SAMPLE CARDS AND HOLDERS.

THEY ARE TO BE FREE OF DUTY FOR THE FUTURE.

Competition Invited from Sculptors for the Best Model of a Statue of the Late Sir John Macdonald — Health Statistics—Algoma Wants Emigrants—Ontario's Good Showing in Crime.

OTTAWA, Jan. 23.—The Department of Customs has given a decision with regard to sample cards and portfolios, which is of some importance to importers. The decision is conveyed in a circular to collectors from which the following is an extract:

"The attention of this department having been drawn to a practice which has prevailed at some ports of entry of charging duty upon cards and portfolios having no commercial value in themselves to which commercial samples are attached you are hereby instructed that such articles are no duty must be collected on such samples cards or portfolios; and the duty must apply to sample books having no commercial value and to which samples are attached.

"In making clear the intention of this department you are further advised that the term 'commercial value' is held to be applicable only to such cards and portfolios as are necessary for the proper display of the samples and which reach Canada with such samples attached or adhering thereto and which, after having been used for the purpose of exhibiting the goods, are of no further value, being destroyed while in use for such purposes or to be perceptible, susceptible of being put to any other use."

Sculptors to Compete.

Public Works Department is prepared to invite competition amongst sculptors for the best model of a statue of the late Sir John Macdonald, towards which the parliament last session voted $10,000.

The same plan will be adopted as was followed in the case of the statue of Sir George E. Cartier. Several photographs have been obtained showing Sir John in different attitudes, and a short biography will be provided, together with particulars of height, etc., and then an advertisement will be inserted in Canada, English, French and Italian papers offering a prize of $1000 for the best model. In the case of Sir George Cartier there were over 20 competitors, the prize being taken by M. Hebert, a Canadian.

Quarantine Matters.

At the conference on quarantine matters to be held here on the 31st inst. between the Dominion and Provincial authorities, the question as to the best method of collecting and publishing health statistics will also be discussed.

Algoma Neglected.

Complaints have been made by residents of the Algoma District that, while efforts were being made by the Dominion Government to attract immigrants to other parts of the Dominion, Algoma had been neglected. Hon. Mr. Daly has at the instance of Mr. G. H. Macdonnel, M.P., agreed to appoint J. D. McKay of Port Arthur to proceed to the North of England and Scotland to represent the advantages of Algoma as a field for settlement.

Mr. McKay is well acquainted both with Algoma and the districts he will visit, and his efforts ought to be conducive to considerable emigration from these districts to Algoma.

Canada's Penitentiaries.

The annual report of the Minister of Justice on the penitentiaries in Canada for the fiscal year ended June 30 shows that the total number of convicts received during the year was 387, as compared with 414 the previous year, a decrease of 27.

The number discharged was 408, as compared with 416 in 1891. The number remaining in all the penitentiaries on June 30, 1892, was 1228, of whom 26 were females, all of them being in Kingston.

There were 11 deaths during the year, of which nine were in Kingston. There were seven escapes, two from Kingston, one from Dorchester, two from Manitoba and two from British Columbia.

Ontario made by far the best showing of the provinces, as the prison population of Kingston decreased 54, while there was an increase in each of the other penitentiaries.

MORE FOREPAUGH HEIRS.

The Great Showman's Brother, Joseph Lugrian, Seeks His Share.

MONTREAL, Jan. 22.—A serious attempt will soon be made, it is said, to compel the people who at present enjoy the property left by the late Adam Forepaugh, the circus man, to share with some of Adam Forepaugh's Canadian relatives who have only recently heard of Forepaugh's death. These relations are living in Montreal and consist of a brother and his six children.

Forepaugh, as is perhaps not generally known, was a French-Canadian by birth. His name was Adam Lugrian, and he was born in the County of Maskinonge, Province of Quebec. His brother was a farmer, who afterwards moved to Montreal.

When Adam was about 17 years old a show came to Montreal. When the show left town Adam, who knew the clown, went with him. His family heard from him once and learned of his change of name, but never saw him again.

Twelve members of the family who once attended his show at St. Hyacinthe were shown to reserved seats, although Adam kept shy of them. Adam had three brothers. The widow of one of them recently wrote from Worcester, Mass., that some unknown person from Philadelphia had written her about her relation to Forepaugh, and hinted that she had a right to some of the money left. The relations here have written to her, but have received no reply.

Joseph Lugrian of this city, on behalf of his father, Anable Lugrian, who is at present 76 years of age, has decided to put the matter in the hands of some prominent law firm to see that any rights they may have in the matter are enforced.

SHOT THROUGH HIS HEART.

He Was a Victim of Drunkenness and Despondency—Fired the Bullet Himself.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Jan. 23.—Yesterday forenoon a most determined suicide took place in the gore of Westminster on lot 24, con. "G," about a mile north of the Southwold townline. Some years ago John Mulligan, a well-to-do farmer, died leaving a family of three sons and four daughters.

Each of the sons was left a 100-acre farm, but strong drink proved a curse in William's case, and for 30 years he has spent not only his time, but his means, in drinking.

Lately he has lived on the old homestead with his brothers and two sisters. He was a married man, but his wife died some years ago, leaving three sons, who are still living.

For the past two weeks the deceased has displayed a more or less violent temper and two weeks ago he threatened the life of his sister. Yesterday morning he asked for her, but searching could not find her.

He threatened his eldest son and about 10 o'clock went upstairs to his bedroom. In a few moments his son John heard a shot. He ran to the bedroom door, but finding it partly closed, hesitated out of fear of the brother, before entering.

The exclamation "I am shot" meeting his ears he rushed in and found William lying on the floor shot through the breast. The deceased was about 49 years of age.

Two brothers, James and John, four sisters, two unmarried and two others, Mrs. Beattie and Mrs. Jones of Florence, and his three sons survive him. His father and mother have been dead for some years. An inquest is spoken of.

YET A RUMOR.

But It Says That Mgr. Satolli Will Not Remain Long in the U.S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says: Some significant rumors are in circulation here as to Archbishop Satolli's successor as apostolic delegate. On the best authority I am informed that Satolli is not likely to remain in the United States for many years. He is destined to secure a cardinal's hat.

He is a favorite with Pope Leo XIII., who has the utmost confidence in his sagacity, love of justice and progressiveness of spirit. The Pope wishes to make Satolli a cardinal, and as the Pontiff's health is not of the best, he is likely to make the promotion before long.

The next Papal delegate will not necessarily be an Italian. He may be an American, I am led to believe. Either Archbishop Ireland or Bishop Keane would be acceptable to the progressive element of the church in this country. The Pope is said to esteem them both highly.

In case Archbishop Ireland is made a Cardinal at the time of Satolli's promotion, the former might be made the latter's successor as delegate. Bishop Keane, it is believed, would prove a favorite for the place if Archbishop Ireland is a Cardinal when Satolli leaves this country.

DENVER'S REFORM.

Places of Amusement Closed—A Dean's House Raided.

DENVER, Col., Jan. 23.—All places of amusements were closed yesterday by the order of the Police Board, and the proprietors were placed in jail. The police were forced to make the arrests by Rev. H. M. Hart, Dean of the Episcopal Church, who has inaugurated a crusade against Sunday amusements and insists upon the enforcement of the law.

After the theatres were closed, immense crowds gathered in the principal streets and talked the matter over. Suddenly a move was made for Dean Hart's house, and in a short time about 2000 people surrounded it, and after hooting and cat-calling stones were thrown, smashing several windows.

The police soon arrived on the scene and dispersed the crowd without making any arrests. Nobody was in the bombarded building at the time, the Dean and the family having been removed by friends a short time before the mob arrived. The excitement soon subsided and no further trouble is expected.

Has an Official Flavor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The Times says: It was learned last night in official naval circles that England proposes, in the event of the Prince of Wales visiting the Columbian Fair, sending her entire Channel squadron to the Columbian naval review.

If this is done there will be present the most powerful fleet assembled to-day under one flag. The special squadron commanded by Rear-Admiral Gherardi, is timed to arrive at Barbadoes by Feb. 1. This squadron will sail direct from Hampton Roads, Va., and there await the arrival of the various foreign squadrons.

On Sunday evening week a young bank clerk not far from the corner of King and Yonge-streets called on his best girl. Finding the furnace pipes cold and the gas frozen, excused himself and left. Since then she has excused herself from speaking as they pass by. He has worn out a pair of boots through kicking himself since, as he has learned of a cool little fortune left her. THE EGYPTIAN QUESTION.

RUSSIA AND TURKEY ARE BACKING THE KHEDIVE.

Gladstone May Have to Let Loose His Dogs of War Before He Grapples With the Home Rule Bill—France Has Wriggled Herself Into the Turmoil—The Sultan's Bribe.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Cabinet held two long sessions to-day to consider the Egyptian question. Lord Rosebery has received advices from Lord Cromer, the British Minister to Egypt, to the effect that the Khedive has intimated his intention to refer to the Turkish Sultan and to treaty powers the action of England in causing the dismissal of the Egyptian Cabinet.

Other advices from Cairo state that the natives are in a more excited condition than at any time since the outbreak under Arabi Pasha. While a considerable party of the moderate and intelligent natives support the British position, the multitude take sides with the Khedive and against what they call infidel dictation.

The Marquis of Ripon, Secretary for the Colonies, left a bed of sickness to be present at the Cabinet meeting to-day. While the Cabinet was in session a stream of telegrams continued to pour into the Foreign Office from Cairo. These were immediately transmitted to the Cabinet. The prolonged session of the Cabinet is understood to be due to a difference of opinion as to necessity of reinforcing the British army of occupation in Egypt, both with a view to protecting British interests at Cairo and to protect the frontier against dervishes, who have recently become very menacing.

France Puts in an Oar.

A note reached Lord Rosebery on Saturday from the French Foreign Office stating that the French Government, while refraining from objecting to Riaz Pasha as Premier, would maintain the right of the Khedive to choose his ministers.

A Cairo despatch received in Paris this afternoon says the Sultan has telegraphed to the Khedive his congratulations on the attitude which the Khedive had assumed in respect to the formation of a Cabinet independent of English interference. The Sultan will send the Khedive a present of six horses.

In an interview at Cairo this evening Lord Cromer, in reply to questions about the situation, said: "There is no cause to apprehend a disturbance, but if a disturbance should occur I guarantee it will be of short duration."

A Stitch in Time.

It is officially announced that the British Government has decided upon a slight increase of the British troops in Egypt, in view of the fact that recent events have threatened to disturb public security.

The reinforcements to be sent to Egypt are not likely to exceed 1000 troops and two war ships for Alexandria and Port Said, and one warship for Suez.

TROUBLE IN EGYPT.

The Khedive Is Tempted into Being a Naughty Boy.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Cairo correspondent of The Times says: The situation is very strained. Popular excitement is increasing owing to the general belief that the Khedive intends to test Great Britain's determination to continue her occupation and ascendancy.

The press denounces the British officials as rebels because they refused to recognize three new Ministers during the two days between the Khedive's nominations and England's recognition of them. The Khedive is credited openly with the intention to dismiss all the highest English officials.

The language of the press is increasingly violent, and alludes to the Khedive as a hero. The Khedive, with a strong nature impelling him to extremes, can easily be made a tool of by the cleverer heads about the Khedive's court.

The Cairo correspondant of The Daily News says: The situation here is critical and unless Great Britain takes very stringent measures she will have to solve a more serious question than ever before in Egypt. The anti-English demonstration planned for the occasion of the Khedive's visit to the Opera House was frustrated only by the rigorous measures of the authorities and the strong police force present. The British troops were confined to their barracks and a strong detachment was stationed near the opera house.

THE MORLEY CASE.

The Plymouth Brethren Will Have to Come to Terms.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The trial of the Morley-Longheman case, which is an action to recover the sum of £140,000, the amount alleged to have been secured by undue influence by the Longhemans, Plymouth Brethren, from Henry Morley, deceased, brother of the Postmaster-General, was continued to-day.

An accountant named Blow testified he had traced the transfer sums amounting to £132,682 from Henry Morley to the Longhemans. He had also found a number of checks drawn by Henry Morley, the payees of which could not be traced.

The Solicitor-General asked the court to decide in favor of the plaintiff. He claimed that evidence clearly proved that the Longhemans induced Henry Morley, while mentally unsound, to surrender his fortune to them.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—A sensation has been caused in Irish circles by the announcement that T. B. Curran, M.P. for Kilkenny, has been privately married at the registry office in Manchester to an Australian danseuse named Marie Brooks, who is playing the principal part—that of a boy—in a local pantomime.

The Czar's Ambition.

VIENNA, Jan. 23.—Prof. Armenius Vamberg, the well-known Oriental traveler, is of opinion that the visit to St. Petersburg of the Ameer of Bokhara and the Khan of Khiva is a prelude to the Czar assuming the title of Emperor of Asia as an offset to Queen Victoria's title of Empress of India.

It is said that a new coat of arms for the Czar has just been completed, the design consisting of a double eagle flying over the sun's disc.

HAND AND GLOVE.

The Hands Went on Strike Because They Were Asked to Pay for Power to Run the Glove Machines.

Twenty-two of the female employes of Clarke & Co.'s glove factory, Eastern-avenue, went out on strike yesterday.

The World disturbed Mr. A. R. Clarke last night in the middle of a French lesson at his residence in Wilton-avenue, but he willingly allowed himself to be interviewed.

"The custom among the glove manufacturers in the United States and Canada," he said, "is to make a charge of 50c per week for power for the sewing machines. Last April we put in, at a large expense, steam power for our machines, but made no charge during 1892. Commencing with January, we decided to charge at the rate of 25c per week for power supplied each machine, instead of 50c as is customary. The girls, or rather some of them, objected to this."

"Can the girls make more money by steam?" ventured the newsman.

"I was just coming to that. All of them made from 50c to $4 a week more on each machine when driven by power. The greater part of them did not commence work this morning, but since that time a number have resumed and we expect the remainder to be at work again in a day or two."

"What have the girls been averaging per week?"

"From $3 to $12 per week, according to class of work and the ability of the operators."

"How many hours a day do they work?"

"About nine, and they earn better money than most working girls engaged in a similar class of work."

"How many girls do you as a rule employ?"

"Now is an off time, but in the season when we are running full time we employ about 50 girls. About 20 went out on strike. Some of our employes have not been back since the Christmas holidays, as we usually shut down during that time to take stock."

What the Strikers Say.

President Joussaye of the Workwomen's Protective Association gives the strikers' account of the trouble as follows: The proprietors of the factory some months ago introduced steam power to run the machines, and recently deducted 25 cents per week from each of the employes. There has been considerable kicking on the part of the girls in consequence. On Saturday the manager told them that he had heard they intended going out on strike, and stated that those who were not at work at 9 a.m. Monday would henceforth have to take what work was given them, and instead of 25 cents 50 cents would be deducted for power, and it was altogether likely there would be a reduction of 5 cents per dozen. A meeting of the employes was held, when 22 joined the association and went out on strike this morning.

A Cold February.

All the old weather predicters are shaking their heads ominously and declaring by all the signs on which they pin their faith that February, 1893, will be a memorable month on account of the cold weather which will prevail.

Being noted for their forethought the Toronto people are not waiting for the cold spell to strike them, but are hastening to place their orders for furs with Dineen, so that when Jack Frost next demonstrates his might in this vicinity he will find himself baffled by furs.

The prices have been so reduced by W. & D. Dineen that almost every one can afford to don a furlined garment of some description. The furlined circulars range from $10 to $25 each, though better qualities can be had at from $35 to $50.

Three-quarter length wraps are quoted here at from $6 to $15.

There is a new fur on the market styled Greenland sable. It makes up into three-quarter length military capes, and is much affected by those who follow the fashions. In shorter lengths these capes come at from $12 to $20.

These furs have to be cleared out to make room for the spring stock, and for this reason are being sacrificed at prices which defy retail competition and rival the wholesale trade.

Railway Accident.

TROY, N.Y., Jan. 23.—The Montreal train due in this city at 4.20 p.m. was wrecked at Rutland by a broken frog. Three cars were ditched, while the locomotive remained intact.

A Central American Mob Beats a British Ministers Son—He May Die—Warships On the Move.

PANAMA, Jan. 23.—A despatch from Guatemala says that a mob has attacked the British Legation and had beaten Minister Gosling's eldest son so severely that he may die.

Minister Gosling's youngest son shot one of the mob dead.

The British warship Methomene is at San Jose, and her commander has cabled for the Warspite and Nymph to come and assist him in blockading the port so that reparation may be obtained without the bombardment of the port.

President Barrios is said to have refused so far to grant the British demand for reparation.

He protests that he is powerless to do so, as any attempt on his part to atone for the outrages would cause an Indian uprising, if not a general revolution.

He begged the British Minister and commander to wait until popular fury had subsided before they act. The immediate cause of the riot is not mentioned.

Mr. G. G. S. Lindsey, the well-known barrister whose name has been mentioned in connection with the Liberal nomination for the Toronto vacancy in the Legislature, has developed remarkable strength during the past few days, and it will not be a matter of surprise if he secures the nomination at the convention this evening. Dr. Ogden's name will also go to the convention, and the choice will be between the two gentlemen named.

THE YOUNG LIBERALS

Continue Their Debate on Annexation and Vote for Independence.

The members of the Young Men's Liberal Club last night resumed the debate on Mr. W. G. Elliott's motion deprecating the advocacy of annexation as the ultimate destiny of Canada, and favoring Canadian independence.

Before the debate was taken up Mr. A.B. McCallum of Bruce County gave a brief address, in the course of which he said that any annexation there was in the County of Bruce was caused by hatred of the high tariff.

Mr. Elgin Myers, in speaking to the question under debate, said that continental union was merely an enlargement of the Federation idea.

The debate was continued till 11 o'clock, when the vote was taken. Out of about 75 members present 50 voted in favor of independence. The meeting broke up amid much disorder and cheers for Canada before the annexationists could record their votes. The end is probably not yet.

Mr. Byran Lynch gave notice of motion for the appointment of a committee to draft a memorial to the Right Honorable W. E. Gladstone and the Colonial Secretary asking them to appoint the Earl of Aberdeen next Governor-General of Canada.

They Discuss the Tariff.

The Young Men's Liberal-Conservative Club last night again wrestled with Mr. Crossman's motion, holding that the time had come when it was necessary that the tariff should be readjusted, in order to benefit the farming and commercial interests of the country.

Ex-Ald. Millichamp gave notice of motion approving of the N.P., and placing on record the confidence of the members of the club in the customs tariff, and that the details of "this great measure will in the future be adjusted and administered by our leaders at Ottawa in the best interests of Canada."

The question will be resumed at the next meeting.

Mr. J. Castell Hopkins gave notice of motion favoring closer trade relations with the Mother Country and the other states of the British Empire.

Dynamiter Released.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The report that the dynamiter Callan had been secretly released from Portland Prison is confirmed. He sailed for the United States on Saturday last on the steamship Fuerst Bismarck.

Railing Against Fashion.

In writing to an English magazine, Ouida says that "all modern society spectacles are spoiled by the attire of the men, the most frightful, grotesque and disgraceful male costume which the world has ever seen." Notwithstanding this fierce assault of such a clever authoress, men will continue to wear a costume which was devised for practical use and leave the æsthetic style of dressing to the ladies. It might be here remarked that the modern full dress costume for men is incomplete without quinn's shirts, gloves and neckties.

ENORMOUS FRAUDS SHOWN.

MEN OF NO CAPITAL FLOATED PANAMA LOANS.

Their Profits Were Exorbitant—Trial Of Those Believed to Be Criminally Involved to Begin in February—Baron de Reinach Was Not Poisoned—His Death Was Not Natural.

PARIS, Jan. 23.—The sub-commission appointed to examine the records of the underwriting syndicates which helped to float Panama loans reported that they had found evidences of enormous frauds. Men who had not risked a centime for enterprise had mad exorbitant profits from their dealings with the company.

The so-called underwriters had employed many lobbyists and other intermediaries, whose business was to give bribes.

The trial of the men whom Mr. Franqueville, the examining magistrate, regards as criminally involved in the Panama scandal, will begin probably late in February and last some two weeks. Excepting Baihaut, however, the names of the defendants can be only surmised.

The report of the autopsy held on Baron de Reinach's body was sent this evening to the procureur-general. The report states that no trace of poison was found in the body, but that the examining physicians are unable to assert that Reinach died of natural causes. The unsatisfactoriness of this result of the autopsy is due to the fact that Reinach's body was not exhumed until decomposition was far advanced.

Epidemic of Calumny.

BERLIN, Jan. 23.—The North German Gazette says that should the monarchical powers decide to withdraw their ambassadors from Paris until the epidemic of calumny in the press ceases, Germany will co-operate, although no accusations have been made meantime against the German ambassador to France.

POOR CROPS.

Cause of the Revolution In Hayti—Hippolyte On His Muscle.

PANAMA, Jan. 23.—Mail advices from Hayti received to-day fully confirm former reports as to the progress of the revolution. Hippolyte is making strong efforts to crush the revolutionists and has met with partial success.

The revolution apparently was started prematurely and the revolutionists had not completed their organization. The vast majority of the people sympathize openly with the revolutionists, and most of the others assist them covertly. The big commercial houses also are supporting the enemies of the present Government, both on the island and abroad.

Hippolyte's partial triumph over the revolutionists is not regarded as an indicative of the extent of the uprising.

When the revolutionary forces shall have been fully organized they will unite and probably will have the whole country behind them.

Letters from Port au Prince say that no attention shall be paid to statements sent out by consuls, as they are colored to suit the Government. The discontent resulting from the poorness of the crops is said to be the immediate cause of the uprising.

The Hayti Affair.

BOSTON, Jan. 23.—Frederick Mevs, the American who was under arrest at Port-au-Prince for alleged smuggling, and afterwards released, has caused the international trouble between Hayti and the United States.

A United States gunboat is at Hayti demanding redress, and President Hippolyte is prepared to refuse to pay damages, and fight if necessary.

A MOB DID THIS.

Wrecked Offices, Killed Five Typos, Mortally Wounded Two Editors.

PANAMA, Jan. 23.—The artisans and laborers in the streets of Bogota united on Sunday in the streets and mobbed the offices of newspapers which recently have criticized them severely.

They destroyed the presses, pied the type, killed five compositors and mortally wounded two editors.

The mob then tried to set fire to the offices, but was held at bay by the police until the National Guard could be summoned.

The militia and the police charged the rioters, and after a stubborn fight dispersed them. Several rioters were severely wounded and many were arrested. The riots had no political significance.

The Pope and Gladstone.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The Rome correspondent of The Standard says that the Pope has intimated indirectly his desire to aid Mr. Gladstone in passing the Home Rule Bill in the hope that with Mr. Gladstone's assistance he subsequently will be able to re-establish diplomatic relations with England.

Colliery Horror.

LONDON, Jan. 23.—The wall of a shaft in the colliery at Pontypridd, near Aberdare, collapsed late this afternoon as the shafts were changing. Fifteen men were on their way up and many were waiting below. Six of the 15 working the ascent were killed instantly and the others were injured severely. Ten men at the bottom of the shaft were also injured. Three more men may die.

A Splendid Opportunity.

While you are striving to meet the necessities of your wife and family, you should not overlook the important matter of making provision for them in case of your untimely death, by securing a life insurance policy in a first-class company (such as the North American Life Assurance Company, Toronto), you can make the necessary provision. 246

To Feast On Bride's Cake.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 23.—The Czarewitch started for Berlin to-day to be present at the wedding of Princess Margaret of Prussia and Prince Frederick Charles of Hesse.

Outrivals All Others.

In curing coughs, colds, hoarseness, asthma, bronchitis, sore throat and all diseases of the throat and lungs there is one remedy which is unequalled by any other. We refer to Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, which has effected many remarkable cures this season. 246

Personal.

Hon. G. W. Ross, Minister of Education, is expected to arrive in Toronto to-morrow from his trip to Europe.

Mr. Archibald McCallum, one of the leading politicians of Bruce, is in the city to attend the Liberal Convention to-day and renew old acquaintances.

The recovery of Miss Jessie Alexander, the well-known elocutionist, will be much slower than was at first anticipated, and it has been found necessary to cancel all engagements for this month.

Julian Magnus, manager for Miss Marie Wainwright, is here preparing for her engagement, which will fill all next week at the Grand Opera House. Miss Wainwright will present three plays of well-contrasted interest. These are, "The School for Scandal," "As You Like It" and her new comedy-drama by Clyde Fitch, entitled, "The Social Swim." This has been very favorably received and is pronounced to be one of the best of modern plays.

EXIT WATERWORKS DEPARTMENT.

The Engineer To Have Charge of the Mechanical and the Treasurer the Business Duties.

When the Waterworks Committee assembled yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock to transact business and dissolve itself, Ald. Carlyle thanked the committee for honoring him with the chairmanship. "In this case some may think it is hardly necessary, as the committee will be short-lived. I thank you, nevertheless, and say that I would not try to prevent the carrying out of the desire of council, and for that matter the people, and I hope that what will be done will be in the best interests of the city." [Hear, hear.]

There were present Ald. Hewitt, Verral, McMurrich, Murray, Davies and the Mayor. Ex-Ald. J. B. Boustead and James Gowanlock, both ex-chairmen of the committee, were among the interested spectators of the winding-up proceedings.

The acting City Solicitor wrote stating that he did not see how he could prepare a bylaw providing that the balance of the revenue from the Waterworks, after meeting the working expenses, and interest and sinking fund upon the debenture debt for waterworks purposes, should be set apart and applied towards the cost of extension, etc., necessary to complete the construction of the works. "I think the revenue derived from the waterworks is part of the revenue of the corporation of the city of Toronto, and is referred to in the estimates."

The superintendent wrote asking that an excavation be made across the bay for a new conduit.

Ald. Davies held that the proper place for the intake pipe was east of Scarboro.

When it was proposed to take up the superintendent's report Ald. McMurrich moved this resolution:

That this committee recommend to council that the Waterworks Committee as a separate standing committee of the City Council be abolished, and that all the powers and duties thereof be hereafter performed by the Committee on Works, which shall consist of two members from each ward. It is further recommended that the works and property now under the control of the Waterworks Department be placed under the control of the City Engineer, and the financial portion of the department, including the office, rating and collecting of water rates, etc., be placed under the direction of the City Treasurer. And it is further recommended that all existing bylaws of the council necessary to be repealed or amended for the purposes of carrying out the foregoing recommendations be repealed or amended accordingly, and that the chairman have leave to introduce such bylaw.

Ald. Murray, in seconding the motion, said he was entirely of opinion that it was in the interests of the city.

Ald. McMurrich's motion was carried without a dissentient voice.

That portion of the superintendent's report regarding the test made by the Eno generators was taken up. It claimed that the test had only resulted in a saving of about seven per cent. in fuel against the 10 per cent which the Eno company claimed it would.

Mr. Stewart, representing the Eno Generator Company, charged that Mr. Hamilton's report regarding the test was prepared by someone else and with an ulterior object in view, and was not in compliance with the terms of the contract. He was prepared to prove this. He was willing to have Mr. Barry, an expert in the matter, make a report.

A report from Mr. Barry was produced, in which he said there was a saving of about 6½ per cent.

Mr. Stewart, in reply to a question of Ald. Murray, said that Mr. Barry had been unable to give an unprejudiced report because of the interference of Mr. Hamilton. If Mr. Barry was given a proper basis to start from he was willing to abide by his report.

The Mayor said that as far as he could see arbitration was the only way out of the difficulty.

Superintendent Hamilton said the test had been made in compliance with the terms of the contract; that the contract had been drawn up by the City Solicitor and had been agreed to by Mr. Stewart.

"That settles it," said Ald. Murray.

The Mayor pointed out that the Eno Company would place the matter into court and he thought that an effort should be made to effect a settlement before it went that far.

On mion of Ald. McMurrich Ald. Davies, Carlyle and the mover were appointed a committee to confer with Mr. Stewart.

The expenditure of 1892 exceeded the appropriation by about $4000, and the City Treasurer wrote asking that some provision be made to meet it.

It was decided to recommend to council that the sum be taken out of the surplus revenue.

Tenders were opened for the construction of a new 36-inch main from the new engine to the Esplanade. There were three tenders, and the lowest, that of Alexander Gartshore of Hamilton, at $34.50 a ton, was accepted. A total of 120 tons will be required. The other tenders were $34.75 and $37 respectively.

This was the last act of the committee, and it finished business and itself about 5 o'clock.
