FAIR-SIZED SHIPMENT OF LIVE HOGS TODAY

Live and Dressed Poultry Have Dropped in Price On Local Market.

Seven loads of hay were offered on the local market square today, six of which sold at no less than $15 per ton. There was a fair-sized shipment of live hogs at $9 10 per cwt.

Oats are very scarce and strongly in demand. Only one small load appeared on the market today.

Butter is still low in price, even creamery butter has made a considerable drop. One leading creamery are reported to be selling their output as low as 24 cents per pound.

Live and dressed turkeys have dropped in price, the reason being that the market is now supplied with old breeding stock. Live gobblers bring 12 and 13 cents per pound. When dressed they are worth 18 cents retail, or 16 cents wholesale.

The market was small in size today. Other quotations:

WINNIPEG, April 22.—The local market opened up lower and there was a good demand for all grades of cash wheat. Gradually the price was forced up, but it moved stiffly and finally sold at 55¾c or ¼c over Friday's close. The bulls could not make it stick, however, and the price dropped back to 54¾c, an advance of ⅜c for the morning. July closed ⅛c and October ⅜c higher. Unlike wheat, oats advanced easily, there being a sudden active demand for low grades. May oats sold up to 35c and September to 35c, but broke ¼c to ⅜c below the close. It was reported they were wanted for export. Cash grain—Wheat—No. 1 northern, 94c; No. 2 northern, 91½c; No. 3 northern, 88c; No. 4, 84¼c; No. 5, [illegible]

STANDARD OF EDUCATION WILL BE MADE HIGHER

Toronto University Would Make Senior Matriculation Basis of Entrance.

Toronto, April 24. — In view of the fact that the first-year classes in the University of Toronto are too large for effective work, and that the pressure in the possi course of the first year is becoming very heavy, the senate of the university is now considering the advisability of raising the standard of entrance to the univer-sity to that of senior, instead of junior matriculation. This question was laid before the senate by the Rev. Dr. Falconer, president of the university, and will be again brought up for discussion at the autumn meeting of the senate, and if the principle is approved it will then be sent to the various departments of the university for consideration. Another important move has been made in connection with the universities of the Province, when representatives of Queen's, McMaster, and the Western University decided to allow a scale of values for subjects of the junior matriculation and a plan to aid the student who is unable to attend the regular sessions of a secondary school.

SENATE UNORGANIZED CAN'T TACKLE BILLS

No Committees Ready to Deal With Measures From the Representatives.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, April 24.—Congress today found itself in a peculiar situation. The House is congratulating itself on having passed expeditiously the campaign publicity, the direct election of senators, and the Canadian reciprocity bills, but the Senate thus far practically is unorganized, its committees not yet having been named. Because of this, the upper branch of Congress was unprepared to go ahead with the programme. The situation may be remedied tomorrow, when Chairman Gallinger, of the committee on committees, will bring in a list of the Republican members. It remains to be seen whether this list will satisfy the "progressive" Republicans and permit of immediate action.

Having caught up with its work, the House programme today dealt with emergency bills, with a report late in the afternoon of the free list measure by Chairman Underwood, of the ways and means committee. A week or more of debate on the measure is anticipated, though its ultimate passage is not doubted.

The Pacific Liner Asia Goes On Rock But Passengers Escape.

The Asia struck Sunday morning while feeling her way cautiously through a thick fog in the direction of Shanghai.

A ST. MARYS PASTOR GOES TO OTTAWA

Rev. D. N. Morden To Preach in Erskine Church at Capital.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, April 24.—Rev. D. N. Morden, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, St. Marys, Ontario, has expressed his willingness to accept the call recently extended to him to become pastor of Erskine Presbyterian Church here.

He will come to Ottawa about the third Sunday in May. Rev. Mr. Morden B. A., studied theology under the direction of the presbytery of Niagara, in Auburn Presbyterian College. He took his arts course in Queen's University, Kingston, from 1901 to 1905, and also took a special work in theology in the same college. He has been five years in St. Marys, and during his pastorate in that congregation it has doubled its size. Fifty per cent of the congregation are men.

He succeeds Rev. Mr. Nicol here, over whose retirement a split occurred in Erskine Church, resulting in the formation of a new congregation.

form of grant as part payment of the salaries of the instructors.

No Grants for Buildings.

"I do not think grants will be made towards the construction of a building or its equipment. For instance, Toronto might receive one-third the salary of the teachers, while London and other places might receive five-sixths of the amounts paid for salaries. As I hinted at before, the municipality will have to bear the brunt of the expense. There need be no elaborate outlay at the beginning. A large expenditure is not necessary."

Mr. Leake paid his first visit to the Dennis Wire Works, and later will go to the others.

Navigation Open on Upper Lakes.

Commencing Monday, April 24, the Canadian Pacific steamers will sail from Owen Sound on same schedule as last year, viz., Athabasca, Monday; Keewatin, Tuesday; Alberta, Wednesday; Manitoba, Thursday; Assiniboia, Saturday. Passengers from London leave on C. P. R. at 4:38 a.m. Full information can be had at City Ticket Office, 161 Dundas street, corner Richmond. 74c

MANY MEN ANXIOUS FOR ROAD ROLLER JOB

County Should Have No Difficulty in Securing a Chauffeur.

The county of Middlesex should have little difficulty in securing a man for the position of engineer of the new steam roller, the first to be tried out in rural work in this district, 28 applications having already been received.

Reeves Chris Brooks and John McGugan, with the county engineer, John Talbot, the committee selected by the county council to make the appointment, met Saturday afternoon and decided upon John Farrell, of Appin, if he cares to act as 'chauffeur' at the salary named, $2 75 per day.

While he has never acted as pilot of a road roller before, Farrell has had experience with traction engines, and will probably get the job.

It is expected that the machine, which is an English make, and which was purchased at the special session of the county council, at the end of March, will arrive in the county during the first week of May, and will commence operations in the town of Parkhill. A new road is being constructed through the town and will extend about three miles north into the country.

Good Roads.

County Engineer Talbot is now prepared to undertake the task of constructing good roads in earnest, and before the end of the summer a great improvement may be looked for. However, it is recognized that the roads of Middlesex compare very favorably as a whole with those of other counties, but the plans are to surpass all others.

While it is generally admitted that the chances of bringing the city in on the scheme are nil, many people have suggested that London contribute something towards the maintenance of the main highways leading into the city. This scheme has been adopted by many American cities, notably Cleveland, the Ohioans recognizing that business is attracted to the place by its excellent highways. Brick pavements many miles in length extend in all directions from Cleveland.

BOARD OF WORKS MAY OIL ROADS

Proposition to Lay the Dust on Macadam Streets.

The board of works will consider a proposition for oiling some of the macadam streets in the city.

Some time ago, this was recommended to the council, and No. 2 committee have been dealing with it ever since.

Some of the agents of the oil companies doing business here may show the advantages of this process by putting a barrel or so on the streets.

"It looks like a good proposton," declared Ald. Eckert.

The Lucknow Sentinel has the following in regard to the death of Mr. Robert Findlater, of this city: Mr Findlater was an esteemed member of Old Light Lodge, A. F. and A. M., Lucknow, and the funeral held here on Sunday afternoon was conducted by that order. The remains were taken to the Masonic Hall, where a short religious service was first conducted by the Rev. J. S. Duncan, followed by the Masonic funeral service, conducted by Mr. M. J. McPherson, of Kincardine. Members of the lodge, accompanied by a number of visiting brethren, marched in a body to the South Kinloss Cemetery, where interment took place with the ceremonies of the order.

HOLD ANOTHER MEETING

"We have the opinion of the best legal minds on the question, and there is no doubt that a motion to lower the salary of the rector is legal," said one of the prominent members of the congregation. "When Mr. Hill presented his objections last week we were not prepared to meet him. Now we are, and we will be in a position to show that we are right. We are not vindictive, but we must have our rights."

It is rumored that the next session of the synod will be rather an interesting one.

May Penetrate Synod.

This difficulty has gone further than the bounds of the Church of St. John the Evangelist. It is understood that the canons will furnish the basis of a rather striking debate at the next meeting of the synod. The laymen will introduce several amendments to the canons, particularly as they refer to the removal of rectors, should they not meet with the approval of the congregations.

The lay delegates from various congregations are being communicated with, and already considerable support has been promised the movement.

There will be considerable opposition, it is anticipated.

PATRON SAINT WAS EULOGIZED

Englishmen of London Attended St. Paul's Cathedral in a Body on St. George's Day.

THE LIFE OF ST. GEORGE

Born in Palestine in the Third Century—Slaying the Dragon Typifies Slaying of Paganism.

St. George's Day was fittingly celebrated yesterday afternoon by the members of St. George's Society and the Sons of England, when they marched in a body to St. Paul's Cathedral and heard a special sermon on "St. George," by Rev. T. B. Clarke, of All Saints' Church.

"We have met here today," said Mr. Clarke in commencing his address, "because this is the anniversary of the death of a very holy man, St. George, the patron saint of England. We have no intention whatever of invoking his aid or guidance, but wish to consider as far as possible his life and some of its results. Some people say that the Church of England is inconsistent because although she dedicates her churches to various saints, she holds no celebrations in their honor. I do not think, however, that any church honors them more, for wherever she has gone she has taught her children to honor them everywhere.

St. George's Character.

"St. George is likely to be held in honor as long as England exists. Unfortunately we do not know very much about him, but we do know enough to be able to form a very clear opinion of his character. He was born at Libya, in Palestine, in the third century. I do not know what church is going to claim him for her own, and I do not know how the people of England came to choose him for their patron saint. St. Patrick, the patron saint of Ireland, lived among the Irish for a long time. The people of Wales chose St. David because he lived among them and devoted his whole life to their welfare. St. George only stayed in England a very short time. We know that he was born of Christian parents, and we find that he was very conspicuous as a bold and fearless soldier and as a judge unceasingly fair and just. We are told that he went through a Persian campaign with the Emperor Diocletian, and that he went to England. He was instrumental in converting Queen Helena to Christianity. Through his influence directly, paganism was finally overthrown and Christians
