OUR HARVEST PROSPECTS.

REPORT OF THE BUREAU OF INDUSTRIES ON ONTARIO'S CROPS.

Fall Wheat and Oats the Finest Crop—The Root Crop in Bad Shape—Hay and Clover will Make an Average Yield—Barley Reported All Right.

The following has been compiled by Mr. Blue from reports furnished by 600 correspondents of the Bureau of Industries:

The last week of May will not soon be forgotten by the farmers of the province. There were several nights of frost, that of the 28th proving the most injurious in most localities. East and west alike suffered, although the fruit in the eastern counties was not so badly hurt as in the west. The opinion of correspondents is a unit regarding the benefits of the rainy and cloudy weather immediately following the destructive frosts of May 25-30. Bright, dry weather, say one and all, would have completed the ruin of the crops. But while correcting to a great degree the injury resulting from frost, the continuous rain and cool weather "soured" the land, rotting much potato seed, corn, beans, etc., drowning out grains on low lying fields, and turning to a sickly yellow oats and peas on undrained soils. The wet weather also delayed the sowing of some of the later crops. On high and well-drained lands the crops give unusual promise; there will be an immense yield of all kinds of straw, and with the prospect of settled weather at present writing there is much cause for congratulation at the outlook.

Fall wheat and oats will be the finest crops, a good heavy yield being expected, while spring wheat will be up to the average. Barley will generally be a good crop, and is expected to improve. Peas are varied, but it may be said that the yield will be good on high and well drained land. Undoubtedly the root crop has suffered most extensively, and potatoes are in some places expected to be almost a total failure. Hay and clover will be a good average crop, especially in the western parts of the province. Although considerably later than usual haying is now pretty generally under way in all localities. Of the minor crops corn is in rather a bad condition, but may recover to some extent if fair weather continues. Rye is reported as good, beans as poor, and the remainder about an average.

FALL WHEAT.

There is much uniformity in the reports from the various districts regarding this crop. The injury from spring frosts was comparatively small, while damage from water on low lying fields has been great. The cold weather in the latter part of May, however, gave the fall wheat a set back of a week or two, and harvesting will consequently be late. The crop gives a magnificent promise on uplands; in fact, there are already complaints of "lodging" owing to the unusual growth. Rust is also feared, owing to the rains and rank growth, but taken altogether the crop promises an average in yield and with an immense quantity of straw should nothing untoward occur between now and harvesting. A green insect, which seems to be a stranger to our correspondents, has appeared in several counties in the Lake Erie and Lake Huron districts, to which special reference is made in another paragraph of this bulletin. Damage was also done to the crop by the wire-worm in Grey. Good accounts come from every district, but the most favorable prospects are reported from the Lake Ontario district, more particularly from the counties of Peel and York.

SPRING WHEAT.

The only injury worth mentioning to spring wheat has been done by water on low, flat lands. On high and rolling lands, however, spring wheat presents a fine appearance, and a good yield is anticipated. In some quarters the straw has been described as "spongy," and there are signs of rust; certainly there is room for fear that growth has been too rank for first quality of straw.

BARLEY.

Barley appears to have suffered more than any other cereal from frost, although the injury from this cause is not serious. It has been hurt more than any other of the grain crops by the wet weather, much of it on low, undrained land having been "drowned out." Some barley fields in Grey were plowed up and resown to oats. From all sections of the province, however, come reports of a promising appearance on high or well drained fields, and there will be an abundance of straw.

OATS.

This crop has stood the wet weather better than any other grain, although it was considerably injured on heavy undrained soils. The prospects for a large yield are good, and there has been a great growth of straw. There were complaints of wire-worm in Middlesex, Perth and Simcoe, and also in Victoria, Peterboro and Muskoka, but the general tenor of the reports is cheerful, a number of counties claiming it as likely to be the best crop for years.

PEAS.

Frost injured peas slightly in some western counties, but serious damage was done to the crop by water on low spots and on undrained level fields. In such cases the crop was bleached from excessive rain, and in a few instances the fields were "drowned out" and ruined. On high and well drained lands, however, the fields present a magnificent appearance, and if the vines do not run too much to straw there will be an immense yield.

CORN.

The accounts sent in of the condition of this crop in the corn-growing counties of the Lake Erie district are monotonously doleful. The frost was severe in its injuries to the tender blade, and the rain rotted much of the seed later on. Some correspondents report a total failure, and all the rest a partial failure on account of frost, rain and cold weather. Owing to the continuous rain cultivating was almost an impossibility save on high lands, and, in short, the whole season has been against a good crop.

HAY AND CLOVER.

The frosts of the last week in May gave a decided set back to this crop, both timothy and clover having been nipped in several counties; but the timely rains saved the fields. But there was too much rain even for hay, and a few correspondents report clover as rotting at the roots from excessive moisture. Clover is in a more promising condition than timothy, and while old meadows are rather poor, new ones are in first-class condition where not injured by too much water. With favorable weather for cutting, the hay crop generally will likely be a good one, although the frost and cold wet weather have delayed mowing a week or two later than usual.

ROOT CROPS.

Hundreds of correspondents tell the same story regarding potatoes. Early planted fields were cut down by frost and much of the seed has rotted, necessitating a good deal of replanting. A good yield is looked for on high land, but in low-lying fields the reverse is expected. It was difficult to put in carrots, turnips and mangels at the right time, owing to frequent rains. All are in a backward condition, and while carrots, and mangels are beginning to look well, turnips are being attacked by the fly in some counties in the east. In Muskoka, where new land is generally cleared for turnips each year, many farmers will have to let the crop go, as owing to the wet weather the land could not be burnt off in time.

FRUIT.

Frost in the latter part of May caught the orchards in blossom, and the result was a wholesale destruction of fruit. Apples have suffered terribly. In many orchards an apple is hard to find; in others there is as high as half a crop, but in no section is there a full yield. The Northern Spy is specially mentioned as having escaped severe injury. The tent caterpillar has appeared in Carleton. Pears, plums, cherries and peaches were also injured in the blossom. Grapes fell an easy prey to frost. While in a few favored situations the vines escaped injury, the general record is one of complete loss of the first bud. In some instances the wood was killed to the earth, but as a rule the second bud has started, although only in rare cases will there be a maturing of the fruit this season unless a long, warm autumn ensues. The vines will feel the check for two years to come. Small fruits generally were more or less injured by frost. Strawberries were only about half a crop, and currants also gave a light yield. Raspberries, however, have done remarkably well.

LIVE STOCK AND THE DAIRY PROSPECTS.

The condition of live stock throughout the province is most gratifying. The pastures have been and still are in excellent condition, in consequence of the abundant supply of rain; although there are a few instances where they have suffered through flooding, and by the cattle having been turned out too early upon them. The milk yield has been much larger than usual, consequently butter is plentiful and good, while the cheese factories are working well in most localities. There seems, however, to be an impression among many that the milk is of inferior quality this year, which is attributed to various causes, but primarily to the cool, wet weather. To this cause may also be attributed the fact that fat cattle are not making flesh as rapidly as might be desired, and are stated to be somewhat poor and thin, more particularly in the northwestern counties. The fact that so much stock was disposed of during last winter is being very naturally regretted by many, especially in the eastern part of the province, where it is believed the dairy supplies will be considerably affected. Sheep are reported in some localities as poor in condition, owing to damp pastures and cool weather, many having been sheared too early; but horses are in fine condition, and, like all other farm animals, they are exceptionally free from disease. The condition of stock in the spring of the year, although much better than anticipated, was not all that could be desired; it is gratifying therefore to find how quickly they have reached their present favorable condition, and that the freedom from infectious disease reported in our May bulletin still continues. Over the larger portion of the province the dairy prospects are more promising than they have been for years, and the tenor of the reports in this regard is of an exceedingly cheerful character. Cheese and butter are of good quality and command very fair prices.

The inestimable value of Ayer's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier should be known to every wife and mother. It corrects irregularities, gives tone and strength to the vital organs and cleanses the system of all impurities. The best family medicine.

A Chance for All.

This is an age of progress. Science, art and literature have all made gigantic strides. The earth now wears Shakespeare's girdle. Machinery has been brought to a pitch of perfection that would make our grandfathers wink if they could but see it. But to our mind one of the most marvelous improvements of the age has been brought to our notice recently. A wealthy and well-known citizen with a large and philanthropic heart has surveyed out a large tract of land to the north of Toronto in lots 25 to 33 feet by 125 to 150 feet deep and is selling them on the following remarkable terms. The price at present is $185 per lot, including all interest, payable $6.50 down and $1.50 per month until balance is paid, but should the purchaser die at any time after one year, his wife, or father or mother, or any relative he may appoint will receive a clear deed without any further payment whatever. The remarkable feature about this scheme is that the market value of land to-day is from $5 to $6 per foot, and the great question is how this grand achievement is accomplished, as long before the land can be possibly paid for it must be worth at least four times the present price. Mr. McQuarrie, No. 4 Shaftesbury-place, Shaftesbury-avenue, or C. W. Dennis, 337 Yonge-street, or Herbert Clarke, 564 Front-street east, Toronto, will be happy to give all further particulars and take all intending purchasers to see the lots. 246

Mr. Alexander Robinson of Exeter, in writing about one of the most popular articles, and one that has done more good to the afflicted than any other medicine has during the short time it has been in existence, says: "I have used four bottles of Northrop & Lyman's Vegetable Discovery and Dyspeptic Cure, and have been cured of Dyspepsia that troubled me for over ten years. Part of that time I had it very bad, and I was at considerable expense trying to get relief, but this excellent medicine was the first and only relief I received."

There is danger in neglecting a cold. Many who have died of consumption dated their troubles from exposure, followed by a cold which settled on their lungs, and in a short time they were beyond the skill of the best physician. Had they used Bickle's Anti-Consumptive Syrup before it was too late, their lives would have been spared. This medicine has no equal for curing coughs, colds and all affections of the throat and lungs.

"Logic is Logic."

Now there was the case of our friend McKay:
He said to himself, in his resolute way,
That a cough which was growing from bad to worse
Must be cured in spite of a slender purse.
An ocean voyage was out of the question,
A Florida trip a useless suggestion;
Yet die he wouldn't! His money he paid
For the "Golden Medical Discovery," by Dr. Pierce made:
And as sound as a nut is his health to-day—
"Logic is logic, that's all I say."

"Golden Medical Discovery" is the only medicine for the diseases it is recommended to cure, sold by druggists under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that if it don't effect benefit or cure in every case, the money paid for it will be promptly refunded.

The Ledger Keeper at Work.

Mr. Ledger Keeper E. A. Begg of the Dominion Bank is away up at Mackinaw kissing papooses and catching speckled trout. He writes that it is much better than keeping the Cr. and Dr. of Mr. Austin's big concern.

There was no Hope but there was Help.

The symptoms of Catarrh are sometimes so obscure than the victim is not alarmed. The slight cough is not thought of sufficient importance to require attention until too late, the absence of pain is thought to be proof that the disease is not present. There may be no headache, no oppression of the chest, none of the usual symptoms of dyspepsia noticeable which usually accompany catarrh, and still this forerunner of consumption may have selected and placed its firm grip upon you, but in the majority of cases the initiatory symptoms are sufficiently well marked to induce the sufferer to seek relief, and if taken in time relief can be obtained by consulting an experienced physician, one who makes catarrh and its fearful consequences his especial study and can produce testimonials from reliable persons whom you know who have been cured by him, that he understands the nature and cure of this disease; the physicians of the Medical Institute for the cure of Catarrh and Dyspepsia, 198 King-street west, make Catarrh, Dyspepsia and Chronic Diseases a specialty and have the testimonials of persons cured to back up the assertion that they can cure what they promise to; and to-day publish the testimonial of Mrs. Wm. Jarvis of 215 Front-street east, who four years ago was suffering from Catarrh and Incipient Consumption and pronounced incurable. Mrs. Jarvis called on one of the physicians July 13, 1885. She had no appetite, her tongue was coated, she had a bad taste continually in her mouth, had pains in her back, chest and shoulders and limbs, had headache and dizziness, could not sleep at night, and was exhausted, and would get short of breath after the slightest exertion. She weighed a little over a hundred pounds and her pulse was 120; she consulted several physicians and took all the patent medicines recommended by her friends without benefit, and had given up all hope, when she was advised to call on us. She did so and in three months was perfectly well and is so to-day and can be seen by calling on her. Office hours 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Sundays 2 to 4 p.m.

GRATEFUL—COMFORTING.
EPPS'S COCOA.
BREAKFAST.

"By a thorough knowledge of the natural laws which govern the operations of digestion and nutrition, and by a careful application of the fine properties of well-selected Cocoa, Mr. Epps has provided our breakfast tables with a delicately flavored beverage which may save us many heavy doctors' bills. It is by the judicious use of such articles of diet that a constitution may be gradually built up until strong enough to resist every tendency to disease. Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us ready to attack wherever there is a weak point. We may escape many a fatal shaft by keeping ourselves well fortified with pure blood and a properly nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette.

Made simply with boiling water or milk. Sold only in packets, by grocers, labelled thus:

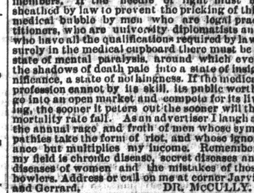
CATARRH AND BRONCHITIS

CURED BY DR. McCULLY.

Our good work still goes on. This little emaciated, hollow cheeked, sunken-eyed sufferer, once dying under orthodoxy, is now well; we did the work! Its parents reside at 137 Adelaide-street west and their name is O'Brien. Were it not for the constant shadows of death in the Ontario medical pot; were it not for the awful and appalling uncertainty of whose turn it will be next, the public might look on with complacency while these men shout themselves hoarse for more protection; but medical protection carries with it, under the cover of law, a universal cessation of competition; a universal reign of profound ignorance fraught with danger to the community and the death of its members. If the needle of light must be sheathed by law to prevent the pricking of this medical bubble by men who are legal practitioners, who are university diplomatists and who have all the qualifications required by law, surely in the medical cupboard there must be a state of mental paralysis, around which even the shadows of death pale into a state of insignificance, a state of not laziness. If the medical profession cannot by its skill, its public worth, go into an open market and compete for its living, the sooner it peters out the sooner will the mortality rate fall. As an advertiser I laugh at the annual race and froth of men whose sympathies take the form of riot, and whose ignorance but multiplies my income. Remember, my field is chronic disease, secret diseases and diseases of women and the mistakes of those bowlers. Address or call on me at corner Jarvis and Gerrard, DR. McCULLY.



SUPERFLUOUS HAIR
Ladies, my method is meeting with great success from those that have received treatment, I guarantee a permanent removal, and can refer you to leading physicians and ladies that have received treatments. Do not be deceived by those that have sold you chemical preparations and have destroyed your face and increased the growth of the hair. Inquiries may be made by post; inclose six cent stamp. Note the address, MADAME BOUDOIR, No. 393 King-street west, Toronto.
