WESTERNER IS PLEASED WITH THIS PROVINCE

W. J. Hood, of British Columbia, Purchases Farm in Victoria Co. — CentrevilleExhibitionSuccessful

(From a Special Correspondent.)

Woodstock, N. B., Sept. 29.—The two days' annual exhibition at Centreville, which closed Thursday night, was one of the most successful held by the Wicklow Wilmot and Kent Agricultural Society whose officers are C. A. Simonds of Royalton, president; A. A. H. Margison, of East Centreville, secretary, and H. J. Clark, of Centreville, treasurer. There were 1,035 entries which exceeded by far the number last year. There was a very large attendance throughout. The band from Mars Hill, Me., was present on Thursday and furnished delightful music.

In cattle there was a good showing of Ayrshires and Holsteins; in horses the Clydes and Percherons prevailed, while in pigs the white Chesters and Yorkshires were numerous. There was a great improvement in many departments, particularly in poultry and other live stock especially swine, sheep and horses.

W. H. Moore, of Scotch Lake, York County, who was the judge for roots and vegetables, says the exhibits were very satisfactory. "The object of exhibitions," he said, "is to produce and exhibit roots and vegetables good for seed, which object was lost sight of by many of the exhibitors." He was pleased with the exhibit of oats and wheat and there was a particularly nice showing of carrots. He thought there should have been more exhibits of honey.

The school exhibit in charge of Miss Fern Page was the contribution of eight schools and was highly spoken of by the judges, Rev. J. W. Hurlow and Dr. H. W. Peppers.

The following were the judges in the different departments: Fruit, R. P. Gordon, of Fredericton; manufactured articles, J. Hood, of Glassville; woolen and fancy work, Mrs. R. P. Gorham, Fredericton, and Miss Ronald of Glassville; dairy products, N. W. Everleigh, of Sussex; horses, J. F. Frost and J. T. Prescott, of Sussex.

Immediately after the exhibition closed J. B. Daggett, secretary for agriculture, and Seth Jones, poultry expert, and Amos Downey, of Centreville, who has been appointed assistant to Mr. Jones, for the next three months, will establish a poultry fattening station at Centreville of which Bert Cliff will be in charge. One has also been opened in Hartland with Robert Kidney in charge. One each will be established by Messrs. Jones and Downey in Gagetown, Sussex, Moncton and Rogersville.

Buildings will be rented in these places and fitted up with fattening crates. A weekly demonstration will be given in each place showing the best methods of fattening, dressing and packing poultry for the foreign markets.

An interesting visitor at the exhibition on Thursday was W. I. Hood, of British Columbia, a Scotchman by birth, who, interviewed by The Standard's correspondent, said: "Some months ago I saw some literature prepared by the secretary of agriculture, J. B. Daggett, which so impressed me with the desirability of settling in New Brunswick that I wrote to Mr. Daggett on the subject. On receiving his reply I sold my fine property in the west, where I had been for 11 years, and with my wife and family came to New Brunswick. I met Mr. Daggett and I have purchased the Dickinson farm at Victoria, in Carleton County, for $4,200. I am amazed to hear that anybody would leave this fine county and province to settle in the west.

"I have furnished Mr. Daggett with the names of a dozen dissatisfied western farmers in my former neighborhood who will sell out, follow my example and settle in New Brunswick, when they find out from the local government, who now have the matter in hand, as I have done, the advantages possessed by your province.

"I consider the eleven years I spent in the west have been lost although I did as well as any of the western farmers and my only regret is that I did not know of your beautiful province before I settled in the west."

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT. BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Make it thick, glossy, wavy, luxuriant and remove all dandruff.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a litle Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

Keeps It At Home.

"My hubby goes out every evening for a constitutional."

"Mine don't; he keeps it in the house."

JOHN TRAVIS ON TRIAL IN CIRCUIT COURT

Interesting Point Raised for Defense by Mr. Mullin —Viola Reid Found Not Guilty.

The case of the King vs. John Travis, committed on a charge of breaking and entering the premises occupied by Esty and Company, on Dock street, and stealing two scripts, was commenced before His Honor Mr. Justice White and a jury in the Circuit Court yesterday afternoon, at half past two. The alleged offence occurred on Sept. 6 instant. The accused was arrested on that date at eleven o'clock in the evening and subsequent investigation by the police led them to lay this charge against him.

Attorney General Grimmer appeared for the Crown and D. Mullin, K. C., for Travis.

The following were selected as the jury: Richard H. Irvin, Colin C. Clarke, George A. Shephenson, Percy B. Holman, Charles F. Olive, Walter S. Knowles, George K. Berton, Edw. Walsh, Brady E. deBoo, Harold E. Northrup and Edw. A. Cronin and Charles Christie.

Several peremptory challenges were made by the defence.

The testimony adduced at yesterday's proceedings was the same as given at the preliminary examination, which has been fully published.

For the Crown, Deputy Chief Jenkins, Officer Frank O'Leary, Police Clerk Henderson, James A. Estey, Lloyd Estey, Alfred E. Estey and John Galbraith, testified. Shortly after 5.30 the Attorney General announced that this closed the case for the Crown.

Mr. Mullin: I submit that there is not sufficient evidence with which to go to the jury. There is no evidence that the accused was seen in the vicinity of Estey & Co. There is no evidence on which to have the presumption that the two scripts found on the accused were those belonging to Estey & Co.

The Court: You are now dealing with the second count in the indictment—the theft count.

Mr. Mullin: Yes, Your Honor.

Mr. Mullin: With reference to the count charging breaking and entering I submit that the pencil found is not sufficiently identified to warrant the jury in drawing an inference that he was around the premises on this night.

Counsel for accused cited authorities in support of his evidence.

The Court: I admit the case for the Crown is a weak one.

The Attorney General replied that the pencil in court belonged to the defendant. He believed that there is sufficient evidence to place the matter before the jury.

His Honor thought that he had better allow the case to go to the jury and if the accused was convicted Mr. Mullin would have a case on appeal on this point.

Mr. Mullin then very briefly opened to the jury, and Mrs. Edith Green was the first witness for the accused. Witness keeps a lunch room on Brussels street and swore that, on September 6th instant, the accused was in her place of business. This was between seven and eight o'clock. The said prisoner remained about twenty minutes. Witness said she again saw Travis at 9.30 o'clock.

Cross-examined by Attorney General she said that she remembered the date as being the sixth of September that Travis was there because she saw in the newspaper an account of the arrest.

The court arose at six o'clock and the case will be resumed this morning at ten o'clock.

Viola Reid Free.

After deliberation of one hour and fifteen minutes the jury in the case of Viola Reid, charged with the murder of her infant child, in the Circuit Court yesterday morning, before His Honor Judge White, returned a verdict of "not guilty" and the prisoner was discharged on motion of the Attorney General, Hon. Mr. Grimmer. The verdict seemed to meet the approval of spectators, who showed their interest in the case by remaining about the court room until the jury had returned, and who began to stamp their feet as though applauding, until the court was compelled to call for order.

The prisoner sat in the dock without any apparent emotion, throughout the hour and a half during which the judge was charging the jury. She kept her eyes fastened on the bench continually while the words fell from the judge's lips, only very rarely allowing her gaze to flash for a moment towards the jury box as if to read if possible the thoughts of those who held her fate in their hands. With apparent unconcern she scanned the faces of the jury when they returned to their seats, and not even the faintest shadow of emotion flitted across her face when Alfred Burley, the foreman, announced their finding, or when His Honor granted her discharge. She engaged in a few minutes' conversation with her counsel, P. A. Guthrie, and then left the court-room.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Timothy Lynch.

Mrs. Timothy Lynch died in the General Public Hospital yesterday morning after quite a long illness. She leaves one sister in Prince Edward Island and one in Chicago. Her husband is a patient in the provincial hospital. There are no children.

William McCaustland.

William McCaustland, a well-known citizen of the North End, died at his home, 101 Sheriff street early yesterday morning. Mr. McCaustland was seventy-five years of age. He had conducted a grocery store in Sheriff street for some years. He leaves his wife, two sons, Andrew and John, both of this city, and two daughters, Mrs. William Waltham of St. John, and Miss Hannah, of Boston. The funeral will be held from his late residence on Wednesday morning.

COMMISSIONERS DISCUSS THE ALLOTMENT OF HARBOR BERTHS

Matter Laid Over Until Next Meeting of Council — Com. Schofield will bring in Recommendation Favoring Waiting Ships— To Extend Water Service on Britain Street.

The city council met yesterday and discussed various matters, but did little beyond ordering an extension of the water service on Brittain street 250 feet to the eastward of Pitt street. Com. Schofield said he had been unable to prepare his report on the allotment of the berths at Sand Point, but would bring in recommendations at the next meeting, with a provision enabling the city to give berths to waiting ships when not occupied by companies having the regular allotment.

In the absence of Mayor Frink, who is in Montreal, for the purpose of interviewing the Grand Trunk Pacific authorities, Com. Wigmore occupied the chair.

H. L. McGowan was heard in connection with his application for a commission on the sale of the Greenhead property. He said the report on the matter submitted to the council was not correct. He was not in the council when he became the representative of David Craig. While he was in the council another party had applied for the property, but nothing came of it. Next year after leaving the council, he had gone to New York and got in touch with David Craig. Later he had tried to interest Mr. Beach, of Philadelphia, and had then turned over negotiations to Max McCarthy.

Mr. McGowan said he had spent about $1,000 in advertising and trying to find somebody who would establish a cement plant at Greenhead.

The matter was laid over till the return of the Mayor.

Com. Agar exhibited plans submitted by the C. P. R., providing for three entrances from Mill street to the Company's warehouses.

Com. McLellan said the people were entitled to a sidewalk on the west side of Mill street. He thought two entrances on Mill street were sufficient, as traffic there was very congested now. If the company wanted another entrance they should start in from Main street, near the cold storage building.

Com. Schofield thought they should consider the business interests of the city.

Com. Agar said he had brought up the matter for consideration, and moved that it be laid over till a conference could be arranged with the superintendent of the C. P. R. here. This was adopted.

Signs in Rockwood Park.

A letter was received from J. R. Armstrong in reference to the placing of signs to direct strangers to Rockwood Park. Com. Schofield moved that the council approve of erecting such signs, and authorize the commissioners of safety and public works to arrange with the Directors of the Horticultural society and the street railway for placing the signs.

A bill for $100 was received from Henry Holgate for consultation in connection with the plans for rebuilding North Market wharf. It was ordered paid, and charged to North Market wharf account.

To Extend Water Service.

Com. Wigmore recommended that the water service on Brittain street be extended 250 feet from Pitt street, at an estimated cost of $500. Two new houses were being erected there. The recommendation was adopted. An eight-inch pipe will be laid.

Com. Agar said his department was making arrangements to fix up the foot of Acadia street.

Harbor Berths.

Com. Schofield said he approved of the arrangements made last winter in respect to the allotment of steamers' berths at Sand Point, but thought the commissioner of harbors or the harbor master should reserve the right to prevent any company holding a berth to the detriment of another company. He proposed to bring in recommendations next meeting providing for the allotment of berths, subject to limitations at the order of the harbor master.

Com. McLellan said that if the steamers were handled with the idea of assuring the greatest dispatch, they might make room for the Red Cross Line to come here. He understood that the Red Cross Company proposed to run a weekly service between St. John and New York.

Com. Schofield said the Donaldson and the Manchester boats, which brought much local freight, had berths on the east side. He thought that when the east side berths were vacant other boats might be permitted to use them.

Com. McLellan approved this idea. The local merchants should expect to accept some inconvenience to help in upbuilding the port, and if it would facilitate the movement of shipping by letting other boats use the east side berths there should not be any kick if local freight was landed on the west side.

Com. Agar said there would be 29 more sailings this winter, and the harbor master should be given more latitude in placing steamers. There was likely to be congestion, and the companies should give and take.

The matter was then dropped.

Letters were received from M. G. Teed and L. P. D. Tilley stating that the street railway was digging holes for poles on the properties of the Gilbert estate and of Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson on the Marsh Road, and asking the city to stop the railway from erecting poles inside the fence lines. The matter was referred to the recorder to report back.

Communications were received from the Maritime Nail Co., and Gandy & Allison, protesting against the by-law prohibiting auto-trucks from entering the sheds at Sand Point. They were referred to the commissioner of harbors.

Council then adjourned.

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHT FOR CONSERVATIVE COUNTY COUNCILLORS

Politics Enter Into Contest and Situation Promises Sweeping Victory in Carleton Co.

Hartland, Sept. 29.—The elections for county councillors will now be brought out on the lines of the larger politics. It was at first supposed that the old candidates, Morgan and Britton, would go in unopposed, but the Liberal leaders in the county have got together and will drive the political horse for all it is worth. There are now four candidates in the field, two Conservatives and two Liberals. Messrs. E. C. Morgan and E. A. Britton will carry the banner for the Conservative party; while Henry London and Rainsford Birmingham will endeavor to prove the strength of the Liberals of the parish Front Brighton. These latter would not have come to the front had not F. B. Carvell and other Liberal lights taken an auto tour through the county with the object of drumming up sacrifices for the Liberal altar wherever there were Conservatives in the field for municipal honors. The political feeling runs strong in the county, and the Laurierites will sacrifice their dearest interests in an endeavor to put to route the supporters of the Conservative party, both local and Dominion.

However, the Conservative standard bearers, having the consciousness of a just cause, are getting down to good hard work and are receiving much encouragement from the electorate, who recognize the attempt to defeat Morgan and Britton as merely a "feeler" for the more important contests which may come later on.

On Wednesday evening a meeting in the interests of Morgan and Britton is planned at Belyea's Corner, Windsor, when the record of these councillors will be unveiled and the campaign will be formally opened. This district is the home of both Britton and London, and the encounter there will be the most strenuous for many years. Morgan and Birmingham have their strongholds nearer Hartland, and the fight in this section will not be so much in doubt, as the former is looked upon in a most favorable light, and his popularity throughout the parish presages an easy victory, despite the influences which will be brought to bear against him. His strength and help will also do much to assist his running mate, Mr. Britton. There is only about three weeks now till election, and in that time the political pot will be kept boiling in good shape.

For ten days this oasis in the wilderness will be in the throes of a religious revival, under the leadership of Gypsy Smith, an evangelist of some note. The campaign was opened on Sunday with three meetings, all of which overcrowded the churches in which they were held. People came in carriages from miles around to get a look at the "gypsy" and to hear the message he had to deliver. So enthused are the people that during the series of meetings all stores and places of business will be closed at 7 p. m.; the picture house will remain dark, housework will be hustled through and everybody will go to "meeting."

REAL ESTATE.

The transfer of a block of eighty-four acres of land at Rothesay from William C. Izzard and George W. Slocum to Rudolph Bedard and Rolland Prefontaine, representing a Montreal syndicate, was completed on Saturday, when the deeds were delivered to the new owners. The purchasers are having plans prepared for the division of the property into building lots, which will soon be placed upon the market.

LONGSHOREMEN WAITING FOR A REPLY NOW

No Communication Received from Shipping Companies or from Department of Labor.

Officials of the Longshoremen's Union have not yet received a reply to their communication to the shipping companies, notifying them of the union's decision to move for a new schedule of wages to go into effect on the 15th of November. It was reported that the Shipping Federation of Montreal had decided to apply for the appointment of a board of conciliation and investigation under the Industrial Disputes Act, but such application has not yet been sent to the Dominion Labor Department, as the local union have failed to receive any official notice to that effect, though a letter was addressed to the Labor Department asking that the union be notified at once if such application was made. It is the desire to have the question settled as soon as possible.

The act provides that employers and employees shall give at least thirty days' notice of an intended change affecting conditions of employment with respect to wages and hours and in every case where a dispute has been referred to a board of conciliation, until the dispute has been finally dealt with by the board, neither party affected shall alter conditions or inaugurate a strike or lockout under penalty of heavy fines.

If either party uses the act for the purpose of unjustly maintaining existing conditions through interposing delays, and the board so reports to the Minister of Labor, such party shall be guilty of an offence, and liable to heavy penalties.

After the board has brought in its finding there is no provision for enforcing its award, but as the proceedings of the board and its findings are made public, the publicity given to the situation enables the public to form a definite opinion as to the merits of the dispute, and public opinion is supposed to have some effect upon the disputants.

LABOR DELEGATES BACK, PLEASED WITH MONTREAL CONGRESS

Convention will be Held in St. John in 1914 — All their Resolutions were Passed.

J. L. Sugrue, J. E. Tighe, John Montague, George Redmore and other St. John delegates to the convention of the Trades and Labor Congress held in Montreal last week, have returned home. According to their stories, the Labor Congress was the most successful held in Canada, and demonstrated that the labor movement in Canada is becoming militant. The number of delegates in attendance was 356. The fraternal delegate from the Trades Congress of Great Britain was Will Thorne, M. P., one of the leaders of the socialist group in the Mother Country.

All the resolutions introduced by the St. John delegates were approved by the congress, and they are particularly gratified with the result of their campaign to get the congress to meet in St. John in 1914.

TYPEWRITTEN WILL GOOD

Judgment Given Yesterday Morning on Interesting Point—Will Proved—Two Estates taken up.

At the opening of the adjourned hearing of the probate court yesterday to prove in solemn form the will of Miss Elizabeth McGoldrick, the court stated that the objection made by Recorder Baxter to the will that it was typeprinted and not written, the act making use of the term "in writing" was probably the first time that the question had been raised in this province, and probably the first time it had ever been raised in a jurisdiction wherein the same statutory requirements are in force with an interpretation act identical with our own. Probably in Great Britain the most conservative conveyancer and engrosser would hesitate to use the medium of the machine in the preparation of so solemn a document as a last will but here, ever since the introduction of the use of typewriting machines the contrary has been the custom and, although this has not been for a long period, still it has been sufficiently long to establish what might be called a custom which would no doubt be recognized by the higher courts. Accordingly the ruling is the objection to the will on the ground that it is typewritten will be over-ruled.

The court then announced that, upon the evidence already given by the witnesses to the will, a prima facie case had been established and thereupon no other witnesses being called the will was declared proved in solemn form, and Mary Alice Morgan, the executrix named therein was sworn in as such. Stephen B. Bustin is proctor for the executrix, Amon A. Wilson, K. C., proctor, for one of the legatees, Recorder Baxter, K. C., proctor for one of the legatees who opposed the will. The estate is sworn at $14,000 realty, $40,000 personal, a total of $54,000.

The will of Mrs. Margaret Donahue, widow of Dennis Donahue, was proved. She directs that after payment of debts her executor shall pay the sum of $50 to the Rev. Arthur W. Meahan, then rector of the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, or his successor in office for religious purposes, and a like sum to Rev. J. Joseph Walsh for like purposes, the balance of her estate she gives to Patrick Costello, of St. John, laborer, and she nominates her brother, Thomas Cogger, grocer, executor. He was sworn in as such. There is no real estate; personalty about $165. John A. Barry is proctor.

In the matter of the estate of Howard D. Troop merchant, J. Roy Campbell, the administrator with the will annexed, filed his accounts as such and asked to have the same passed and an order for distribution made. A citation was issued returnable on Monday, November 10, at 11 a. m. Messrs. Barnhill, Ewing & Sanford are proctors.
