey, the defendant in the suit of Taylor v. Massey, who has just returned from Europe, was examined by Mr. James A. Macdonald yesterday in the office of Special Examiner Bruce, but it is understood the result of the examination did not tend to show that Mr. Massey knew anything about the famous whitewashing resolution for the passing of which Mr. Taylor asks $10,000 damage. The resolution was passed, it will be remembered, at a meeting held in the Massey factory after the publication of the particulars of the Taylor-Johnston scandal, and while it exonerated Johnston it alleged that Taylor was a blackmailer. Mr. Charles Ritchie, Q.C., appeared for Mr. Massey.
