THE OPEN FORUM.

Mr. O'Hagen's Explanation.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In last night's edition of your paper appears a paragraph, in which is copied a report sent in to Inspector Bell, to the effect that my hogs are causing a nuisance, and to which the name of Mr. J. C. Gerloch has been forged, also where Mr. Gerloch denies all knowledge of the matter until accused of the same. It was hardly necessary for Mr. Gerloch to go to such trouble in order to set himself right with the public and myself, as I never fully accused him of having written the letter. I merely told him that such report had been sent in with his named signed to it; and I hereby honestly state that I did not from the first believe him guilty of having sent in such report, and I am sure that no one in this or any other neighborhood who has known him would ever accuse him of having a hand in such a small piece of business. In the report sent to the inspector, the parties try to make out that my hogs are kept in such a miserable state as to be likely to injure public health, which is utterly false. I can get several people who have visited my house many times during the warm weather to take their oath that they never, even once, while at my own door, smelt any odor arising from the said hogs. I think if such report had been chased to the author's door, you would find that my hog pen is as clean as their house. It was either done to cause ill-feeling between Mr. Gerloch and ourselves, or, on the other hand, the parties finding themselves unable to purchase a few hogs took this means of keeping other people from doing so. Kindly insert the above in your valuable paper and greatly oblige. Yours, etc.,

CHARLES O'HAGEN.

London, Aug. 17.

To the Editor of the ADVERTISER:

In the rear of my lot and separated from it by a right of way is a market garden. Neither the garden nor lot has a fence. I am the owner of two dogs which the gardener claims have been running over and damaging his vegetables, and he has sent me word that unless I keep them tied up he will shoot them.

Now, as I expect to spend part of every summer here with my family (and dogs), I would very much like to know if I can be compelled to keep my dogs tied up all or any of the time, or else run the risk of having them destroyed by a party who has no protection against animals of any kind on the south side of his lot. By answering the above you will greatly oblige. Yours truly,

DOGOWNER.

Port Stanley, Aug. 14.

[The market gardener has no right to kill your dogs, and is liable to prosecution if he does. You are not legally bound to keep your dogs tied up as against the gardener or anyone else, for any time, in the absence of a local municipal bylaw which might be passed to restrain dogs from running at large. Inquire of the village clerk, Port Stanley, if any such bylaw is in force in the village.—EDITOR ADVERTISER.]

—At St. James' Church, South London, Wednesday, Mr. Chas. H. Holmes was united in marriage to Miss Kate Ralph, sister of P. C. Ralph. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Davis. —A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. Watson, 148 Waterloo street, Tuesday afternoon, it being the marriage of her daughter, Mrs. E. Allen, to Mr. James McMahon, a popular conductor on the G. T. R. running out of this city. The knot was tied by Rev. Mr. Rhodes, of Christ Church. They left on an extended trip to Toronto and Winnipeg and come back by way of Minneapolis. The presents were of the best and numerous.

—At the last annual convention of the Ontario Sabbath School Association it was decided to divide the organization into four districts, London being made the center of one. A meeting of the Western Ontario sub-committee will be held tomorrow afternoon in Wesley Hall to elect officers and transact other business. In the evening a public gathering in Queen's Avenue Methodist Church is announced to be addressed by Alfred Day, general secretary, and others. All Sabbath school teachers and workers, and the general public are invited.

—Personally I have known nearly a score of people, suffering from nearly as many different ailments, who have been greatly helped by the hot water treatment, but in no case did they keep it up for months. Only in emergencies, where others refer to the medicine chest, or send for a physician, they fell back on the hot water routine and faithfully adhered to it till relief was obtained. One of the most remarkable cases was that of a friend who was nervous to the verge of hysteria, and utterly unable to sleep at night. The first day on which she drank two quarts of hot water (divided into four portions, and taking one on rising, one in the middle of the afternoon, and the last on going to bed) ended in a night of refreshing sleep, and its continuance completely put an end to the nervousness and sleeplessness.—[E. Police Court News.

Geo. Baker, while under the influence of drink, displayed a well-developed belligerent mood. He was fined $5, with the option of twenty days imprisonment, in the Police Court yesterday. Robert Jackson, who came from Chatham, was charged with not paying his fare. He said that he had bought a ticket, but that some way it had been lost. The magistrate decided to believe this representation. The prisoner was discharged.

Broke His Arm.

John W. Lee, of Nilestown, was driving into the city yesterday morning. At the Proof road he overtook Vernon Field, who was leading two horses. His horse, becoming frightened, dashed ahead. After an exciting effort he succeeded in pacifying it. Soon Field came up, and in attempting to pass Lee again made the latter's horse unmanageable. A runaway was the result. A little west of Sherbrook's residence, on the Wellington road, the buggy collapsed. Lee was thrown to the ground. His arm was broken. The horse was so severely injured that it had to be killed. Dr. George Wilson set the suffering man's arm.

Rumored Militia Changes.

A citizen of Kingston, well posted in militia matters has been informed that a list of changes in the Canadian Militia Department is being prepared. He reports that Col. Aylmer, of London, Ont., will go to Ottawa as assistant adjutant-general. Lieut.-Cols. Straubenzee and Villiers, deputy-adjutant-generals, will be retired with a gratuity of $3 200, and Major Fraser, paymaster of "A" Battery, will be sent to Winnipeg, his office to be abolished. Capt. Frank Strange, district paymaster, Kingston, will be retired, and Major King will perform the duties of both offices, receiving a salary commensurate with the increased duties.

"Taffy Pull" at Summerholm.

An enjoyable time was spent by the young ladies of Summerholm on Monday night last. The members of Bush Camp, on Orchard Beach, gallantly lighted bonfires on the beach, and the young ladies, headed by Miss Janet Ramsey, proceeded to make and treat the young men to taffy. All the visitors from the village and the heights, attracted by the bright fires and the savory odor, gathered around the place, and soon all were merrily engaged in the various duties of taffy-pullers. A rowboat on the shore proved an accommodating receptacle for holding the various dishes of cooling taffy. During the evening Mr. Herbert Matthews, of New York, formerly of London, entertained the crowd with some choice solos. The merry event was brought to a close by singing "Praise God, from whom all blessings flow," and three hearty cheers were given for Misses Weir, Kirkpatrick and Jewell, and Mr. Herbert Matthews.

Street Railway Matters.

Yesterday afternoon the solicitors of the London Street Railway Company submitted a new offer, or rather the offer of July 22 with the various amendments agreed to on behalf of the company in committee. There were, of course, certain amendments asked that the company would not agree to, one of which would have obliged the railway people to clear the snow not only from their own tracks but from the whole of the street. One point that the company does agree to is of great value to the city. By it they undertake to repair the track and roadbed and supply all material for the same during the balance of the franchise. The Toronto corporation receive $800 a mile from their street railway company with which to repair their tracks, and Ald. Lamb, of Toronto, recently stated that the council would willingly waive the $800 if the company would do and supply material for its own repairing. This shows the value of the point gained by the city. Again the company agree to give transfers during fair times, a boon not hitherto enjoyed by Londoners.
