McKINLEY IS ELECTED

The Protectionist Sweeps the Buckeye State.

FLOWER CARRIES NEW YORK

Tammany Still Controls the Empire State.

BUT THE TIGER'S CLAWS ARE WEAKENING

A Democratic Governor in the Bay State.

With the Exception of Ohio the Democrats Appear to Have Carried All the Principal Offices in the Respective States—Results in the Keystone, Bayou, Wolverine, Sucker and Other States—Returns Necessarily Incomplete, But Sufficiently Complete to Form an Estimate.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Elections were held to-day in 11 states of the American Union. The results so far as can be learned to-night were:

New York.

Candidates for Governor: Rowsell P. Flower, Democrat; Jacob Sloat Fassett, Republican; Joseph W. Bruce, Prohibitionist; Daniel De Le n, Socialist Labor. Vote of the State for President in 1888, Cleveland, 635,965; Harrison, 650,338; Prohibition, 30,231; Union Labor, 293. Vote for governor in 1888: Hill, Democrat, 650,464; Miller, Republican, 631,283; Jones, Prohibitionist, 30,215; Hall, Socialist Labor 3348.

The City Press Association says returns from all parts of the state show Fassett's majority in the 55 counties north of the Harlem River will not exceed that of Davenport in 1885, which was 49,291. Flower's majority south of the Harlem River will be about 72,000. Although Flower's vote in New York city falls short of the vote given Hill in last Governorship election by about 15,000 the Democratic candidate appears to have carried the state by about 10,000 and there is a strong likelihood that entire state Democratic ticket is elected although Sheehan, the Democratic candidate for Lieutenant-Governor runs considerably behind.

Eight hundred and fifty-four election districts in New York city give Flower 139,215, Fassett 83,227. Boody, Democratic candidate for Mayor, will come close to 10,000 plurality.

The total vote of New York city gives Flower, the Democratic candidate, a plurality of 58,290. Brooklyn gives him 15,000.

The New York Mail and Express concedes Flower's election by 10,000 but Democrats say the figures will be more than twice those of the Republican estimate. The Tribune (Rep.) estimates Flower's plurality at 15,000 and the Press (Rep.) says the Republican State Committee concedes Mr. Flower's election as governor of the state.

The singular feature of the result is the growth of Democratic opinion in the rural districts and the falling off of the Democratic vote in the great cities, except in Brooklyn, where a great fight on local offices served to get out a heavy vote. Mr. Flower's majority, estimated at this writing (12.30), is between 30,000 and 40,000, and although W. F Sheehan, Democratic candidate for Lieut.-Governor, ran badly behind his ticket, he is undoubtedly elected with the rest of the state ticket by a comfortable plurality. The Assembly is again Democrat, but the Senate remains Republican by a slightly reduced majority.

Mayor Charles F. Bishop (Dem.) is elected in Buffalo by over 4000 plurality together with the Democratic city ticket. Fassett and Flower ran very evenly in the city. On complete returns from 100 out of 117 voting places there are only six votes difference between them.

Ohio.

Candidates for governor: James E Campbell, Democrat; William McKinley, jr., Republican; John J. Ashenhurst, Prohibitionist; John Seitz, Farmers' Alliance. Vote of the state for President in 1888: Cleveland, 396,445; Harrison, 416,054. Governor Campbell was elected in 1889 by 379,455 votes to 368,551 for Foraker. Republican, 26,504 for the prohibition candidate, and 1048 for a Union Labor nominee.

Returns from Ohio will be compared with vote on Secretary of State in 1890, when Ryan (Rep.) had a plurality of 10,969. There have been a large number of additional precincts formed since 1890, but the subdivisions will be added together and compared with the old precincts as it existed in 1890. There were 2493 precincts in Ohio in 1890. Thirty-three precincts in Ohio outside Cincinnati gave McKinley 4089 and Campbell 3050. The same in 1890 gave Ryan (Rep.) 3928 and Crowley (Dem.) 2837.

The Lincoln Club of Cincinnati estimate McKinley's plurality in Hamilton county at 6500 and in the state from 18,000 to 20,000.

Although, by reason of the operation of the new ballot law, returns are still incomplete and very much scattered there seems no room to doubt the defeat of Gov. Campbell by Major McKinley by majorities ranging from a conservative estimate of 10,000 to outside figures of 25,000. The Republicans seem to have captured the Legislature on a joint ballot, although the returns are few. Their success in this direction probably ensures the re-election of John Sherman to the United States Senate.

Chairman Hahn at the Republican headquarters said to a Columbus press reporter at 11 o'clock: "I have not the slightest reason to change my estimate of Ohio going Republican by at least 19,000. Every return strengthens my belief. The entire Republican ticket has been elected." Chairman New of the Democratic Committee said: "Everything is lost. McKinley will carry the state by at least 15,000; anything above that you can use your own figures for; we are snowed under."

"How about the legislature?" was asked.

"Well, they take that, too; but I cannot tell by what majority."

Iowa.

Candidates for governor: Horace Boies, Democrat. Hi am C. Wheeler, Republican; Isaac T. Gibson, Prohibitionist; A. J. Westfall, People's. Vote of state for President in 1888: Cleveland, 179,877; Harrison, 211,508. Governor Boies was elected in 1889 by a vote of 189,120, to 173,556 for the Republican candidate, 1862 for the Prohibitionist, and 5773 for the Labor nominee.

Governor Boies claims re-election by a reduced plurality, but the Republicans dispute this and claim to have carried the state. The other state elections were of little consequence, and anything like accurate returns are not obtainable.

Maryland.

Candidates for Governor: Frank Brown, Democrat; William J. Vannort, Republican; Edwin Higgins, Prohibitionist. Vote of the State for President in 1888: Cleveland, 106,168; Harrison, 99,986.

The Democrats have elected their state ticket and also a handsome majority of the legislature, which will probably re-elect Senator Gorman to the United States Senate.

The Baltimore Sun says the Maryland Legislature continues Democratic by from 30 to 40 majority on joint ballot. Brown (Dem.), for Governor, is elected by a very large majority. There are some changes in Baltimore City local tickets, but this will not affect the result in the state.

Pennsylvania.

Candidates for State Treasurer: A. L. Tilden, Democrat; David McMurtrie Gregg, Republican; George Drayton, Prohibitionist. Vote of the State for President in 1888: Cleveland, 446,633; Harrison, 526,091. Vote for Governor in 1890: Pattison, Democrat, 464,209; Delamater, Republican, 447,652; Gill, Prohibitionist, 16,108.

The vote of Pennsylvania will be compared with State Treasurer vote of 1889, which gave a Republican plurality in Philadelphia county of 39,743 and Republican majority in state outside Philadelphia county of 21,162 votes.

The total Republican majority in the entire state will not be less than 40,000. The proposition for holding a constitutional convention was overwhelmingly defeated.

Massachusetts.

Candidates for Governor: William E. Russell, Democrat; Charles H. Allen, Republican; Charles E. Kimball, Prohibitionist; Henry W. Robinson, Socialist Labor, and Henry Winn, People's. Vote of the state for President in 1888: Cleveland, 151,808; Harrison, 183,892. Governor Russell was elected in 1890 by a vote of 140,507 to 131,454 for Brackett, Republican, and 15,554 for the Prohibition candidate.

Governor Russell's plurality is about 5000, but the Republicans claim the balance of the ticket and have probably got it. Returns from the legislature are meagre, but the Republicans claim both houses.

New Jersey.

New Jersey elected part of the senate and the assembly.

In the late legislature the Democrats had 27 majority on a joint ballot and have increased this and will retain the Democratic U. S. senatorship.

Virginia.

Virginia elects one-half its senate and its house of delegates.

Of 19 state senators the Democrats have certainly elected 11. Of the 100 members in the House the Democrats have elected 70 regular Democrats. Candidates are defeated in Matthews and Middlesex by the Alliance candidate.

THE CITY'S WORKS.

High Level Bridge at Queen-street—Circumstances Alter Cases—The Junction's Sewage.

At City Hall yesterday afternoon a meeting of the Board of Works was held. There were present: Ald. Allen (in the chair), Atkinson, Stanley, Macdonald, Lucas, Small, George Verral, Hall, Burns and Hewitt. A communication was read from the City Solicitor giving as his opinion that he did not think any agreement will be come to regarding the Queen-street high level bridge over the Don except under order of the Railway Committee of the Privy Council. He also recommended that the application to the Railway Committee be renewed, and that the City Engineer be there to explain the plans, estimates, etc.

Ald. Hall's motion in council to advertise for a city engineer at a salary of $4000 was left over till the next meeting.

At the Court of Revision yesterday morning William Croft appealed against an assessment of $15 per foot on his property in the Rosedale valley. He swore that the land was worth nothing and had a reduction of $2 per foot made. At the Board of Works meeting in the afternoon a letter was read from Mr. Croft's solicitors saying that they were instructed not to accept the $600 offered by the city for the property, his price being $1000. Truly circumstances alter cases.

Some discussion took place on the engineer's report dealing with the Toronto Junction sewage disposal. Mr. Cunningham expressed the opinion that the sewers were of sufficient capacity to accommodate the sewage of Toronto Junction. He also thought that there could be no objection to the sewage of the Junction, or at least a part of it, being drained into Garrison Creek sewer. Ald. Burns objected on sanitary grounds. "I believe," he said, "that much of the disease in the city is caused by sewers. The smell that arises from the man-holes is most dangerous, and I do not think that more decomposed matter should be admitted to our sewers than can be avoided."

The matter was referred to the trunk sewer sub-committee.

TO SEEK INCORPORATION.

Dominion Millers' Association Will Move to Secure the Desideratum.

The committee of the Dominion Millers Association held two meetings yesterday at the Rossin House.

The Banking Committee met in the morning. Its object was to discuss the matter of selling on 30 and 60 days and giving up bills of lading. The committee decided to visit the head offices of the banks in a body and ask their assistance in keeping to the custom of shipping only to order, several millers having broken through the agreement.

The Executive Committee met in the afternoon to discuss the incorporation of the society. The meeting was the result of a resolution passed at the last meeting of the association. The pros and cons were well threshed out and it was decided to recommend to the general meeting in December incorporation under the Dominion Act.

Big Flouring Mill Destroyed.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 3.—The large flouring mill at Holloway, owned by Mr. John Frederick and tenanted by Mr. John Wanger, took fire yesterday morning and was completely gutted, only the walls being left standing. The mill was erected many years ago by the Messrs. Wallbridge of this city. It was a substantial stone structure and cost $22,000.

Chisholm to be Lashed.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—Archibald Chisholm, the Winnipeg manufacturer charged by Winnipeg parents with debauching their children, was to-day sentenced to five years in the penitentiary and 25 lashes.

John Gibson, livery stableman, on a similar charge, was given two years.

Barrett, for burglarizing a city store, got three years, and Webb, who shot his brother in a wheat field, escaped with nine months.

Furs For Fair Women—Winter's Newest Styles.

Warmly buried in her exquisite garments of furs a woman looks out upon the cold world with a contented composure which is peculiar to herself. The average woman derives far more comfort from her furs than the average man imagines. What wonder, when one considers that with them she defies the bleak winds of winter! In style she is continually demanding something new and artistic, and dealers hasten to gratify her fancies. Messrs. W. & D. Dineen, on corner King and Yonge-streets, are showing decidedly new fashions in garments made from seal, Persian and grey lamsbkins, sables, mink, etc., etc., and worthy of a special mention.

Heisel's Digestive Gum is a delicious cure for dyspepsia. Druggists, 5c.

A Port Dover Fire.

PORT DOVER, Ont., Nov. 3.—About 1.30 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in the building in Main-street occupied as a billiard hall. The flames spread to the adjoining buildings, on the one side the Erie Hotel, occupied by R. Graham, and on the other the residence of J. Johnson, livery keeper, which were a total loss.

IN TENTS OF PALM LEAVES.

SHIPWRECKED SAILORS FEED ON CRABS AND SEA SNAKES.

For Days They Have No Water to Drink—Missionary Large's Murderer Arrested and an Attempt Made to Extort a Confession from Him—Ravages of the Cholera in Japan.

YOKOHAMA, Nov. 3.—The American schooner Kitsap has arrived at Hiogo. They left Port Townsend July, 4, with a million feet of lumber for Shanghai. Off Oagari, on the morning of Sept. 9, a heavy squall struck the vessel and she ran on the rocks amidships. The crew saved the provisions, landed on a barren island and built themselves tents of palm leaves. They took out the keel and for four days saved all lumber they could, piling it on the shore, but the typhoon of Sept 14 washed it to sea. After 14 days the captain and three men left in an 18-foot boat for Loo Choo Islands, 180 miles distant, where they arrived in five days, during three of which they were without water. They were treated hospitably by the natives and a steamer sent for the remainder. These, meantime, suffered terribly. There were no inhabitants on the island and the men lived on crabs and sea snakes. No water was found till two days before the steamer arrived, by which they were taken to Hiogo.

Excitement on the Paris Bourse.

PARIS, Nov. 3.—There were wide fluctuations on the bourse here to-day, threatening an extensive fall. A decline was checked, however, by heavy buying in order to prevent difficulties in the settlement.

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—The boerse to-day was very much agitated, the feeling growing out of the situation at Paris. The suspension was announced of a firm of large dealers with liabilities of 6,000,000 marks.

Murdered on Her Way to Be Married.

DURHAM, Nov. 3.—As Mrs. Addison, a widow who keeps lodgers at Hetton-le-Hole, five miles from here, was on her way to church on Saturday to be married to Andrew Simpson, she was met by a lodger named William Johnson, who, when within a few feet of her and without a word, levelled a gun and fired, the shot taking effect in her breast. Almost immediately after he fired again, when Mrs. Addison fell to the ground dead. Johnson was madly in love with his landlady and was dogging her footsteps all last week. He has surrendered to the police.

Railroad Wreck in Roumania.

VIENNA, Nov. 3.—A fearful railroad accident is reported from Roumania. The rails were removed at a particularly perilous place on the line between Jassay and Pashkane and the express became an almost total wreck. Four persons were killed and 20 injured. The persons guilty of removing the rails have not yet been discovered.

London Shoemakers Locked Out.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—Seven thousand shoemakers of this city have been locked out, and unless the matter at dispute is settled by to-morrow 22,000 persons will be affected by the difficulty.

The Murder of Missionary Large.

TOKYO, Japan, Nov. 3.—The Jap arrested charged with the murder of Missionary Large and other murders and burglaries has been placed in solitary confinement to extort a confession.

Lost From Over the Sea.

By a fire at Hangkow, China, 1300 houses were burned and ten times as many people left homeless, with considerable loss of life through women and children being trampled under.

Official returns show 560 cases cholera in Japan up to Oct. 5, with 309 deaths.

It Will Be a Lively Meeting.

Notice has been sent out to the sharholders of the Dominion Building and Loan Association that a special general meeting of shareholders is to be held on Nov. 30. The objects of the meeting are stated to be to allow the name of the association to be used as defendant in the suit Dought vs. Wright against the directors by the shareholders, and to consider an amendment by which the directors shall be reduced from nine to seven. Circulars are out urging shareholders to attend the meeting, as grave issues are involved. It promises to be a lively meeting.

Not British Justice.

Mr. John Trowbridge, for about 15 years caretaker of Parliament-street Public school, has resigned that position. It appears that Mr. Harlton, principal of the school, preferred indefinite charges against Trowbridge a week ago, which were considered by a committee of the board. On Friday Trowbridge was summoned before the committee and the charges made by Harlton were read to him. This was the first time that Trowbridge had any idea what the charges were. He had applied to the superintendent and to the chairman of the board to be furnished with a copy of Mr. Harlton's allegations but could not get them. He thought he had been unfairly treated and resigned.

Must Hand Over the S.S. Taxes.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 3.—Roman Catholic authorities here threaten to bring suit against the city to compel payment of Catholic taxes and the aldermen, in view of the recent decision in the Supreme Court, are inclined to accede to all demands.

None but the miser, who keeps his money handy in a strong box, or the deadbeat, who has no money at all but "runs on his face," can ignore credit. "Cash" means money in hand, "Credit" means time. Every housekeeper should know that time is given by the C. F. Adams Company to pay any furniture bill contracted in their establishment and that they look on credit in its extensified sense equally available to the workingman or the millionaire. C. F. Adams Co.'s Home Furnishing Establishment extends from 177 to 179 Yonge-street, through to 6 Queen-street east.

Snow in North Dakota.

GRAND FORKS, N.D., Nov. 3.—It commenced snowing about noon yesterday and snowed all afternoon. The snow is drifting badly. Many of the men brought here from Minnesota to help threshing are leaving because of cold weather, and as a large portion of the grain is still unthreshed it is doubtful if farmers can finish threshing before September.

The best of all cures for weak digestion—Adams' Tutti Frutti Gum. Sold by all druggists and confectioners; 5 cents.

A Novel Social Amusement.

The latest fin de siecle craze of London, Paris and New York drawing rooms is the phonograph soiree. An instrument is secured for the evening, with a choice selection of musical and spoken records. The guests also talk and sing into the phonograph, which talks and sings in turn back to them, to their infinite astonishment and delight. Some of these novel soirees have already been given in Toronto on phonographs obtained from the district agency, 19 King-street east.

ADAM BROWN BANQUETED.

The Late Member for Hamilton Entertained by His Friends.

HAMILTON, Nov. 3.—The banquet tendered to Mr. Adam Brown by the citizens of Hamilton on the occasion of his retirement from political life and in recognition of his services in connection with the Jamaica Exhibition to-night at the Royal Hotel was attended by 100 of Hamilton's representative and most influential citizens. The Hon. D. MacInnes occupied the chair. The vice-chairs were occupied by the Hon. W. E. Sanford and William Hendrie. Telegrams and letters of regret were read from Hon. J. J. C. Abbott, the Premier; Hon. John Carling, Minister of Agriculture; Hon. Mr. Foster, Minister of Finance; Mr. Ogilvie, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell, Hon. Mr. Haggart, Postmaster-General; Hon. John M. Gibson and Hiram Walker of Walkerville.

A BABY IN A SMOCK.

An Infant Choked to Death by a Piece of Cotton.

KINGSTON, Nov. 3.—Matthew Healey, while returning from pasture, observed a child's foot sticking from under the sidewalk. Investigation revealed an old blue smock inclosed in which was the body of an infant. Blood oozed from the mouth and nose of the body, and the left side of the jaw was broken. Around the neck was tied, as if by a strong person, a piece of cotton. It was wound around several times so firmly and doubly knotted that Coroner Mundell had plenty of trouble in undoing it.

AN ORANGEVILLE MAN'S DEATH.

His Lifeless Body Found in False Creek—Was He Murdered?

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 3—The body of W. P. West, city poundkeeper, was found lying on the mud of the tidal flats, on False Creek, yesterday morning. The police set to work to find, if possible, the cause of the death. There were some things observable about the body which would lead one to suspect that death may not have been wholly accidental. There was less foam at the mouth than there is usually in a case of drowning. Blood was visible behind the left ear, and upon feeling the head several lumps were found, one near the crown being especially large. West was also known to be a fairly good swimmer and even at high tide there was scarcely more than five feet of water in the place where he was found.

Sergeant Haywood spent a busy day and was finally rewarded by finding the only man who knew anything about West's death. This was William McCullough, a teamster, who boards at the Granville Hotel. McCullough was arrested as a material witness.

There are two or three incidents in West's life which give grounds for suspicion of foul play. The bruises on his head were swollen, and were so placed as not likely to be struck where he fell off the wharf, and frequently during his sleep he is said to have muttered something about people who would do him up if they caught him out alone. McCullough and West had gone to school together near Orangeville, Ont.

The Class-Leaders' Convention!

The proceedings in connection with yesterday's sessions of the Class-Leaders' Convention were equally as interesting as their predecessors. "The Model Class Leader" was discussed in an able fashion by Rev. J. F. Starr during the afternoon. The discussion following was headed by W. H. Pearson. Rev. J. V. Smith dilated upon "Classes for the Young" and was followed by Richard Brown in a short talk on that subject.

Carlton-street Church was the scene of the evening's meeting. Four addresses of 15 minutes duration each were delivered. The subjects and those who gave them were: "The Relation of the Leader to the Pastor," W. W. Ogden, M.D.; "Christian Fellowship," Rev. Manly Benson; "What Class Meetings Have Done for the Methodist Church," J. T. Moore, and "Lessons of the Convention," Rev. H. Johnston, D.D.

Sudden Death at The Agricultural College

GUELPH, Nov. 3.—Mrs. David Ross of Cobourg, Mrs. Mills' mother, died very suddenly at the college last evening. About three weeks ago Mrs. Ross came from her home in Cobourg to see Dr. Cameron in Toronto. He being unable to do anything for her Mrs. Mills brought her to Guelph to see Dr. McKinnon. The doctor held out no hopes of recovery, so she was preparing to return home when she took suddenly ill and died at 7.30 last evening. Deceased was a native of Ayrshire, Scotland, and was born near the home of the poet Burns. When a girl she attended the famous Alloway kirk.

P. D. in Sole Control.

OTTAWA, Nov. 3.—The Evening Journal has passed into the sole control of P. D. Ross, he having bought out the interest of his partner, A. S. Woodburn. The Journal, which will shortly move into new and commodious quarters, appears to be flourishing vigorously. Mr. Ross is one of the most courageous, able and enterprising journalists in the Dominion.

Cast His Ballot and Dropped Dead.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 3.—Ex-Judge Whalen, who was United States Consul at Fort Erie during the administration of President Cleveland, dropped dead a few minutes after voting in the 21st Ward today. Heart disease and disappointment over his defeat for the Democratic nomination as municipal judge are supposed causes for his sudden death.

Thrown Out of His Rig.

John McGregor, manager of the Toronto and Midland Manufacturing Company, met with an accident while driving through East Toronto yesterday. The wheel slipped off the edge of the road at a place where it suddenly drops a foot or more. He was thrown out and a compound fracture of the jaw and dislocation of the wrist joint and other severe bruises were the results. Dr. R. A. Burns, who is attending him, reports that his patient will be confined to the house for some time.

What the Country Has Escaped.

No one need fear cholera or any summer complaint, if they have a bottle of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial ready for use. TIM HEALY'S FOUL LANGUAGE

INDIGNATION IN DUBLIN OVER HIS ABUSIVE SPEECH.

Allusions to the Sister of Parnell Call for the Greatest Censure—A Nephew of Parnell Inflicts Summary Castigation Upon Healy With a Rawhide—General Irish News.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A Dublin despatch says that the Parnellites are wild with excitement over Timothy Healy's indecent attack on Sunday, not only on Mrs. Parnell, but also, by innuendo, on Parnell's sister. Healy's words have added fuel to the fire, and Harrison, Parnellite M.P., is quoted as saying that he wonders whether, after such expression, McCarthy, Sexton and other respectable anti-Parnellites will associate with Healy.

Harrison declares that Healy's attack on Parnell's sister, in the form of an insulting remark that his allusion to an English prostitute was intended for Mrs. O'Shea, and not for Miss Parnell, removes any possible doubt that Healy's animosity to Parnell was personal and vindictive and had nothing to do with patriotism.

It is reported to-day that relatives of Parnell were in consultation as to taking some steps against Healy, either legal or otherwise, for his attack, by innuendo, on Parnell's sister, a lady whose reputation has never been assailed and that Healy may find it dangerous to continue his vituperative course toward the females of the Parnell family.

As to Healy's remark that the Parnellites were cowards Harrison remarked today that it was Healy who showed himself a coward by avoiding Cork and failing to share the dangers of that contest with Dillon, O'Brien and Tanner. Instead of that he remained at a safe distance and reviled women who could not retaliate.

The Cat for Timothy.

DUBLIN, Nov. 3.—Mr. McDermott, nephew of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, to-day publicly horsewhipped Timothy Healy, M.P. The horsewhipping received by Healy was the indirect outcome of the language used by Healy at Longford Sunday last, when he referred to Miss Parnell and to the widow of the late Charles Stewart Parnell. The details of the assault are as follows: McDermott caught Healy by the throat the moment he met him at the Four Courts in this city, and then in the presence of a number of persons he thrashed Healy about the shoulders and body until the latter was rescued by the police. Healy, when his assailant had been taken into custody, declined to make a charge against him, and McDermott was released.

Mr. Healy was reading in the library of the Four Courts when Mr. McDermott sent a messenger to say that Mr. Healy was wanted in the refreshment room. Mr. Healy, on going into the hall, was seized by McDermott, who immediately began to apply the whip, saying, at the same time:

"That is for your insults at Longford."

Mr. McDermott afterwards handed a policeman his card and then walked away. Mr. Healy at once retired to the library. He says McDermott was drunk.

Mr. McKenny, speaking at a league meeting to-day, denounced Mr. Healy's remarks at Longford as a disgrace to Irishmen. On the announcement that Mr. Healy had been horsewhipped the audience rose and fervidly cheered.

What Tim Healy Said.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—In an address at Longford yesterday Tim Healy was more vituperative than ever. He accused the Parnellites of cowardice. The Parnellites, he said, talked of English dictation and resorted to dynamite. Healy imputes to the Parnellites the dynamite explosion which took place in Glasgow some time ago, creating great excitement. He condemned what he called the alliance of the Parnellites with Mrs. O'Shea, who had written to Paris looking up the funds raised for the evicted tenants. He said he was astonished that they should unite with an English prostitute, whose honor, Harrison, a member of Parliament, had attempted to vindicate. Healy said he did not refer to the unhappy woman (meaning Parnell's sister) whom the Dublin wire-pullers had induced to write to Paris. Healy advised unity in combating the landlords. At present, he said, the Parnellites tried to make up for brains by the use of blackthorns.

Mr. Healy likewise stated that on visiting Paris to enquire about the release of the fund he found a telegram from Messrs. Harrington and Kenny to the bankers, claiming a prior lien on the fund. "The bankers did not mind that," continued Mr. Healy, "they minded more a letter from Kitty, blocking the relief fund." Mr. Healy asserts that when he saw the letter signed by "That woman" he could not help believing that an alliance existed between the descendants of the men who betrayed the Irish at Ballinamuck and the present fomenters of the disorder. In the "league of landlords and freemasons" they heard a good deal about "English dictation." Was Mrs. Parnell an Irishwoman? If the movement of Irishmen were to be controlled in England it was better that they should be controlled from Hawarden than from Brighton.

A report from Brighton says that Mrs. Parnell's condition is one of such complete prostration as to make her recovery doubtful.

Scalded to Death.

RAT PORTAGE, Nov. 3.—Mrs. William Shaw lifted a large pot of boiling water from the stove, not noticing that her son was near, and in the moment that she turned to put the lid on the stove the little lad fell into it backwards, scalding him so badly that he died from the shock two days afterwards.

A CANADIAN FORGER.

Arrested in New Jersey for Extensive Forgeries in the Dominion.

TRENTON, N.J., Nov. 3.—L. H. Carpenter, chief of the Canadian Secret Service, has arrested Adolphus Chamberlain of New York for a number of forgeries committed in Canada. He is now locked up awaiting extradition. Chamberlain has a number of aliases and is wanted for over 50 forgeries. He has been the superintendent of the Berkshire Apartment Houses in New York. He was run down by the detectives and left New York yesterday and came to Trenton.

LIKE A WOUNDED SNAKE.

The Quebec Boodling Enquiry Still Drags Its Weary Length Along—Its Labors Approaching a Close.

QUEBEC, Nov. 3.—J. Chrysostome Langelier, commissioner, stepped again into the box this morning and told whatever he knew about the matter, merely corroborating previous witnesses. He referred to orders for the payment of the Armstrong claim received from the Department of Public Works. Mr. Lesage, Deputy Minister of Public Works, who followed, contradicted him and stated that Mr. Langelier was evidently confounding the Deputy Minister of Public Works with the Deputy Provincial Treasurer.

Philip Vallier, manufacturer, was examined by Judge Jette. He endorsed three notes of $20,000 each signed by Pacaud. The notes on which discount was refused were destroyed by Pacaud himself. He got $500 to endorse each of Pacaud's notes. He had been paid all right. Pacaud told witness that he wanted some money to pay the men on the Baie de Chaleurs Railway. He went with Pacaud and Charles Langelier to discount the notes at the bank, which was done immediately. Witness denied that Mr. Langelier said to Dumoulin that he would give him $50,000 in deposit. When Mr. Dumoulin asked him this he said he would speak to Mr. Shehyn and see what he could do. Mr. Langelier did not go into Mr. Dumoulin's private office. He met Langelier in L'Electeur. Pacaud witness and Langelier went to the Banque Du Peuple. Witness saw nothing extraordinary in the fact that a superior officer of the Government should require an endorser for a Government transaction.

To Mr. Casgrain: Did you ever do the same thing with any other Government?

Witness: Yes, I have.

Mr. Casgrain: But you cannot give us proof that you have done so with any other government than Mr. Mercier's?

Witness: I can.

Mr. Casgrain: Very well then, you bring those proofs to-morrow.

Witness: Yes, sir.

Mr. Duhamel, Commissioner of Crown Lands, was next examined. He had some time ago brought the discussion to bear on the Baie des Chaleurs Railway when speaking with Mr. Thom. The $175,000 letter of credit was brought up in council by Mr. Charles Langelier. Mr. Garneau then said that the banks could not cash it unless the amount was divided. At the time the letter of credit was being made ready he met Mr. Thom at Mr. Machin's office door. Mr. Thom asked Mr. Duhamel for a permit to go hunting on certain Government grounds. Mr. Duhamel went to his office and made out the permit; returning gave it to Mr. Thom, who thanked him for his kindness. A well-known newspaper man attached to a Tory organ of this city being present there, could only catch a part of the conversation, which he must have reported to Mr. Casgrain. This is what led Mr. Casgrain to believe that Mr. Duhamel had had a hand in the getting up of the letter of credit. He always thought Mr. Pacaud was working for Mr. Thom's syndicate. He would never have thought that he was working for Mr. Armstrong. He did not know of the considerable proportion of the sum secured by Pacaud previous to seeing the matter in the newspapers. Referring to his admission by Pacaud in the Union Club, he positively refused to join the club. He would not go in it, but Messrs. Edward Garneau, Pacaud and others insisted upon him doing so. At last he received his account receipted. It was only in October that he learned that it was Pacaud who had paid his entry in the club. He had not the money then or he would have returned the subscription to Pacaud, nor has he got the money now or he would return it.

Mr. Casgrain (sarcastically): Was it a permit to hunt beavers or deer that you granted Mr. Thom?

Mr. Duhamel: I am not quite sure, but I think it was a deer pass. [Laughter.]

Achille Carrier, M.L.A. for Matanes, was then sworn in at his own request to make certain declarations concerning a note of $400 paid to Mr. Desbartes for Mr Carrier. Witness never had a cent from Pacaud, as he used Mr. Pacaud as he did his other friends, namely, to endorse notes. Witness went to New York and before going he had Pacaud to endorse that $400 note, which note was afterward cashed to Mr. Desbartes. Mr. Carrier blamed Pacaud for having done so, for he owed that gentleman nothing.

Mivile Dechene, M.L.A. for L'Islet, was sworn to make a deposition of his own accord, as his name appears in Pacaud's statement as having received some money. Witness swore that he did not know that Pacaud had paid a sum of money for the revision of electoral lists.

Mr. Charles Langelier will be examined to-morrow.

Mercier's Dismissal Demanded.

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 3.—Counsel for the prosecution have drawn up a printed long factum in the Baie Des Chaleurs case and there will be no argument before the Royal Commission. The factum shows that a complete chain of evidence has been established. The fact that Mercier while in Paris destroyed all letters he received from Pacaud and Garneau is particularly dwelt upon and his dismissal is demanded. Robidoux will be examined at his house to-morrow night. He is too ill to attend at the regular hearing.

A Canadian Creditor.

MONTREAL, Nov. 3.—The Maverick Bank of Boston has a creditor in this city in the Banque D'Hochelaga. The Maverick Bank was the Boston agent of the Bank D'Hochelaga, and the bank had from $10,000 to $15,000 on deposit there. The Banque D'Hochelaga, however, does not stand to lose very much, as the liabilities of the Maverick Bank have been guaranteed to the extent of 75 per cent. The bank officials state that they only expect to lose 10 per cent.
