CRY STILL FOR MORE MEN

"Give Us 5000 More Harvesters," the Appeal of Premier Roblin's Private Secretary.

SUPPLY YET WOFULLY INSUFFICIENT

Farmers From Iowa and Western States Flocking in to Take Locations.

A. W. Pritchard, private secretary to Hon. R. P. Roblin, Premier and Minister of Agriculture and Immigration of Manitoba, is in Toronto, and was seen by The World at the office of the Manitoba government on York-street. Mr. Pritchard verified the reports of a scarcity of harvest hands. "We need 5000 more men," he said. "We have always got all the men we wanted from the east other years, and I cannot see why we are not getting them this year, because the Northwest is going ahead by leaps and bounds, and the young men here must be anxious to witness with their own eyes our growth and prosperity. The harvest here is out of the way, and men ought to be available.

"We are expecting a lot of Americans into Manitoba from different States, within the next few weeks, but especially from Iowa. Their corn crop has been delayed in the harvesting owing to the wet weather, but the next few weeks they will be coming over to take locations. It takes time for the advantages of our country to become known, but the good news is spreading and the Northwest is getting the population, which is all it needs to make it great. Everything else is there, provided by nature to build up a great nation, and as we build up the tall chimneys will grow down there, because as it is it is difficult for eastern manufacturers to supply western demands. It is, therefore, important that every effort be made by the east to send men to help us safely garner our crop because the eastern people are going to get the money for it as soon as it is sold.

"In some cases threshers are unable to get men to man their threshing outfits. I heard of one man who paid $4500 for such an outfit, and could not get a man to work it."

To Do Business in England.

The English branch of the Canada Life Association Company will be opened in London not later than Jan. 1, 1903. E. W. Cox is now in England completing arrangements and deciding upon a recommendation for a manager. There are numerous applicants, and no choice will be made until Mr. Cox returns and submits a report to the directors in about two weeks.

Mr. H. C. Cox, spoken to by The World yesterday, said he anticipated that the company would do a large business in the Old Land. In Canada, he said, insurance business was increasing with phenomenal rapidity, and the Canada Life was getting a good share of it. Other companies, he thought, were also prospering, and he sensibly argued that the prosperity of one good company really meant the prosperity of another good company.

An Appropriate Gift.

Walter F. Watkins of the staff of the Toronto office of the Canada Permanent & Western Canada Mortgage Corporation, was on Tuesday presented by the managing director, J. Herbert Mason, on behalf of the members of the staff, with a suitably-inscribed cabinet of handsome silver spoons and forks, on the occasion of his marriage.

BIG LIST AT COUNTY COURT

Street Railway "Digger" Cases and Charges of Unlawful Assembling Will Be Tried.

CAULFIELD NOT AN ACCOMPLICE

But an Informer in the Opinion of Judge McDougall—Charge to the Grand Jury.

The County Court and Criminal Sessions were opened on Tuesday. There are 60 criminal and eight civil cases for trial.

Judge McDougall, in his address to the grand jury, referred particularly to the charges of unlawful assembling and the Street Railway "digger" cases. An unlawful assemblage, he said, is the gathering together of a number of persons in a manner to endanger the peace, even tho no unlawful act is intended. These cases arose from the recent industrial disturbances in Toronto.

In regard to the Street Railway theft cases, His Honor said there was one thing he desired to say, and that was that they were very difficult of detection because of the nature of the crime. It was natural that a conductor who wanted to use the "digger" would do so when alone or almost so; in consequence the Crown's case in most instances would depend on one man. This person was not an accomplice

The grand jury is composed of the following gentlemen: Frank Simpson, Thos. Shaw, Gordon H. Watson, all of Toronto; Elijah A. Armstrong, Alex. McDonald, Elihu Hall, Jesse Ireland, John Johnson, Arthur Morgan, George F. Morgan, John Stewart, J. N. Stong, Ab. Torrance, all of the county. The foreman is J. N. Stong of Woodbridge. Robert F. Spence of Toronto and John French of the county were on the original list, but were not on hand at the opening of court, and Alex. McDonald and Thomas Shaw were substituted for them.

These appeals will be heard: Julius Carless, Swansea, assault; Robert Buchner, malicious injury to Toronto Railway Company's property; Nora Collins, assault; Andrew Lawson, selling soft drinks on Sunday; Albert McLean, driving at an immoderate rate of speed.

These persons applied for naturalization papers: E. G. Westphal, Valentine Westphal, James Lindala, John Wiler, N. F. Rogers, Solomon Israel, Abraham Nass, Lee Ling, Solomon T. Teiziau.

The work of the County Court will begin at 10 a.m. The peremptory list is: Moody v. Ferguson, Stone v. Gardiner, Good v. McColl Bros., Fahey v. Hammall, Lott v. Waterloo Fire Insurance Company, Grantham v. Cochrane.

TEACHER OF PIANO HARMONY AND SINGING,

By my method, we can make good performers and practical musicians of all intelligent children, with or without musical talent.

We teach Harmony in connection with Piano, and, by this means, lay a foundation which will enable pupils who are governed by our directions to secure a certificate from Toronto University.

We can justly claim superior advantages for our Kindergarten instruction, from the fact that pupils, separately, are under the daily care of an experienced teacher, who combines theory with practice.
