SHEIBECK SAYS THAT LONDON SHOULD HAVE A FRANCHISE IN THE INTERNATIONAL

City Is Playing Out of Its Class Although the Canadian League Is a Good One—Old Tecumseh Player Is Enthusiastic Admirer of the Forest City.

Frank Shiebeck, one of the old "Tecumsehs" of twenty years ago, was one of the welcome guests at the festivities at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon, and while genial Jim Burns was a host in himself, and W. Jennings, a London Old Boy, made things move, there were none who brought back to the minds of old-time fans the memories that Frank Shiebeck did. A great player in his day, he admits that he owes much to London and the Tecumsehs. In the days of Tom Kinslow, Joe Knight, Micky Jones, Patsy Donovan, O'Rourke, Billy Husted, Emil Geiss, Sowders and a score of others, he made baseball history in old London, and many a fan had a pleasant time thinking of the days when the Forest City cut a much bigger figure in baseball than she does today.

Frank cavorted around shortstop yesterday for three innings. Not that he actually accomplished much on the field, but it was great to sit and watch him work. The peculiar twitch he gave his trousers was reminiscent of other days. Welcome, Frank—come often and stay late!

London a Good Town.

Frank has ideas about London, and yesterday he expressed them, not bluntly, but quietly and to the point.

"London is not playing in its class in the Canadian League," he declared. "Not that I have a word to say against the Canadian League, but this city is not in its class playing in that organization. It should have a berth in the International League. And believe me, London would support such a team. Twenty years ago, this city held a place in the International. The team cost three times as much to keep up as your present team. There was no trouble about financing it twenty years ago, when London had half the population than at the present time. The old spirit has not died out. You could draw the crowds in the old days, and you could draw them again. My own idea are that London could buy a franchise, and make it go without any trouble here. The people are with you. The game is not paying as it should in some cities in the International League, and franchises could be secured at a reasonable price. I would like to see London get one, as it would do much for the city.

Many Changes.

"I was greatly pleased at the progress London has been making. It has changed greatly for the better. I got my first start in life in this city. It was here I played two years, later going to the big leagues. I brought my wife with me when I came, and we often talk of the good old times we had here. She wanted to come to London now, but it was a man's excursion, and she remained at home."

Shiebeck was urged to come back to London for another visit, and it is probable that he will bring his wife some time during the summer. He is about 50 years of age now, athletic still, and clean cut. A number of the old-time fans sought him out, and there were many pleasant fanning bees held. The good old days, when London was in the bigger league, were recalled.

There was no doubt about Frank having a good time. All who had the pleasure of meeting this popular ballplayer of old times had a good time with him.

MAPLE LEAF STAKES WON BY AMBERITE

Weather Fine at Woodbine Yesterday and Attendance Was Large.

ROYAL PARTY PRESENT

Acton Won the First Race Handily After Futurity Sets Pace—Other Results.

(Special to The Advertiser.)

Toronto, Ont., May 23.—There was a great crowd at the Woodbine today, the weather being fine.

The royal flag, indicating the fact that the Gubernatorial party were on the course, was hoisted after the third race. His Royal Highness motored down, accompanied by the Duchess and Princess Patricia.

The results:

First race, 3-year-olds and up, $500 added, six furlongs—Acton, 102 (Diggins), 1; Futurity, 102 (Hopkins), 2; Tan Nun Da, 114 (G Burns), 3. Time 1:15. Ondramon, Simcoe, Powderman and John Patterson also ran.

Start good, won by a length, second by a half. Futurity got off in front, but soon gave way to Acton, who made every post a winning one.

Second race, 2-year-olds, $600 added, four and a half furlongs—Sandvale, 107 (McTaggart), 1; Hester Prynne, 107 (Hopkins), 2; Sweet Story, 107 (Butwell), 3. Time 55 4-5. Lindesta, Momota and LaSinnella also ran.

Start good, won by three lengths, second by a neck. Sandvale broke her company and was never in trouble. She took a long lead in the first quarter, and was only galloping at the end.

Third race, Maple Leaf Stakes, 3-year-old fillies, foaled in Canada, with $1,000, one and eleven sixteenth miles—Amberite, 122 (G Burns), 1; Rustling, 117 (Musgrave), 2; Marybud, 117 (Butwell), 3. Time 1:51 2-5. Also ran: Court Belle, Goldbud and Bontoi.

Won by three lengths, second by three. Amberite broke in front, but surrendered the lead to Mary Bud at the first turn, where Rustling also came up. At the bend in the stretch Amberite made her move and quickly pulled away, winning in handy style. Rustling caught Marybud tiring, and held the place easily. Marybud ran a much improved race over her plate performance.

Fourth race, 3-year-olds, selling, $500 added, six furlongs—Hamilton, 109 (Sweeney), 1; Elma, 96 (E Martin), 2; The Rump, 106 (Musgrave), 3. Time 1:14 3-5. Also ran: Camellia, Bouncing Lass and Charley Brown.

Start good, won by three lengths, second by two. The Rump was a distant third.

Fifth race, Connaught Challenge Cup, $1,590 added, three years old and up, Canadian owned, one and one-sixteenth miles—Plate Glass, 132 (E. Martin), 1; Rockville, 124 (Musgrave), 2; Bwana Tumbo, 108 (Diggins), 3. Time, 1:48 2-5.

Only three starters. This was the most stirring finish of the meeting. Plate Glass was the favorite. The lightweight Bwana Tumbo set the early pace, but soon gave way to Plate Glass, who led into the stretch. Here Rockville came up with a rush and it was hammer and tongs to the finish. Musgrave had the race won a few yards from the finish when he stopped riding. Plate Glass just got up in time to win on the post. Afterwards the Duke presented the handsome cup to Mr. Robert Davies, the owner of Plate Glass.

Sixth race, Woodbine steeplechase, $1,500 added—St. Abe, 1; Broadsword, 2; Be Thankful, 3. Time, 5:36 2-5. Lampblack and Young Morpheus also ran.

Seventh Race — Leamington handicap, $700 added, 1 1-16 miles, 3 years old and up— Spell Bound, 1; Star Charter, 2; Mission, 3. Beaucoup also ran. (No time given.)

HOBBS' TEAM WON PITCHER'S BATTLE

Defeated Shoemen in Commercial League Contest.

Hobbs defeated the Classic Shoe team in the Commercial League by a score of 1 to 0. The game was a pitcher's duel between Clark and Collins, the former being particularly strong with men on bases, and Collins excelling in the fanning line. The feature of the game was McIntyre's throw to the plate from left field in the first inning, thereby cutting off a run. Brown, for the Classic Shoe, caught a good game, not having a base stolen on him. The score:

PICKED TEAM WINS FROM UPPER SCHOOL

Capt. McNulty Knocks a Home Run and Strikes Out Nine.

The Upper School team of the Inter-Form League at the collegiate, was defeated by a team picked from the remainder of the Upper School under Capt. McNulty by a score of 11 to 9. McNulty was the star of the game, he having nine strike-outs to his credit, and also making a home run.

A placard in New York City street cars tells passengers how to avoid accident in getting off a car, by facing forward and grasping the hand-rail with the left hand. Against this well-meant advice the instinctive use of the right hand rebels. In this respect the English rule of the road—keep to the left—is safer. If we described on the left side of a car, according to the practice in England, we would naturally use the right hand for support.

HOW TO BAT; BY HOME RUN BAKER

Frank Baker's home runs which were the greatest factor in winning the last world's championship for the Athletics, also helped win the championship of Maryland for one year, when he hit better than .400.

This drew attention to him, and the next season found him with Reading, Pa., where he was "discovered" by Connie Mack. Baker's story of his success as a big leaguer and his recipe to make good hitters, is told by himself.—Editor.

BY FRANK BAKER.

World's Champions' Home Run Batsman.

I don't know whether Mr. Mack wanted me because he thought I was a good infielder or for my hitting, but managers always want hitters, so I guess that was what induced him to give me a trial.

I believe hitters are born, not made, but I also believe it is possible for weak hitters to improve.

The first thing a boy needs, to become a good batter, is good eyes.

He must have nerve, too. Strength is necessary, but almost every ball player is strong. The exercise he gets, playing, is bound to strengthen him.

The big thing is nerve, though. Unless a boy has plenty of nerve he cannot hope to succeed. It requires nerve to stand up to the plate and let the pitcher throw at your head.

The good hitter will duck out of harm's way and return to the position and dare him to do it again.

If a batter backs away because he is afraid of the ball, he is gone.

There are any number of pitchers whose stock in trade consists of a "bean ball" and a prayer. They throw many minor league pitchers are "beanballers." I mean that many are shy of control, not that they throw at your head more frequently than the big fellows.

My receipt for batting is to look upon the star pitchers as if they were bush leaguers. If a recruit gets the idea that the great pitchers are going to beat him, he never will get anywhere. No player can afford to be afraid of a pitcher.

I think this feeling helped me against Mathewson. I knew he was a wonderful pitcher, but I also knew he had such good control that he would not hit me and I simply waited until I got a good one. Fortunately I the ball at the batter's head until they drive him from the plate and then sneak a couple of fast ones over the middle.

A batter needs just as much nerve in a minor league as he does in the majors. In fact he needs more, for
