Poetry.

I CANNA LEAVE MY MINNIE.

BY JAMES LINEN.

Tak' heck the ring, dear Jamie,
The ring ye gae to me,
An' a' the vows ye made yestreen,
Beneath the birken tree.
But gie me back my heart again,
Its a' I hae to gie;
Sin' ye'll no wait a fitt'r time,
Ye canna marry me.

I promised to my deddie,
Afore he slipp'd awa,
I se'er wad leave my minnie,
Whate'er wad her befa'.
I'll faithfu' keep my promise,
For a' that ye can gie;
Sae, Jamie, gif ye winna wait,
Ye ne'er can marry me.

I canna leave my minnie,
She's been sae kind to me,
Sin' e'er I was a bairnie,
A wee thing on her knee.
Nae mair she'll caim my gowden hair,
Nor busk me snod an' braw;
She's auld an' frail, her een are dim,
And sune will close on a'.

I maun na leave my minnie;
Her journey is na lang;
Her heid is bendin' to the mools
Whare it maun shortly gang.
Were I an heiress o' a crown,
I'd a' its honours time,
To watch her steps o' helpless age,
As she in youth watched mine.

CHURCH BROWN DOWN.—We learn from Syracuse that the spire of the Unitarian Church was blown down by the gale of Saturday night. It fell directly on the roof of the Church, and crushed the building to the ground. The rear wall fell on a house adjoining, occupied by Mr. Northrop, almost entirely destroying it. Two young ladies in the house narrowly escaped, and a young man escaped by jumping out of the window. The church was valued at £5000 or £6000, the house valued at £800.

CHERY PECTORAL.—We have departed from our usual rule in regard to the advertising of Medicine, in admitting the notice of the Cherry Pectoral to our columns.—It is not a patent medicine, but one, the contents of which, are well known to the medical profession, and which has proved highly beneficial in the cause of a number of our acquaintances, who were seriously afflicted with pulmonary complaints. Some of our most skilful and eminent physicians recommend it to their patients in their regular practice, and we feel that we are conferring a favor upon the public by making known its virtues.—Louisville Ch'Advocate.

[Read this, O daughter of Wealth! and ponder it well. Let it sink into your heart, and be the means of awakening there some sympathy for a toiling suffering sister, who by no fault of hers is the serf she is. It is by J. R. LOWELL.]

"Hark, that rustle of a dress,
Stiff with lavish costliness;
Here comes one whose checks would flush
Hot to have her garments brush
'Gainst the girl, whose fingers thin,
Wove the weary broidery in;
And in midnight's chill and murk
Stitched her life into the work;
Bending backwards from her toil
Lest her tears the silk might soil;
Shaping from her bitterest thought
Heart's ease and forget-me-not;
Satirising her despair
With the emblems woven there."

Old Skinflint, of Troy, says the very next time he changes a cent he intends to do something handsome for the Orphan Asylum. Skinflint is the same old gentleman who squeezes every half dollar he gets hold of, so that you can hear the eagle shriek.

Jones, remarks on the Sabbath, reminds us of the Yankee captain who told his cabin boy to wait till he had got done praying, and he would knock his brains out.

FIRE AT LOCKPORT.—A fire broke out in the Red Jacket recess and ball alley on Canal street, this morning, at half-past one o'clock, which communicated to a meat market east, and an Irish grocery west, and a bikeshop in the rear of Judd's brick block, thence to Steel's Commercial Hotel, in which the Canal Collector's office was—from thence the flames spread to Steele & Co.'s extensive livery stable, thence to R. Murphy's grocery and the barn and shed of the Lock Street House, the horse shed belonging to the Congregational and Universalist churches, and E. Clark's carpenter shop, which was all totally destroyed. The Lock Street House was damaged considerably. The row of wooden buildings between the latter and the Methodist church, were mostly torn down.—The Methodist, Universalists, Congregational churches were in great danger, each being on fire several times. All the goods and furniture in the Commercial Hotel were saved. The Canal Collectors books and papers were saved just as the fire was entering the office. Loss not yet estimated. Probably from 8 to $10,000.

FROM THE ARCTIC REGIONS.—Dr. Rae, so well known among the indefatigable searchers for Sir John Franklin, arrived in this city a couple of days ago, en route for England, and starts this morning for the old world, after paying a very brief visit to his brothers here. We are glad to learn that Dr Rae is in excellent health, and seems rather to have improved on the hard fare, intense frost, and extraordinary labour peculiar to the Arctic coast, and the undertaking in which he has been engaged. Dr. R. has not succeeded in finding any distinct traces of Sir John Franklin, but found, and has in his possession, several pieces of wood, apparently fragments of some wrecked vessel, which must have found her way to that ice-bound coast. The principal result of the Doctor's last trip to the Arctic regions has been the discovery and survey of about 500 miles of new coast. He travelled from Athabaska to Red River on snow-shoes—a distance of nearly 1,500 miles—which was accomplished in forty four days. The journey from the Red River colony to Hamilton was effected by dogs, sleigh, and railroad.—Ham. Spectator.

NEW COUNTY TOWNS.—The Quebec Gazette says, that the Government had fixed on Brantford, as the County Town for the new County of Brant; St. Thomas, for the County of Elgin, Sydenham for the County [illegible] County of Lambton. The sites for other Counties have not yet been decided upon.—Ibi.

ASIATIC SHEEP.—Immense herds of sheep are driven over the country, wherever the requisite feed exists, of the variety termed ovis steatopyga, whose tails are so remarkably broad, heavy, and loaded with fat, that in order to prevent the wool from being torn off, the shepherd supports them with a little pair of wheels. Thousands upon thousands may be seen continually in the neighborhood of Smyrna, drawing their [illegible] sacral appendages on these miniature [illegible]. The males usually have four horns; this breed yield the coarse wool [illegible] brought to the United States in [illegible] from Adrianople and Smyrna.

PROSPECTUS.

EARLY in February will be published, at the City of Hamilton, the first number of "THE CANADIAN," a bi-weekly newspaper, to be devoted to the discussion of Politics, Literature, and Science, and the usual public topics of the day.

In offering a new Journal to the Public, it is customary for the Projectors to make some declaration of the principles on which they propose it shall be conducted.

The Publishers of "The Canadian" beg to intimate their intention to produce a thoroughly independent Newspaper, to be devoted to the general interests of Canada, and to the principles of rational Reform by the gradual adoption of the Institutions of the Country to the progressive improvement of its population.

Without arrogating to themselves exclusive pretensions to occupy a position superior to all Party interests or influences, they cannot refrain from expressing their conviction, that much of the usefulness and efficiency of the Newspaper Press is impaired by the bitterness of party spirit, and by its reckless attachment to Governments or Oppositions, irrespective of their real merits and of their actual claims to patriotic support.

While "The Canadian" will engage fearlessly in the discussion of the great questions in Government, Policy, and general Improvement, which must constantly arouse the Public mind, its columns will, as far as may be consistent with free enquiry and discussion, studiously avoid the exhibition of personal or party rancor and invective, and will at all times cultivate a candid and temperate examination and elucidation of principles and of their practical operation.

The belief that a Journal conducted with such views, and in such a spirit, is required by the increased intelligence and population of this locality, and of the country generally, has prompted the Publishers to hazard the undertaking for the support of which they now appeal to the Public. In soliciting that, they avoid reference to the literary ability which, at considerable pecuniary risk, but with much confidence in its merits, they have secured; and in avowing some of the leading principles on which "The Canadian" will be conducted, they pledge themselves that it will fearlessly and uncompromisingly advocate full and absolute civil equality among the several religious Sects and denominations in this Province; and as a corollary to this principle, "The Canadian" will strenuously maintain the immediate application of the entire proceeds of the Clergy Reserves to the furtherance of Education, and to other public purposes, with the speedy abolition and extinction of the Rectories.

"The Canadian" will advocate Reciprocity of Trade and Commerce with the United States, and every measure for the advancement of the mercantile and Agricultural interests of Canada.

Generally, "The Canadian" will be a warm and zealous friend to every measure having a tendency to promote the interests of labour, and to ameliorate the condition of mankind; and to produce harmony, good feeling, and fellowship among the different classes of society.

"The Canadian" will be placed under the immediate editorial management of THOMAS MACQUEEN, Esq., of the HURON SIGNAL; and will be printed on a large Imperial sheet, with new and handsome type, on Wednesday and Saturday of each week, at the Printing Office of ROBERTSON & HANNA, the Publishers.

THE subscriber in returning thanks to the inhabitants of the County of Huron generally for the very liberal encouragement he has met with in the Sale of Fruit Trees, begs to announce to the Farmers of these United Counties that he is prepared to introduce this Fall, a large and well selected stock, comprising every variety of Nursery Trees, upon the usual liberal terms.

It would be superfluous to enlarge upon the superior merits of this Nursery, and the qualities of Fruit brought from it—but the large quantity of Trees that have been distributed over nearly all of Upper Canada, for the last 18 years has gained for this Nursery a superiority over most others.

The subscriber would beg to introduce to the notice of all those who wish to get good Winter Fruit, the celebrated Northern Spy Apple, its qualities are superior to all others of its kind, keeping until July, and preserving all its freshness and flavor, which is a great desideratum until that period. The subscriber would als intimate that his Dwarf Pear is in great demand as a Garden Fruit, bearing in two years after planting. Every variety of Fruit Trees, Ornamental and Evergreen Trees and Shrubs, Hardy Herbaceous Flowering Plants, Dahlias, Bulbous Flowering Roots, &c. TIN AND COPPERSMITH—STRATFORD.

THE Subscriber being disposed to meet his payments when due, and having experienced great difficulty in collecting his accounts, he has been compelled by necessity to adopt the Quaker's maxim,

If thy friend deceive thee once, shame on him,
But, if he deceive thee twice, shame on thee,

and so refuse credit any longer to those customers, who are over two years in arrears of payment. In consequence thereof, an advertisement appeared in the Signal of last week, which, he apprehends, might cause his friends and customers at a distance, to suppose he has decamped, if not intended to the contrary.

He therefore takes this opportunity to express his gratitude to those friends who have "cashed up" their accounts, and begs to inform them that he is still at his old stand, where he has constantly on hand a large and good assortment of tin, sheet iron, [illegible] which he will sell as usual, retail at wholesale prices, [illegible] prepared to execute all orders he may be favored with in the above branches in the usual style of workmanship, on the shortest notice, and most reasonable terms, for those parties who have the means, and feel disposed to pay.

☞ Parties from the country bringing articles to be repaired, can get them on their return by leaving them as soon as they come in town. A good supply of stovepipes on hand, and at 10d. per length.
