BOTH SIDES.

A man in his carriage was riding along,
A gaily dressed wife by his side;
In satin and laces she looked like the queen,
And he like a king in his pride.

A wood sawyer stood on the street as they passed;
The carriage and couple he eyed:
And said, as he worked with his saw on a log,
"I wish I was rich and could ride."

The man in the carriage remarked to his wife,
"One thing I would give if I could—
I'd give my wealth for the strength and the health
Of the man who saweth the wood."

A pretty young maid, with a bundle of work,
Whose face as the morning was fair,
Went tripping along with a smile of delight,
While humming a love breathing air.

She looked on the carriage; the lady she saw,
Arrayed in apparel so fine,
And said in a whisper, "I wish from my heart,
Those satins and laces were mine."

The lady looked out on the maid with her work,
So fair in her calico dress,
And said, "I'd relinquish position and wealth
Her beauty and youth to possess."

Thus it is in the world, whatever our lot,
Our minds and our time we employ
In longing and sighing for what we have not,
Ungrateful for what we enjoy.

LONDON, July 8th, 1874.

ROTTER ROW.

The fashionable world is just now at the height of its festivities. The Row every day is crowded, and the principal Squares are awake until morning with "the merry music of the dance." The English aristocracy are, in fine, all gathered in the metropolis. I passed through "the Row" yesterday afternoon, and I think I never saw it fuller. I was very much amused at the actions of a snob, who, seated on a sorry looking hack, could neither by coaxing, threatening, whipping or patting, induce him to pass quietly under the trees. He presented a spectacle which made him the laughing stock of the gentlemen and the terror of the ladies.

POLITICS

were never more depressed than at the present time. It is whispered that the Government is doing its utmost to preserve this languid feeling, and is setting its face steadily against warmth on either side. Only once or twice this session has the Prime Minister permitted his lieutenants to engage seriously in any fray, and then the question contended over was the Gold Coast. Nothing, it is said, could suit his purpose better than the prevailing lassitude. The end of the session is still out of sight, and the Premier has yet made no sign of his intention to slay the innocents. The London tradesmen are overjoyed at it, for to them it means a longer season and brisk trade up to the middle of August. Ill natured partizans say that in arranging for a late sitting of Parliament this year the Premier was not unmindful of his friends in Regent street and Bond street, to whom he thought a short, hasty session, such as was at one time contemplated, would be a gross injustice. This, of couse, is mere scandal, and may be taken for what it is worth.

THE OPERA AND THE DRAMA

are in full blast, and are nightly attended by brilliantly fashionable audiences. On Monday evening Madame Nilsson appeared as Leonora in Verd's opera "Il Trovatore," at Her Majesty's Opera, Drury Lane (her first appearance in that character in England). Signor Companine assumed the character of Manrico. The gathering was one of the most brilliant of the season. This week and next closes the opera here.

ROYAL VISIT TO THE ISLE OF WIGHT.

The Crown Prince and Princess of Prussia are at the Isle of Wight, where they purpose staying with their family for a short season. They are expected to visit Her Majesty the Queen at Windsor Castle to-day.

THE WIMBLEDON MEETING.

There is a marked falling off in the attendance of competitors at the Wimbledon Camp this year, although there will probably be no falling off in the skill of the marksmen by whom the great prizes will be carried off. There is a very satisfactory increase in the money value of the prizes this year over any of the previous ones. Active work at the Camp commenced Monday morning at 9.15. An additional area, covering some 25 or 30 acres of ground, has been thrown into the encampment, and thus the inconvenient concentration and proximity of tents, often complained of in former years, will be avoided. A new system of targets and of marking has been adopted, and nothing save fine weather is wanted to secure plenary success. Our Canadian team came into camp on Saturday, and they are acknowledged on all sides to be fine looking fellows, who seem quite competent to repeat their great feat of two years ago. The Daily Telegraph, in speaking of them, says: "Much to the satisfaction of Englishmen of all classes our Canadian brethren have again sent a formidable contingent of representatives to try conclusions with us at Wimbledon. Although we prize ourselves justly upon our still unsurpassed prowess with the rifle, there are no competitors from across the sea by whom we should less dislike to be beaten than by the marksmen of Canada. It is the constant boast of the sons and daughters of the Dominion that the country which they inhabit is more free than any other upon earth. Englishmen are naturally indisposed to admit that, as regards the enjoyment of freedom, any nation, whether kindred or foreign, is more happily circumstanced than they are themselves. But a common determination to preserve from violation the freedom that they respectively enjoy teaches both Englishmen and Canadians to betake themselves to steady practice with the rifle."

An Indian team has been organized to meet them in the competition for the Rajah of Kalapore's Cup. The conditions have been so altered as to admit as members of the Indian team all and sundry who have served, or are serving, in that great dependency. As a consequence a formidable eight have been nominated, with Lord George Hamilton, Under Secretary for India, as their captain. The review takes place on the 18th.

THE DUKE AND DUCHESS OF EDINBURGH are at Jugenheim, where they remain until the 25th. Steps are to be taken to provide greater accommodation for the illustrious pair, as they purpose making their visit an annual one. They go from thence to Cobourg and thence to Balmoral.

THE FRENCH EMBASSY.

The French Ambassador, His Excellency the Duc de la Rochefoucauld Bisaccia, was, on the evening of Saturday last, honored by the presence at dinner of their Royal Highnesses the Prince and Princess of Wales.

INDEPENDENCE DAY

was celebrated here on the 4th by a reception at the residence of the United States Minister, at which a large number of American ladies and gentlemen and others were present.

EMIGRANTS FOR CANADA.

A telegram has just been received by Mr. Taylor, general secretary to the Agricultural Union, from Mr. Richardson, who accompanied the last batch of emigrants to Canada, asking him to send out at once 200 good farm laborers. Mr. Arch being full of business, Mr. Bull, a delegate, will accompany them. He has gone to Newmarket to arrange for the shipment of the number required.

NORTHUMBERLAND HOUSE LION.

The famous lion which for one hundred and twenty years has stood on the top of Northumberland House, at Charingcross, is no more to be seen in his exalted position. Last week the familiar object was carted through the portals of the princely edifice, to be reinstated at the Duke of Northumberland's residence at Lion House, where he will become a conspicuous object to passengers along the Thames. The lion's paws were found to be firmly fastened by lead into an immense stone, which represents the "Chapeau d'honneur" of the arms of the ducal house. It was erected in 1749, when as the inscription testifies, that part of Northumberland House was begun by Algernon, Duke of Somerset, and finished by his daughter, Countess of Northumberland. The body of the animal is made of lead and the tail of hollow copper. It measures along the curve of the back 11 ft. 6 in.; tail 4 ft. 3 in.; round the mane 7 ft. 9 in.; top of head to sole of foot 5 ft. 5 in.; and weighs about 1½ tons. When seen quite close, the casting of the features and hair appear rough.

SPIRITUALISM AT THE CRYSTAL PALACE.

Miss Annie Fay, together with her husband, who styles himself Col. Fay, has been giving private exhibitions of her powers as a spiritualist at the Crystal Palace. She is not a success here, and her prospects of reaping a fortune in London are slight indeed.

POLITICS IN SPAIN.

Political questions in Spain, for the moment, are forgotten, amid regret for Marshal Concha's death, and speculations as to its consequences. The sympathy of the Capital is general and profound. The army has suffered an irreparable loss, and the country, in the doubtful prospect before it, will miss one of the most efficient sureties for the public order.

A GRAND BANQUET

was given to Mr. Toole, the celebrated comedian, last week, previous to his departure for America, at Willis's rooms. The Earl of Roseberry, Lord Alfred Paget and other distinguished guests were present.

POPE PIUS IX.

Photographs of His Holiness the Pope, represented as chained in a loathesome dungeon and strictly guarded by Bersagliere, are being sold to the simple-hearted peasantry throughout Europe; also the damp straw which he is said to have slept on, the latter being put up in small bundles and sold at half a franc each. The photographs sell at the same price; 50,000 of the ninth series have already been disposed of, and the demand still exceeds the supply.

MR. JENKINS, M. P.,

Agent General for Canada, in reply to a challenge of the Daily Standard to disprove the charges of disloyalty which, in one of its issues, it brought against the "Brown-McKenzie Government," declines, on the ground that his appointment is not a political one, and that after their disproval by the Government, they were of no further weight.

THACKERAY'S AUTOGRAPH.

The passion for autographs is raging keenly, and the letters and manuscripts of Thackeray are being multiplied by the thousands, by experts in the art of palming off copies for originals upon eager purchasers, and the demand for the supposed scraps of the humorist's handwriting is enormous.

THE ROYAL THAMES YACHT CLUB.

His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, as Commodore of the Royal Thames Yacht Club, last week presented, on behalf of the club, at a grand banquet given for the occasion, a costly testimonial subscribed for by the members, as a mark of esteem to Lord Alfred Paget, who has acted for twenty-seven years as Commodore, having resigned in favor of His Royal Highness.

TALL WALKING.

A Miss Richards, a native of Stapleton, near Bristol, has just successfully concluded the immense feat of walking a thousand miles in a thousand hours. The wager was with her father for $250.

THE IRON TRADE

of Great Britain is in a very depressed condition at present, and employers have come to the determination to make another demand for a reduction in the wages both of the iron workers and the miners. The reduction will probably be between twenty and thirty per cent. There is a reduction of from seven to eight shillings per ton on the prices of coal this year as compared with last.

R. P.

Mr. Beecher's Love Letters.

"As to Mr. Beecher's love letters," said a gentleman whose official business has led him to receive and open much of Mr. Beecher's correspondence, "you would be surprised to know how foolishly some women write to him. Every once in a while a woman gets a little crazy and writes to Mr. Beecher to tell how much she adores him. The letters used to go to the Independent office, and Tilton, under orders from Mr. Beecher, opened them. Many of them he made copies of, and to-day has manuscripts and names, and copies of letters, all connected with respectable ladies who have foolishly written to Mr. Beecher all about their love for him. Some time ago a very respectable lady of Brooklyn wrote a warm, loving letter to Mr. Beecher; Mr. John Howard in the Christian Union office, under general instructions, opened it, and seeing what it was, locked it up to give to Mr. Beecher when he should call for it. In a day or two another letter from the same woman arrived, which referred to a letter which the writer said Mr. Beecher had written to her in reply. Every sentence was full of love, and the lady said that nothing delighted her more than to receive a letter from a man she loved so well. She wrote a number of love sick epistles, which Mr. Howard locked up one after the other. Every letter except the first referred to a reply that had just been received from Beecher; whereas the fact is, that Mr. Beecher did not know of the letters having been received until long after the lady had ceased writing, and then the bundle was delivered to him. He receives love letters by the ream and cord, and the joke of it is, that as his wife takes care of all letters that come to him, she reads the love letters before he sees them. Mrs. Tilton's letters to Mr. Beecher were very affectionate and enthusiastic, and expressed a deep, pervading love for him. Mrs. Beecher read them all before he saw them, and they are all in her possession now. When the scandal was first noised about Mrs. Beecher looked up the letters, and at Mrs. Tilton's request, has preserved them for her. You can't convince Mrs. Beecher that her husband is guilty of anything that Tilton charges. She says that if all the women in creation were to swear that Mr. Beecher had been unfaithful she would not believe them."
