ENDED WITHOUT A DIVISION.

THE DEBATE ON THE ADDRESS UNEXPECTEDLY TERMINATES.

Premature Close of a Dull, Flat and Unprofitable Debate—As Bereft of Spice as a Billiard Hall of Hair—Charlton's Jocularity Too Much for the Other Members.

OTTAWA, May 4.—The debate on the address died of anæmia this afternoon. The first half hour after prayers was taken up in presenting petitions, a great portion of which were the prayers of persons favoring prohibition of the liquor traffic. Then Mr. Charlton had the floor. I am told that Charlton's speeches are very good reading—full of facts, logic and ingenious reasoning. If so, it is a pity that he does not get someone else to fire them off. His manner is tame. His speech to-day reminded one of the expression of the American who, when endeavoring to describe how emphatically flat a certain performance was, said: "It was as flat as a gin fat cent flattened out flat." That was what Charlton's speech was. During the earlier part of it scarcely anybody pretended to listen to it. Of course the gentlemen on the other side always pretend not to listen to any opponent, but the speaker of to-day scarcely commanded the attention of his own fellows. It is true that Mulock lounged in his chair and paid strict attention to his neighbor, Mr. Laurier, not yet recovered from his indisposition, was not in attendance, but Mr. Trow in the leader's absence evidently felt it incumbent on him to sit with his hand to his ear catching the words great and small as they were delivered. Whatever of his American birthright he may have lost Charlton retains his Yankee nasals. However, as he went along he aroused some interest, and once or twice the Minister of Finance interrupted a comment and these interjections evoked almost the only snappy things which he uttered. Mr. Ives ventured on one occasion to say "greenbacks," to which Charlton retorted with the Texas ranche speculation which he carried the member for Sherbrooke, the sobriquet of Buffalo Bill. This evoked "hear, hears" a-plenty from the Opposition seats. His allusion to Fred Nicholls' circular to the manufacturers, which he characterized as a Government request for instructions from the manufacturers as to what their policy on the trade question should be. This was deemed a hit and the member for North Oxford cast his eye up to the press gallery to see if the point was duly recorded by the party organist. His frequent use of the word "we" in speaking of his side of the House irresistibly reminded many of Blake's protest against the use of the word by the same gentleman last session. Another of his utterances is worth quoting as a splendid sample of the want of tact so frequently exhibited by the Liberal leaders. Dealing with the problem of how the inevitable deficit in the revenue consequent upon a policy of unrestricted reciprocity should be met he said that the Liberals would make the International Railway and the Prince Edward Island Railway pay their way or close them up. The Conservative Maritimers greeted this statement with jeers, while the few Liberals from the sea looked as if it were one of those things which one would rather not have said. He closed at 5.30. A pause ensued. No one rose on the Government side. No Liberal seemed to be ready. The Speaker stepped into the breach and in a moment more the address was declared carried. And thus ended a debate which we were promised would be very spicy, very able and quite lengthy. The realization was that the speeches, with two exceptions, were so poor as to lead people to moralize on the decline of Parliamentary debate. Spice was conspicuous by its absence, and the ending was premature, flat and unprofitable.

Thursday is Ascension Day, and there is some probability that an adjournment will take place from Wednesday till Monday.

The host of prohibition petitions will be followed up by a visit on the part of a representative of the Dominion Alliance.

Capital Chat.

A somewhat distinguished visitor to the city is Joe Kirby, a gentleman whose career has been an adventurous and varied one. Kirby is connected with the Niagara family of that name. He has been employed in various capacities by the Dominion Government, but chiefly as a discoverer of Irish plots against Britain or her dependencies. Latterly Kirby took some part in working up The London Times side of the case against Parnell and the league. His life history if committed to paper would, it is said, make a very interesting story.

A. J. Horan, a young gentleman not yet 23 years of age, has succeeded in keeping his name before the Ottawa public in a series of surprises. The young man, who is the son of a clergyman of the Episcopal Church in England, was a clerk in the Department of Justice. He has a nice voice, dances well, has an engaging manner and is altogether calculated to please in social circles. He added to his other accomplishments the ability to read the church services in a sweet baritone voice with an English accent, and frequently officiated in that capacity in the Anglican churches here. Suddenly it was announced that he was to enter the Roman Catholic Church. He carried out this intention, Sir John Thompson being his sponsor. It was soon apparent, however, that he was not contented to remain a mere layman, but suddenly joined the Capuchin Order of Monks. In a few days the young society man of former days was seen on the streets attired in the coarse brown serge of the society, the cord girdle, the stockingless feet and bare head. To many the sight was shocking. The greatest sensation, though not the greatest surprise, remains. It is learned that on Friday last he disappeared from the monastery leaving behind him a brief note stating that he had determined to leave owing to ill-health. He added that after a two weeks' rest in the country he would visit his brother in Montreal. This is all that is known of him. He will have a good deal of sympathy despite his erratic course, as he was a pleasant mannered gentlemanly young fellow.

A deputation of cattle shippers will wait on the Minister of Agriculture on Wednesday.

To-day the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery notified the Senate that Senator Alexander of Woodstock had not been in attendance during two sessions. Seventy-five cents will buy a white-dressed shirt, linen front, reinforced bosom and continuous facings. This shirt is sold elsewhere at $1. One dollar will buy an extra fine dress shirt, sold all over at $1.50. Our 90 cent unlaundried shirts are equal to $1.75 ordered shirt. Why order shirts to measure when you can buy ready-made, warranted to fit, for 90 cents? Bonner's, corner Yonge and Queen-streets; also 211 Yonge-street, opposite Albert-street. 246

SYNDICATE AFTER BREWERIES.

English Capitalists Endeavoring to Buy Up Toronto and Hamilton Breweries.

The English syndicate which some two years ago obtained control of the Dominion Brewery found its investment so satisfactory that about a year ago negotiations were opened up with other breweries here and elsewhere. These have now reached a stage where it is believed the scheme has been at least consummated in part. The breweries which have agreed to sink their individuality in the syndicate are the Don Brewery owned by Thomas Davies, the Ontario Brewing and Malting Company, King-street east, and the Spring Brewery of Hamilton, owned by James Lottridge. The aggregate cost is $800,000. The present capital of the syndicate is $1,200,000 and will be increased to an even $2,000,000 to provide the funds necessary to take over the new concerns. Mr. Robert Davies, who manages the Dominion Brewery at a salary of $10,000 per annum, will have his authority extended over the whole syndicate. Whether his salary will receive a proportionate increase is not known. At all events, it is understood, he is to have an assistant, and it is whispered that Mr. James Lottridge of Hamilton will be the fortunate individual. The Dominion Brewery last year netted the shareholders a dividend of 12 per cent.

The output of the joint breweries controlled by the syndicate will be something over 3¾ million gallons annually.

THE BATTLE OF RIDGEWAY.

Arrangements Being Made For a Big Celebration on June 2.

A meeting of the veterans who took part in repelling the Fenian raid of '66 was held in Upper Canada College Hall last night. Colonel Otter occupied the chair and Lieut. Fahey acted as secretary. Among others present were Lieut.-Col. Shaw, Lieut. Winstanley, J. Blackmore, A. Nasmyth of the 10th Royal Grenadiers; Major Dixon, Captain G. Mercer Adam, Captain G. McMurrich, Major Bennett, Captain Cooper, Captain Stinson, C. T. Bell, W. N. Bacon, J. H. Noverre, F. E. Noverre, J. D. Matheson, C. T. Smith, T. Claxton, R. McBride, J. McMahon, H. H. Clarke, H. J. Keighley, C. E. Foster, R. Y. Ellis, F. Nott, W. Gibson, J. Tremble, S. Smith, C. H. Murdock of the Q.O.R., Captain Routh, J. Holgate of the 13th Battalion, W. H. Coo, R. Malcolm, T. Clarkson, C. J. Sparling of the Highland Rifle Company, A. Muir, K. C. Marshall. It was decided to invite all militia corps, the Public School Board and the City Council to take part in celebrating the 25th anniversary of the Battle of Ridgeway, June 2. This committee was appointed to make arrangements and report at another meeting in the same place, Monday, May 18: Col. Otter, Col. G. T. Denison, Col. Gibson, M.L.A., and Messrs. G. McMurrich, Davis, Gillimor, Dixon, Ellis, Routh, Keighley, Davidson and Fahey. A Veterans' Association was then formed.

An autopsy on the body of Rev. Dr. George Boothwell at Brooklyn showed that the cork which caused death was located at exactly the point in the lower end of the left bronchus suspected. The portion of the lung was in a completely collapsed condition while the right lung was normal. The heart and other vital parts of the body had swollen somewhat and the bronchial tube had doubled itself over the cork in such a manner as to nearly envelop it. The cork had become wedgen in the left bronchial tube so that the entrance of air in to the left lung was prevented.

A Dead Woman Taken to the Asylum.

HAMILTON, May 4.—A very strange affair occurred yesterday. About 3 o'clock two men arrived at the asylum with a woman named Mrs. Mary Bradley from Trafalgar township, county of Halton. One of the men was a county constable from Palermo and the other was the woman's brother, named King. The woman was insane at times between the two men. When they arrived at the asylum and went to take the woman out of the rig it was discovered that she was dead. The men then started back to Palermo with the body uncoffined, still lying in the bottom of the rig. The men stated that the woman was all right when they left King's place, and they did not know she was dead until they arrived at the asylum. She had been living at her brother's place and was out of her mind.

FOREIGN NEWS OF A NIGHT.

KNUTSFORD'S BILL PASSES THE COMMITTEE STAGE

And Will Become Law Unless the Newfoundlanders Speedily Get a Move On—A Priest Arrested For An Alleged Insult to the Austrian Emperor—Wholesale Evictions in Wexford.

LONDON, May 4.—Lord Kimberley in the House of Lords moved that in view of assurances given the Government from the Newfoundland delegates that the colony would immediately pass an act which would provide for the due enforcement of the treaty stipulations existing between France and Great Britain the House ought not to go into committee on the Knutsford Coercive bill until reasonable time had been given to Newfoundland to pass the necessary legislation. Lord Kimberley also urged that the colonial legislature would not repudiate the promises of delegates and that therefore the Knutsford bill ought not to be carried any further. Lord Knutsford refused to accede to Kimberley's motion, claiming that the Newfoundland question had an Imperial character which must be recognized in dealing with it.

Knutsford added, however, that if Newfoundland would pass the promised measure the bill at present before the House would be dropped.

Lord Dunraven said he regretted the Government could not agree to abandon the Knutsford Bill, as it seemed the Newfoundlanders were honestly determined to do all in their power to avoid the necessity of any coercive measures.

Lord Herschell, one of the deputy speakers of the House of Lords, said it was of primary importance in this connection to consider "the opinions of the colonists if the Government desired to maintain its colonial empire. The action of Lord Knutsford justified the rejection of the bill.

Lord Salisbury said the Government had entered into serious international obligations with France, which must be carried out. Unless the decision of the Newfoundland courts the hands of the naval powers were paralyzed. They could not regularly exercise the jurisdiction which they had hitherto effected. The bill, Lord Salisbury said, was necessary in the view of Imperial interests. It was a act by the Newfoundland Legislature to enforce the measures which the Knutsford bill was designed to carry out. After further discussion Lord Kimberley's motion was rejected by 113 to 30.

Lord Herschell moved that the Knutsford Act continue in force for only one year. Lord Salisbury opposed the motion, and it was rejected, 61 to 31. The bill then passed the committee stage.

A Lover's Jealousy.

VIENNA, May 4.—A coachman name d Schimatulla at Neustadt, near Vienna, suspected a laborer named Naproalla of courting his fiance, Fraulein Kroginitz. He played detective and discovered the pair a few evenings ago hidden in a forage house and exchanging loving caresses. Schimatulla quietly fastened the door so that the couple could not get out. He then set fire to the building and the victims were burned to death amid the flames. The people attracted to the spot found Schimatulla hanging dead from a rafter of an adjacent coach house, having committed suicide.

A Priest Insulted the Emperor.

VIENNA, May 4.—Considerable excitement has been caused at Zara by the arrest of a popular priest named Benkorac for an alleged insult to the emperor during a sermon. After the insult officers went to the priest's house and took him in custody. A large crowd gathered and the officers were mobbed by the priest's friends, but finally succeeded in placing the prisoner in jail. It is feared that the disorder will be renewed when the priest's examination occurs.

Wholesale Evictions in Wexford.

LONDON, May 4.—Wholesale evictions begin this week in County Wexford, Ireland, the intention of the landlords being to eject such of the "plan of campaigners" as have escaped the first storm centered in Kilkenny upon the Parnell difficulty. The decrees of expulsion have been signed by Lords Carew, Templemore, Ruthven, Ely and Monck, Colonel Tottenham and 15 others.

York's Archbishop Dying.

LONDON, May 4.—The Archbishop of York, who is suffering from influenza, is said to be dying.

The Miners' Strike Spreading.

BRUSSELS, May 4.—The miners and ironworkers' strike in the Liege and Charleroi districts continues and is spreading to the Borinage district. Fifty thousand men are out of work in Central Belgium. There have been more rioting at Liege. Several more people have been injured.

The Pall Mall Gazette announces that important information has been given by outside parties to the Queen's Proctor, Sir Augustus Keppel Stephenson, during the last few days in regard to the O'Shea divorce case. The Pall Mall Gazette adds that if the information turns out to be correct it is sufficient to call for the intervention of the Queen's Proctor.

Dr. Von Boetticher, secretary of the German Imperial Home Office in the Reichstag, replying to a question as to how the Government intended to relieve the pressure felt by the people owing to the high price of corn, said it was impossible to do so pending commercial arrangements which were being made with other states.

The Russian Government has issued a decree prohibiting students from holding public meetings, from engaging in manifestations, from publishing tracts and from otherwise propagating the doctrine of the religious sect to which they belong. This ban extends to the works of Tobia, which deals with questions of religion and with the family relations.

Mixed Drinks.

OTTAWA, May 4.—The food inspectors connected with the laboratory branch of the Inland Revenue Department have been engaged for the past three or four weeks collecting samples of distilled liquors, which are now being examined with a view to the publication of the results for information of the public.

An Old Toronto Resident.

Mrs. Elizabeth Creighton, the widow of the late Capt. Creighton, who died at Ottawa a few days ago at the residence of her son-in-law, Col. Thomas Ross (late Clerk of Contingencies), was buried in St. James' Cemetery yesterday morning. The body was met at North Toronto Station by a few friends of the deceased, among whom were noticed: Col. Ross, Ottawa; Hon. J. B. Robinson, Mr. Heath, Æmilius Irving, Q.C., Mr. Hutchinson Esten, Faank Cayley, Frank Joseph and several others. The Rev. Mr. Cayley read the funeral service at the grave. Several lady friends of the deceased were among the mourners.

A Great Expense Lessened.

COOL THIEVES, THESE.

They Hold Up a Young Man on the Street and Crack a Safe.

BRUSSELS, May 4.—The postoffice was burglarized this morning about 1.30. The thieves obtained an entrance by prying open the back door with heavy chisels, then bored a hole through the top of the safe and used powder to blow it open. A young man named D. McDonald was passing and was stopped by one of the burglars stationed outside. The fellow drew a revolver and presented it at McDonald's face and made him sit down on the doorstep outside while the other man was inside drilling and blowing the safe up. He remarked to McDonald that that was the way they made a living and that there would be an explosion in a few minutes, but it would not hurt him if he kept quiet. The explosion was heard by a great many. The burglars obtained $25, a gold watch and two registered letters.

A Burglary at Harriston.

HARRISTON, May 4.—The drygoods store of Wilson & Pye of this town was broken into by thieves about 3 o'clock this morning, and goods consisting of kid gloves, silk gloves, cashmere, hosiery, ties, etc., were stolen to the amount of $250. The residence of A. C. Scarr was also entered but no loss sutained, owing to the thieves being frightened off.

HERCULES THEIR ONLY HOPE.

The Canadian Horse in Front at Washington—Only One Favorite.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The talent got smashed to-day in several important events and the bookmakers grinned voluminously. Two big betting races found several of them with clear slates on the winners, and in others on which the public had backed the favorites for big boodle but few investors held tickets on the winners. In the first race Hypatia, a 3 to 5 on favorite, was beaten by Mabel. In the second race Vintage Time filly, a 10 to 1 shot, won the race, Benjamin and Helen Rose at 9 to 5 each running second and third. There were just three starters in the handicap, with My Fellow a prime favorite at 7 to 10 on, Gallifet second choice at 8 to 5 against. Both were beaten by Virgie. In the fourth race Oczyete, the favorite, ran unplaced and Gypsy Queen came home a winner, Vintage filly second, Sam Wood got the third position. For the hurdle race Hercules was the favorite and won handily. Bob Thomas was well supported for second choice, but failed to make a showing. Summary:

First race, ¾ mile—Mabel 1, Hypatica 2, India Rubber 3. Time 1.08.

Second race, ¾ mile—Vintage filly 1, Hengamin 2, Helen Rose 3. Time 1.08.

Third race, 1 1-16 miles—Virgie Time 1, Gallifet 2, My Fellow 3. Time 1.48½.

Fourth race, 1 mile—Kyrie B. 1, Gypsy Queen 2, Sam Wood 3. Time 1.40.

Fifth race, 1½ miles, over 7 hurdles—Hercules 1, Zangbar 2, Lijero 3. Time 3.56.

Take Care of Our Dear Girls.

Thackeray says: "A fair young creature, bright and blooming, distributing smiles, levying homage, inspiring desire, conscious of her power to charm and gay with the natural enjoyments of her conquests—who in his walk through the world has not looked on many such a one?"

There are many such in Canada, and the numbers could be largely increased if mothers and their girls were true to themselves. We have often with pleasure looked upon girls of exquisite figure and beauty, very models of the Divine Architect, who were handicapped with some of the common ailments of the sex such as anæmia, dyspepsia, impaired digestion and general weakness of body. We can see the dark circles under the sunken eyes, the sallow complexion, the hollow cheek and general lifelessness. Such subjects require instant attention; they are just entering the dark abyss of suffering and destruction, and at this stage all our energies and powers should be devoted to their treatment and cure.

The great succor and relief for them is Paine's Celery Compound, and its use cannot be urged too strongly. These girls are the hope of our land and their health should have our best attention and consideration. Paine's Celery Compound will do for them what cannot be accomplished by any medicine in use. It gives a true brain and nerve food in their case; it brings to them great bodily strength, keen appetites and a healthy, vigorous digestion, which alone can render life pleasant and happy. Paine's Celery Compound brings to the handsome face a glow of health and vigor, gives bright eyes and a cheerful disposition, which all our girls should possess. Only Paine's Celery Compound can accomplish these wonders and make our girls what they should be in youth and mature age.

Replenish Your Gardens.

There was begun yesterday at The Mart, King-street east, one of the most important sales of fruit trees, rose bushes, ornamental shrubs, and flowering plants ever made in this country by public auction. The importer is Mr. Weir, who intends hereafter to visit Toronto annually and offer nothing but the finest goods in the nursery line. Yesterday a lot of roses, clematis, grapevines, garden shrubs were put up and sold at great prices to appreciative purchasers. The rose trees and the other plants are securely packed, guaranteed as sold, and certain to grow, as they have been tended in the most careful manner ever since they left the nursery. Mr. Weir wishes the public to come and inspect his stock now at The Mart. Sales will be continued to-day, and anyone who has a garden and wishes to ornament it with the choicest variety of plants can attend the sale with confidence and depend on getting reliable plants at his own prices.

"La Cadena."

The success that has crowned our efforts to place before the public a really fine, sweet, mild and mellow Cigar has been much greater than anticipated. Our "La Cadena" brand can better be appreciated by those smokers who have been in the habit of smoking fine "Vuelto" Cigars of well-known and reliable Havanna brands. Connoisseurs in tobacco can more readily appreciate and enjoy them than those who have been accustomed to the heavier grades of tobaccos that are used in the manufactures of the majority of the imported Cigars brought into this market. 246

The Ferry Company May Not Agree.

It is understood that the Island ferry boats, the chief stockholder of which is Mr. Fred Doty, will run this season from the Yonge and Brock-street wharves, but not from the York-street wharf. The reason for this seems to be that the Canadian Pacific Railway, which will probably occupy a lot including the wharf, want $1000 for this dock space, and further stipulate that the ferry company must give up their right to ownership at a week's notice.

A New Varsity Professor.

ST. MARY'S, May 4.—Miss Agnes Knox of St. Mary's has been appointed to the chair of elocution in Toronto University. Miss Knox is an undergraduate in arts, having matriculated in 1881. Since leaving college, she has studied elocution under the best masters besides having extensive practice. She will enter on her duties when the fall term opens in October and will hold the unique position of first lady professor in the University.

Y.M.C.A.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., May 4.—The twenty-first international conference of general secretaries of Y.M.C.A. of North America adjourned this evening after having been in session here since last Thursday. Over 3000 delegates, representing all parts of the United States and Canada, were present. E. A. Budge, Montreal, was elected a member of the Executive Committee.

Voice Culture—Adams' Tutti Frutti Gum improves the voice. Used by the leading singers and actors all over the world. Sold everywhere, 5 cents.

A Popular Wine.

Messrs Gianelli & Co., 16 King-street west, have just received the first shipment of "Marsala Wine, Crown Brand," for which they are the sole agents in Canada. This brand is considered the finest quality of wine produced in the Island of Marsala. Being perfectly natural it is hygienically far superior than sherries, and it only requires a trial to judge of its fine qualities. It is now the most popular wine in Great Britain, and of late years is called the "Mess Wine of the Army and Navy."

Of inestimable value—Hallamore's Expectorant.

A Remarkably High Grade Cigarette.

The latest brand of cigarettes manufactured by d. ritchie and company are the "hyde park." Connoisseurs will readily distinguish the delicate aroma of this brand, more particularly when compared with others that are now on the market. 246

The Trout Season—Tail Work at the Opening.

May 1 was the opening of the trout season and several of the devotees of the pastime piscatorial left the city for their favorite haunts armed as usual with all kinds of poles, flies, groceries wet and dry and all other adjuncts of such expeditions. The Brewster Lake Trout Fishing Club, who control a lake of 300 acres in the county of Grey, had a pretty good three days' trouting on Friday, Saturday and yesterday. The members of the club who went up were Dr. Allan Baker, J. C. Kemp, Z. A. Lash, E. R. C. Clarkson, F. J. Stewart, W. G. Matthews. For guests they had Judge Falconbridge, William Mulock, M.P., and Judge Robertson. They caught 300 trout in three days, averaging 30 each man. Some that The World saw weighed 1½ pounds. Judge Falconbridge is quite a salmon fisher, but he is not above getting his hand in on the small but luscious trout. He did great execution on Saturday.

The Bugaboo is the name of a craft which was built for Mr. Kemp and Mr. Lash for fishing in Brewster Lake. It was launched in the presence of an immense concourse of people on May-day. It was built in Toronto by Mr. H. Hobson. The motive power is a G.C. engine.

WILD SCENE IN THE CHAMBER

EXCITED FRENCHMEN USE STRONG LANGUAGE.

M. Constans, the Minister of the Interior, Called a Murderer in Connection With the Recent Slaughter of the Rioters at Fourmies—The Unruly Member Forcibly Ejected.

PARIS, May 4.—It was announced yesterday that the A section of the left would demand a vote of censure against Constans, Minister of the Interior, on the ground that the latter was responsible for the slaughter of the men, women and children shot down by the troops at Fourmies on labor day.

The excitement began with M. Dumay's interpellating the Government in regard to the Fourmies riot. He threw the entire blame for the trouble upon Minister Constans. M. Boyer, in supporting Dumay, commented upon the brutality of the official instructions. M. Roche said he had enquired into the cause of the riot and had found that immediately after a stone had been thrown, without summoning the people to disperse, the troops opened fire and continued firing for four minutes. There were more soldiers than people in the streets and the troops were made to act the part of butchers of women and children.

At this point vehement protests were raised and Roche was called to order. M. Constans denied the accuracy of Roche's statement. A mob of 4000, said the minister, received the soldiers with a shower of stones. One officer was knocked down and the rioters were on the point of forcing their way through the troops when the commander called upon them to keep back. The summons was unheeded and the commander ordered his men to fire into the crowd. This, however, had no effect and he ordered the soldiers to fire point blank. The soldiers obeyed and the result was the killing of seven persons and the wounding of fourteen. The soldiers, added the Minister, had a right to use their arms when in danger. The conduct of the army and the gendarmerie throughout Monday and Tuesday last day had checked serious disaster.

Roche at this point cried, "Murderer!"

A number of members protested against Roche's language, and the president ordered that the offender be temporarily excluded. Quiet having been restored, M. Millerand demanded that a committee be appointed to enquire into the Fourmies riot.

M. Freycinet, Premier and Minister of War, opposed the motion. He said the Government was not indifferent. It did not desire to put a barrier of arms against political and social claims, but would rather cooperate with Parliament to improve the lot of the working classes. [Applause.] Millerand's motion was rejected by 371 to 48. The Chamber by a vote of 356 to 33 passed a resolution declaring confidence in the Government.

THE SITUATION AT FOURMIES.

Arms and Dynamite to be Used Against the Troops—Funeral of the Victims.

FOURMIES, France, May 4.—The situation here to-day is one of great gravity and may induce the Government to postpone the funeral of the men, women and children who were killed by the troops on labor day. The greatest excitement prevails throughout this town and in the villages in its vicinity. Many of the leaders of the labor party have started for Belgium to collect arms and dynamite bombs, and against the troops stationed here, especially against the infantry regiment, which used its r
