INDEPENDENT ORDER FORESTERS

Mr. John A. McGillivray, Q.C., the supreme secretary, and Mr. David Millar, Ontario high chief ranger, accompanied by a number of officers of the High Court, paid a fraternal visit to Court Argyll at their court rooms, Queen street west, Toronto, lately.

The following new courts have been instituted during the past few days and reported to the supreme chief ranger: Court Pontiac, at Walpole Island; Goodwood, at Franktown; Dunsford, at Dunsford; Anson, at Minden; Vars, at Vars; Elmvale, at Elmvale; Leeds, at Leeds village, Que. All the above courts start with a good charter list, and promise to push Forestry in their respective districts.

INDEPENDENT ORDER ODDFELLOWS

The Chicago brethren are talking about a temple for the order in that city, at a cost of $3,500,000 and a height that will rival any building in the world. Yet Chicago recently allowed its only Oddfellow paper to die for lack of support. Mere talk costs but little.

P. F. Y. B. O.

General Deputy Broderick, of the People's Five Year Benefit Order, has returned from Jackson, Mich., where he has instituted a large commandery of the order.

The report of the insurance commissioner of Massachusetts, June 30, shows that the P. F. Y. B. O. have securities deposited with the State treasurer to the amount of $206,869 28, or $126,000 more than any other endowment order.

There are now 20,000 members in the order, with a gross reserve fund of $527,510 23.

ROYAL ARCANUM.

London Council, Royal Arcanum, held an interesting meeting on Monday evening. Regent R. K. Cowan reported that he had, in company with Secretary A. B. Munson and Treasurer A. Screaton, presented the widow of the late Bro. W. L. Graham with a check for $3,000. It was decided to hold the meetings in future in the new Knights of Pythias Hall, corner Dundas and Clarence streets, every other Wednesday evening.

The death is reported of Julius Meyers, a former member of London Council, but lately of New York. When in London Bro. Meyers was bookkeeper in T. B. Escott's wholesale grocery.

Bro. E. H. Sammons, of London South Council, has been appointed organizing deputy for Western Ontario, and is now in the west forming several new councils. He reports splendid success.

MASONIC.

A sequacious brother at best makes a very poor master.

In 1850 124 lodges made up the Grand Lodge of New York; in 1891 the Grand Lodge rules the destinies of 721 lodges, with a membership of 83,000 master Masons in good standing.

Somewhere about 1739 a serious dispute arose within the fraternity in England, resulting in a schism and a party becoming popularly known as the "Ancients" and the other as the "Modern" body of Masons. In 1788 the Moderns established what is now known as the Royal Masonic Institute for Girls. Ten years afterward the Ancients followed suit in creation of the Royal Masonic Institution for Boys. In 1808, after a union of the rival bodies, they conjointly commemorated the happy event by establishing an asylum for protecting the widows and orphans of Masons.

Three members of the Mystic Tie—J. Sloat Fassett, Past Grand Master John W. Vrooman and William A. Sutherland, junior grand warden—have been placed upon the Republican ticket in New York for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and Attorney-General respectively.

There are over 1,500,000 Freemasons in the world. Great Britain includes about one-sixth of the entire number and the United States a still larger fraction.

James G. Blaine is a loyal Mason. As to his brains and pre-eminent qualities in statesmanship, not only the nation but the whole civilized world can attest.

The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons of New York has been in existence 94 years.

Right Worshipful Brother Joseph L. Little, past deputy grand master of the Sixth Masonic district, the well-known publisher of Astor place, New York, is likely to be called upon to go to Congress.

Freemasonry does not interfere with man's political opinions or religious belief, be they what they may.

When Masonry was first planted in Nebraska in 1855, that territory contained only 13,000 inhabitants; now it boasts of over 800,000, and still they come. Then it was known as the Great American Desert; now it is known as one of the most productive grain growing and stock raising States in the Union. There are now 163 lodges and over 7,000 affiliated Masons in the jurisdiction.

The degree of Royal Arch Mason has no existence in Masonic history prior to the "revival" of A.D. 1717. If conferred at all prior to this, it probably was received at the conclusion of the master's degree. Shortly after this date, however, we find historic mention of it.

King Frederick VII. of Denmark was grand master of Masons up to the time of his death.

D. D. G. M. Robson, of Ilderton, will pay an official visit to King Solomon Lodge, No. 378, A. F. and A. M., on Wednesday evening next, Oct. 21, at 7:30 o'clock.

ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS.

Court Brighton, South London, was well attended at its last meeting and had a long, busy session, dealing more particularly with matters relative to the furnishing of the hall nearing completion. The Ancient Forester was distributed to members, under the new arrangements one being furnished by the High Court to every Forester. The juvenile committee reported a satisfactory condition of affairs, and a vote of thanks was passed to Bro. D. Spence, who kindly presented a handsomely-painted banner to juveniles, who carried it in the procession on societies day during fair week. A communication regarding the endowment fund was listened to by the members and promptly filed.

COMPANIONS OF THE FOREST.

As the cool weather has made its appearance, circle meetings are more largely attended than during the summer months.

Supreme Secretary Waterman, of Toronto, was in the city on business connected with the Canadian circles last week, and reports the membership increasing at a satisfactory rate. Several death claims have been paid.

Forest Home Circle, No. 67, at its last regular meeting had a pleasant time, and was paid a visit by Chief Companion Miss Noe, of Ingersoll; Supreme Auditor Richards, Supreme Treasurer Le Seeleur and Comp. Mrs. Richards, who all congratulated the circle on the evident efficiency of its officers and the sociability of its members. No. 67 will at an early date visit Pride of the East Circle in a body. Five propositions were received.

BREATHES THROUGH A WHISTLE.

A Boy Thrives Despite a Piece of His Toy Balloon in His Throat.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Oct. 15.—A case very similar to that of Dr. Bothwell in Brooklyn is attracting much attention among physicians here. Twenty-four days ago John Taylor, 10 years old, was playing with a toy balloon. The balloon was filled with air through a hollow mouthpiece. Taylor blew too hard and the balloon burst. He was startled by the sound, and his gasp of surprise drew the mouthpiece, together with a piece of rubber, into his windpipe. His desperate efforts to obtain breath forced the obstruction down to the bronchial tubes, at the entrance to which it became lodged.

Mrs. Taylor found the boy semi-unconscious, and the strange sound made by the whistle as he attempted to breathe explained his plight. At the public hospital Doctors Maclaren and White at once decided upon tracheotomy as affording the only chance to save Taylor's life. The incision was made, but the whistle could not be reached. The physicians said then that Taylor's death was a question of only a few hours.

Now, more than three weeks since the accident, the "house doctor" announces that Taylor would be sent home in a day or two, as nothing more could be done for him. The whistle has become firmly lodged in the left bronchial tube, and the patient breathes through it with comparative ease. It is thought the rubber attachment must have been absorbed, as no whistling has been heard since a day or two after the accident. The boy still breathes partially through the incision in his throat, but it is rapidly healing. His general health has improved, and he gives little indication of the terrible ordeal through which he passed.

GET READY FOR WINTER.

One of the Very Best Ways to Keep Comfortable During the Winter.

Now that the thermometer is on the decline and Jack Frost pays periodical visits, soon to become a permanent guest, people are beginning to devise means for their personal comfort during the cold spell that is coming.

One of the most efficacious ways to insure a satisfactory degree of temperature is to call on Harry Lenox, the tailor, 427 Richmond street. In his large establishment (which by the way has just been handsomely refitted) he has everything to please the eye and gratify the the senses. A splendid stock of new winter goods has just been received, to see which is to appreciate and to wear which will afford one an unlimited deeper delight. The prevailing shade this season is brown, but Mr. Lenox keeps every kind of cloth and color in order to give his customers a wide range to choose from. His ulster goods, suiting, elegant silk linings, Irish frieze and various other fabrics are all first-class; in fact, nothing but a superior quality of material is handled in the store, and this accounts largely for its high reputation. To get a suit at Lenox's is to be "suited" perfectly. His well-known cut is a very triumph of the tailor's art.
