TAXES!

RATEPAYERS OF THE CITY OF LONDON are requested to take notice that for 1893 they may, if desired, pay their taxes in two instalments, the first of which must be paid during the first 30 days of August, and the second during the first 30 days of October. Ratepayers paying the instalments as they become due according to the above dates will not be charged interest, nor will discount be allowed. If either of the said instalments is not paid during the time above specified, a 5 per cent. interest charge will be immediately added thereto. Any ratepayer paying the whole of his taxes during the first 30 days of August will be allowed a discount of 3 per cent. off the second installment, the payment of which he might have deferred till October. Rates amounting to less than $6 are not sub-divided. Special attention is directed to the fact that in order to enable the council to satisfactorily close its own financial year, the collectors have been directed by bylaw to return the rolls for 1893 to the city treasurer on the 15th day of December next, so that if the instalments are not paid as above specified, they must be collected previous to Dec. 15, with the 5 per cent. added. When paying your taxes bring marked check or even change. Do not wait to pay your taxes till the 30 days have nearly expired; by so doing you will run the risk of being crowded out in consequence of the inability of the collectors to receive same. Pay as early in the month as you can. The 5 per cent. charge must be added after the expiration of the 30 days without considering the cause of or reason for non-payment. By order, C. A. KINGSTON, City Clerk. City Clerk's office, July 4, 1893. 14m tyw

Discovered a Comet.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., July 10.—At 4 o'clock Sunday morning Prof. Swift, at the Warner Observatory, received from Alfred Rordame, of Salt Lake City, a telegram saying: "Naked eye comet observed 10 o'clock July 8 in constellation Lynx. No telescopic observation possible."

The comet was observed last evening by Prof. Swift and B. C. Maine, of this city. It has a tail two degrees in length and rapidly increasing.

Parochial Schools Abandoned.

PITTSBURG, July 10.—The board of trustees of the Catholic parochial schools of Butler, Pa., to-day announced that the schools would not reopen in September. There was considerable excitement among the upholders of the parochial school system when they learned that Catholic pupils would be required to attend the public schools hereafter. The trustees have arranged with the directors of public institutions to take the pupils off their hands. About 1,000 Catholic children were enrolled when the school year ended.
