Recommendation of Ottawa Commission on Unemployment is Made.

THREE MONTHS GIVEN

Thessalon Hotelkeeper Must Find a Substitute for License.

In an interim report to the government, the Ontario Commission on Unemployment recommends that a provincial labor department be created either as a separate department or in connection with the existing department of the Ontario Government. In the same connection it is recommended that a system of employment offices be established in Ottawa, Belleville or Kingston, Toronto, Hamilton, London, North Bay, Port Arthur or Fort William. The recommendation suggests a commission of eight members, two of whom shall be women.

The report outlines the scope of the suggested commission as follows:

That the Provincial Labor Commission shall have absolute power in determining the test thru which those to be appointed to positions in connection with employment bureaus must pass.

That the control and inspection of private employment agencies be given to the Provincial Labor Commission.

That the system of employment bureaus be managed by the Provincial Labor Commission, thru a director with practical knowledge and understanding of the problems connected with employment.

That the director shall have associated with him as assistant a woman of training and ability who will act as assistant secretary to the Provincial Labor Commission.

That with each local employment bureau shall be associated a small advisory committee appointed by the provincial labor commission.

That the employment bureaus, in all cases of strikes or lockouts, remain neutral.

That, if possible, privileges be secured from the Dominion Government to enable workers living at a distance from an employment bureau to mail applications for employment, free of charge, to the nearest bureau.

The commission also recommends that all primary schools be requested to provide for domestic, manual, or agricultural instruction, and that the age for leaving school be raised to 15 years.

Regarding insurance against unemployment, it is recommended that financial assistance be given by the government of Ontario to those voluntary associations of workingmen which undertake to provide unemployment benefits for their members; and that the assistance to such associations equal 20 per cent. of the sums distributed by them in unemployment benefits.

As a result of investigations of com- Commissioner Smith into the death of a man named George Sanderson, who was reported to have been assaulted while intoxicated near Thessalon, the license commission yesterday ordered the Thessalon hotelkeeper to provide a substitute within three months. Another hotelkeeper was fined $100 for selling liquor after hours, and the license of one bartender was canceled.

INQUEST WAS OPENED.

Coroner James Gibson opened an inquest on the body of Wm. Loach at the morgue yesterday and adjourned the investigation until July 26, at 8 p.m. Loach was a Bell Telephone lineman who fell from a pole at the corner of Yonge street and Woodlawn avenue.

BOARD COMMENCES TO HEAR DEFENCE

Every Opportunity to Be Given Hotels Implicated in Recent Investigation.

The Toronto and outlying hotels implicated in the defiling of two young girls are to be given every opportunity to defend themselves before the Ontario License Commission. The board will commence today to consider the defence which the hotelkeepers will offer.

It may prove difficult to have on hand certain important witnesses and the whole of the evidence may not be in for some days yet, and a decision on the part of the board is not expected until next week.

The commission announces that hotels are now liable to lose their licenses where the members deem a road house has outlived its usefulness, law breaking or where the board deems the locality is over supplied with hotels.

Q. O. R.'S BIG FAREWELL TO OVERSEAS MEN

After Route March, Last of Season, Troops Were Addressed at Armories.

Orders have been given to all the home service men in the Queen's Own Rifles to turn in their uniforms. These will be used in clothing the overseas quotas. The regiment has been short of uniforms since last January, and none have been received from the department.

The last weekly parade of the Q. O. R. was held last night. A route march of the city was held, and afterwards the men returned to the armories and heard a farewell address to the overseas quota from Col. Peuchen. He wished the men the best possible success and luck. An officers' meeting was held afterwards.

AUTOISTS' MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Car, Struck by Train, Turned Two Somersaults and Occupants Were Unhurt.

Special to The Toronto World.

TWEED, July 21.—Edward Gartley of Tweed Pump Works and family had a miraculous escape from death this afternoon, while crossing the C. P. R. tracks here in their auto. Just at the moment they were crossing the track the train shunted and the van struck the auto, turning it completely over twice and all were pinned underneath the car, but Mr. Gartley, who was driving, being thrown in the ditch. He jumped up and lifted the auto partly up and got the family out. They escaped with a few bruises, but the car was a complete wreck.

CLAIM FOR INDEMNITY IS DISPUTED BY CHILI

French Government Wants Compensation for Sinking of Barque.

SANTIAGO, Chile, July 21.—The French Government has presented a claim to Chile for the French barque Valentine, which was sunk last November, by the Germans within the territorial waters of Chile. Chile has rejected the claim, declaring that she had kept her neutrality.

The Valentine was sent to the bottom by a German cruiser half a mile off the Island of Mas a Fuera, one of the Juan Fernandez Islands in the Pacific belonging to Chile. The French legation at Santiago lodged a protest with the Chilean government at the time of the sinking of the barque.

"THE MISLEADING LADY."

Next week at the Alexandra the Robins Players will present the fascinating comedy of thrills and laughter, "The Misleading Lady," which is said to be one of the funniest farces of a decade. It was written by Paul Dickey and Chas. Goddard, and enjoyed a run of over seven months at the Fulton Theatre, New York City.

THE PARK THEATRE.

"The Irish-Canadian," the patriotic comedy being offered the first three days of this week, is filling the house at each performance. For the last half of the week, "Lady Audley's Secret" will be offered. This is a drama taken from the book of the same name.

HANLAN'S POINT.

Tonight the first grand free fireworks display will be given on the famous lagoon stage at Hanlan's. All kinds of elaborate set pieces and aerial bombs, the majority of which are entirely new to the City of Toronto, will be fired. Accommodations for the handling of twenty thousand people are completed, every visitor being assured of a perfect view. The Grenadiers will render a musical program, and the free outdoor movies will be given as usual. The great aviation camp is the centre of island interest.

GRAHAM MOFFATT PLAYERS.

The headline attraction at the Hippodrome next week will be the famous Graham Moffatt Players, presenting for the first time in Canada their laughable farce comedy, "The Concealed Bed." A novel exponent of the art of making people laugh is James Reynolds. Infectious in gaiety are the songs of winsome Mabel Mack, the charming singing comedienne. Most sensational is the aerial act produced by The Flying Weavers. Savoy and Brennan are said to be the most novel pair of eccentric comedians in vaudeville. Variety is given by the Musical Ozaves, who combine harmony and versatility over a wide range of musical instruments. Harry S. Cleve brings a real circus mule. The feature films of four different companies round out a most complete bill.
