Regimental News.

Montreal.

Capt. R. J. Elliott, of the 6th Fusiliers, on Monday afternoon met with an accident which has since resulted fatally. Returning home from his office, he paused at the junction of Craig street and Victoria Square, where a large crowd had gathered, attracted by a runaway horse running down the street. Standing at the middle of the crossing he was watching the flight of the animal when a vehicle came up behind and knocked him down, the horse striking him on the temple bone, causing a fracture. He was picked up and taken to his residence, No. 56 University street, and Dr. G. T. Ross was sent for, who, realizing the seriousness of the patient's condition, called in Dr. Roddick. Shortly after Dr. Roddick's arrival Capt. Elliott's ear began to bleed, and then he began to vomit blood, the result of cerebral affection. Almost immediately after this the patient became unconscious. The doctors held a consultation and decided to send him to the hospital, where he remained in an unconscious state.

Capt. Elliott was a brilliant young man, full of promise and vigour. He was born at Ulverton, in the Eastern Townships, near Richmond, was about thirty years old, and was at one time a very conspicuous figure in the politics of Megantic County. He entered McGill College shortly after he came to Montreal, and graduated in law in the spring of 1887. During his course at McGill he was also a student in the law firm of Greenshields, Guerin & Greenshields, and about a year ago began to practise. He was one of the editors of the McGill College Gazette.

BALL AT THE VICS' ARMOURY.

A complimentary ball was tendered the officers of H. M. S. Pylades at the Victoria Armoury by the officers of the Montreal militia on Monday night, and was a very enjoyable affair. The hall was tastefully decorated with flags, bunting and an admirable profusion of potted plants and cut flowers. There was not a large gathering, but quite enough to make it pleasant. The guests began to arrive at nine o'clock, and dancing began shortly after. The music was furnished by Gruenwald's string band. Madames Massey, Houghton, Frank Bond and Lamontagne received the guests upon their arrival, and a sergeant with a squad of Royal Scots in Highland costumes relieved them of their wraps. The quadrille of honour, which was led by Capt. Rolfe and Mrs. Lamontagne, was participated in by Dr. F. W. Campbell and Mrs. F. Bond, Lieut. Widmer and Mrs. Massey, Major Prevost and Mrs. Beaugrand, Lt.-Col. Houghton and Mrs. Simpson, Lt.-Col. Lamontagne and Mrs. Sims, Lt.-Col. Bond and Mrs. Sutherland, and Lt.-Col. Massey and Mrs. G. White, of Quebec. An elaborate supper was served in the music room at midnight.

The officers gave an "at home" on board the ship Monday afternoon. This was attended by about two hundred people, to whom invitations were issued. Among those entertained at luncheon by Capt. Rolfe were: Rev. Dr. Norton, Mr. Henry Bulmer, Lt.-Col. Bond, Dr. Bennett, Major Lyman, Ald. Grenier, Lieut. Umfreville, Mr. Justice Davidson, Lt.-Col. Houghton, Mr. H. Ogilvy, Lieut. Widmer, Mr. Lyman, Lt.-Col Henshaw, Mr. J. A. Strathy.

The Royal Scots also paid a visit to the ship and were entertained by the crew. The vessel left Wednesday morning at 7.30 o'clock for Quebec.

Toronto.

Major-General Sir Frederick Middleton, accompanied by his aide-de-camp, Capt. Wise, arrived in the city Tuesday morning of last week, on an inspection trip. He was met at the Union Station by Col. Otter and Capt. Sears, and drove at once to the New Fort, where, during his stay in Toronto, he was the guest of Col. Otter. Shortly after nine o'clock the General began his inspection of the fort, going through the barracks and examining the books. He was occupied till nearly 2 p.m. on this business, and then drove over to the Exhibition grounds to be present at the opening ceremony.

Next day the General proceeded with the inspection of "C" Company, which went through route march and outpost duty. The company paraded at half-past seven in the morning and marched out to High Park as an advanced guard. There the General selected a piece of ground between the north end of the Grenadier pond and Bloor street, and instructed the company to occupy a line of outposts. The company
