GARNISHEED THE CASH.

Queer Sequel to a Breach of Promise Suit—The Lawyer's Fees and the Landlord's Rent.

LONDON, May 24.—A few months ago Miss Nahala Ormond of 66 York-street entered a breach of promise of marriage suit against John Branton, a milk dealer living in the Gore of London. The plaintiff asked $5000 as a reparation for her injured feelings.

The case was on the docket for the Middlesex Spring Assizes, but an agreement was arrived at out of court whereby the defendant was to pay $225 in settlement of all claims, including the fees of Miss Ormond's lawyer, E. Meredith, Q.C. Miss Ormond, it is alleged, told her friends that of this amount she was to receive $100, the balance going to her counsel.

The fair plaintiff has been for five years a tenant of Mr. E. Jarmain, 336 Ridout-street, and owes her landlord $104 rent. On learning of this Mr. Jarmain promptly garnisheed to the extent of $100 the money in the hands of Mr. Branton and his solicitor, Mr. J. B. McKillop.

This case came before Judge Elliot at the Division Court sitting. Mr. Meredith, who has a lien on the sum for his services, swore that the whole amount of the settlement, $225, belonged to him and was a just charge for services performed as counsel for the plaintiff. Questioned by Mr. D. H. Tennent, Mr. Jarmain's lawyer, Mr. Meredith admitted that he had intended to give his client, Miss Ormond, a "gratuity" and might still carry out those intentions.

The application of Landlord Jarmain was dismissed.

WHAT THE BELLS TOLD.

Ringing in Life and Death for a Philadelphia Family.

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—Life's story—birth, marriage and death—was enacted in the home of Michael N. Jennings, the coal merchant, of Fifth-street and Washington-avenue, in a single day. He had three sons, William, James and Michael. The wife of James gave birth to twins while the bells were still ringing out the chimes of William's wedding, and the same chimes tolled the song of parting day for Michael, who died very suddenly. The twins, a boy and a girl, are youngsters of promise, who may live to tell their strange story from the scrap-book of life.

MISS AUPPERLE AT REST.

The Lorn Maiden Laid in a Philadelphia Cemetery.

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—Miss Emma Aupperle, who committed suicide by throwing herself over Niagara Falls last week, was quietly buried from the residence of her cousin, George Miller of No. 923 Marshall-street, yesterday afternoon.

At the head of the coffin stood a large cross of white roses, and in the room was a profusion of cut flowers. The face of the corpse was slightly bruised and swollen.

RECIPROCITY WITH ENGLAND.

Story of a Trade That Salisbury Made With Harrison.

LONDON, May 24.—The correspondent of The New York Times has cabled the following to his paper in a story concerning Lord Salisbury's recent speech on protection and free trade:

"Late to-night I get from a quarter, the authority of which I regard as absolute, this strange addendum. The statement is that when Salisbury consented that England should become a party to the forthcoming bi-metallic conference he exacted a price from President Harrison.

A Price Harrison is to Pay.

"This price was the President's consent to use his discretionary powers under the reciprocity acts allied with the McKinley Bill to admit free of duty a number of English manufactured goods. These, as I gleam to me, are Sheffield cutlery, plated ware of Birmingham and certain other metal products of the industrial North.

"It is said that Mr. Harrison will, in some fortnight's time, issue a proclamation placing these on the free list. Immediately that is done, Parliamentary dissolution will be declared here, and reliance will be placed on the reaction this will cause among the workingmen in favor of the Government.

"This is not a very plausible explanation of Salisbury's unaccountable talk in favor of differential duties, though it comes from a source which I am warranted in describing as authoritative."

Secretary Foster Says "Absurd."

WASHINGTON, D.C., May 24.—Secretary Foster denied to-night as absurd the story from London that the President would in a short time issue a proclamation under the reciprocity clause of the McKinley Act placing on the free list a number of articles of English manufacture and particularly Sheffield cutlery, Birmingham plated ware and similar metal products in return for Salisbury's acceptance of the invitation to take part in the conference for the increased use of silver. As the Secretary pointed out the McKinley Act gave the President no power to take any such action.

A Scotch Breach of Promise Action.

EDINBURGH, May 24.—In the Outer House of the Edinburgh Court of Session Lord Wellwood closed the record and ordered issues for jury trial of an action in which Mary Jane Wylie, teacher, 88 North Hanover-street, Glasgow, sues Andrew Foulds, wine merchant, Abbey-street, Paisley, for £2000 damages for alleged breach of promise of marriage.

The defender admits the promise, but pleads that his health having given way since he made it and the state of his health being such as to render him unfit for marriage, and as marriage would endanger his life he is justified in refusing to marry the pursuer.

Medical certificates regarding the defender's health are produced. Before the action was raised he offered to pay the pursuer £150 and her agent's expenses, but the offer was declined. That offer he now repeats, with expenses up to date.

Reports in Person.

The World has received a telegram from Mr. W. J. Nelson, dated Moosejaw, contradicting the report of his death. Mr. Nelson in his despatch states that since leaving Toronto he has been practising law in Moosejaw in partnership with John G. Gordon. The World has already stated that careful enquiry showed that the ultimate source of the report that Mr. Nelson had suicided was not a reliable one. Mr. Nelson's friends will be glad to hear that the report is untrue.

Mr. John McCarthy, Toronto, writes: "I can unhesitatingly say that Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery is the best medicine in the world. It cured me of Heartburn that troubled me for over thirty years. During that time I tried a great many different medicines, but this wonderful medicine was the only one that took hold and rooted out the disease."

SHOT HIS COMPANION.

A Young Fool With a Gun Nearly Kills a Boy.

Edmund Wood, the 11-year-old son of James Wood, 105 Bloor-street west, was playing in the woods in rear of James Austin's residence on Wells' Hill yesterday afternoon with a 17-year-old companion when he met with an accident which will maim him for life, even should it not terminate fatally.

Wood's companion was armed with a small rifle and had, as he thought, discharged all the chambers. Stepping up to Wood in order to frighten him he placed the muzzle of the rifle to the lad's face and pulled the trigger.

As generally happens, there was one chamber of the rifle still loaded, and it was a cartridge upon which the hammer descended. The bullet entered Wood's face on the left side of the nose and crossed over to the right side, lodging under the eye.

Dr. Harrison was summoned by an eye-witness of the shooting and had the injured lad removed to the hospital, where, last night, he was reported to be resting quietly.

The boy who did the shooting is almost crazed at the tragic outcome of his criminal folly.

PICNIC AT HOUSE OF PROVIDENCE.

Many Enjoy the Hospitality of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Over 6000 people spent an enjoyable afternoon and evening at the House of Providence yesterday. Much praise is due to the combined efforts of the Sisters of St. Joseph and Messrs. Milligan and Forsythe. The I.C.B.U. won the prize in the grand tug-of-war between the societies. Games, gymnastics by the Turn-Verein Association, followed at 8 p.m. by a well-rendered concert, closed the proceedings. We must not forget to mention the fireworks, which were inimitable.

Celebrate Confederation.

Editor World: It is frequently stated that Canadians should more generally celebrate their country's natal day, but the suggestion is not so often acted upon. If there be a Canadian patriotic sentiment, of which I have no doubt, though some deny it, no better evidence of the fact can be given in a time of peace than the enthusiasm which is aroused among our people when the recurring anniversaries of our Dominion's birth are fitly celebrated, and the experience of other countries, notably that of the United States, proves that in no better way can such a patriotic national sentiment be created or awakened. Feeling that this year, being the 25th anniversary of Confederation, it is specially important that such a celebration should take place, and no action having been taken by our city fathers in that direction, the city lodges of the Sons of Canada have circulated and had largely signed a requisition asking the Mayor to call a public meeting to take the matter into consideration. In response thereto a meeting has been proclaimed for Friday evening next, 27th inst., in the Pavilion, and, as much will depend upon the success of this meeting, it is earnestly hoped that the citizens will manifest their interest in the country's national holiday by turning out in large numbers on that occasion.

A number of invitations have been sent to national and other societies, but, as in the short time to elapse it will be impossible to reach them all, perhaps you will permit me to say that they are not only cordially invited but earnestly desired to send as large a representation of their members as possible, and thus to assist in furthering the effort being put forth to secure a small measure of honor being done to this important anniversary. GEO. H. SMITH, President, Beaver Lodge, S. O. C.

Toronto, May 23, 1892.

Parmelee's Vegetable Pills contain Mandrake and Dandelion; they cure Liver and Kidney Complaints with unerring certainty. They also contain Roots and Herbs which have specific virtues truly wonderful in their action on the stomach and bowels. Mr. E. A. Cairncross, Shakespeare, writes: "I consider Parmelee's Pills an excellent remedy for Biliousness and Derangement of the Liver, having used them myself for some time."

Life Saved by a Button.

NEW YORK, May 24.—Bartender Fred Muncie grew obstreperous last night, fired a bullet through the proprietor's hat and when Policeman W. Jones attempted to arrest the man he shot at the officer. The bullet struck a button on Jones' coat and imbedded itself in a big matchbox in his pocket.
