FIGHTING STILL CONTINUES

British Clearing the Country in Spite of the Progressing Peace Negotiations.

HAMILTON CAPTURES 87 BOERS

Colenbrander Operating Against Beyers, Whose Force Has Been Greatly Reduced.

London, May 6.—Lord Kitchener's weekly report, dated from Pretoria yesterday, shows that the peace movement is not allowed to interfere with military operations, except so far as to permit of unrestrained meetings between the leaders and their various commandoes. The week's Boer casualties were 10 men killed and 122 made prisoners.

General Bruce Hamilton's columns captured 87 men on the Heilbron (Orange River Colony) line. Colonel Colenbrander has resumed operations in the northern part of the Transvaal against Commandant Beyers, whose forces have been considerably reduced, and General Ian Hamilton has cleared a large area west of Klerksdorp, Southwestern Transvaal.

HEAVY BOER LOSSES.

Cape Town, May 6.—The O'Kiep, Western Cape Colony, relief column has occupied Steinkopf to the north of O'Okiep, which was strongly held by the Boers, after fighting, April 27 and April 28. The British lost six men killed and had eight wounded. The Boer losses are said to have been heavy. The Boers asked for British medical assistance.

IRISH LAND BILL MAY FAIL.

People for Whom It is Intended Not Sure They Want It.

London, May 6.—It is by no means certain that the government will push the new Irish land bill, Mr. Wyndham's measure. The Chief Secretary for Ireland would be greatly disappointed were his laudable efforts to come to nothing, but however the matter may be regarded in Ireland there is a deplorable lack of unanimity among Nationalists at Westminster as to the wisest thing to be done.

"This bill is for the Irish," says Mr. Wyndham, "and the best I can give. If they do not want it there is no reason why the government should try to force it on them." Nationalist opinion is as much divided over the land bill of Mr. Wyndham in 1902 as it was over that of Mr. Gladstone in 1882. A minority of the Nationalists believe that Wyndham's bill, unless fundamentally improved, will be useless.

CONVICT DIES LEAVING $6000.

Laporte, Ind., May 6.—George H. Steyer, a life convict, died in the Michigan City Prison last night. He succeeded in accumulating $6000 in government bonds by working overtime, but no heirs have been found. It is said he has relatives living near Cincinnati. Steyer was sent up from Marion County in 1884. There is no such name in the city directory.

Miss Susie Colville of 115 Duchess-street left last night for the Old Country, where she will spend the next two months taking in the coronation.

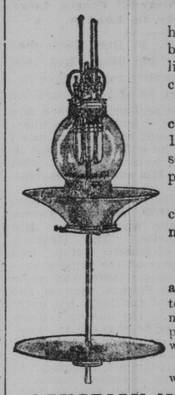
A LIGHT STORY



The Incandescent principle of gas illuminating has been demonstrated beyond all question to be the best. Among the best Incandescent appliances for space lighting is by all odds "Gas Arc," same as shown in cut.

This lamp will give an illuminating power (with coal gas) of 550 candle power with a consumption of 14 to 15 feet of gas per hour. We cannot give you something for nothing, but think of an illuminating power of 550 candles for about 1¼ cents per hour!

This lamp is a very stylish fixture; there being no chimney, the maintenance of this lamp is practically nominal.

BE NOT DECEIVED

Mantles are not always what they seem. There are no end of cheap imitations now on the market. To test their light-giving powers and durability, it takes time, money and experience, but it need not cost you a cent. We paid for our experience. The best is the cheapest—therefore we use nothing but the best.

ANOTHER TRUTH LIBEL SUIT.

Charges That Secretary of Club Promised Royal Patronage.

London, May 6.—Since the sudden termination of the suit for damages brought by Lord Suffield against Mr. Henry Labouchere, growing out of reflections in Truth on His Lordship and a club to which he belonged, the Court of King's Bench has been engaged on another suit, that of Cowen versus Labouchere, arisng from the same article.

Mr. Cowen is the secretary of the club in the case. Sir Edward Clarke, K.C., counsel for Mr. Labouchere, had previously subjected Mr. Cowen to the most severe cross examination, with the object of showing that he induced merchants to join the club by the promises of royal or other patronage. To-day Sir Edward accused Mr. Cowen of telling a member of a certain firm that if he joined he could secure an order to supply china to the White House at Washington.

This Mr. Cowen denied, and he also denied saying that the United States Ambassador would order from the firm glass and china, both for the White House and the American Embassy, if he joined the club, and Mr. Cowen further asserted that he told the member of the firm who made the statement that he was an idiot and a liar to make such suggestions.

She went insane over cats, and had her house filled with the feline pets. She insisted on sleeping with them in her own bed, and had others in her room. Most of her time was devoted to lavishing affection on the felines, until neighbors called the attention of the authorites to her mania.

Rev. Edward Everett Hale Talks at Chicago University Chapel.

Chicago, May 6.—"I will give you three practical working rules," said Dr. Edward Everett Hale to an audience of University of Chicago men in chapel assembly yesterday:

"Keep out in the open air as much as possible.

"Have faith in your neighbor.

"Make a practice of engaging in conversation each day with someone whom you know to be your superior.

"Upon the first of these, I place especial emphasis. Live in the open: see God's great world; get away from this confinement within walls and these books. When in touch with Nature, you are in tune with the infinite, holding silent communication with the Creator."

Hon. F. R. Latchford spoke in the interests of J. W. Holmes, candidate for Haldimand, at Cayuga last night.
