of the seizure of Vera Cruz and the American programme was telegraphed to Washington today. It avoids mention of rebel intentions in the matter, and states that the United States erred in that the action intended to affect the individual Huerta was in reality an act of hostility to the Mexican nation.

No Orders to Seize Tampico.

Washington, April 22—Secretary Daniels said late today that no orders had been given to seize Tampico and that Rear Admiral Badger's instructions were not sufficiently broad to take the customs house there unless an emergency arose. Further steps in reprisal have not been decided upon.

Will Return Huerta's Arms to Germany.

Washington, April 22—Disposition of the guns and ammunition in the cargo of the German vessel Ypiranga, which were held up at Vera Cruz when Admiral Fletcher took the port, was arranged for at a conference between Secretary of State Bryan and Ambassador Von Bernstorff of Germany. The captain of the vessel, being unable to secure clearance papers at Vera Cruz, will return the cargo to its former owners in Germany, although the Huerta government had paid in advance for the munitions.

Cost of transporting the cargo to Vera Cruz and return must be borne by the consignors of the munitions. This arrangement is in accord with the international precedents covering such incidents.

Peace League Backs Wilson.

New York, April 22—The American Peace and Arbitration League sent a letter to President Wilson tonight through its president, Henry Clews, extending sympathy and aid in the Mexican crisis. "Our league is an ardent peace organization, but not of the 'peace at any price' kind."

$100,000,000 War Grant.

Washington, April 22—Quick action on the annual army appropriation bill followed today when Chairman Hay, of the military affairs committee, explained that on account of the Mexican situation the house had agreed to all senate amendments.

The house concurred in the amendments and the measure went to the president. It carries a total of approximately $100,000,000, six million dollars having been added by the senate.

May Restore Embargo on Arms.

Washington, April 22—It was reported here late today that the army and navy board had recommended the restoration of the embargo on arms at the Mexican border, and that the matter had been taken up with Secretary Bryan, who now has it under consideration.

Will Protect Canadians.

Ottawa, April 22—Premier Borden stated in the house of commons this afternoon that the Canadian government will take steps to insure the safety of lives and property of Canadians in Mexico during the present hostilities.

Mr. Borden said: "During the past year or eighteen months representations in this regard have been made by the Canadian government on several occasions. In case further representations may become necessary from time to time they will be made without further delay."

British Press Comment.

London, April 23—The editorial view of a majority of the London papers is that the United States is now committed to war with Mexico and that it will be impossible to localize the war against Huerta.

The Daily Chronicle says: "We cannot suppose that President Wilson is asking his countrymen to spend money and shed their blood merely to replace a villain like Huerta by a villain like Villa."

All the papers recognize the magnitude of the possibilities opened up by the happenings at Vera Cruz. The Morning Post assumes that President Wilson, who has carefully studied the problem, has not yet fully revealed his plans.

The Daily Mail's Mexico City correspondent says the cabinet has decided to promulgate a general amnesty measure so that all Mexicans may be united in defense of their country.

U. N. B. GRADUATE APPOINTED TO STAFF OF BROWN UNIVERSITY

Providence, R. I., April 21—Perry B. Perkins, Ph. D., has been appointed assistant professor of mechanics and mechanical drawing in Brown University. He will take on some of the work formerly carried on by Dean Otis E. Randall, who is proifessor of mechanical drawing.

Doctor Perkins graduated from the University of New Brunswick in 1902. He took the degree of A. B. at Harvard in 1908, and A. M. at Yale in 1904. After serving as professor in Western Maryland College, he received the degree of Ph. D., in Yale in 1908. He has taught at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn., and at Howard University in Washington, D. C. At present he is an honorary research fellow at the University of Manchester, England. He will begin his work at Brown in next September.

$15,000,000 UNION STATION IN TORONO

Montreal, April 21—The Grand Trunk and C. P. R. railways have now decided on the plans for the Toronto union station which, it is estimated, will cost between $12,000,000 and $15,000,000. They will be submitted to the railway board about May 15, and when accepted the work will proceed at once. Information to this effect has been given out by the Grand Trunk railway officials, who point out that the cost of the viaduct, which is a part of the big terminal scheme for Toronto, is not included in the figures quoted. The viaduct, which will cost $3,000,000, will be a matter for later consideration.

Railway officials who have seen the plans for the station say when finished the depot will be the finest of its kind in the dominion.

To keep a fire over night, remove the ashes from under the fire, put on enough coal to fill the box, close the dampers and lift the back covers enough to admit air. This is better than lifting the covers over the firebox and prevents poisonous gases entering the room.

REIGN OF TERROR AT COLORADO

Six Mine Employes Killed in in Clash With Militia

Three Men, Two Women and a Baby Reported Entombed in a Burning Colliery—All the State Troops Called Out.

Trinidad, Col., April 22—Six mine employes dead and two missing; three men, two women and a baby reported to be entombed in a burning mine; several mining camps destroyed and others riddled with bullets; less than 200 militia men and company guards confronting an army of striking coal miners estimated by strike leaders at more than 400, this was the situation when the sun set on the third red day in the Southern Colorado labor war.

A party of militia men hastily sent from Indlow in steel cars reinforced the guards and after heavy fighting the strikers were driven back.

Denver, Col., April 22—The entire enlistment of state militia, including all branches of service, was ordered to mobilize at the two armories in Denver tonight to await further orders for service in the Trinidad strike district.

R. E. Armstrong Loses No Time After His Arrival in the City — To Look Into West Indies Freight Rates Question.

Tuesday, April 21.

R. E. Armstrong, the new secretary of the board of trade, dropped in rather unexpectedly yesterday at noon and spent the rest of his day at the desk at the board of trade rooms which has been vacant since Mr. Hoag's departure nearly two months ago. Mr. Armstrong found several important matters awaiting his consideration and at once took hold with vigor and assurance.

"Naturally I feel some apprehension in starting upon this work," said Mr. Armstrong to a Telegraph reporter yesterday afternoon, "but I have received such a warm welcome from my old friends and from new men whom I have never seen before that I feel like doing my best. It seems to be the general opinion that a New Brunswicker and a St. John man should be given a chance to show what he can do, and I am sure I will receive the most hearty co-operation from officers and members of the board of trade and from all citizens of St. John."

Mr. Armstrong said that he had not taken time to adjust his affairs at St. Andrews as completely as he would like to have done and his paper, The Beacon, has for the time suspended publication, but that he is in touch with several parties and expects that it will be taken over and operated in a short time.

One of the most important matters before Mr. Armstrong on his first day of office was the matter of comparison between the freight service given St. John and the West Indies and that between New York, Boston and the West India ports. It is the aim of the St. John board to see established just as efficient a service from this port as from any American port and an inquiry to this end is being carried on.

Private parties in Chase City (Va.), wrote to the board of trade yesterday asking information regarding business conditions, the climate and lumber shipments. A Bathurst clergyman wished the board to use its influence too in keeping a trained gardener from the old country in the province by recommending him a position.

VERA CRUZ COST AMERICANS SIX MEN; 30 WOUNDED

Mexican Loss In Two Days' Fighting Estimated at Hundreds — British Paymaster Wounded by Sniper.

Vera Cruz, April 22—Six Americans killed and about thirty wounded marked the complete investment of Vera Cruz at noon today by the United States forces.

Rear Admiral Fletcher has taken up his headquarters at the Terminal Hotel.

After the general advance began this morning Mexican snipers on the rocks put up a strong resistance. There was one brisk action, the guns of the Prairie and Chester assisting in silencing a heavy fire from the naval college, shells from the Prairie finally shattering the walls.

The number of Mexicans killed yesterday is estimated at 150, with many wounded. The Mexican loss today is not known, but is thought to be heavy.

The paymaster of the British cruiser Essex, Albert W. Kimber, was wounded on board his ship by a sniper ashore.

The British bluejackets crowded the bows and cheered the United States marines as they proceeded in shore for the landing.

CHARLOTTETOWN PAINTER MET TRAGIC DEATH

Peter Weatherby Caught By Revolving Shaft, Receiving Fatal Injuries.

Charlottetown, April 21—Peter Weatherby, aged 40, a painter, while working on the ceiling of the Star laundry this afternoon had the sleeve of his coat caught by a projecting screw in a revolving shaft. Weatherby was whirled around with terrific force several times before the machinery could be stopped, his body being forced through the 18-inch opening between the shaft and the ceiling. His clothing was twisted so tightly round the shaft that it had to be cut off his body. He had both legs broken, one being terribly shattered, and he suffered other injuries. He died in the hospital tonight about six hours after the accident.

If eggs are placed in hot water for a few seconds before breaking, the whites will separate from the yolks very easily. They must be cooled before whipping up the whites.

Glass serving trays come in round, square and oval shapes, with the sides of mahogany, bronze, brass or wicker. Sometimes the handles are very high curved ones, and again they are square.

TORIES REFUSE RELIEF TO CANADIAN MASSES

Returning to the question of free agricultural implements, he asked why, if the Canadian implement manufacturer could compete with the American manufacturer in England, Germany and Austria-Hungary he could not meet him in Canada? In the United States, as in Canada, there was a duty on the raw materials used, except coal, so that both were on an equal footing in this regard.

When the farmer had asked for free wheat he had been told to go into mixed farming. But on new soil wheat was the most profitable crop. Where was his crop to go when the British and Canadian home markets took but 100,000,000 bushels of it. He was told he must not sell it to the United States but since the Underwood tariff came into effect we had sent two million there even against an adverse duty. The United States had imported Canadian wheat for the last ten years in bond and must have it. They could grow wheat indeed, but not ours.

Canada was being told there was a sinister intent in the American tariff. Such a charge would fail to reach the man who had risked his party and popularity to make the Panama Canal free to the world, President Wilson.

Millers Are Doing Well.

As to the effect of free wheat on the Canadian miller, Sir Wilfrid said he had yet to learn that the latter was unable to compete with the United States miller; indeed, Canadian millers on the St. Lawrence and the Welland and Lachine canals were taking the New York and New England markets away from him. And in this case as with free implements, when a choice must be made, Sir Wilfrid would make it for the farmer.

Sir Wilfrid said that the complaints as to the high cost of living synchronized with the advent to power of the present government. Under a protective tariff trusts and combines seemed to find a congenial habitat, just as microbes found a congenial habitat in dirt and darkness.

He said that bacon sold in England at fourteen and a half cents. So also there was a difference in the prices of other meats, flour and other foodstuffs in England and in this country. The tariff, continued Sir Wilfrid, existed for the people and not the people for the tariff. The tariff was not immutable. The tariff as it was when the Liberal party took office was suited to the year 1897. The time had now come for a revision.

Sir Wilfrid, in conclusion, moved his amendment, as follows:

"This house is of opinion that in view of the prevailing economic conditions of the country it is advisable to place wheat, wheat products and agricultural implements on the free list, and that, without doing injustice to any class, steps should be taken to alleviate the high cost of living by a considerate removal of taxation."

Hon. Mr. Foster.

The motion occasioned considerable hilarity on the government side and was commented upon in humorous vein by Hon. George E. Foster in beginning his reply. Mr. Foster said the motion was not so clear as the house might have expected in view of the vigorous English used by the leader of the opposition in portraying the needs of free food in his speech at Hamilton last fall. Sir Wilfred had had difficulties and had been forced to bring in a resolution indicating that he and his party, after all their professions that the cost of living was too high, now desired merely free wheat, wheat products and agricultural implements.

Foster Neatly Caught.

Coming to a discussion of the price of flour in Canada and Great Britain, respectively, Mr. Foster insisted that Sir Wilfrid had misled the house in this regard in giving relative prices. "Wherever he got his information," said Mr. Foster, "my right hon. friend was sadly out."

Repeating this assertion, when challenged by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the minister quoted what he described as "the actual statistics," to show that in England, during January and February, flour prices had ranged from $6.33 to $6.81, or higher than the Canadian prices for the same grades.

"Per barrel?" asked A. K. MacLean.

"Yes, per barrel," replied Mr. Foster.

Mr. MacLean was not satisfied, however, and suggested again that the minister was incorrect in saying that the prices quoted were prices per barrel.

Joining in the discussion, Sir Wilfrid quoted figures obtained for him by what he termed from a reliable authority which showed that the London prices in April, 1912, 1913 and 1914 were from thirty cents to a dollar below the price for the same flour in Canadian cities.

Premier Borden reminded the house that the millers who had interviewed the government a short time ago had given assurance that Canadian prices were not higher than those charged in Britain.

Mr. Foster admitted that the prices he had read were reduced to the 280 pounds basis rather than the barrel basis. On the barrel basis the price would be $4.80.

Dr. Michael Clark.

Resuming the debate after recess, Dr. Clark opened, amid applause and laughter, by referring to Mr. Foster's confession that he had been at sea for two and a half years. "I'm afraid he's still at sea," observed the Red Deer man. In a key of shrill falsetto, Mr. Foster had assured parliament that all this period of hard times would come out right in the end. Canada was just sleeping and would awaken refreshed and revigorated from her slumber.

"It's not Canada that is asleep; it is this government," declared Dr. Clark, amid renewed
