A SPRING DAY IN MAPLE CITY

Enjoyed in Various Ways---Able Sermons on Education---The Advertiser's "Trip."

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chatham, March 7.—The services at Park Street Church were conducted throughout the day by Rev. A. E. M. Thompson, of Woodslea, the subject both morning and evening being "Education." A beautiful anthem in the evening was led by Mrs. Bogart.

At Christ Church, Rev. T. S. Boyle continued his series of special sermons for men. The church was crowded in the evening, when Mr. Boyle took for his subject "Christianity and Social Life."

At Park Street Sunday School, in the afternoon, Miss Beatrice Smith, the First Presbyterian soloist, assisted in the musical part of the services.

A Spring Day.

Chatham has been favored with a perfect spring day. The sun shone brightly all day and people came out in hundreds to take advantage of the exceptional conditions. The favorite walk seemed to be to Indian Creek, and this afternoon this road presented a very animated appearance.

A Temperance Day.

Two weeks from today will be a great temperance occasion in Chatham, and most of the city churches will devote special attention to the subject. Mrs. Gordon Wright, of London, will address the Park Street congregation upon that date, and as the lady is well known to Chatham people, she is certain of a crowded audience.

A local store is advertising "Nice solid heavy cabbage!" The unfair part of the thing is that there isn't even a dyspepsia advertisement on the same page to even matters up.

Our Farmers.

A local paper stated on Saturday that about 87 per cent of the farmers of Canada preside over their own farms. This leaves us in some perplexity as to the fate of the missing thirteen! Speculation as to whether their wives preside, or whether the hired man is always "at home," or whether these 13 per cent winter on the Riviera and never mind the chores —leaves the brain baffled and unsatisfied.

C. V. Young, of Windsor, is spending today with friends in the city. Mr. Joseph Appelbe, of Windsor, is also a city visitor.

H. P. Brennan is spending the day in Wallaceburg.

It is proposed to hold a meeting of the Chatham Cricket Club this week to consider the question of arranging for some indoor practice before the commencement of the season.

A magic lantern entertainment will be given on Tuesday evening in aid of the building fund of the Central Baptist Church.

Something To Remember.

Tomorrow (Monday) evening in Christ Church schoolroom, Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick, M.A., will give a lecture entitled "A Tour of the British Isles." The Advertiser contest candidates should not miss this, as a highly interesting evening is promised. The lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides. In this connection, The Advertiser correspondent was talking today to a lady who is going to make the trip to the old land this summer for the first time in her life. The lady stated that what she dreaded was the ocean voyage, but seemed somewhat reassured when she was told by the writer, who has made the voyage several times, that the voyage is looked back upon by 99 people out of 100 as one of the most enjoyable experiences of their lives, no matter what the weather conditions may be. The days are all too few on this little floating world, when every hour is crammed full of an enjoyment and interest that is entirely and delightfully new, and it seems to be the experience of all that there is an absolute detachment from all outside worries and cares, during that brief but happy period on board ship.

There is a story of a lady who, when the ship was about mid-ocean persisted in worrying the captain as to the distance they were from land. Exasperated beyond all patience, the captain at last said: "About 7 miles, madam." "Where," said the lady. "Down below," was the grim reply. This lady, who was so anxious to reach terra firma, must have been past the age for enjoyment or constitutionally incapable of feeling it.

ASK OWNERS TO COLLECT DUES

Rock on Which Operator and Miner Split and Which May Mean Strike.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., March 7. — Miners by the hundreds of thousands and millions of people in the United States and Canada are waiting on the outcome of the conference between President Lewis of the United Mine Workers of America and the miners' committee and the presidents of the anthracite railroad and coal companies.

Whether there will be a strike, with the attending discomforts, or whether there will be peace hinges on this and subsequent meetings.

In spite of President Lewis' optimistic utterances there is a deep feeling that all is not to be so easily settled as the head of the organization is anxious to have believed.

Of all the demands made by the workers the one which it is expected will cause the trouble is the demand that the companies collect the union dues. Over this matter there has been trouble for years and as it involves the very life of the unions, is a question of great importance.

The trouble works out this way: The unions are composed largely of foreigners who are loyal to the organization until the leaders complete an agreement with the operators. These agreements generally cover a term of years, so the foreigner, having nothing to gain or lose, decides that he had better save his union fees. He, therefore, drops out.

The unions, to overcome this, have demanded that the union dues be deducted each week by the company, forcing the employee to agree to such procedure.

The companies object to this, pleading the large office expense.

The real reason, however, is that the companies prefer that the miners' funds dwindle away, as a union without money is easier to fight than one with large financial resources behind its back.

In the meantime the miners' organizers are hard at work on the coal fields in anticipation of a struggle and the men are joining and rejoining by hundreds.

The present agreement expires April 1 and the foreign miners see that for a few weeks at least they had better be union men.
