The World is the most extensively circulated and widely read newspaper published in Canada. It knows no party or personal allegiance in treating public measures.

The World aims to have the largest circulation by deserving it, and claims that it is unsurpassed in all the essentials of a metropolitan newspaper.

The World is offered at a price which places it within the reach of all: $3 per annum; $1 for four months; 25 cts. for one month.

Judges' Salaries.

Several leading contemporaries have taken strong ground advocating an increase in the incomes of our provincial judges. The determined course The World has pursued in condemnation of the fee system for provincial officers leads us to say something on this topic.

If the judges who now receive fees would abandon all claims to fees as part of their remuneration we would feel it to be our duty to chime in with the advocates for the proposed increase of judicial salaries.

The Dominion Parliament have the exclusive jurisdiction to provide salaries and allowances for judges of the superior and county courts of the province as well as the Supreme Court and Maritime and Exchequer Courts of the Dominion. Some of the judges of the county courts of Ontario are remunerated by fees as ex-officio judges of the surrogate courts, and some of them are local masters of the High Court and paid by fees, whilst others, more highly favored, have salaries allowed them in lieu of fees by the Provincial Government. Why there should be this preference shown, except on the ground of favoritism, it is hard to understand.

The local masters of the High Court are judical officers—some are paid by fees, whilst others are in like manner favored by salaries. Some of these judges and local masters have applied to be placed upon salaries in lieu of fees upon the same footing as others in the same position and been refused upon various trifling excuses. We think all should wi th out favor be treated alike.

After frequent representations made to the Dominion Government as to the exigency of increasing the judges' salaries, they have been met with the objection that whilst men can be obtained to take judicial positions when offered them for the present remunerations, there can be no reason existing for increasing the salaries. This argument might apply to any employment and is probably putting the subject down to the lowest point of consideration.

It is not merely men who are required for this service, nor is it the filling up of the positions when vacant all that is necessary. We want efficient and trained men educated for the position, of the best material and highest character.

The public affairs of this country and the administration of justice in our courts which have to deal with increasingly important interests of social, commercial and municipal, as well those of provincial as of Dominion import, have become such that lawyers of the highest attainment and character, the largest experience and of enlightened mind, should be secured, when vacancies occur, to occupy the judicial bench.

No second or third-class lawyer should be thought of, or parsimonious considerations entertained in this connection.

In order to induce suitable men to give up lucrative practice at the bar, the salaries offered should be adequate to the dignity and respectability to be maintained and niggardiness is a mistake.

The judges should not only have the means of living and enjoying the comforts which other people possess with whom they associate, but they should be enabled to lay by something for their families.

We have security from sheriffs and registrars if they go wrong bytheir being obliged to give bonds for the due performance of their duties; but what security have we orom those who hold the judicial office but their integrity and high attainments, and if these are wanting the public suffers.

The present salaries being so small and the retiring allowances only two-thirds of their salaries keeps several of the older judges on the bench who have become enfeebled by long service and advanced years, and prohibits the resignation of those who are too poor to retire upon the pension, and the country is deprived of that vigor and freshness which are among the essentials to a proper discharge of duty.

Compared with other colonies of the crown, the salaries of our judges are exceptionally low, and as the subject requires overhauling and proper adjusting The World sees no reason why it should be kept in abeyance from session to session of Parliament without decisive action.

Free Trade Not Growing.

The free traders never cease to predict the triumph of their views and to glory in their spread. And yet the truth is, there is not a single free trader left in France. At any rate, this is what M. Meline, the president of the Customs Commission, says. He admits that there are those who call themselves "free traders," but they are really only "comparatively more moderate protectionists." There are MM. Berger and Lockroy, for example. They are called free traders "because they would not protect all manufactured goods, but only some."

Canadian free traders will hear with grief that the Cobdenites in England now have gone without their dinner. It has been the custom for many years for the Cobden Club to dine together once in every twelve months. Of late these festivals have been lugubrious. Now they cease altogether. The Cobdenites are self-sacrificing. Whether they will or no, chill penury has repressed their noble rage. They have, indeed, still a little money; but so desperate is the need of it for the conversion of protectionist heathen in other lands that none can be spared for feasting at Greenwich.

A Playground Wanted.

A correspondent in another column suggests what he considers a suitable site for a down-town park. The happiness of his choice will doubtless elicit varied opinions. That a down-town playground and airpasture is required will not admit of denial, however. The only question is: How is it to be got? In New York two plots of ground have been provided by private philanthropy. One is fifty by one hundred feet in area and the other a square of two hundred feet. Each is furnished with swings, see-saw stands, small wagons, wheelbarrows, shovels, footballs, flags, banners, drums and a heap of sand. Both plots are alive with children from morning till night. Considerable difficulty was at first experienced in governing the unruly, but experience has enabled promoters to bring a perfect rule of law and order among these young, semi-civilized barbarians that hive in New York slums. But it is not slum-children alone who require these playgrounds. Boys and girls of all grades require such places for their recreation, where the weak may be allowed to exercise their limbs without fear of the tyranny of the fiercer and stronger children

Apply the Knife.

The civic estimates, which were submitted to the Executive Committee on Saturday, exhibit in a striking way the vast interests which our aldermen are empowered to administer. The affairs of the Province, which bring to their discussion every year 91 gentlemen from all parts of Ontario at $600 each, are not to be spoken of in the same class as those of this Queen City of Ontario. An expenditure so vast requires the best system that can be devised for its proper and economical employment, but no system will succeed that is not backed up by a vigilant and intelligent interest on the part of the citizens.

The draft estimates show a rate of 17½ mills on the dollar, but a vigorous use of the knife will undoubtedly reduce the rate. Even then it cannot be said that the rate would be a favorable one. The legislature has thought fit to limit the power of a municipality to a taxation of twenty mills on the dollar. It was deemed impossible that any municipality would find it necessary to impose a higher tax than that. Many ratepayers in this city, however, are actually paying a taxation much in excess of the statutory limit. Their local improvement rates added to the regular rate exceed twenty mills. That they do so uncomplainingly demonstrates their confidence in the city and their pride in their property.

This absence of complaint should not slacken the hand of the alderman, however. Let the knife be used judiciously, but vigorously. Let Toronto be not only a pleasant and healthful but also a reasonably cheap city to live in.

Mr. Blake in a speech at Vancouver the other night made amends for his former "sea of mountains." He now says that British Columbia is "a little more than undulating in its physical characteristics," and is "markedly distinguishable by the graceful outlines of its contour."

Robinson's Musee.

Jones, Mail; Kerr, World; Wilson, Globe, and Till, Empire, the typo knights, will enter the fray this week to compete for the prizes offered by Proprietor Robinson of the musee. The lecture-room of the theatre will be the arena of the battle. It will be an interesting and novel scene to witness these experts whirl the cold type into intelligent reading matter, and the champion will be awarded the beautiful championship gold medal. In the theatre McFadden's Novelty Stars will perform. It embraces a host of European and American artists. Delmar and Baker in the sketch "Dolly's Vacation," a rural idyl quaintly told, interspersed with sayings, rapid crayon drawings of pretty subjects; Miss Lora Ritchie, male impersonator and vocalist; Grovenor Adams, musical comedians; the Brothers Gloss in antique statue acts; George Ritchie, acrobatic song and dance and silence in fun; Miss Lou Pierce, the peerless serio-comic; Howe and Johnson, Irish comedians, and others will use their best arts to please the patrons of this popular place of amusement.

Redcoats at Church.

The 10th Royal Grenadiers paraded 575 strong in the Queen's Park yesterday afternoon, Col. Dawson in command, preparatory to proceeding to S. Margaret's church to attend divine service. Col. Grassett, Chief of Police, was also in the line of march in command of a squad of ex-Grenadiers. The line of march lay along Queen's Park-avenue to Queen, and thence along Queen to Spadina. Prof. Clark was the preacher and the church was taxed to its fullest capacity to accommodate the throng which crowded in with the citizen soldiers. It was generally admitted that the appearance of the regiment yesterday eclipsed any previous turnout. The men were in splendid marching trim and made a gallant showing.

Her Injuries May Prove Fatal.

HAMILTON, May 10.—A very exciting run away accident occurred near the corner of King and James-streets yesterday. Mrs. Lloyd, employed as nurse for the children of Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Crerar, Bay-street south, was badly injured and lies in the Hospital in a critical condition, and Miss Ottaway, the young daughter of Mrs. Crerar, and little Harry Crerar were badly bruised and will likely feel the effects of their terrible experience for some time. Mrs. Lloyd and the children were out driving when the horse took freight and ran away throwing the occupants on the roadway. Mrs. Lloyd's injuries consist of a contusion on the forehead; her body and head are bruised, but no bones are broken. Miss Ottaway and little Miss Crerar were not badly hurt.

Nunthorpe's Jubilee Stakes.

LONDON, May 9.—The great occurrence in English sporting circles to-day was the race for the Kempton Park Great Jubilee Stakes, which was run at the Kempton Park May meeting. The conditions of the race were as follows: The fifth year of the Kempton Park Great Jubilee Stakes, a handicap of £3000; the second to receive £200 and the third £100 out of the stakes; for 3-year-olds and upward; winning penalties; the new mile course. The race was won by Col. North's 5-year-old bay horse Nunthorpe by Speculum or Camballo, out of Matilda. Douglass Baird's 4-year-old bay colt Martagon by Ben de Or out of Tiger Lily was second, and Hamar Bass' 5-year-old chestnut horse Rusticus by Hermit out of La Belle third. Nineteen horses ran.

Canoeists Make Merry.

The last of the Toronto Canoe Club's little smokes was held on Saturday evening. The members presented Prof. Joe Popp with a pretty medal and assured him of their best wishes. THIS IS A GREAT BIG CITY.

OUR EXPENDITURE WILL BE OVER SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS.

The Debt Fifteen Millions—The Draft Estimates Submitted—The Rate According to These Will be 17½ Mills—This will Undoubtedly be Pruned Considerably.

City Debt	$15,920,505
Assets	12,000,000
Expenditure for year	7,508,942

Treasurer Coady states that the building permits issued during the first four months of this year exceed in value those of the same period last year by nearly a million dollars, or in other words are two and a half times greater. To those who thought our city was at a standstill, this will be a revelation. The figures are: Last year, $499,375; this year, $1,377,610.

The statement appears in the draft estimates for the current year which were laid before the Executive Committee on Saturday by City Treasurer Coady. The document makes a substantial pamphlet and contains many startling figures, but all through there runs a vein of bright promise for Toronto's future which must be peculiarly gratifying to those who have very much at stake in the progress of the Queen City. The introductory sentence is one which deserves to be quoted:

"No city in the Dominion of Canada, and probably no city on the American continent of equal size and population, has made and is making greater and more satisfactory progress than Toronto. Every year large sections in the outskirts of the city are being occupied, thereby increasing the annual revenue, and in every section of the city buildings, many of them of a costly nature, are either in course of erection or permits for their construction have been applied for and granted at the City Commissioner's office.

"Take the public school property of Toronto as an example, it totals in value $1,320,508. Mr. Coady says kind words for the Free Library and Industrial Exhibition and gives quite an extended notice of the Hurontario ship railway scheme. This latter enterprise if carried to completion, he argues, will have a wonderfully beneficial effect on the commercial and shipping interests of the city. As finance minister of Toronto he urges rapid progress in the work of reclaiming Ashbridge's Bay. Touching the Toronto Street Railway he says:

"Another valuable asset recently acquired by the city is the street railway property and plant. In 30 years the annual revenue derivable from this source if property and judiciously invested will be great, and by the reduction of fares the citizens will reap a direct benefit as well as the employes owing to increased pay and shorter hours of labor. Pending the acceptance of a tender to operate the road satisfactory financial arrangements have been made for the acquiring the assets of the Toronto Street Railway Company, the value of which has been determined by the arbitrators.

"Before closing the introduction to the dry but potent array of figures Mr. Coady touches on the telephone situation as follows:

"Another source of revenue which has to be considered is the amount which the Bell Telephone Company offers to pay annually in consideration of being granted a five-year franchise; also the rent which other companies are willing to pay in return for the city granting them the privilege for a term of years of the use of the streets of the city. Hitherto these privileges have been granted, either for nothing or for a mere nominal sum out of all proportion to the value of the privilege granted, and by this means the city has lost in the past a large amount of annual income. The present would be a convenient time, in my opinion, to inaugurate a new system and insist that in the future every company using the city streets for the purpose of making a profit shall pay a fair and equitable annual rental for the same.

"The City Treasurer advises the City Council to meet the requirements of the city at the outset and not increase the city debt, only issuing bonds for the acquisition of real estate and the erection of substantial buildings, such as schools, school sites and permanent municipal buildings. It would be better to slightly increase the rate of taxation than by bonds to increase the public debt beyond actual necessity. At present the annual sum required for the sinking fund to be provided to meet the city's general debt is $779,455, and the interest to be provided is annually $805,788, making together an annual sum of $785,243, or equivalent to a rate of over five mills on the dollar of assessment.

"The total net debt of the city up to May 1 was $12,724,785.35, and adding to this amount other sums required for the new city and county buildings, etc., local improvement debt and amounts authorized, but not yet issued, the total net debt for 1891 will be $15,920,505.92. The property possessed by the corporation is estimated at $12,000,000, a large portion of which, such as the waterworks, is revenue-producing. The total sum to be dealt with is $7,508,942, exceeding last year's figures by nearly a million dollars. The City Treasurer divides this amount as follows:

Section I.—Items to be provided for by special receipts		$4,401,162 00
Section II.—Again sub-divided into:
Sub-section 1.—Uncontrollable expenditure	$1,602,436 00
Sub-section 2.—Controllable expenditure	1,505,344 00
		3,107,780 00
Total as above		$7,508,942 00

Section one includes expenditures on capital account, which will be met by the issue of debentures. The greatest item in this account is that for the repavement of Yonge, Queen and King-streets.

By uncontrollable expenditure is meant the cost of matters of absolute requirement, such as interest, sinking fund and other charges incident on the maintenance of the civic credit in connection with its general debenture charges, charges fixed by bylaw or act of Parliament, police forces, jail, schools, etc.

This table gives a summary of the controllable expenditure by committees as compared with 1890:

Committee.	1890.	1891.
Executive	$ 238,340 00	$ 251,462 00
Works	256,700 00	342,896 00
Waterworks	185,000 00	327,684 00
Fire and Light	309,371 00	313,160 00
Property	34,149 00	101,496 00
Parks and Gardens	27,893 00	92,375 00
Markets and Health	114,604 00	158,141 00
Special Committee:
Esplanade viaduct	7,000 00	.....
Level crossings	.....	3,000 00
Cedar block roadways	.....	5,630 00
	$1,158,057 00	$1,505,344 00

The assessment of 1891 is $146,860,000, as compared with $136,500,000 in 1890. As figured out by the City Treasurer, if the draft estimates are adopted without the usual pruning process, the rate of taxation for this year cannot fall below 17¼ mills on the dollar. This will yield a revenue of not less than $2,570,050. To this is to be added the sum of $598,200 of revenue other than taxation, such as waterworks revenue, city rentals, etc., and $3000 statute labor tax, but again from this sum has to be deducted $62,470 taxes on non-resident lands, Court of Revision allowances, etc., making the net expenditure $3,107,780.

Mr. Thomas Ballard, Syracuse, N.Y., writes: I have been afflicted for nearly a year with that most-to-be-dreaded disease, Dyspepsia, and at times worn out with pain and want of sleep, and after trying almost everything recommended, I tried one box of Parmelee's Valuable Pills. Deadly Gasoline.

ST. LOUIS, May 10.—Mrs. Fannie Feinburg of No. 1214 North Seventh-street was fatally burned by the explosion of a gasoline stove yesterday afternoon.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Fire was discovered in a basement laundry in North Clark-street today. A dozen firemen went into the room to extinguish it. A can of gasoline exploded, throwing them to the floor and against the wall with great violence. Two of them are believed to be fatally injured, and the others are badly cut, burned and bruised.

CHICAGO, May 10.—Miss Jennie Tupper, aged 19, died in horrible agony here last night of injuries received from a gasoline explosion. Her uncle, Prof. John H. Thomas, principal of the Wells school, and his wife were severely burned and the former will probably die.

THE CENTRAL BANK.

Motion to Make Bank a Co-Plaintiff Against Defendant Directors.

The master in chambers was on Saturday asked to dismiss the libel action of Hay v. Gilchrist, an action between two furniture manufacturers, but an order was made allowing the plaintiff to proceed with his action by delivering a statement of claim within two weeks. The plaintiff carries on business at Woodstock, while the defendant resides at Wingham.

N. Murphy, Q.C., acting for Maria Corrigan, who was convicted of a breach of the Liquor License Act and fined $50 and costs, moved before Chief Justice Galt for a writ of certiorari. The defendant kept a boarding house in Sherbourne-street and was in the habit of supplying liquor to her boarders. One boarder who paid $3.25 a week swore that he got a glass of whisky before breakfast and lager beer for dinner. The magistrate says: "I find that the defendant was in the habit of supplying a glass of beer to her boarders if they preferred it to tea or coffee or other non-intoxicant beverages, and holding this to be an infringement of the act I fine the defendant." His lordship granted the order asked, expressing a very strong opinion that the conviction was wrong.

A writ of habeas corpus was granted in the case to Reg. v. Corydon W. Smith, who was convicted of vagrancy an Tilsonburg, and is now confined in the Woodstock jail. Shortly before his arrest, Smith was liberated from the Norfolk county jail, having been arrested in connection with the Bloomburg mystery.

A motion was made in Reg. v. Clark to supersede a writ of certiorari. Clark was convicted of selling liquor at the Toronto Exhibition last year and fined $50 and costs. He obtained a writ of certiorari to have the conviction returned to the high court with a view to having it quashed, but since that has taken no further step. An order was made allowing him to the fourth day of next term to move to set aside the conviction and in default that the writ be superseded.

On the return of the writs of habeas corpus and certiorari in the matter of the Queen against William Swain, the Toronto tailor, convicted of house-breaking and sentenced to six months in the Central Prison, a motion was made to quash the conviction, but judgment was reserved.

Mr. Justice Street on Saturday made an order admitting to bail William Price, at present in the Toronto jail awaiting his trial for rape. Price was tried at the last assizes, but the jury disagreed. He is to enter into a recognizance, himself in $500 and two sureties in $250 each.

In the criminal action of Queen v. I. H. Radford an application was made to Chief Justice Galt on behalf of the defendant for leave to issue a commission to Buffalo and New York for the examination of witnesses, but judgment was reserved.

Charles Millar, acting on behalf of J. D. Henderson and other shareholders of the Central Bank, moved before the master in ordinary on Saturday for an order joining the Central Bank as co-plaintiff with Henderson in the proposed action of the shareholders against the late directors of the bank, or for an order that the bank be joined as a nominal defendant. W. R. Meredith, Q. C., appeared on behalf of the bank. As the shareholders meet on Tuesday next to receive and pass upon the report of the liquidators of the amounts realized, dividends paid, etc., the master reserved judgment till after then, so that he might hear what the shareholders have to say for themselves. The meeting will be held in the master's chambers and will, it is expected, be a stormy one. Mr. Millar was directed meantime to file an affidavit setting out in detail the charges which he proposes to embody in his writ. In any event the action will go on, for if the master refuses to grant the order asked the plaintiffs may then proceed on their own account.

On Tuesday next at 11 o'clock a.m. the Court of Appeal will deliver judgment in the Smart and 13 other cases.

AUCTION AT RYAN'S.

A Brutal Husband Lays his Wife Out as an Hospital Patient.

A woman named Lena Ryan lies at the Hospital in a precarious condition, the result of wounds inflicted by her husband Hugh. The man is at Castle Green awaiting an interview with Police Magistrate Denison.

The couple live at 143 Munro-street. Saturday afternoon Ryan, befuddled with liquor, returned home to find his wife in a worse condition than he was. He was indignant, and from words they came to blows, the result of which was that the woman received a terrible beating. From a cut over her left eye the blood flowed freely and about her head and body were a number of severe contusions. Dr. McKenzie ordered her removal to the Hospital. Her assailant was arrested shortly afterwards.

Ryan, who is a pensioner, is well-known to the police, and rows between himself and wife are of common occurrence. The authorities at the Hospital last night reported that there was no improvement in her condition.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning? The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford for the sake of saving 50c, to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails.

The company includes Miss Ada Boshell, who interprets the Irish Colleen charmingly, little Danny McCarthy, who takes the part of Bright Eyes, Nellie, a dog who fights a bear, and a real Irish piper.

A Profitable Change.

The Street Railway Company will be $1500 better off by their decision to stop issuing tickets. Accountant Menzies of the City Treasurer's office has been figuring on the subject, and his conclusion is that from the time the privilege was stopped until the 16th inst., when the road passes into the hands of the city, the company will save that sum.

TWO HELLO COMPANIES.

Council Will Talk Over the Bell Proposal To-Night.

An effort was made at Saturday's meeting of the Executive Committee to send back the Board of Works recommendation that the proposition of the Bell Telephone Company be accepted by the city. There was a full meeting, including His Worship. Ald. Graham moved that the clause be referred back.

Ald. McMurrich took issue with Ald. Graham and showed that dual telephone systems would not only cause confusion, but would entail additional expense, as at least 90 per cent. of the present users of telephones would have to put in two instruments instead of one as at present. Ald. Orr moved in amendment that the clause be sent on to council, with the recommendation that it be referred to a special committee of that body. This was adopted.

The Mayor wanted a special inquiry made into the feasibility of giving all civic employes a Saturday half-holiday. He thought it was a poor rule which did not work for all departments as well as one. Ald. Jolliffe said he had as a member of the Markets and License Committee given the fullest consideration to the proposition and rested his objection to it on the statement of the City Commissioner that it would cost in his department alone an additional $10,000 yearly. No action was taken.

Ald. Hallam objected to A. W. Godson being awarded the tender for the block-paving of Douro street because of the position in which he is placed by the report of Judge McDougall. A motion refusing to award him the contract was voted down. The Toronto Paving and Construction Company, represented by E. Pearson, complained of unfair treatment in having their tenders for the asphalting of Gerrard-street east and Adelaide-street west and Wellington-street west thrown out in favor of the Warren-Scharfe Co., although theirs were the lowest in two instances. The clauses in the Board of Works report giving the American Co. the work were referred back to that body for further action. Later it was determined to allow Warren-Scharfe to retain Wellington-street west, as their tender was the lowest for that work. Adelaide-street west was struck out at the request of the City Engineer for further action, and therefore Gerrard-street east only remains to be re-reported on. At the request of Ex-Mayor Howland a sub-committee, composed of Ald. Jolliffe, MacMath, Orr and Hallam, was instructed to report on the management of an old men's home. The Reception Committee was instructed to take steps to write the American Association of Charcoal Iron Workers to hold its summer session in Toronto.

Song—Nocturne F. Minor ..... Chopin
Miss Topsher.

Mrs. W. J. Lang, Bethany, Ont., writes: "I was one of the greatest sufferers for about fifteen months with a disease of my ear similar to catarrh, entire deafness. I tried everything that could be done through medical skill, but without relief. As a last resort, I tried Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, and in ten minutes found relief. I continued using it, and in a short time my ear was cured and hearing completely restored. I have used this wonderful healer successfully in cases of inflamation of the lungs, sore throat, coughs and colds, cuts and bruises, &c., in fact is a our family medicine.

WAS IT AN ABDUCTION?

The Strange Incident Witnessed By Two Girls in the Queen's Park.

Principal James Boddy of the Bathurst-street Public School called the attention of the police last evening to a peculiar incident in the Queen's Park, which occurred in the morning. He says that his two little girls were crossing the park when they saw a tall dark man, the typical heavy villain, dragging a handsomely dressed little boy towards one of the streets running towards Yonge-street. The boy was crying and wanting to go away to his mother. To this the man replied, "You will never see your mother again." There was no person in sight to whom the girls could appeal, so they ran home and told their father. The police are investigating.

A Playground.

Editor World: I think the best place for a large hotel or park is beside the Metropolitan church. It is central, and can be purchased cheap. Between Bond-street and Victoria-street closing up the lane between Queen and Shuter-streets. A SUGGESTION.

Millinery Opening.

The third lot of French pattern hats and bonnets has just been opened up at McKendry's and will be on view Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, April 27, 28 and 29. Whatever is new, whatever is stylish, whatever is the right price that you'll be sure of getting at McKendry's, 202 Yonge-street, six doors north of Queen. 136

Good Advice

If you do not want to injure your liver and kidneys don't buy baking powder in bulk. Buy the Princina or Borwicke, both are absolutely pure and as cheap as the bad powders. Purity of the Princina and Borwicke proven by the Dominion Government and legally sworn declaration with each package.

For Gentlemen Only to Read.

There are many people suffering with torpid liver and kidney complaints through eating pastry, buns and biscuits made from bad bulk baking powder. Tell your wife to use the "Borwicke," proven to be absolutely pure by Government analysis.
